Ashtaka Varga

When Kuja is strong in Shadbala, longevity has to be determined from the Bhinna Ashtaka Varga; and when Shani is the strongest we have to depend on Samudaya Ashtaka Varga. We have dealt with the problem of Ashtaka Varga exhaustively in our book Secrets of Ashtaka Varga (Ranjan Publications).

Influence of transiting planet has to be understood only from the ashtaka varga of the Moon and of the planet concerned. If we ignore the two ashtaka vargas (of the Moon and of the concerned planet), the transit influences do not come out accurately.

The luminaries and planets transit all the twelve signs in a sequence. Their placement from the Moon, lagna and themselves gives varying results at different times. These have to be noted carefully. Each planet has such favourable places from itself, from the Moon, and from the five planets. These being eight in number, it is called Ashtaka varga. The benefic places are marked by a circle (Bindu) in South India and by a line (Rakha) in north India. We follow the South Indian practice. The favourable dots come to 337. All the good and bad effects have to be declared with reference of these eight. Also note which planet contributes a bindu in a sign. Count from the lagna and the concerned planets. There are variations among our authoritative texts.

We will note them as and when necessary.

Parashara, Valdynatha and others have given us separately the Ashtaka Varga for the lagna. The total Bindus here are 49. These are distributed as follows:

Ravi	: 3, 4, 6, 10, 11, 12
Chandra	: 3, 6, 10, 11, 12

For the time being we ignore the ashtaka varga of the lagna.

The minimum required is one-twelfth of each body's total. Less than the required minimum is not good. The different results given and by the number of Bindus of each planet in its radical position, and by the number not given are explained in our Secrets of Ashtaka varga, (Ranjan Publications). The reader is requested to refer to that text.

Here we are concerned with the calculation of longevity on the basis of Ashtaka Varga. We have taken the chart of a person born on 1920.1.22 at 11.6.24 AM. The chart is given below. The calculation of Ashtaka Varga is based on

L 25.52	Ketu 28.30
			Guru R 21.58
Chandra 19.45 Ravi 8.10			Shani R 18.8
Budha 28.38	Shukra 28.30	Rahu 28.30 Kuja 3.26

the positions in Rashi alone, and not on the Bhava positions. We tabulate the figures of the Ashtaka Varga.

	Ravi	Chandra	Kuja	Budha	Guru	Shukra	Shani	Total
Mina	3	5	4	3	4	6	3	28
Mesha	5	2	5	5	6	5	2	30
Vishabha	6	3	6	5	4	5	4	33
Mithuna	4	6	5	7	1	4	3	30
Karka	2	6	1	2	7	2	3	23
Simha	5	4	3	5	6	5	4	32
Kanya	3	2	1	4	6	3	3	22
Tula	5	5	4	4	5	3	4	30
Vrischika	6	3	4	6	4	6	4	33
Dhanush	2	4	2	5	4	5	4	26
Makara	3	5	2	3	6	3	3	25
Kumbha	4	4	2	5	3	5	2	25
Total	48	49	39	54	56	52	39	337

This is subject to two forms of reduction or shodhana. The first is Trikona (Trinal). The signs are divided into four Trinal signs. These are (a) Mesha, Simha and Dhanus; (b) Vrishabha, Kanya, and Makara; (c) Mithuna, Tula and Kumbha; and (d) Karka, Vrishchika, and Mina. The conditions laid down are as follows:

- (i) If the same number of Bindus is not found in the three signs of each trinal group, subtract the least from the other two. Some argue that the least number should be deducted from all the three signs. This is not acceptable. Jataka Parijata states (10.38):

त्रिकोणभावेषु यदल्पबिन्दुकस्तदीय बिन्दू भवतस्तु तावुभौ ।

When a sign in a trinal group has the least number of benefic dots, the benefic dots in the other two signs must be changed into this least number. Parashara has clearly stated:

त्रिकोणेषु च यन्न्यूनं तत्तुल्यं त्रिषु शोधयेत् ।

The figures in the three signs must be made equal (tattulyam). This is the view accepted by Balabhadra and others also.

- (ii) If there is no figure in one sign, the figures in the other two remain as they are. This follows from the interpretation we have given in (i) above.
- (iii) When there are no figures in two signs of the groups, the figure in the third have to be removed.
- (iv) If all the three signs have the same number of benefic dots, replace them by zero.

As a result of this Trikona Shodhana applied to the previous table we get the following figures:

	Ravi	Chandra	Kuja	Budha	Guru	Shukra	Shani
Mina	2	3	1	2	4	2	3
Mesha	2	2	2	0	4	0	2
Vrishabha	3	2	1	3	4	3	3
Mithuna	4	4	2	4	1	3	2
Karka	2	3	1	2	4	2	3
Simha	2	2	2	0	4	0	2
Kanya	3	2	1	3	4	3	3
Tula	4	4	2	4	1	3	2
Vrischika	2	3	1	2	4	2	3
Dhanush	2	2	2	0	4	0	2
Makara	3	2	1	3	4	3	3
Kumbha	4	4	2	4	1	3	2

To this we have to apply Ekadhipatya Shodhana. Except the Sun and the Moon, the others have two signs each. Because of the ownership of two signs, the figures in the two signs are subject to this Shodhana. The principles governing this are:

(i) There is no reduction for Karka and Simha.

(ii) If there are planets in both the signs owned by the planet there is no reduction.

(iii) If there is no figure in one of the two signs, there is no reduction. It may or may not be occupied.

(iv) If one sign only is occupied by a planet see which sign has a greater number (a) If the occupied sign has a greater number, remove the figures in the unoccupied sign. (b) If the occupied sign has a smaller number, then give the same number to the unoccupied sign (c) If both the signs have the same number, remove the figures from the unoccupied sign.

(v) If the two signs have no planets consider if the figures in both are equal. If so, remove both.

(vi) If the two signs are not occupied, if the figures are not equal, replace the larger by the smaller.

Thus after the two reductions in Bhinnashtaka Varga we have the following :

	Ravi	Chandra	Kuja	Budha	Guru	Shukra	Shani	Total
Vrishabha	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	3
Mithuna	3	2	1	3	1	0	2	12
Karka	2	3	1	2	4	2	3	17
Simha	2	2	2	0	4	0	2	12
Kanya	3	2	1	3	1	0	2	12
Tula	4	4	2	4	1	3	2	20
Vrischika	2	3	1	2	4	2	3	17
Dhanus	0	2	1	0	0	0	2	5
Makara	3	2	1	3	4	3	3	19
Kumbha	3	2	1	3	0	0	0	9
Total Product								136

Now let us consider the Samudaya Ashtaka Varga. Here we take the totals in each sign and subject them to these two reduction. First multiples of twelve are to be expunged.

2	9	6	10

2	4	1	1

The multipliers for the signs from Mesha on words are 7, 10, 8, 4, 10, 5, 7, 8, 9, 5, 11, 12. The multipliers for the planets are : Sun 5, Chandra 5, Kuja 8, Budha 5, Guru 10, Shukra 7, and Shani 5.

Take the figures for each planet separately. The figures are those after the second reduction in the various signs and multiply each by the sign multiplier. This gives the total Rashi Pinda. Then in each planet's case consider the planets in signs and multiply them by the planetary multiplier. This gives the graha pinda. Add these two to get the shodhya pinda. Thus we get the followings :

Rashi Pinda	Graha Pinda	Shodhya Pinda	Total
Ravi	159	106	265
Chandra	184	123	307
Kuja	103	63	166
Budha	163	96	259
Guru	142	136	278
Shukra	84	88	172
Shani	173	125	298

Multiply each shodhya Pinda by 7 and divide it by 27. Remove multiples of 27 from the product. The net product gives the number of years denoted by each planet. Thus we get:

Ravi	$68\frac{19}{27}$	=	$14\frac{19}{27}$
Chandra	$79\frac{16}{27}$	=	$25\frac{16}{27}$
Kuja	$43\frac{1}{27}$	=	$16\frac{1}{27}$
Budha	$67\frac{4}{27}$	=	$13\frac{4}{27}$
Guru	$72\frac{2}{27}$	=	$18\frac{2}{27}$
Shukra	$44\frac{16}{27}$	=	$17\frac{16}{27}$
Shani	$77\frac{7}{27}$	=	$23\frac{7}{27}$

There are other views. (1) According to Jataka Parijata the Shodhya Pinda of each planet is to be divided by thirty. The quotient is the longevity by the planet. When the quotient is more than twelve, expunge multiples of twelve, and take the remainder. (a) If a planet is exalted double the figure. (b) If it is debilitated, combust, or eclipsed halve it.

(c) Calculate the period by rule of three if it is between exaltation and debilitation. This does not give accurate results.

(2) Shambhu Hora gives another method. If the quotient is more than 27 and less than 54, deduct it from 54. If it is more than 54 and less than 81, deduct it from 81. If it is more than 81 and less than 108, subtract it from 108. This too does not square with facts.

Earlier we got a total of $128\frac{11}{27}$ years. There are some deduction.

(i) When the sign has two planets, the term of life given by the weaker one should be halved.

- (ii) When a planet is combust or debilitated, it loses half.
- (iii) In an enemy's sign it loses one-third.
- (iv) A malefic in the twelfth, loses all; in the eleventh, one half; in the tenth, one-third; in the ninth, one-fourth; in the eighth, one-fifth; and in the seventh, one-sixth. A benefic in these places, loses only half of what a malefic does.
- (v) A planet defeated in war (graha yuddha) loses one-third.
- (vi) Sun or Moon in eclipse loses one-third.

In the example we have taken, Sun and Moon are together and the Moon is weak. Shani and the Sun are in the houses of mutual foes. These require deduction. Only the highest deduction has to be made, when two or more apply to a planet.

Sun	$7\frac{19}{54}$
Chandra	$12\frac{43}{54}$
Kuja	$12\frac{112}{135}$
Budha	$10\frac{155}{162}$
Guru	$18\frac{2}{27}$
Shukra	$15\frac{85}{216}$
Shani	$15\frac{41}{81}$
Total	$92\frac{368}{405}$

These are lunar years. Multiply the total by 324 and divide it by 365.25. The result will be solar years. Here we get

$$30102.4 \div 365.25 = 82.4159 \text{ years.}$$

Ashtaka varga is one of the valuable systems of predictive astrology. It is more so for an interpretation of the influences of the planets in transit. But regarding the calculation of longevity, this system has not been found satisfactory in many cases and it does not seem to be quite reliable.

The system is apparently called so because the bindus (benefic dots) are reckoned from the seven planets and Lagna, thus making a total count from eight places. In actual practice we reckon the bindus for the planets only and not for Lagna. The reason for the failure of Ashtaka varga perhaps may be due to either an inadequate comprehension of the principles or the inadequacy of the number of examples worked out. In all probability there is an inadequate comprehension of the principles on the part of the later writers. This might explain why the bindus for Lagna are not given by them. Moreover, the total number of bindus was to be 337 and it was held to be sacrosanct.

While explaining the calculation of longevity on the basis of this system, Valdyanatha Dikshita in his Jataka Parijata observes:

रविमुख्योनभोगदत्तसंख्याः परमायुः शरदस्तु मानवानाम् ।

सविलग्नसमाश्च केचिदाहुर्गुरुमूलात् समुपैति तुल्यमायुः ॥ 10:48 ॥

"The maximum duration of life for men is obtained by adding the years given by the Sun and other planets. On the authority of the Guru (preceptor) some say that this total should be added to the number of years obtained from the Lagna so that the longevity conforms to the conditions of the horoscope." Here is at least one missing link. The Guru referred to is evidently Parashara. If Parashara himself speaks of Lagnashtaka varga, why did his successors ignore it? We do not know the reason.

The Uttarabhaga (later half) of Brihat Parashara Hora opens with the chapter on Ashtaka varga. The text gives the bindus for Lagna also. The relevant verses are the following.

लग्नस्थेदं तु सम्प्रोक्तं करणं द्विजपुंगव ।

अथ स्थानं प्रवक्ष्यामि लग्नस्थेह क्रमाद् द्विज ॥ 65 ॥

आर्किङ्गशुक्रगुर्वाराः सौम्यदेवेज्यभार्गवाः ।

हित्वा सौम्यगुरुशेषाः सूजेज्यसितसूर्यजाः ॥ 66 ॥

जीव एकस्तथा द्यूने मृतौ सौम्यभृगू तथा ॥ 67 ॥

सूर्यचन्द्रौ तथा रिःफे स्थानं लग्नस्य कीर्तितम् ॥ 68 ॥

In this Lagnashtaka varga the benefic places are given thus:

From the Sun 3,4,6,10,11,12;

From the Moon 3,6,10,11,12;

From Mars 1,3,6,10,11;

From Mercury 1,2,4,6,8,10,11;

From Jupiter 1,2,4,5,6,7,9,10,11;

From Venus 1,2,3,4,5,8,9;

From Saturn 1,3,4,6,10,11;

From Lagna 3,6,10,11.

The total bindus are 49. If we add this to the total bindus of the seven planets, we get 386. From Lagna too, we must apply the two reductions of trikona and ekadhipatya and then apply Rashi and Graha multipliers.

In the longevity given by Ashtaka varga and Amshayu no deductions are to be made. On the other hand when a planet is exalted, the years given by it are to be trebled; if in its own varga (sign) it is to be doubled; if in an adhimitra house one half is to be added; if in a friend's house add one-third. Still some deductions are enjoined. If it is in an inimical house or adhi-shatru house, one-third is to be deducted. This is the best method to be followed, says the text.

Possibly the links missed by the subsequent writers are to be found in those verses of Brihat Parasara Hora. One must experiment on these lines to find out whether the Ashtaka varga system of calculating longevity gives us a reliable method. If we take the system to be not fully reliable we cannot explain why even Mantreshwara said:

अष्टवर्गदशमार्गः सर्वेषामुत्तमोत्तमः ।

"Of all the methods for calculating longevity, the Ashtakavarga method is the best." If so, the defect may lie in our ignoring the Lagnashtaka varga. It is earnestly believed that serious students of astrology will include this Lagnashtaka varga to satisfy themselves of the usefulness of this method.

According to Jataka Parijata, some teachers, following great masters, argue that the number of years for the lagna derived from the lagna ashtaka varga have to be added to this (10.48). But for lagna we get Rashi Pinda and not any Graha Pinda. This is for the research scholars a serious problem.

2	4	1	0

The Graha Pinda is 106 and the Rashi Pinda is 122. The total is 228. Multiplying it by 7 and dividing it by 27, we get $59\frac{1}{9}$. Multiply it by 324 and divide it by 365.24. The result is 52.435 years. This does not agree with facts. He is still alive.

Transit Influences

Transit influences are always related to Ashtaka varga of the Moon and of the planet concerned. Transit effects are generally reckoned from the Moon. Some authors observe that during the first thirty three years they are reckoned from the Moon, the next 33 years from lagna, and the last 34 from the Sun. Others give the first 33 to lagna, the next 33 to the Moon, and the last 34 to the Sun. One has to rely on his own experience and observation.

Each planet transits all the twelve signs. Its influence varies from sign to sign. We list some of the effects from the Moon sign. They may be applied to the Lagna or the sign occupied by the Sun, as per his observation, experience and conviction. We tabulate these.

The transit results of Guru and Shani are very powerful. Shani's transit in 12, 1 and 2 comes roughly once in thirty years. This is called sadesati. It is not always harmful. If it harms in the first round, it confirms the same only in the third round, not in the second. If it harms in the second round, it does not harm in the third round.

Vedha is an obstructing point. If the Sun is in the eleventh, he does good. But if at that time there is a planet in the fifth, its capacity to do good is obstructed. For the Sun there is no vedha from Shani and vice-versa. Budha does not cause vedha to the Moon. We are giving the vedha points at a later stage in this chapter.

Gochara or transits operate in relation to Ashtaka varga; and both these are subject to the natal chart, and to the dasa and antardasa operating at that time. Transits cannot be judged independently.

Allied to the badhaka places is the problem of Argala. Jaimini has six sutras on this question. These are:

दार भाग्य शूलस्यार्गला निध्यातुः। कामस्था भूयसा पापानाम्।
 रिःफ नीच कामस्था विरोधिनः। न न्यूना विबलाश्च।
 प्राग्वत् त्रिकोणे। विपरीतं केतोः। (1.1.5-10)

The places or planets in the 4th, 2nd, and 10th from the aspecting body cause Argala. When more than two malefics are in the 3rd from the aspecting planet, there is a malefic Argala. Planets in the 10th, 12th, 3rd from Argala cause obstruction to the Argala. If the planets obstructing Argala are fewer or less powerful than those causing Argala, then the power of the Argala is not affected. Planets in the 5th from a planet are counteracted by the influence of a planet in the 9th. Count these places in the reverse manner in the case of Ketu. These aphorisms are cryptic.

Let us explain. Planets in the 4th, 2nd, 11th and 5th from an aspecting body cause or become Argalas. Planets in the 9th from Ketu become Argalas. If these are natural benefics, then the Argala is benefic. Malefics in the 3rd also cause malefic Argala. The 4th, 2nd and 11th having planets are counteracted by planets in the 10th, 12th and 3rd respectively. The 5th is counteracted by the 9th and vice versa. The Argala caused by a malefic in the 3rd has no counteracting agency. The aspects in Jaimini are different from those given by Parashara. All movable signs aspect all fixed signs except the ones next to them; all fixed signs aspect all movable signs except the ones behind them; and all common signs aspect each other. Thus the aspects of the movable signs are at 120°, 210°, 300°; those of the fixed signs are at 60°, 150°, 240°; and those of the common signs are at 90°, 180°, 270°. Benefic results will arise in the periods of the signs which have benefic Argalas. These Argalas according to Jaimini cannot work if we accept his aspects. A planet in the 4th from Mesha (Aries) cannot be aspected, as per Jaimini, by a planet in Mesha (Aries).

Another obstructing force or point is known as vedha. When the Sun transits 11th, 3rd, 10th and 6th from the Moon he gives good results. These results are obstructed when other planets at the same time transit 5th, 9th, 4th and 12th houses respectively. Thus from the radical Moon or Lagna we give the position of the planet in the first column and its obstructing point in the second. The first seven figures are related to the last 7.

The Sun	11, 3, 10, 6.	The Sun	5, 9, 4, 12 .
The Moon	7, 1, 6, 11, 10, 3	The Moon	2, 5, 12, 8, 4, 9
Mars	3, 11, 6.	Mars	12, 5, 9
Mercury	2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11	Mercury	5, 3, 9, 1, 7, 12
Jupiter	2, 11, 9, 5, 7	Jupiter	12, 8, 10, 4, 3
Venus	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 11, 12	Venus	8, 7, 1, 10, 9, 5, 11, 6, 3
Saturn	3, 11, 6	Saturn	12, 5, 9

In Chart 1 when Saturn was transiting the 12th from the Moon, and Mars was in the 8th, the native passed away.

	Moon 18-29 Rahu 6-9	Lagna 13-4	Saturn 3-29
Jup 21-38 Mer 8-27 Sun 1-12	1
Venus 20-33		Mars 0-53 Ketu 6-9

It was in March 1937. Saturn does not cause vedha to the Sun.

Similarly Mercury for the Moon, the Sun for Saturn, the Moon for Mercury do not cause vedha. This happened in the Moon's sub-period during the major period of Saturn. Here the vedha from the Moon to Saturn is obstructed by Venus. But transit vedha worked.

Latta is another obstructing point. The counting of the constellation is in the reverse order for Prishtha Latta and in the regular order for Puro Latta. The 12th star from that occupied by the Sun, the 3rd from that of Mars, the 6th from that of Jupiter, the 8th from that of Saturn are Puro Lattas, the forward ones. The 5th from that of Venus, the 7th from that of Mercury, the 9th from that of Rahu, the 22nd from that of the Moon are Prishtha or rear Lattas. If the constellation at birth happens to be the Latta star of a planet, during its transit there, one has ill-health and sorrow. During the Sun's Latta business is ruined. The Latta of Rahu and Ketu brings misery; of Jupiter brings death, ruin of relatives, fear and insecurity; of Venus results in quarrels; of Mercury there is loss of position; of the Moon there will be loss. When two or more Lattas coincide, the effects are intensified (Phala Deepika, 26.42-47).

Sarvatobhadra Chakra also explains the points of vedha. Following Jatakabharana, Horaratna, Raja Vijaya, Svara Chintamani and other works we explain this and its significance. First we draw the figure as below :

Nanda refers to the 1st, 6th and 11th tithis; Bhadra to the 2nd, 7th, and 12th tithis; Jaya to tithis 3rd, 8th, and 13th; Rikta, to the 4th, 9th, and 14th tithis; Purna to the 5th, the 10th, the 15th, the 30th tithis. Each group has its own week-day. The Sun, Mars, Saturn, Rahu, Ketu, the waning Moon, and Mercury associated with malefics are all malefic planets; the rest are benefics. A planet is situated in a constellation; and by its aspect three vedhas arise for it — one in the left, one in the front, and one in the right. In the right or left the vedha will be with a star, a consonant, a Rashi, or a vowel only. Thus a planet in Kritika has a vedha with Bharani, अ, Vrishabha, Nanda, Bhadra, Thula, त, Visakha, and Sravana. One in Rohini has vedha with उ, Aswini, व, Mithuna, औ, Kanya, र, Swati, and Abhijit. One in Mrigasira has vedha with Kataka, क, Simha, ष, Chitra, Revati, ल, अ, and Uttarashadha.

The aspect of a retrograde planet is towards the right, and that of one in direct motion is to the left; when it is stationary, it is towards the front. For Rahu and Ketu the vedha will be on the right; and for the Sun and the Moon it is on the left. A retrograde malefic in vedha position causes great evil, and a retrograde benefic does good.

When a planet transits over Ardra, Hasta, Poorvashadha and Uttarabhadrapada, the triplets that are hit are (1) घ, ङ, छ; (2) ष, ण, ठ; (3) ध, फ, ढ; (4) थ, झ, ज. Regarding the pairs ब-व, स-श, ख-ष, ज-य and ङ-अ if one letter is hit the other also is hit. When the vedha is caused by a benefic, it is Saumya vedha. If one vowel is hit the other vowel similar to it is also hit; and this applies also to अ-अः.

When a planet is in the junction of two constellations in any of the four corners of the square, the vowels अ, आ, इ and ई and the Purna Tithi are hit. The results are अ-agitation or excitement, आ-fear, इ-loss, ई-disease, and tithi-death. When the vedha is with a star the result is confusion; with a consonant loss; with a vowel sickness; and with tithi or Rashi a great obstacle. When there are five vedhas at the same time one is not likely to live. One vedha causes fear, two bring loss of money, three obstacles, and four death.

In the vedhas of individual planets, different results follow. The Sun's - misunderstanding; Mars - loss of wealth; Saturn - ill health; Rahu and Ketu - obstacles; the Moon - mixed results, Venus - pleasures; Mercury - intelligence; Jupiter - good effect. When the planet causing vedha is retrograde, the result is twofold; in exaltation threefold; in rapid direct motion the normal effect; in depression the effect is half. A malefic vedha on a Tithi, Rashi, Amsa, or Nakshatra should be avoided for all auspicious undertakings. If a vedha caused by a retrograde malefic occurs during sickness, the patient is not likely to survive; but if the malefic is in direct motion, the ill-health will subside. If the vedha is caused by a malefic on the week day of one's birth there will be mental anguish.

The transit of the Sun in Vrishabha, Mithuna, and Kataka makes the East appear as set. The vowels अ, उ, लृ, ओ may be taken as belonging to the east; आ, ऊ, लृ, औ to the south; इ, ऋ, ए and अं to the west; ई, ॠ, ऐ, अः to the north. During the time the Sun stays for three months in any direction, all the stars, vowels, consonants, Rashis, and tithis are considered to be set. When a star is set and there is vedha, the result is ill-health; when a consonant, loss; when a tithi, fear; when all the five have vedha, the result is death. The consonants and vowels refer to the initial letter of the name of the native.

If these are not set, the vedha produces different results. If a star, growth; if a consonant, gain; if a vowel, happiness; if a Rashi, success; if a tithi fame; if all the five, status.

When a planet transits over the 5th, 8th, 14th, 18th, 21st 22nd, 23rd and 24th stars counted from the one in which the Sun is posited, there will arise obstacles. Counting from the birth star, where there is a malefic vedha on the 1st, 10th, 19th and 23rd stars, the results are respectively death, sorrow, absence from one's place, and quarrels. When the vedha is on the 19th star, something untoward will happen. If it is on the 16th, there is loss; if on the 28th, one may be imprisoned; if on the 27th, there is expulsion. But if these vedhas on the 5th, 8th, 14th, 11th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, and 24th stars counted from the Sun.

In the Prakirmadhyaya of Uttara Khanda of Parashara Hora, Chapter 6 and verses 18 to 23 we have a list of Pachakas and Vedhakas. Their places are counted from the house occupied by a planet. We tabulate :

Planet	House	Vedhaka	House	Pachaka
Sun	11	Venus	6	Saturn
Moon	3	Sun	7	Venus
Mars	12	Mercury	2	Sun
Mercury	3	Mars	2	Moon
Jupiter	12	Sun	6	Saturn
Venus	4	Saturn	2	Mars
Saturn	7	Mars	3	Venus

From Lagna, Pachaka planets are the Sun in the 6th, the Moon in the 7th, Mars in the 9th, Mercury in the 10th, Jupiter in the 11th, Venus in the 8th, and Saturn in the 4th. All these have an important role to play when we interpret the significance of the planetary transits. As Parashara observes, the Vedhaka obstructs the emergence of the results, and so does the Pachaka to some extent.

During the transit the Sun, Rahu or Ketu gives good results when he is in the 3rd, the 6th, the 10th houses from the Moon; the Moon in the 1st, the 3rd, the 6th, the 7th, the 10th; Mars and Saturn in the 3rd and the 6th; Mercury in the 2nd, the 4th, the 6th, the 8th, the 10th; Venus in places other than the 6th, the 7th the 10th; Jupiter in the 2nd, the 5th, the 7th, the 9th. All planets give good results in the 11th.

Leaving Latta and other factors aside, we can tabulate the vedha signs, counting these from the sign in which the Moon is located.

Sun	1	2	9	3	6	12	7	8	10	4	5	11
Moon	5	1	9	3	6	12	2	7	10	4	8	11
Mars	1	2	12	3	4	9	6	7	8	10	5	11
Mercury	2	5	4	3	7	9	6	1	8	10	12	11
Jupiter	1	12	2	5	4	6	3	7	10	9	8	11
Venus	8	7	1	10	9	12	2	5	11	4	3	6

For example in the horoscope taken as an example earlier the Moon is in the 12th house from the Ascendant. Saturn came to the 12th house from the Moon and Mars was in the 8th. For Mars the vedha sign as per the table is the 7th from the Moon. The Moon at the time being in the 11th, the vedha came from Mars who was in the 8th. The 11th house Mercury got a vedha from Saturn in the 12th. The 1st house Venus too had the vedha from Mars. These transit movements brought about the death of the individual. Failure to consider the vedha positions gives rise to a faulty interpretation of the transit influences. But this alone is not enough, since the radical chart and the Ashtaka varga are also to be taken into consideration.

Upagrahas

Rahu and Ketu are shadowy planets (Chhaya grahas). As the nodes of the Moon they have a special role in the lives of the beings on earth. They cover twenty five years in the Vimshottari dasa system.

1. In addition to these we have some upagrahas. These are said to belong to the luminaries, five planets and the shadowy ones. These are given below along with the planet to which each belongs :

Kala (काल) to the Sun, Paridhi to the Moon; Dhuma to Kuja, Ardhaprahara to Budha; Kodanda, Indrachapa, or Karmuka to Shukra; Yamakantaka to Guru; Mandi to Shani, Pata (पात) to Rahu; and Upaketu to Ketu.

Add four signs and $13^{\circ} 20'$ to the longitude of the Sun to get Dhuma. Take the Sun in Capricorn at $8^{\circ} 10'$

 & s & 9. \ 8^{\circ}. \ 10' \\
 + & s & 4. \ 13^{\circ}. \ 20' \\
 \hline
 \end{array}$$

Deduct Dhuma from twelve signs to get Vyatipata. Here we get Vyatipata at $s10.8^{\circ} .30'$. Add six signs to this to get Parivesha or Paridhi. It is here on $s4. \ 8^{\circ}.30'$. Deduct this from twelve signs, and the result is Indrachapa. It is here $s7.21^{\circ}.30'$. Add to this $16^{\circ}.40'$ to get Dhvaja. This is $s8. \ 8^{\circ}.10'$. Adding one sign to this, we have the natal position of the Sun.

If the lord of the sign owning the tenth or its amsha is a malefic and is associated with dhuma and other upagrahas, the native will be wicked (J.P. 15.54). Such stray results appear in our texts.

We now turn to Mandi and others. In the ghatikas given the duration of the day is taken to be thirty ghatīs. If the duration is less or more than thirty ghatīs, we have to adjust the given ghatikas proportionately.

Mandi and Gulika

There is much confusion between Mandi and Gulika. In Uttara Kalamrita (1.7, 8) the two are identified and the method for calculating the position is that of Mandi, not that of Gulika. Sanketa Nidhi (1.17) gives the ghatīs for Mandi. Jataka Parijata (2.5) reads Gulikascha Mandi. This does not mean Mandi called Gulika. It means "Gulika and Mandi". In 2.48, 5.62, 63, 67, 68, 70 and 73; and 9.7 this text refers to Mandi. But in 5.57, 64, 65; 6.61; and 9.1 he quotes the two; and in 9.8, 9, 73 he refers to Gulika and in 18.37 he speaks of Gulika Dasa.

In the second chapter Parashara tells us how to calculate the position of Gulika (2.67 - 69). In chapter six while referring to the results, Parashara uses the words Gulika, Mandi, Papa and Yamanuja (6.61.72). In the Sutras of Jaimini we have the words Mandi and Gulika which refer only to Gulika. We cannot, therefore, blame the authors of Uttara Kalamrita, Jataka Parijata and other texts for creating a confusion.

For arriving at the position of Gulika divide the duration of the day and of the night into equal parts. Then count the order of the weekdays from the planet of the day of birth. At the end of Saturn's part we have the position of Gulika for a birth in the daytime. For a night birth, the count is from the fifth day of the day of birth.

Mandi's position is at the end of 26, 22, 18, 14, 10, 6 and 2 ghatīs from the time of sunrise, where, ghatīs are based on the duration of the day being thirty ghatīs. If the duration is more or less, there has to be proportionate increase or decrease. These are from sunrise respectively from Sunday onwards. At the end of these ghatis falls the time for Mandi. Thus for a day birth on Thursday Mandi is at ten ghatis from sunrise. For a night birth the count is from the fifth day of birth. Thus the position of Mandi in the night from Sunday onwards will be at the end of 10, 6, 2, 26, 22, 18 and 14 ghatis, if the duration of the night is thirty ghatis.

Too much importance is given to Mandi in Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu. In the rest of the country this word is practically unknown. Since the learned Mr. H.R. Shankar refuses to admit Uranus and Neptune because they have no place in Vimshottari, we need not give any significance to Mandi or Gulika who have no place in any Dasa system.

Jataka Parijata (9.1 to 6) states that Mandi, confused with Gulika, gives malefic results in all houses except the eleventh. Since very few people can have this Gulika in the eleventh, most of us will be adversely hit by this unseen entity. Suffering is the bane of our tribe. What then is the use of calculating Mandi's position? Mantreshwara too gives similar results.

Parashara in his sixth chapter does not offer any consolation. Still we summarise his view.

First house : Sickly, passionate, rogue, vicious, wicked character, sorrowful.

Second : Sorrowful, mean, gambling or other vices, loss of children, weak.

Third : Well-shaped, ruler or head of a village, virtuous, fond of good men, honoured by rulers.

Fourth : Sickly, afflicted by wind and bile, wicked.

Fifth : Loss of wealth and fame, short life, eunuch, mean, atheist, servile to women.

Sixth : Conquers foes, well famed, courageous, enthusiastic, and loved by women.

Seventh : Overcome by women, wicked or sinful, loose morals, emaciated, loss of brothers, lives on women's money.

Eighth : Hungry, sorrowful, cruel, angry, hard hearted, emaciated, devoid of good qualities, takes the life of others.

Ninth : Full of worries and troubles, emaciated, indulges in sinful acts, stone hearted, miserly.

Tenth : Has wife and children, happy religious and devoted to gods, practises yoga and Dharma.

Eleventh : Enjoys the company of good women, head of community, village or a department, loved by relatives, powerful, bad limbs.

Twelfth : Sinful or vicious deeds, sinner, badly shaped limbs, unfortunate, fond of the low ones.

These results offered by Parashara (6.61 to 72) offer no consolation. Most of these are attributed to Saturn, Rahu or Mars. Hence in our opinion this Gulika can be dropped for predictive purpose. Only in Jaimini's system Gulika has some significance. Like Christian in Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress we need not carry the burden of Mandi, or Rahu Kala. Some in the northern coastal districts of Andhra have added also Dur-Muhurta which varies from day to day. Enough of this burden; for, the wages of sin is death. Even with nine bodies in a chart we have problems. Why encounter this intruder?

Mandi aspects the seventh and twelfth houses. The confusion between Mandi and Gulika is so great that we may take the results of the two to be identical. We give the results following Phaladiipika and Jataka Parijata. The numbers indicate the houses from lagna.

1. Thief, cruel, no humility, no knowledge of vedas and shastras, eye trouble, lean, no happiness, passionate, short life, irritable.
2. Speaks pleasantly, quarrelsome, no riches, does not keep his promises.
3. Separation, pride, passion, anger, no brothers.
4. No house, no wealth, no conveyances.
5. Fickle mind, short life.
6. Destroys foes, best children, heroic.
7. Quarrelsome, hates people, ungrateful, little knowledge.
8. Eye defect.

9. Separation from friends and elders.
10. Does not undertake works that are auspicious, un-charitable, unrighteous.
11. Happiness, good intellect, children, splendour, fame.
12. No interest in material comforts, dejected, expensive.

His association with any planet is not good: with Ravi—kills father, Chandra—brings sorrow to mother; with Kuja—loss of brothers; with Budha—madness; with Guru—heretic; with Shukra—fond of low women; with Shani—short life; lep-rosy, sickly; with Rahu—poisonous diseases; with Ketu—fear from fire.

Gulika and Mandi are like Shani. Yama-Kantaka, like Guru gives good results. Ardha Prahara is like Budha; Kala is like Rahu.

Any bhava gets destroyed if Dhuma and others are in it. We will briefly note the results they give when posited in lagna.

Dhuma—heat, fear from fire, mental worry.

Vyatipata—fear from animals and death.

Parivesha—accident from water, imprisonment.

Indrachapa—accident from stone, wounds, falling.

Upaketu—fall, failure in activity.

These results appear during the dasha of the planet owning the house occupied by them.

Dhumaketu gives different results in various houses from lagna thus: 1. short life; 2. ugly face; 3. courage; 4. sorrow; 5. loss of children; 6. worries from foes; 7. loss of energy; 8. death through or from wicked persons; 9. opposes Dharma and righteous ways; 10. wanderer; 11. profitable; 12. wicked ways.

We will next proceed to the others. On weekdays beginning with Sunday Yamakantaka appears at the end of 18, 14, 10, 6, 2, 26 and 22 ghatikas from sunrise.

Ardhprahara is at the end of 14, 10, 6, 2, 26, 22 and 18 ghatikas. Kala appears at the end of 2, 26, 22, 18, 14, 10 and 6 ghatika. For a night birth take the fifth one from that day; and the ghatikas are from sunset.

We will give a few observations taken from the texts. Dhuma in the seventh denies marriage. Kala in the seventh brings about the death of wife; and Parivesha there makes her ill-behaved. Upaketu in the seventh makes her barren. Kala in the seventh denies marriage. Birth with Gulika in lagna gives a defective limb; with Yamakantaka in lagna, a cripple.

Annual Solar Return

The degrees, minutes and seconds in which the Sun is located at the time of birth is important. On the day of the same month, as per the western calendar, every year the Sun generally comes back to that point. Note exactly the time when the Sun reaches that point; and cast a chart for that time on that day. This chart gives an insight into the nature of the effects that are likely to happen during that year. But this chart operates only within the framework of the birth chart.

To find the exact time of the Sun's return to the position at birth, some authorities have given tables; and people follow them. Let us consider some of the tables.

A person was born on 1920.1.22 at 11.6.24 A.M. He has completed seventy five. We have to take the elapsed years. The week day was Thursday, the fifth from Sunday. The sunrise is at 6.35.48 (LMT).

Mr. V.S. Sastri's translation of Uttara Kalamrita gives on page 200 the following:

for 70 years	4 (weekday)	2h., 42m., 0s.
for 5 years	6	17. 37. 30
Add the day and time of Birth	5	11. 6. 24
Total 1 (day)		7h. 25m. 54s.

The annual return was to be cast for Sunday at 7.25.54 A.M. On Sunday January 22, 1995 at 5.30 A.M. the Sun was in Makara at 7°. 41'. 31". At the time of birth the Sun was on 8°.10'.4". The time arrived at is far behind the required position.

In the 1986 edition of his Hindu Predictive Astrology Dr. B. V. Raman rejected the table he gave earlier in the book. In his Varsha Phala he gave two tables and held that the second is accurate.

	Weekday	Hours	Minutes	Seconds
70 years	3	22	41	24
5 years	6	6	45	48
Birth	5	11	6	24
	1	16	.33	.36

This is Sunday and the time is 4.33.36 P.M.

Lahiri's Ephemeris for 1995 counts Sunday as zero. We take the birth day Thursday as 4. On page 76 we have the figures.

	Day	Hrs	Mts	Secs.
75 years	3	5.	27.	12
Birth	4	11.	6.	24
Sunday		16	33.	36

This agrees with the one given by Dr. B.V. Raman.

At 5.30 A.M. on January 22 the Sun was at 9s.7°.41'.3" and on the next day at 5.30 A.M. the Sun was on 8°.42'.33". Calculating by the rule of three we get the time on January 22, 1995 at H 4.43.41 P.M. (IST). There is a difference of ten minutes, and it is not a small one. At this time we get the chart thus:

X 17.32	19.57 Ketu		L 22.10
16.15 Shani
26.20 Budha Ravi 8.10.4 Uran 2.57			6.21 Kuja R
29.35 Nep	21.33 Shukra Guru 14.58	19.57 Rahu	16.1 Chandra

Dr. B.V. Raman's Varshaphala follows the Tajika system as developed by Nilakantha and Kesava. This is evidently an import from Tazhakistan. The yogas have Arabic names and the aspects are those accepted by western astrology.

The Tajika method prescribes the calculation of the strength by five vargas and also by twelve vargas. The ruler of the year is selected from (1) lord of the sign occupied by the Sun (day) or by the Moon (night); (2) lord of the lagna in the natal chart; (3) lord of lagna in the annual chart; (4) lord of Muntha; and (5) lord of Trirasis. The calculation of the dasas is complex. A fuller account of this method is neither necessary nor possible in this work. One may consult a standard work on Varshaphala, and D. Bradley's Soli-Lunar Returns. We shall explain here a simpler method outlined in Uttara Kalamrita.

After calculating the lagna and tenth house, note the positions of the planets at the time of the solar return. Next we have to calculate the seven vargas—Rasi, Hora, Drekkana, Saptamsa, Navamsa, Dvadasamsa, and Trimsamsa for the lagna and the planets.

Then count from the birth nakshatra to the nakshatra in which the Moon is located on the day of the return. Divide this by nine. The remainder is to be counted from the Sun onwards in the following sequence—Sun (110), Chandra (60), Kuja (32), Budha (40), Guru (48), Shukra (56), Shani (4), Rahu (5), and Lagna (10). The figures in the brackets are the dasa periods for the year.

The birth star was Sravana; and on this day it was Hasta. It is the nineteenth. Dividing it by nine, we get one as the remainder. Then the first dasa is that of the Sun. For 800 minutes the Sun has 110 days. The Moon has yet to traverse 439'.20" in Hasta. By rule of three we get the balance of Sun's dasa as sixty days at the commencement of the year. The other dasas follow in the order given above.

The benefic or malefic results of any dasa are to be interpreted with reference to the strength of the planet concerned, the strength of the lagna for the year, the strength of the bhava having the planet, and the aspects on and association with the planet and the house concerned.

The Sapta Varga strength of the planets for the above chart are: Guru 172.5, Shani 144.375, Shukra 112.5, Sun and Moon 86.25, Budha 82.5 and Kuja 58.125 Shashtyamsas. The weakest is Kuja. The strongest is Guru followed by Shani. The lagna has two vargas of its own lord, two of his friends, and three of his enemies. The lagna is mildly strong. Rahu has five friendly vargas.

The lagna is to be calculated only for the original place of birth.

The principles of interpretation are the same as those for the natal charts. We have to note also the transits of planets during the year. By blending the results of the solar return chart with those of the Moon from the original lagna, Moon, or Sun, we can predict the events of the year more or less accurately. Transits have always to be related to the ashtakavarga of the birth chart and to that of the solar return. Ashtakavarga modifies the results of the transits. Now we outline broadly the results of the various dasas during the year.

Sun: If strong—acquisition of money, ornaments and clothes; if weak—increase of foes, sinful deeds.

Chandra: If strong—royal favour, increasing wealth and honour; if weak—increase of foes, suffers from diseases, unhappy, wandering, changes the place, quarrels with relatives.

Kuja: If strong—favours from the ruler, successful, happy; if weak—fears from the ruler, quarrels with sons and wife, loss of wealth.

Budha: If strong—valorous, benefic results, extremely happy, many gains and profits; if weak—misunderstandings or enmity with brothers and sisters, follows evil or sinful ways, treacherous to the wise elders.

Guru: If strong—conveyances, wealth; if weak—wanders from place to place, loss of money, evil ways, bad associations.

Shukra: If strong—amasses wealth and fame, refined clothes, happiness from wife; if weak—loss of wealth, fear from foes, bad name, diseases of the generative organs.

Shani: If strong—house, happiness, ruler; if weak—loss of wealth, anaemia or neuritis or wasting fever, bad name.

Rahu: If strong—performs virtuous deeds and good acts, has gains, rise in profession; if weak and malefic—inauspicious results, death of father, associates with foes and the wicked.

Lagna: The results are good, average, or bad according to the rising drekkana, association and placement of the lord of lagna and of the drekkana, and the yoga formed by the lord of lagna.

Mundane Astrology

In order to predict accurately about the future of the states one should know the ruling star and planet of each state. Sometimes it is necessary to take into consideration the date and time of an important constitutional development. Thus for U.S.A. we need the date on which their independence was proclaimed. For U.K. we require the date when the United Kingdom came into being. Here astrologers have been following Ptolemy and others, ignoring the insights of Indian sages. Thus some take Virgo as the ruling sign of India and others Capricorn. To set things right, it is better to take a look at the writings of Varahamihira.

In the 14th chapter of his Bṛhat Samhita, Varahamihira divides the countries into nine groups, each group being controlled by three constellations. The globe is called Jambudvīpa, possibly because the city of Jammu was taken to be the centre. This continent has nine subdivisions called Varashas. We are in Bharata Khanda which belongs to Bharatavarsha which is a part of Jambudvīpa.

Krittika, Rohini and Mrigasira (Aries 26° 40' to Gemini 6° 40') rule over Salva, Maru (Marwar), Vatsa, Ghosha, Yamuna and Sarasvati, Matsya, Mathura, Upajyotisha, Dharmaranya, Shaurasena, Pandu, Panchala, Ayodhya, Kuru, Pariyatra, Kapisthala, and Hastinapura.

The next three stars, from Gemini 6° 40' to Cancer 16° 40' rule over Malyavan, Suhma, Chandrapura, Khasas, Magadha, Mithila, Samalata, Utkala, Pragjyotisha, Gauda, Paundra, Kasi, Mekhala, Kosala, Burdwan, and Tamraliptaka. The division is not according to latitude as the Ptolemaic tradition gives.

Three stars from Cancer $16^{\circ} 40'$ to Leo $26^{\circ} 40'$ govern southern Kosala, Kalinga, Vanga, Vidarbha, Vatsa, Andhra, Chedi, Vindhya region, Tripuri, Kishkindha, Dasarna, and the area of the Sabaras. From Leo $26^{\circ} 40'$ to Libra $6^{\circ} 40'$ the stars preside over Lanka, Kalajina, Malaya, Dardura and Mahendra regions, Bharukachcha, Vanavasi, Konkana, Abhira, Vena river, Govardha, Kerala, Karnataka, Chitrakuta, Nasik, Kolhapur, Chola, Kraunchadvipa, Kaveri region, Rishyamuka region (southern Andhra), Krishna Velluru, Kanchi, Maruchipattana, Cheryarka, Tamraparni, and Dandakaranya.

The stars from Libra $6^{\circ} 40'$ to Scorpio $16^{\circ} 40'$ govern Pallava, Kambhoja, Sindhu-sauvira, Tamilnadu, Kapila, Anarta, Yavana, Barbara (foreigners to the south-west) Kirata, Chenchu (near Srisaillam), Hemagiri, Indus, Dravidas and Saurashtra. The stars from Scorpio $16^{\circ} 40'$ to Sagittarius $26^{\circ} 40'$ rule over West Coast of India (Aparantaka), Haihaya, Punjab, Vokkana, and Mlechcha in the west. The stars from Sagittarius $26^{\circ} 40'$ to Aquarius $6^{\circ} 40'$ govern Hala, Madras, Asmaka, Kunta and others in the North-west. From Aquarius $6^{\circ} 40'$ to Pisces $16^{\circ} 40'$ are stars ruling the Himalayan region, Kuru country, Kaikayas, Trigarta, Taxila, Madraka, Malva, Huna, and Gandhara. The next forty degrees rule Kashmir, Dardara, China, Tibet and other Himalayan areas.

The distribution refers entirely to India and to a few neighbouring states. From this classification we find that Andhra comes under Cancer or Leo along with Vidarbha, Bengal and Central India. Konkana comes under Leo or Virgo.

In the 16th chapter, Varahamihira distributes the states in terms of the planets. The Sun rules over the east of Narmada, Orissa, Suhma, Kalinga, Balk, Scythia, Yavanas, Magadha, Sabaras, China, Kambhoja, Mekhala, eastern half of Dravida country, south bank of Yamuna, Chedi, Vindhya forest, Srisaillam, Burdwan and other areas. The Moon governs Kosala, Bharukachcha, Romans, Tochanians, Vanavasi, Hala and Kerala. Mars controls the western half of Sona and Narmada and Bhima rivers, Vetravati, Sipra (Ujjain), Godavari, Vena Ganga, Mahanadi, Sindhu, Vindhya, Malaya, Chola, Dravida, Videha, Andhra, Konkana, Kuntala, Kerala, Dandaka, Kantipura, Mlechchas, Kuntala, Nasik, Bhogavardhana, Virata, the countries bordering on the Vindhya, banks of the Tapti and the Gomati and so on.

Budha rules Lohitya (the Sona), the Indus, the Sarayu, the Ratha, the Ganga, the Kausika; eastern part of Mathura, regions of the Himalayas, Gomanta, Chitrakuta, Saurashtra, caves and hills.

Guru rules the east of the Indus, western part of Mathura, Sauvira, Srughna, Northerners, the Beas (Vipasa), the Suttlej (Satadru), Ramata, Salva, Trigarta, Paurava, Ambashtha, Parata, Vatadhana, Yaudheyas, Sarasvata, Arjunayanas, half of the rural Matsya.

Shukra rules Takshasila, Marti, Kavata, Bahugiri, Gandhara (Modern Kandhar), Pushkalavataka, Prasthala, Malwa, Kaikeya, Dasarna, Ushinara, Shibi those on the banks of the Vitasta, the Iravati, the Chandrabhaga and the like.

Shani rules Anarta, Arbuda, Pushkara, Saurashtra, Abhira, Raivataka, the land where the Sarasvati disappears (Rajasthan), Thaneswar, Prabhasa, Vidisha, the Vedasmriti and the Mahi.

Rahu rules mountain peaks, dams, caves; Barbarian tribes, shulikas, vokkanas, kinnaras (Himachal Pradesh).

Ketu rules mountain strong holds, Pahlavas (Iran), Hunas, Cholas, Afghanistan, China.

Houses in Mundane astrology have certain peculiarities. We can read specific details from these houses. These are from lagna onwards: (1) General affairs, condition of cabinet, public health; (2) Revenue, wealth, commercial transactions, imports, wealth, allies; (3) telephones, Railways, Aeroplanes, newspapers, journals, neighbours; (4) Educational institutions, students, landed estates, trade, agriculture, general happiness; (5) Children, new birth, places of amusement, crime, outlook of the rulers; (6) State loans, diseases, territorial attacks, naval forces etc; (7) Health of women, infant mortality, war, foreign relations, crimes against women; (8) State Treasury, deaths; (9) Religious places, irreligious activities, law, judiciary; (10) Ruler, Parliament, exports, foreign trade, revolutions, lawlessness; (11) Gaining in trade, international relationships; (12) Plots, secret crimes, war, losses, hospitals.

Most astrologers take the chart of August 15, 1947 as the Indian Independence chart. On that day India acquired only a dominion status under the British Crown. The country was not fully free. She became a sovereign democratic republic only on January 26, 1950 at 10.18 A.M. It was from this date and time that India became really independent. It is this chart that guides the destiny of India, not that of August 15, 1947.

Following Lahiri's ayanamsa $23^{\circ} 9' 38''$ we get the sidereal time as 18.16.31 and the chart is:

Rasi: Aries-Moon 12-05; Gemini-Uranus 08-35; Leo-Sat (R) 25-37; Virgo-Mars 16-14, Ketu 16-24, Nep 21-25; Sagittarius-Mer (R) 24-32, M.C. 10-38; Capricorn-Jup 19-14, Ven (R) 20-49, Sun 12-35; Pisces-Asc 10-44, Rahu 16-24.

Navamsa: Aries-Sun; Taurus-Mars, Ketu; Gemini-Jupiter; Cancer Nep, Ven, Moon; Libra Asc; Scorpio-Sat, Rahu, Merc; Pisces-Uranus.

Lahiri's ayanamsa gives a balance of Ketu's period to be four months and twenty three days. The major period of Mars began on June 19, 1986. It is this chart on the basis of which we have to read the future of the country. It is for experts in political astrology to pronounce a verdict finally on the basis of the chart of modern India. Kuja, Ketu and Neptune in the seventh aspected by the debilitated lord of Lagna can explain many of the incidents. Also consider Navamsa Lagna and the Karakamsa falling in Scorpio, Saturn being the atma karaka. There is also an exchange of signs between the Sun and Saturn. Readings based on this chart yield fruitful information.

Another problem is to determine the ruling sign of India. Western-oriented astrologers take Capricorn to be the ruling sign of our country. Others take it to be Virgo (Kanya). From Sharada of Kashmir to Kanya Kumari in the extreme South, our country extends. These deities point to a feminine sign, to a Virgin deity as the guardian of our land. To show that it is not a fancy to ascribe Virgo to India, we will demonstrate it astronomically.

The Pyramid of Gizeh is at $31^{\circ} 7' 30''$ East. The is equal in Right Ascension to $27^{\circ} 54' 0''$. That is at $3^{\circ} 13' 30''$ East, the RA is zero. For countries in Eastern longitude take the longitudes of their capitals. From this longitude deduct $3^{\circ} 13' 30''$. Then take the result in the tables of RA, and then we can determine the corresponding longitude. This will be the M.C. of that place. Having got it, we can determine the lagna of the country concerned.

For instance the longitude of New Delhi is $77^{\circ} 13'$. Deducting $3^{\circ} 13' 30''$ from this we get $73^{\circ} 59' 30''$. This gives M.C. in Gemini (Mithuna) at $15^{\circ} 15' 21''$ and the natal ascendant of India at $15^{\circ} 29' 12''$ of Kanya (Virgo). This is as per the Chaitra Paksha ayanamsa of Lahiri.

For localities to the West of Greenwich subtract the West longitude of the Capital concerned from $356^{\circ} 46' 30''$. The required longitude of Washington for instance will be $279^{\circ} 42' 30''$ when we deduct $77^{\circ} 4'$. This gives the M.C. of the United States of America to be Capricorn (Makara) $8^{\circ} 55' 10''$. This would give $16^{\circ} 8' 17''$ of Aries as the ascendant.

The natal or ruling sign of India is Kanya positively. The independence chart of modern India gives the ascendant to be Mina (Pisces). Relating these two we can predict the future of India safely.

The distance in longitude from the Gizeh Pyramid divided by fifteen gives the sidereal time for Delhi as $4^{\circ} 55' 58''$. Taking this for the date of the coincidence of the two zodiacs—whenever it may have taken place, the ascendant of India Virgo (Kanya) is at $15^{\circ} 29' 12''$, and the M.C. is Gemini (Mithuna) at the middle $15^{\circ} 15' 21''$. The navamsa Lagna is then Vrishabha. Hence Capricorn cannot be the ruling sign of India.

Mundane astrology is a branch of astrology that examines the charts of different countries and that of the heads of government in assessing the future trends of events. Here a nation's chart is determined by a crucial event in its historical development. Thus we tend to take the chart for August 15, 1947 for India. This is debatable. India became on that day a self-governing dominion under the United Kingdom. India became really free on January 26, 1950; and this should be the chart to be examined to forecast the future of the country. Similarly the October Revolution of 1917 (November 7) gives the chart for modern Russia. This is one method. But there are certain constellations, signs, or planets that are the natural rulers of countries.

Ptolemy distributed the signs among the countries by considering the longitudes only. Varahamihira devotes two chapters in his Brhat Samhita. He takes three successive constellations as a unit and assigns the lands to each unit. The first three stars refer to the central part of India; and then he proceeds to the other directions from the east in a clockwise manner. Thus the first three stars beginning with Krittika rule Rajasthan, Western U.P., Hastinapur, Kuru and Ayodhya. Bihar and Orissa come under the next three. Bengal, Kalinga, Vidarbha, Tripuri (near Jabalpur), Kishkindha and the like are ruled by Ashlesha, Magha and Pubba. Lanka, Malaya, Vanavasi, Konkan, Kerala, Karnataka, Nasik, Chola, Kanchi and Dandakaranya are under the next three (U. Pha. Hasta, Chitta). The next three rule Pallava, Kamboja, Sauveera, Sindhu, Saurashtra and Tamil Nadu. Western Maharashtra and Punjab and Scythians are under Jyeshtha, Moola and Poorvashadha. Possibly Scorpio is the ruling sign of these whence we can explain the troubles in the Punjab. North-west is ruled by the next three. Malwa and northernmost parts of Kashmir come under the stars Satabhisha, Poorvabhadra and Uttarabhadra. Kashmir, Tibet and China are under the sway of Revati, Aswini and Bharani. Mostly Varahamihira confines his attention to India.

In chapter 16 Varahamihira assigns planets to the various regions; The Sun—eastern half of Narmada, Orissa, Bengal, Bihar, Kamboja, Scythians, eastern Tamil Nadu, Kaushambi. The Moon—Kosala, Broach, Romans, Tocharians. Mars—Narmada, Sindhu, Mahanadi, Bhimaratha and Sipra rivers, Malaya, Chola, Dravida, Andhra, Konkan, Virata and Vindhya regions. Mercury—Ganga, Sarayu, Himalayan states and Saurashtra. Jupiter—Eastern Punjab, Western U.P., Satadru. Venus—Taxila, Gandhara, Malva, Dasarna, Vitasta, Iravati. Saturn—Saurashtra, Vidisa, Rajasthan. Rahu—Sulikas, Vokkanas, Kinnaras. Ketu—Iran, Hunas, Afghanistan, China and Cholas.

These indications given by Varahamihira cannot be brushed aside lightly. These are of great help in predicting mundane events. Western studies have offered a wider spectrum. The classification of the countries offered by them is of some value and the ruling sign along with the ruling chart of the country need to be taken into consideration. It is better to note their allotment.

Aries—Britain, Denmark, France, Germany, Lebanon, Syria, Naples, Marsailles, Madras. Taurus—Iran, Cyprus, Asia Minor, Poland, Holland, Ireland, White Russia, Leipzig, Mathura, Hastinapura. Gemini—USA, Western England, Lower Egypt, Belgium, Wales, Canada, Versailles, Nuremberg, Melbourne. Cancer—Scotland, Newzealand, North and West Africa, Mauritius, Stockholm, Amsterdam, New York, Tunis, Venice. Leo—France, Sicily, Chaldea, Italy, Lancashire, Rome, Bristol. Virgo—Turkey, Greece, Switzerland, Brazil, West Indies, Jerusalem, Paris, Bagdad, Boston, Loss Angeles. Libra—North-eastern and North-western parts of India, Burma, Indo-China, China, Argentina, Tibet, Austria, Lybia, Frankfurt, Johannesburg, Lisbon, Copenhagen. Scorpio—Sweden, Brazil, Morocco, Norway, Syria, Algeria, Judea, Delhi, Washington. Sagittarius—Australia, Hungary, Arabia, Spain, Italy, Naples. Capricorn—Punjab, Bulgaria, Afghanistan, Mexico, Oxford, Toronto. Aquarius—Abyssinia, U.S.S.R., Poland, Sweden. Pisces—Portugal, Egypt, parts of Spain.

There are two opinions regarding the ruling sign of India. Cheiro took Capricorn and some modern savants consider Virgo. Possibly Capricorn governs certain Northern and North-western regions. But as a whole India comes under Virgo which is also symbolised by Kanyakumari which is at the southernmost tip of the country.

Mundane astrology has to reckon with many factors. (1) Ruling sign, ruling planet and ruling constellation of a country have to be considered. (2) The chart for the important day that shaped the country's destiny has to be examined. Thus for U.S.A., we consider their independence day chart. (3) Next we should note the charts for the solar ingress into Aries and Libra. (4) The chart for the commencement of the lunar year is necessary. (5) The charts for the solar and lunar eclipses in the year are essential. (6) The radical chart of the head of the state is to be considered equally well. For instance, for prediction about our country we should examine the President's chart and relate it to the rest. Since in our democracy a President is there for five years only, the Vimshottari system has to be adjusted to five years only. (7) We have also to reckon with the transit positions of the planets.

Chart 1 is cast for the midnight of January 26, 1950. The Ayanamsa followed in all the charts is of the Raivata Paksha.

Lord of Lagna is retrograde in the 4th. Jupiter is exalted in Navamsa. The Ascendant has the benefic aspect of the Moon, lord of the 10th. It was in this period there were wars with our neighbours. The major period of the Moon began on 18-5-1978. Instability of the Janata Government began in the sub-period of Mars, the two being in shashtashtaka (6-8) and Rahu was in the 12th to the Moon. Internal troubles started soon and they got intensified in the next two sub-periods. Though our foreign relations (the 7th house) are not quite smooth (lord of the 7th in the 12th), still they are better than the internal. The sub-period of Mercury, ending on 13-8-1985, brought about pleasant surprises. From lagna Mercury owns the 12th and from the Moon the 3rd and the 6th. Saturn's entry into the 8th from the Moon and the 2nd from Lagna shows financial recess, Ketu conjunction on August 22, 1984; Mars-Saturn conjunction in February 1986; The solar eclipses of May 30 and November 22, 1984, May 19 and November 12 of 1985, and April 9 and October 3, 1986; the lunar eclipses of May 4 and October 28, 1985, and of April 24, 1986—these do not seem to augur well. Combined with these is the appearance of Halley's comet early in 1986. Loss of life and financial drain add to the unrest. But as the chart is inherently strong, the stability of the country and its integral unity are well protected. The unstable lord of the 9th and the 12th retrograde reveals the short-sighted policies on the national and international fronts. The powerful aspects of three planets on the 10th house are revealing. They point to a bright future after the subperiod of Ketu is over. Arudha Lagna, Karakamsa (Sagittarius) and the lunar Lagna are strong.

Let us take the President's chart in relation to this basic chart. There is Lagna sandhi (Chart 2). Even if the time of the birth is rectified, it shows the features of both Taurus and Gemini. The 10th house fortified by its own lord is good in a way. But Saturn's aspect on this house shows a series of ups and downs, a none-too-strong mind and will. His Moon has the Republic's Moon in the 12th, though the two Lagnas are in trine. As transit Saturn moves into Scorpio, he has a troublesome period. His 10th lord and the Republic's 10th lord are again in 2-12 relationship. In both the charts the 6th lords are debilitated. But it is only in the Republic's chart this debilitation is cancelled.

Let us compare these two charts with Chart 3 which is for the commencement of the lunar year Krodhana, the year of anger and anxiety. The 8th house is ominous. The lord of the year is retrograde in his exalted 8th house whose lord is debilitated in the 6th. The 10th lord in the 8th and the 7th retrograde in the 4th and aspected by the lord of that house (Mars) forebids great trouble, collapse of law and authority in several parts, and mounting tensions in our neighbourhood. The Republic's chart indicated some of these after 13-8-1985 and before 13-3-1986. The Moon in Uttarabhadrapada (Chart 1) brought economic and industrial recession after April 27. Some time between October 29 and January 4 there were serious troubles. The President has having the subperiod of Rahu in Mercury from 22-4-1984. His Mercury and Rahu are in the 8th and the 4th from the Republic's chart and in the 10th and the 6th from the lunar year's. This correlation along with the transits did not appear to augur fully well.

Looking back to the chart of the lunar year (Chart 4) we find the 3rd house afflicted as much as in Chart 3. Dislocation of communications and consequent accidents and losses continued. The lords of Lagna in these two in the 8th

The head of the government also matters in mundane astrology. Chart 5 was that of the Prime Minister. She had the sub-period of Rahu in Saturn from 25-10-1983 and they are the 6th and the 8th to each other. Seen against the background of the first chart, we notice the squares between the two Lagnas and between the Moon positions. The positions of Jupiter are in trine. It is this great affinity that kept her in power so long. The Moon in the 7th in both the charts shows that our foreign policy is neither consistent nor coherent. It is shrouded in impractical dreams. Consistent with her Saturn-Rahu period, consistent with the 1984 chart where the 9th Rahu is afflicted by Mars and Uranus, and consistent with the 1985 chart in which the 9th is afflicted by Mars and Rahu, religious quarrels appear to plague us further. Even in the Republic chart the 9th lord in fall is offered to the enigmatic but explosive Uranus. That is, our so-called secularism will be anything but secular, with a slant against most of us. Her 10th house and the 10th of the 1985 year are afflicted by Saturn. Not so the Republic chart. The 10th in a nation's chart refers to the government, national honour and reputation. The Prime Minister's 10th house speaks eloquently about our vulnerability on these counts. This is strengthened by the 1985 chart. But the chart of the Republic redeems us after March 1986.

Andhra Pradesh coming under Revati had serious trouble with the Centre in 1985. And Kashmir remains a trouble spot.

A consolidated study of the national chart of any country along with that of the new year transits and the like enables us to visualise the pattern of things to come. We can prognosticate about Pakistan and Bangladesh and China from Libra, U.S.A. from Gemini, Britain from Aries, the Middle East from Cancer and so on. The houses in the national charts have special significance. The 3rd refers to communications, the 7th to foreign policy and the 10th to the national integrity and honour.

Apart from the seven factors (mentioned earlier) we have also to consider symbolic progressions and the Vimshottari system of directions. Thus for example in the chart of U.S.A. (Chart 6) the subperiod of Jupiter begins from 17-2-1985. Combust Jupiter in the enemy's house which is the 10th is with Venus. It clearly recalls the civil war of Lincoln's time. We have to keep track of past events too. The examples given here illustrate a few points only.

We have also to consider the following charts—the commencement of Chaitra Shukla Pratipat (first day), solar ingress into Mesha, Karka, Tula and Makara—for a proper assessment of the results. Also consider the eclipses. These have to be related to the charts of the Republic, Head of State and Prime Minister. We cannot ignore the appearance of comets, earthquakes, floods and storms.

In the chart for the new year (cast for the first day of the bright half of Chaitra) Ravi, Chandra and Kuja should be prominent and they should hold prominent positions of the year, is to give us good results.

Profession

Astrologically, the profession a person takes up is to be determined by the tenth house. But this has to be supplemented by the lagna and the sixth house. If one were to take up a business in partnership, the seventh house is involved. For general service conditions, the significator is Shani. For business it is Budha. Favourable aspects between the Sun and Guru suggest a profession connected with water, law, publishing, religion etc. The favourable aspects between the Moon and Budha suggest a job connected with writings, teaching, journalism, news, house-property and furniture. Favourable aspects between Budha and Kuja do appear in the charts of military or naval, commanders, financiers, and politicians. Budha-Guru aspects of a favourable nature suggest jobs connected with religion, literature, art, music and law. Budha-Shani contact of a favourable kind are good for jobs requiring organisational abilities. Favourable contact between Sukra and Neptune are good for music and art. The jobs indicated by this are those connected with acting, tobacco, drugs and liquid. Good aspects between Kuja and Shani bring one professionally in contact with the rough conditions of life. Astrology comes under Budha and Uranus, while Guru and Shani should be well placed. Medical profession involves many factors. Uranus refers to nature cure and occult methods of healing. Guru and Neptune should not be afflicted. Virgo, Scorpio and Pisces should be strong. Shukra and Shani should have mutual aspects, preferably involving Shani's signs. Engineering skills are revealed by Budha and Kuja and by Aries, Gemini and Leo. The charts of philosophers show favourable Uranus, Guru and Neptune and Shani strong in an intellectual sign which should be the ninth. Scientists have good Taurus and Capricorn and they take up the natural sciences. The third house should be strong. Mathematicians and abstract thinkers come under Dhanu and airy signs, while the third and the ninth houses are strong. Musicians have strong Venus and Neptune; the latter is in an angle. Fiery and watery signs are prominent. Gemini brings in instrumental music. Aquarius, Cancer and Virgo must be good. Actors show strongly tenanted Aquarius and the watery signs, alongwith the second and twelfth houses; Moon is found in Cancer.

The abilities of man are too many. They are revealed in the varied human activities. Sometimes man fails in his endeavours because he either underestimates his own abilities or overrates them. At times, these abilities are also likely to lead man to undesirable ways. A good astrological knowledge will enable us not only to know what our abilities are, but also to chanalise the resources of human energy into the most beneficial path of progress. Astrology, as we have often said, does not ordain the unalterable except as regards the unforeseen events like death; it only indicates the possible and probable tendencies which, if we know that they are likely to appear, can be utilised or turned to our advantage. It is in this light that we offer the present astrological analysis of the abilities of man.

An able person is one who can survive, who can overcome the storm and stress of life. This power is usually associated with the Sun and his sign Leo. To be lucky in his struggles an able one needs strong Venus and Jupiter as well. If one achieves his goal after a hard and strenuous struggle, he will have strong Mars and Saturn. Adaptability is the peculiar nature of the volatile Mercury. The Moon can make one either too shrewd or too fickle. Uranus can reveal either a versatile personality or an eccentric one. Neptune seems to render one very dreamy and unpractical. These are a few general observations, and they have to be integrated to the horoscope as a whole. We are taking Uranus and Neptune into consideration only in an experimental way. If they are found working, they can be utilised well. We assign part-ownership of Sagittarius and Scorpio to Uranus and Neptune respectively.

There are certain factors needed for the proper utilisation of one's abilities. One such is mental exactitude. This usually results from a benefic Mercury who is associated with a strong and beneficial Saturn. An affliction to Mercury and to the common signs brings forth the opposite trait. An affliction from Mars generally begets a careless, and exaggerated temper which may even be prone to falsehood. General intelligence, mental powers and the nervous system do come under the sway of Mercury. In any consideration of human ability, we cannot afford to ignore the power wielded by Mercury in any horoscope. One has to assess its worth in relation to the other planetary bodies.

Ability needs both physical and mental energy. Mental energy is indicated by the kind of aspects received by Mercury and Moon from Mars or Uranus or both. The conjunction of Mars with Mercury generally increases mental activity; and when they are afflicted by bad aspects, there can be a temporary mental breakdown. A favourable aspect between Mars and Uranus will endow one with extraordinary physical energy. Thus consider the nativity of Lord Tennyson. Here the Moon receives the powerful aspect of Mars.

Taurus-Lagna 28° and Moon 24°; Gemini-Venus 8°; Cancer-Sun 24° and Mercury 6°; Libra-Mars 17°; Scorpio-Saturn 8°; and Capricorn-Rahu 8°.

The temporary but effective gloom that overtook the spirit of Tennyson is evident from the position of Saturn in the seventh house. Mercury too is in the third, a mental house.

This energy is apt to make one at times very ambitious. Saturn, Capricorn and tenth house generally explain this feature. These are emphasised considerably in the horoscope of Alexander the Great. Capricorn is the tenth house and it is aspected by Mercury; and Saturn is in the second, but is in the tenth from Arudha Lagna. Mars aspects the tenth house.

Aries-Lagna 18° 31'; Taurus-Saturn 29° 54'; Gemini-Mars 26° 18'; Cancer-Mercury 15° 31'; Leo-Sun 3° 25'; Venus 6° 20'; Libra-Moon 28° 31' and Jupiter 5° 54' and Aquarius-Rahu 14° 2'.

These factors explain the over-vaulting ambition that governed the life of Alexander.

Ability needs industry; and it is a well stationed Saturn that makes one not only industrious, but methodical therein. This feature seems to be inherent in the sign Virgo. Intelligence which directs such an industry is to be read from the third house and Mercury. The general intelligence is indicated by the Sun and his aspects. Immanuel Kant the great philosopher who brought about a revolution in European thought, is a typical example of a genius who had to struggle for a method. This struggle is embodied by Saturn in the eighth in trine with Sun and Mercury. Jupiter gives a strong power of judgement, while Saturn offers a patient and conscientious approach to the problems. An afflicted Jupiter does make one absent-minded and at times muddle-headed as well. Similarly an afflicted Saturn gives too narrow an outlook. Chart No. 4 gives us an example of an afflicted Saturn. Jupiter in the tenth has saved the native from falling a prey to his own confused thoughts and desires. The afflicted Saturn afflicts the Sun and the Ascendant almost to the extent of driving the native out of his home. The ability inherent in him could not bear fruit because of these severe afflictions.

Mars and Mercury confer mechanical ability on the individual. Mars generally is at least in the mechanical and technological fields. Together with Mercury, he influences the spheres of human activity that concerns machinery. Examples will be found freely to verify this observation.

Medical ability involves a variety of factors. This association of Venus with Saturn is one usually found in the nativities of many doctors. The degrees 14 to 18 of the four common signs, and the last four degrees of Cancer and Capricorn play a prominent part here. Here is a medical practitioner whose Venus is in trine with Saturn; and the Moon is in close conjunction with Saturn. The medical abilities of this individual are very profound. This expert skill has been his because all the common signs are heavily tenanted. In the angles Venus alone being prominent. He has become famous as a skilled eye specialist. But the sure touch of a doctor is always with him in the diagnosis and treatment of any ailment.

Libra-Lagna 15°; sagittarius-Uranus 21° and Kethu 8°; Pisces-Saturn 15° and Moon 20°; Gemini-Neptune 24°; and Rahu 8°; Mars 19° and Sun 26°; Virgo-Mercury 14°; and Cancer-Venus 10°

Scientific ability is varied in its manifestations. The Naturalist has a strong third house, and Taurus and Capricorn are significant. In Pasteur's nativity the third is heavily tenanted with five planets therein; Taurus has two planets. In the case of T.H. Huxley Taurus has three bodies, one of them being the lord of the third house. The association of the Moon with Taurus is significant in both the horoscopes. Moon is traditionally the guardian of herbs and plants; and he regulates the rhythm of life. These two scientists differ in the exaltation and debilitation of the Moon.

Libra-Lagna 5°; Sagittarius-Sun 14°; Budha 10°; Sukra 14°; Neptune 14° and Uranus 16°; Capricorn-Kuja 3°; Aries-Saturn 12°; and Taurus-Moon 27° and Jupiter 8°

Cancer-Lagna 1° and Jupiter 14°; Scorpio-Moon 16°; Sagittarius-Uranus 29° and Neptune 21°; Aries-Sun 23° and Neptune 21°; and Mars 28°; Taurus-Venus 15°. Saturn 17° and Mercury 16°.

Mathematical ability shows strong airy signs and Sagittarius. The first three degrees of Gemini and Sagittarius are prominent. The degrees 2 to 5 of Cancer occupy a special place of importance. In Newton's nativity the lords of the airy signs are in the third and fifth houses. Saturn has a perfect trine with the second degree of Cancer, and he is actually in the grip of Jupiter, the planet that confers insight and judgment. In the horoscope of Einstein only one earthly sign has the exalted Mars. Venus and Mercury are in the tenth. The Sun is in trine with the third degree of Cancer. The position of the planets from Capricorn to Pisces constitutes an asset for a genius who visits the Earth rarely.

Libra-Lagna 2° and Uranus 27°; Scorpio-Neptune 13°; Sagittarius-Sun 26° and Mercury 3°; Aquarius-Jupiter 26° and Venus 9°; Pisces-Saturn 2°; Aries-Mars 19°; and Gemini-Moon 14°.

A successful individual not only needs ability, but a lot of commonsense. In the absence of commonsense, ability is bound to go astray. This is a rare quality depending on the harmonious aspects of Moon and Saturn. Jupiter may give sure judgment and prudence; but he does not enable one to grasp the actual facts thoroughly. An afflicted Mars or Uranus is generally seen to deprive one of commonsense. The interchange of houses between Jupiter and Saturn in the nativity of Einstein amply illustrated the fund of commonsense he possessed; and this is further augmented by the fact that these are here the owners of the ninth and tenth houses.

Ability is further strengthened by the power of concentration. One may be capable of doing anything; and yet he may fail to achieve anything of value only because he lacks concentration. This power depends on the Ascendant, Sun and Mercury. A persevering attitude is conferred by Saturn, while the concentration which Uranus gives is fanatic and yet spasmodic. When this power is associated with a sense of duty one acquires a strong character. This sense of duty is a gift of Saturn. If we are not able to arrive at a decision on the problem before us, our sense of duty will be of no avail. Favourable aspects between Mars and Uranus are seen to give rise to clear decisions in a very short time. Planets in common signs bring forth a vacillating mind. Thus in the horoscope of Charles I we find four planets in common signs; one of these is the lord of the third, another that of the fifth, and the third is the Moon. With such a group is associated Mars who afflicts Venus in the fifth. There can be no further proof of a remarkable vacillation of the mind.

It is from the third house and Mercury that we will have to find out whether an individual can have a firm intellectual determination. A determination to do a certain thing actually comes from Mars. Strong Sun and Saturn enable one to realise one's ambitions. The nativity of Alexander shows the Sun separating from the sextile with Saturn. Mercury is well placed in the fourth, while the Sun is applying a sextile to Jupiter. Here is a determined mind, a characteristic of Aries generally.

Ability also needs a little of diplomacy. To be a diplomat one should have a sweet tongue and a pleasing behaviour, gifts depending on Venus; and the diplomat's power to work in a hidden way depends on Neptune. Intelligence, patience and selfrestraint are all necessary in diplomacy, and these spring from Mercury and Saturn. Von Papen (born October 29, 1879 at 3 p.m., L.M.T.) is a good example. But a better one is the chart given below. Here we find Venus strongly situated in the tenth in trine with the Moon. Neptune is actually in the cusp of the fifth bhava. Saturn is powerful in the seventh in trine with Jupiter. With such features displayed by the chart, the native is bound to reveal his abilities in a very impressive and significant manner.

Goethe's horoscope presents us with a very interesting example of manifold abilities. Saturn is in the cuspal degree of the Ascendant, in trine with the Moon. Venus is in opposition to Jupiter, making him thereby a gifted poet. Neptune's location in the ninth bhava is significant as revealing a diplomatic behaviour on his part. Then again the eleventh house has Sun and Mercury who endow the native with intelligence and genius.

Libra-lagna 27° and Saturn 25°; Sagittarius-Mars 14°; Capricorn-Uranus 29°; Aquarius-Moon 22°; Pisces-Jupiter 6°; Cancer-Neptune 5°; Leo-Mercury 9°; and Sun 15°; and Virgo-Venus 6°.

Ability is revealed in many ways. When Sun and Saturn are very strong, we find the native to be a highly capable administrator. With a strong Mars, this ability will appear in the military side. In the horoscope of Elizabeth I we find a strong Sun in the tenth. Most of her troubles arose out of Sagittarius-Lagna 11° and Jupiter 4°; Pisces-Neptune 12°; Aries-Moon 20°; Taurus-Mars 25°; Gemini-Uranus 29°; Cancer-Saturn 6°; and Virgo-Mercury 29°; Sun 17° and Venus 17°.

Neptune opposing Sun and Venus. This opposition deprived her of a certain frankness in her varied activities. Frederick the Great had his Sun on the cusp of the 10th house Aquarius. The Sun's position in the cusp of the M.C. appears to play a leading role in the administrative ability. Much depends on the nature of the sign in which the Sun is posited.

There is another individual who is known to us as Caesar Borgia who had Virgo rising with Mercury, in the third degree. Mars and Saturn are very strong in the eleventh, and so is the Sun. Though he murdered many like a villain, he "left among the people whom he governed the reputation of a just prince, up-right and severe". This is an estimate which we are apt to brush aside. But it is true. The Sun in the Ascendant and Saturn advancing beyond Mars in the eleventh, is significant here.

Virgo-Lagna 3°, Mercury 3°, and Sun 17°; Libra-Uranus 25°; Scorpio-Neptune 2°; Capricorn-Jupiter 15°; Aries-Moon 28°; Cancer-Mars 18° and Saturn 20°; and Leo-Venus 19°.

The artistic ability is governed by Venus. Taurus appears to be involved in music and painting, while the other fine arts are concerned with Libra. This ability in its purely creative aspect depends on the Sun and the fifth house. All literary creation, however, springs from Mercury, while the artistic arises from Venus. The degrees 20 to 24 of Taurus are very sensitive to literary output. The first five degrees of Aries, Cancer, Libra and Sagittarius, the degrees from 4 to 6 of Taurus and Scorpio, are also to be examined carefully. In the horoscopes of literary celebrities we actually find Moon and Cancer holding a prominent place. Degrees 19 to 23 of Cancer and Capricorn are very important in the consideration of the fine arts. Authorship is implied by the Ascendant, fourth and 5th houses, and by Guru and Moon. Examples illustrating these are too many; and any one can easily find out these observations.

The ability revealed in commerce concerns planets save those that are impractical by nature. In so far as the acquisitive instinct is involved, we find a prominent Saturn besides strong Cancer and second house. Saturn and Moon regulate the prudence of the individual. In the next chart we find Saturn in the fourth, opposed to Mercury and Venus. The eleventh. The speculative bent of mind appears prominently in the aspects falling on Capricorn. The owner of the Ascendant is well situated in M.C.

Moon in the descendant has given him enough prudence. The following chart is that of Ford whose Saturn is in the Scorpio-Lagna 2° and Rahu 13°; Capricorn-Moon 20°; Taurus-Kethu 13°; Cancer-Sun 16° and Mercury 12°; Leo-Mars 7°; and Virgo-Venus 2°, Saturn 10° and Jupiter 29° 56'.

The ability to argue, to controvert, is a feature of Mercury. The ability to learn languages, on the other hand, seems to depend on the eleventh house. By himself Mercury can confer oratorical ability when he is in any one of the squares from the Ascendant. The degrees 23 to 26 of Aries, Virgo, Libra and Pisces, and the degrees 14 to 17 of Sagittarius and Aquarius are equally important in the consideration of oratorical abilities. Cicero, Gladstone and Annie Besant provide valuable examples. Cicero's chart shows a heavily tenanted Ascendant. Sun and Mercury are also aspected by the lord of the Ascendant. The second house is aspected by the Moon.

In Gladstone's nativity Jupiter is in a very sensitive point. The Ascendant along with the Sun and Mercury is in the degrees indicative of oratorical ability. The second house has an exalted Mars who gave a sharp and incisive tongue to an already well-equipped orator. In Mrs. Annie Besant's horoscope we find Mercury and Saturn occupying the sensitive degrees. The Ascendant with Mars receives the aspect of Saturn. This endowed her with a good deal of constructive energy and ability; and she was able to build up an organisation with an indefatigable zeal. Moon in the second has given an added charm of persuasiveness to her powers of expression.

Sagittarius-Lagna 18°, Sun 16° and Mercury 16°;

Aries-Lagna 23° 20' and Mars 24° 56'; Taurus-
Moon 22° 40'; Gemini-Jupiter 28° 8'; Virgo-Sun

An able one must have a serious purpose. This seriousness is the result of a strong and beneficial Saturn. If to this is added a good Scorpio, the native will be highly earnest in his activities and enterprises. There is no better example than that of Mahatma Gandhi whose Saturn-Scorpio is too prominent to be ignored. This seriousness is altruistic when the individual is sincere. Sincerity is a typical characteristic of Aries and Leo, and to a large extent that of Aquarius. Of the planets, Mars and Uranus enable one to be sincere. These characteristics are nowhere better illustrated than in the horoscope of Shivaji. An exalted Saturn in the third is in a perfect trine with the lord of Aries and Scorpio. This has made him earnest and serious in his undertakings. The Ascendant is Leo and the lord of the Ascendant is in Aquarius. This has resulted in making him sincere to the core in all his activities. The mark of a highly developed character stands imprinted on the horoscope as a whole.

Strong Venus and Neptune indicate musical ability. This quality is also associated with Gemini in the case of those who are gifted instrumentalists. An inherent love of music is always found in those who have Cancer or Aquarius rising. Some musicians also reveal the association of Moon with Saturn, an affliction from Mars to any of these generally deprives one of the ability to appreciate music. Wagner's nativity has Venus rising in the Ascendant Taurus with the Sun. Saint Thyagaraja on the other hand, has Cancer rising with the Moon, while Saturn and Venus are located in Taurus.

third, a house concerning the mind, though he is actually in the 4th bhava. Uranus is in the house of Venus, while Venus is closely associated with Saturn.

Jupiter and Neptune. Sun and Saturn are in exact conjunction in the fifth house. These salient factors are related to the painting abilities. These factors have to be studied together with those found in the nativities of other celebrities.

Theatrical ability is conferred by Aquarius and by the watery signs. The Moon and the twelfth house also are involed here, besides the first three degrees of Leo and Aquarius. In Irving's horoscope Aquarius and Leo are well tenanted by the powerful and energetic planets. The ninth house Moon has made his life one stream of emotionalism. The twelfth house receives the full aspect of the powerful Venus.

Chart 26 is that of an actress. Here the watery signs are occupied by all save two. Four of these are in the twelfth with the Moon. Born under such favourable conditions one is bound to make a name as an actress of rare gifts. It is in this light that one can collect data for a careful assessment of the contributions made by several planets. Once we know the abilities that are conferred on us and regulated by the planets, we can make the best use of our gifts and talents.

Astrological interpretation of the temperament and tastes, of the qualities and profession of a person, is a very difficult task. This is complicated by a number of factors, chief among them is the question, of the newly discovered planets. When life was not as complex as it is today, when man was mapping out his spiritual destiny, when man was setting his own home in order in the light of a spiritual ideal, he could interpret almost all events by considering the five major planets (Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn), Sun, Moon and the two nodes. Today we can do justice to the science of astrology by agreeing to consider the part played by the new planets, and by assigning a place to them in the general framework drawn by our ancient seers. Whether this is an advisable procedure or not, depends on the correctness of the predictions made.

Accepting this hypothesis for purposes of scientific investigation, and without upsetting the Indian method of assigning the signs to the planets, we tentatively assign Pluto to Scorpio, Neptune to Pisces, Uranus to Aquarius and the asteroids to Pisces as part-owners of these signs. Here we follow the principle of the distance in which a planet is found with reference to the Sun. Such a principle would of course compel us to assign Jupiter to Aquarius. The Sun and the Moon have a general influence over all the signs in a horoscope of an earthly being in so far as the Sun is the centre of the system to which we belong, and the Moon is our own satellite.

Leaving aside the Moon and the Sun, we have ten houses, each house containing thirty degrees. Just as a living organism is a microcosm of the macrocosm, each sign represents itself and also the rest. In this light we have our Vargas.

Before we proceed further, we would like to make it clear that we do not accept all that goes under the name of Western astrology. Thus, for instance, we do not condemn the opposition between planets as malefic. The opposition like conjunction is a variable factor, and its nature depends on the nature of the planets. Further, the cardinal points in the zodiac are Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn. Aries and Libra are 180 degrees apart; and they have a certain similarity. This similarity would make us group the twelve signs into six pairs; and the units to be interpreted would then be sixty only.

Next, it may be pointed that we are trying to offer a correct interpretation to the mental characteristics and of the possible professions of the natives. Consequently the houses (bhavas) to be noted are the first, fourth, seventh and tenth, besides the fifth and the ninth. When malefic associations are found in the cusps of these houses, or in the positions of the owners of these houses, then they become afflicted; otherwise they are treated as benefic.

Finally, it may be pointed out that the interpretation of 3°.1' will have to be sought under the fourth degree not under the third. Wherever it is possible and desirable, illustrations are given to facilitate an understanding of these interpretative remarks. All the degrees refer to the Nirayana or fixed zodiac.

The 10th house is generally admitted to be the house indicating profession. Here until and unless it is specifically mentioned, readers are requested to treat the house as the equivalent for Bhava. The 10th is the meridian, the point at right angle to the place at the time of the birth. It is the zenith. From the zenith to the Ascendant we have four houses which indicate profession, gains, loss and the general life respectively. In other words, in the study of profession we cannot ignore any one of these houses, even though the 10th is the most important one. Moreover, the nature of the profession is also dependent on the educational qualifications and mental qualities of the native. These would necessitate a consideration of the 4th and the 5th houses.

Besides these, there are a few more important points to be examined. The dasamsa (or tenth fraction of a sign) of the Ascendant plays as much part as the 10th house. Then we have to see in what sign and house is the lord of the 10th situated; the position of the lord of that house in the Navamsa is another vital factor. The aspects to the 10th house and its lord of that house in the Navamsa is another vital factor. The aspects to the 10th house and its lord and the association of other planets with the 10th house and with the lord of the 10th house are also important. This would make it appear that the determination of the profession would depend on a thorough examination of the entire horoscope. It is so; and there is no short cut. It is the ignorance of a majority of these factors that has led to the faulty predictions on this problem.

To come back to the 10th house, it refers to the practical side of one's life; as it is the exact opposite of the fourth, it indicates the life outside one's home. Judging from the nature of the horoscope, one has to predict the possibility or otherwise of an active life. This applies even to the horoscopes of women. In other words, the 10th describes or indicates the way in which the person expresses himself in his social or public life. In the light of these remarks, we can present in broad outline the views found in our traditional texts.

The Sun as lord of the tenth can give a good inheritance, and a career in drugs and chemicals; sometimes an administrative career of a Governmental or semi-Governmental nature is indicated. Precious stones, aristocracy, low women and agriculture are the sources of revenue suggested by the Moon. Mars indicates a military line; in connection with Mercury, the medical line; and in conjunction with Saturn it can be an undesirable one. Religion, business, teaching and law are indicated by Mercury. Teaching and finance are associated with Jupiter. Venus refers to the arts or to brokerages. Philosophy and service appear with Saturn. This may again be viewed thus: When the Sun is located in the tenth we can speculate a military or a political career. The Moon will suggest a religious, philosophical or emotional life. Agriculture, machinery, surgery and army are indicated by Mars.

Above all, the astrologer will have to see whether the native possesses the right character and ability to carry out the duties and responsibilities implied by the career or careers indicated. To this end, one has to examine the Ascendant carefully. Moreover, an ascendant has a predisposition to certain professions and this may be applied to the 10th house also. What follows applies to the Nirayana or fixed zodiac, which alone gives good results.

The native under Aries or Mesha is a natural fighter. He can be a soldier. He is a pioneer who can unearth new ways or regions; that is, he has the spirit of adventure. Engineering, surgery, metal-work, armaments also are here. The Arian type is best suited for careers involving a good deal of dynamism and exploration.

Taurus or Vrishabha gives a practical nature. The native will build on firm foundations. He does not take chance. He can trade in furs, cosmetics, jewellery banking, management boards, brick-laying and the like. Building, farming, publicity, advertising and such other activities which bring about goodwill and extend public interest are indicated by Taurus.

Languages, literature, travel and salesmanship are the best careers for Gemini. The mood for scientific research is also greatly regulated by this sign and its lord. Born under the sign Mithuna, one has a tendency to succeed in a career which centers round fact-gathering, planning and scheming. An afflicted Gemini or Mercury can bring about embezzlement, fraud, forgery and so on. Otherwise Gemini can indicate editors, writers, chartered accountants, translators, teachers, reporters and barristers.

Cancer or Karka tends to commercial life or to a serious preoccupation with ancient history. Antiquarians, curio collectors, archaeologists and historians are found here. Any career involving some connection with nautical life is successful for Cancer. One can be best fitted here for a visionary career.

Leo or Simha tends to the dreaming about utopias. Leadership and self-confidence play a part in the choice of career for one born in Leo. He is a successful administrator, artist, or actor. Armed services, civil services, finance and law are the suitable careers. Simha is very dynamic and active; and it can make one even an officer connected with the forests.

Virgo or Kanya gives an intelligent and methodical personality. The native plays minute attention to detail. He can be a good computer, a salesman, or a cashier. He is best fitted for specialisation. Scientific and literary work under any form is advantageous. Psychology and psychiatry too come here.

Libra, as its name denotes, gives a balanced outlook. One born under thula tends to be a logician or a balanced lawyer or an officer of law. He can be an artist or a philosopher as well. Diplomacy, parliamentary or government work, finance and business, and literary activities are other vocations. Any career that would involve the play of balanced judgment will bring success.

Scorpio has a good deal to favour the vocations of a physician, chemist or nurse. It also indicates priests, philosophers, mystics and astrologers. At times we find detectives, politicians and critics too. Under favourable Martian influences one can be an engineer, a craftsman, or a mechanic. Anthropologists and geographers, intelligence officers and explorers are also found under this sign. It is a sign conferring a kind of versatility which may not be of any use.

Sagittarius or Dhanus carries with it a certain amount of versatility which makes the prediction of a career a little difficult. The native can be interested in sport and horses. He will be deeply interested in freedom. He may become a teacher, a preacher, an organiser. He needs a close adaptation of his career with his personal outlook. The Sagittarian knows how to get on in life; and a consciousness of this knowledge often lands him in trouble.

Capricorn or Makara makes one industrious. The native succeeds in routine occupations, in office work, in agriculture and mining. Capricornians rarely succeed when they leave their locality. They are often found to return to their homes.

Electricity, atomic power, jetpower, internal combustion engine, engineering, aviation, thermo-nuclear studies, artistic endeavours, technology and the like come under Aquarius. Radio and television too find a place here. Scientific intricacies and humanitarian work also are revealed by Aquarius. Astrologers with remarkable powers of intuition are sometimes Aquarians.

Imaginative work is best suited to the native of Pisces. Film industry, theatre, broadcasting and television, medical profession, welfare institutions, municipal work and the like are covered by Pisces. The person born under Pisces is secretive, and also vain. He chooses a profession where both these traits find a free play.

In predicting the profession for a woman, we have to examine the vargas of the 10th house in her horoscope. If she has more masculine vargas here, she will have career of her own.

The planets too are individually indicative of a variety of professions; and these too need to be noted. The Sun indicates those in authority, those working in and for the government, managers, goldsmiths and jewellers. Mars suggests soldiers, dentists, surgeons, chemists, photographers, metal workers and butchers. In association, he can indicate typing, printing and publishing. The Moon indicates sailors, travellers, caterers, fishermen, advertisers, dealers in liquids. Mercury refers to writers, teachers, editors, clerks, secretaries, booksellers and postmen. Venus suggests poets, artists, confectioners, embroiderers, dealers in flowers and scents, and linen drapers. Jupiter indicates lawyers, physicians, clergymen, bankers, clothiers, grocers and tobacconists. Saturn refers to miners, labourers, coal merchants, dealers in lands and property, plumbers, architects and philosophers.

Besides the 10th house proper, it is necessary to consider the following in assessing the precise nature of a profession:- (i) signs and planets in, and the rulers of, the 6th and 10th houses; (ii) Sun's house and sign position and aspects, and the planet nearest the Sun if it is rising before the Sun; (iii) the position of the ruler of the Ascendant and the planet in strongest aspect to and from it.

(iv) The planet in strongest aspect to the Moon; (v) the dominant planets in the map; and (vi) certain sensitive degrees. The sensitive degrees can be grouped under six pairs of signs and tabulated thus for the sake of convenience;

In interpreting and applying these sensitive points any minutes beyond a degree will have to be treated as implying the next degree. And these points refer only to the Nirayana or fixed zodiac which alone can interpret the fixed tendencies bearing on the profession or career.

Working with these principles, one cannot normally err in indicating the career that is likely to be chosen. Moreover, the background for the successful career can be prepared well in advance only when we can predict the career. In other words, the educational planning of a native depends largely on the line he or she is likely to take up.

Predictions concerning profession are troublesome because of the complex nature of modern, social, economic, and political conditions. The texts we have are helpful only in giving us a broad outline. On the basis of these texts we have to fill in and readjust certain implications contained in the statements.

Mantreshwara, for instance, states: "One ought to predict the acquisition of money by determining whether the Ascendant or the sign occupied by the Sun or the Moon is stronger. Then find out the planet located in the 10th house from these, and the Navamsa sign occupied by the lord of that sign. The Sun refers to the father, the Moon to the mother, Mars to foe, Mercury to friend, Jupiter to brother. Venus to the wife, and Saturn to servant" (5.1).

The Jataka Parijata is more helpful. There we read: "From the 10th house you can ascertain a person's authority, rank, ornaments, dress, activities, agriculture, renunciation, religious activities, means of livelihood, and fame" (5.1). Naturally the profession depends on one's education, his mental make-up and such other factors.

Then the 1st, the 4th, the 5th and the 10th have to be considered. Before we proceed further, let us take an example. If the 10th house from the Ascendant has Mercury, and the 10th from the Sun and the Moon have Mars and Rahu, and if the lords of these houses are Jupiter and Venus who are in Navamsas owned by Saturn and Jupiter respectively, then we have to examine Mercury, Mars, Rahu, Jupiter, Venus and Saturn. The Moon as the lord of the 5th house also enters the picture. This is too complex a situation.

Bhattotpala does not say that we have to reckon only from the strongest among the Ascendant, the Sun and the Moon. He quotes Garga to support his contention that everyone of these should be considered for determining the source of income. We have also to ascertain whether the planet is in its own house, in its sign of exaltation, in a friend's house, or in an inimical sign. If the planets are malefic for that chart, there will be great labour and little income. If the Sun is strong and exalted, then one earns by his own exertion.

The profession of a native is to be judged from the planet or planets occupying the 10th; and if there is none, from those in the 1st and from those aspecting the Sun and the Moon. Moreover, the planet posited very near the Sun or the 10th also has an influence in this matter.

Jataka Parijata declares that we must find out whether the Ascendant is strong or the Moon. Then note the Navamsa occupied by the lord of the 10th reckoned from the stronger one. If that sign belongs to the Sun, one deals in medicine, wool, grass, water, grain, gold, pearls, and he may become a mediator or ambassador. If it is the Moon, one lives by things derived from water, by agriculture, clay, clothes, and controversies. That is, here are indications for sailors, mariners, navigators, fishermen, boatmen, midwives, nurses and others. If it is Mars, then we refer to metallurgy, war, fire-control, stealing, adventure, and quarrels of others. Military jobs, doctors, chemists, butchers, executioners, engine drivers, and all those working in iron, steel or fire are covered here. If it is Mercury, one pursues arts, poetry, traditional profession, priesthood, astronomy, astrology, and scriptures. Literary authors, translators, writers, accountants, printers and postmen also come under this planet (15.44-47).

If the Navamsa sign belongs to Jupiter, one earns by becoming an instructor, religious authority, priest, moralist, philosopher and the like. Here come judges, scholars, senators, clergymen and bankers. If it belongs to Venus, the earnings are related to gold, ruby, elephants, horses, cattle, jaggery, cooked rice, salt, milk, curd and women. Here is a place for owners of hotels, confectioners, shepherds, musicians, painters, linen drapers, jewellers, players, embroidery, scent-dealers, maid-servants and the like. If the sign belongs to Saturn, one earns by wild pursuits, wood engraving, executing, carrying the burdens of others. Probably we have a place here for shoe-makers, scavengers, grave diggers, under-takers, brick-layers, miners, and gardeners (15.48-50).

If the Sun and Mercury are in the 10th, one earns as an astronomer or astrologer, or he lives by articles derived from water, or by ornaments. Mars and Mercury in the 10th make one scientific. Venus and Mars there give him trade in foreign lands. Mercury and Saturn make one a copyist. Venus and Saturn give him cosmetics, medicines, and trade (15.56-59).

This account taken from one of our authoritative text-books, gives enough indication about the duty of the astrologer in matters dealing with profession. There is enough room for supplementing these details, and we have many clues whereby we can enlarge the principles. Accordingly, we state some of the relevant factors and combinations.

The 10th house, its lord, the planets in the 10th, the planets aspecting the 10th and its lord, the signs occupied by the lord of the 10th, the planets near the Sun and near the 10th—these have to be considered carefully. Then note the kind of triplicity to which the concerned sign belongs. An airy sign indicates mental powers, planning, oratory, fluency. A fiery sign suggests force of character, grit, ability, self-aggressiveness, factories, dangerous pursuits, surgery, dentistry. An earthy sign gives patience, planning for material welfare, agriculture, foodstuffs, stocks and shares, clothes, gardening, and immovable properties. A watery sign suggests liquids, commercial travellers, agencies, dress-makers, furniture shops, laundries, hospital chemists and druggists, nurses, salesmen, navigation and so on.

The Sun refers to royal or state appointments and favours, ministers, magistrates, medical persons, goldsmiths and doctors.

The Moon refers to travellers, sailors, hawkers, nurses, public commondities, mid-wives.

Mars governs iron, cutlery, machines, surgeons, chemists, soldiers, sergeants, factories, debators, lawyers, logicians, butchers and barbers.

Mercury governs orators, teachers, accountants, poets, authors, editors, printers, mathematicians, merchants, insurance, messengers, conjurors, buffoons, dancing masters, sentinels, painters, grammarians, dialecticians, and health officials.

Venus governs pleasurable and aesthetic pursuits. Here are artists, musicians, actors, perfumers, jewellers, silk and embroidery, medicine, cookery, and flower dealers.

Jupiter governs religious teachers, priests, lawyers, judges, scholars, university professors, grammarians, philosophers, and physicians.

Saturn rules varied professions. Saturn on the cusp of the 10th gives eminence, authority, and power. Saturn refers to agriculturists, miners, gardeners, lead, astronomy, metaphysics, philosophy, theology.

The intellectual signs are Gemini, Libra and Aquarius and they intensify the powers of thinking and planning. Cancer and Capricorn favour serious thought. 19° and 20°

Taurus and Scorpio refer to critical faculties, while 22° and 23° Pisces and Virgo give rhythm and law and order, and 15° Cancer and Capricorn confer balanced judgement. Jupiter has a prominent place in the charts of lawyers. Mars and the Sun dominate the charts of engineers. 3° Libra is the degree of discovery; also for engineers note 25° Pisces and Virgo, and 17° Taurus and Scorpio. The medical profession involves Gemini, Libra, Scorpio and Aquarius; 20° to 26° Virgo also is relevant. For business, the earthy signs are favourable. Artists and musicians have the strong Moon and Venus with good aspects from Mercury, Mars and the Sun. The sensitive degrees for these are: 23° Pisces and Virgo, 29° Taurus and Scorpio, 12° Gemini and Sagittarius, 16° Leo and Aquarius. Scorpio is the most important sign for astrology. Saturn and the Moon have much to say about astrologers besides Mercury. The first degree of Cancer and Capricorn, 19° Libra, 29° Taurus and Scorpio, and 21° to 23° Gemini and Sagittarius are also involved here.

Journalists and editors have the strong Moon, Mercury and Jupiter. 21°, 25° and 29° Leo and Aquarius, and 21° Taurus and Scorpio are involved here. The 3rd and the 9th must be strong, as also their lords.

Ascetics and religious people have a strong 9th house and strong Jupiter, the Sun and the Moon. The first degree and 24° Gemini and Sagittarius, the first degree of Aries and Libra and of Leo and Sagittarius are also important points here.

Accountants have the strong Moon and Mercury, and a strong Ascendant in Gemini, Virgo, Libra and Aquarius. Teachers and professors have strong Jupiter and Mercury.

Some of the degrees which are sensitive for different professions are listed below. Astrologers are requested to examine the appropriateness of these points:

Aries, Libra 2°	Music
Aries, Libra 3°	Literature
" " 24°	Painting, music, oratory
Taurus, Scorpio 5°	Literature
Taurus, Scorpio 14°	Medicine

Taurus 23°	Literature
Gemini, Sagittarius 1°	Science
Gemini, Sagittarius 12°	Medicine
Leo, Aquarius 5°	Astrology, painting
Leo, Aquarius 8°	Music
Leo, Aquarius 19°	Astrology
Virgo 1°	Army
Virgo, Pisces 2° to 4°	Painting
Sagittarius 3°	Literature
Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius	Music
Pisces 23°
First degree of the negative watery signs	Medicine, painting

There are many such sensitive points which one can arrive at after correlating a number of charts. All the while one must keep in mind the framework provided by the traditional Indian authorities. Then the ticklish questions of profession can be satisfactorily solved.

Some Professions

1. Diplomacy

In the olden days foreign travel was by sea and the watery signs (Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces) were considered. Now it is by air and we have to reckon with the airy signs (Gemini, Libra and Aquarius). Foreign travels are generally indicated by the 9th and 12th houses and their lords. We have also to note whether these are in movable or common signs.

The purpose for which one goes abroad is determined by the 1st, 4th and 10th houses and by their lords make an account of Paradesa Saham and Jalaprathana Saham. The first is obtained by deducting the longitude of the 9th lord from the longitude of the 9th house and then adding that of the Lagna. When the Lagna does not fall between the first two, add 30 degrees. The Saham and its lord must be related to the Lagna or the 9th house. The Saham should be aspected by the lord of the 7th, 9th or 12th house.

The lords of the 4 or 9 and Mercury indicate foreign travel for study. The lords of 9 or 10 refer to the reasons of career. The lords of 2 or 11 can refer to financial reasons. Lords of 1 or 6 may indicate foreign travel for reasons of health. In this context we wish to deal with the specific problem involving diplomats.

Here we take into consideration Uranus and Neptune. For the sake of convenience the charts are given according to the Ayanamsa of Lahiri. It may be noted that diplomacy involves secrecy, tact and other things. This makes us consider the 8th house and Scorpio as well.

The first chart is that of a distinguished and devout diplomat who was with the Indian embassy in Syria, France and other places. Here Saturn as lord of 9 and 10 is in the 8th aspected by the lord of the 8th. Saturn as "prasiddha karma jeevi" is in the 12th from Karakamsa (Scorpio) while the 10th lord from it is in the 4th. From Karakamsa the lord of the 8th is in the 10th. Saturn is also in the 8th, while the 6th lord is in the secretive Scorpio. All these fit into his career as a diplomat.

He started his career in the major period of Jupiter and he retired in June 1989. The houses involved in this chart are 1, 6, 8 and 10 along with Scorpio. Common signs Gemini and Sagittarius have played a major role — one of them being airy. The 9th is a movable sign which is partly watery aspected by a debilitated Mars from a watery sign. This can be a reason why he could not rise up to the highest position in the embassy.

In the chart of Mr. K.P.S. Menon (Lagna Taurus) the Moon (27), Venus (16) and Saturn (17) are in the secretive Scorpio, while the 8th lord Jupiter is in the 5th. The Moon has exchanged signs with Mars. He had the right Dasas of Venus, Sun, Moon and Mars.

The second chart is that of our late President Dr. S. Radhakrishnan who was also for some time India's ambassador at Moscow. It was during his stay there that the Russian attitude towards our country changed in our favour. The 10th lord is in Lagna. The 5th (tact, shrewd intellect etc.) is aspected by its own lord from a watery sign. The 7th and 8th lords are together in the watery 3rd; Jupiter aspects the 5th and 6th lord Saturn. Scorpio and the moveable Cancer has made him a successful diplomat. Saturn also aspects the Lagna and the 8th.

A good aspect between Mars and Uranus reveals energy, decisiveness and will-power which are needed in diplomacy. A similar aspect between Saturn and Uranus gives initiative and good will-power. Foresight and tact result from a benefic aspect between Saturn and Neptune. Thus we find in the 3rd chart the lords of 9 and 10, 1 and 5 and 3 are in the secretive 7th. Saturn and Uranus are conjunct Venus. Breadth of outlook, originality and tremendous will-power are contributed by Uranus. The political planet Sun is in the 6th aspected by Mars. With great tact and patience he sought a solution to our relations with China. This is the chart of Mr. K.P.S. Menon referred to earlier. While in the second chart Uranus aspects the 8th house, here he is in the 7th, directly making him a career diplomat.

The 6th house refers to service, like the 10th. The 9th is the house of remote exploration, foreign travel, relations with foreigners, foreign interests of people. The 10th refers to public work, career and the like. The 12th is generally involved in the diplomacy, like the 8th house.

A diplomat should have pleasing manners and hence a strong Venus is necessary in secret and hidden ways, arises from Scorpio, Pisces and Neptune. Patience and self-restraint, which are required in diplomacy, come from Saturn. The 7th also governs diplomacy. Ready wit is from Mercury. Uranus is not quite amenable to diplomacy, unless this planet is kept in check by Saturn. In the second chart we find Mercury and conjunct Venus in Lagna. Saturn conferred patience and self-restraint.

In the third chart Venus as lord of Lagna is with the Yogakaraka Saturn in Scorpio. Conjunction of the lords of Lagna and the 9th or their mutual aspects do indicate foreign travels. But within this framework we have to note the factors mentioned above for determining whether a native can be employed as a diplomat abroad.

2. Politics

Apart from the usually accepted planets and their general influences, we have to take into consideration certain sensitive points or degrees. The degree of the ascendant, and those of the angles and trines are such sensitive spots. There are many more in the zodiac. These points have to be studied with reference to the planets and cusps in any given nativity. If these points receive benefic influences, they will reveal many a benefic aspect in the career of the native. An affliction to these points will either negative the results conferred by them or reveal the malefic side of these influences. At the same time, the general framework of the horoscope may at times aggravate or suppress the effects of these points.

All these sensitive points refer to the Nirayana zodiac. It is the fixed or constellation zodiac that can carry these sensitive points unvaryingly. In studying these points, it is profitable to study the new planets Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. Such a study is bound to decide for us the answer for the question concerning their influence on human life. For those who are willing to accept them, we assign Asteroids to Pisces, Jupiter to Aquarius, Uranus to Sagittarius, Neptune to Scorpio, and Pluto to Libra as part-rulers. Taking this as a tentative hypothesis, we may examine their influence. After this examination we may reject these planets or accept them. It is to facilitate such a study we propose to show the part played by some sensitive points in the natiivities of politicians.

The tenth degree of Aries is one of a struggle to realize an ideal. The native can one day become a self-made man through his own strong will. Gifted with a horse sense he will be a tough warrior either in life or in war or in both. He never hesitates and he knows what he wants. Tamberlaine's Sun was located here. The ninth degree is slightly the reverse of this one. It brings forth unforeseen situations which cannot easily be overcome; and the native's failure may be due to his lack of generosity. Mars and Saturn were conjunct in this degree when England declared war on Germany in 1939; and Hitler's Sun was here. These positions have, of course, to be studied not in isolation, but in connection with the other relevant planets and their positions. Then alone can we arrive at the influence of the sensitive points selected here for study.

The 23rd degree of Aries is magnetic. It inspires people and makes them come under the influence of the native. He will set forth original ideas and can unconsciously shape the future, though the native is free from tender and refined emotions. Karl Marx's Sun appears here. Whether this position is really responsible for the present status of the teachings of Marx has to be ascertained from the horoscope.

The 3rd degree of Taurus is an enigmatic one. None can know the mind of the native, though anyone can see that he is arrogant enough. Having no intellectual or emotional communion with any fellow human being, he can at times take up a violent path to assert himself. His end will be pitiable and ignoble. This degree can be studied profitably in the horoscope of Pierre Laval. Here we find a good deal that has so far eluded the politicians and diplomats in the character and achievements of Laval.

The 15th degree of Cancer can either confer great spiritual powers or release undesirable violence. It is a degree of aggressiveness. The native may behave with a definite purpose, with a specific mission in life. He will be unique. It can also make him highly arrogant and intolerably showy. Bismarck's ascendant falls here. Mussolini's Sun and Mercury are conjoined here.

The 17th degree of Cancer is a degree of tremendous will power, of cool determination. Once he decides on an issue, it will not be possible to make him alter his ideas and plans. His prejudices are not apt to be shaken easily; and so are his likes.

The 22nd degree of Cancer is a highly sensitive point animated by power, by a power of which the native is conscious. If this point is not afflicted, it gives rise to lofty and noble aspirations; otherwise it leads to vain ambitions. The degree carries the marks of a powerful administrator who is also humane and kind. The horoscope of the October Revolution, 1917, shows Saturn here, not unafflicted.

A headstrong and tough temper characterises the 25th degree of Cancer. At times, it reveals bad behaviour and a certain roughness. The native has to face many an obstacle. Clemenceau's Venus is found here; and this explains partly the infamous character revealed by the Versailles Treaty.

The 3rd degree of Leo at times reveals duplicity. It reveals an innovator, an author of a new cult, one who exploits his study of the past for his own future. It presents a versatile intellect and rare psychical powers. It is not a little surprising to find Napoleon's Sun here. The 23rd degree of this sign is in some ways a complement to the above. This point shows the victorious unruffled nature of the native. There is a serene atmosphere coupled with an unswerving faith in providence. Easily adaptable to any situation, he is spiritually happy. He has the unique gift of enjoying the manifestations of the beautiful. It is very interesting to find Napoleon's Mars here.

The 17th degree of Virgo reveals a noble character dominated by a love of freedom and by a relentless struggle towards the realization of a lofty ideal with courage and sincerity, wisdom and virtue, the native proceeds. Aided by highly developed critical faculties, he makes himself felt. An affliction here is a serious thing leading to wayward and reckless life which may then be characterised by peevishness and fault-finding. One can study Hindenburg's Sun on this point.

The 27th degree of Virgo indicates rulership. It endows a great many good qualities of the head and heart. At times these qualities do co-exist with a heartless and selfish behaviour. The native develops his powers of observation and understanding; he manipulates the circumstances to enable himself to go higher and higher in the scale. He does not allow chance to operate in his affairs. An afflicted degree will make him ungrateful and devoid of softer feelings. At any rate, he will be a complex personality, rarely understood by his own age. Still he succeeds in carrying the public with him. The Earl of Beaconsfield's ascendant falls here; and it can be examined carefully in this light.

The 28th degree of Virgo reveals an outstanding character who is an intellectual and who is also really human to the core. There will be also a deeper vein of the religion. Ramsay Mac Donald's Sun is to be found here.

The 23rd degree of Libra shows a man of destiny who is bound to become an important international figure of great power and authority. With great self-confidence and actuated by a steadfast purpose, he pushes his way through. Appearing as an altruist, he suppresses his real feelings.

Fate remains on his side and gives him an inflexible will. His remarkable powers of intellect make him an expert of no mean order in strategy. It is no wonder that Napoleon's ascendant falls here. Sir John French's ascendant and Clemenceau's Moon also appear here.

The first degree of Scorpio presents the reverse of the above. It reveals a very harsh destiny. Napoleon III had his Saturn here. The polarities are strongly emphasised in the 18th degree of Sagittarius. One can be the most innocent character or the most blood-thirsty and ambitious conqueror. We find here the ascendant of Tamberlane. The 23rd degree of Sagittarius points to a deep and unquenchable thirst for absolute power. This degree is particularly significant in Napoleon's nativity; the presence of Pluto here may provide a clue to the real nature of the influences of Pluto.

The second degree of Capricorn is a highly constructive spot. Intellectual and utilitarian aspects come out prominently in close co-operation. The native may be said to be a creature of fortune; he will not only be elevated when the wheel of fortune takes him up, but also hurl him down. Such is the Moon's position in the nativity of Woodrow Wilson.

The second degree of Aquarius reveals a very bright mind which is not allowed a smooth passage. The native will remain unhappy in spite of his great achievements. Lincoln's Sun appears here.

A revolutionary temper is revealed by the third degree of Pisces. The native will have keen powers of observation and many devoted followers. But he often falls a victim to the mean. Robespierre's nativity reveals this aspect clearly.

The seventh degree of Pisces forebodes an overvaulting ambition combined with tremendous innate energy. It is a naturally aggressive point, and it is capable of making the native drift into base malice. This was the degree occupied by the Sun in the horoscope of the Third Reich. It is the ninth degree which carries this envy further; and Neptune was here in the horoscope of Lloyd George, whose slogan 'Hang the Kaiser' is not likely to be forgotten.

The 12th degree of Pisces is a degree of obscurity. It disables the individual for some time at least; and then the native undergoes the dark night of the soul. Gen. de Gabble's Moon is situated here. The next degree is one of easy ascent and of a sudden fall at the same time. Togliatti's Sun is found here. The 24th degree, on the other hand, is an exception. It is a point of ambition and struggle involving risk; and yet it is capable of making the individual exceptional and unique. It can make one selfish or altruistic. Bismarck's Sun was situated here.

3. Judiciary

Law is one of the intellectual professions. It demands a strong 5th house and an equally strong lord of the 5th house. Airy signs have to be prominent—Gemini, Libra and Aquarius. The planet governing law is Jupiter, while Saturn is the planet of justice.

Besides these two major planets, there are others involved. Mars regulates energy and the initiatory force. Jataka Parijata observes that one having Jupiter in the 9th aspected by the Moon and Saturn becomes an exponent of law (14.72); and that Mars associated with Venus also gives the legal profession (14.76). The second observation is debatable since it refers neither to Jupiter, nor to Saturn, nor to Mercury.

The 10th lord placed in the 6th brings the native towards the judiciary. Libra generally governs lawyers, solicitors and judges. Jupiter or Saturn in the 10th in Libra refers to the law. The same result arises when Jupiter and Mercury are in Aries or Sagittarius in the 10th. The Sun in Gemini refers to an analytical study of law. Aquarius is another powerful legal sign. The 6th house seems to have something to do with the judiciary. We will explain some of these principles with the help of examples. Chart 4 is that of the first President of our Republic. The 10th lord Mercury is with Mars in Lagna, aspected by Jupiter and Saturn. The associa-

The fifth is aspected by the Moon and by the lord of the sixth, these being in turn aspected by Saturn. The airy signs Gemini and Aquarius are well aspected by Saturn and Jupiter.

In chart 10 Jupiter and Saturn are in mutual aspects involving the third and the ninth houses. Saturn also aspects the 5th lord and the 5th house, the latter being aspected also by Jupiter. Powerful Jupiter also aspects the Lagna which has the Sun and Mercury. Mars also aspects Saturn. She is working as a Civil Judge.

Chart 11 is that of late R. Lakshmanan. The airy Gemini has its own lord Mercury with Venus. Jupiter as lord of 9 and 12 aspects the 10th lord Saturn. The 10th is well aspected by three planets. He rose to be a District Judge. Mark also Gajakesari Yoga involving houses 4 and 10. Saturn's aspect on the 6th is equally telling.

Let us turn to the chart of some judges of the High Courts. 10th lord Jupiter is having a mutual aspect with Saturn and Venus in chart 12. The 10th is tenanted by the 12. 1932.1.6. Ascendant—Pisces with Rahu 7; Cancer—Jupiter (R) 28; Sagittarius—Mercury 1, the Moon 6, the Sun 22 and Mars 28; and Capricorn—Saturn 2 and Venus 21.

Sun, Moon, Mars and Mercury. Though the airy signs are unoccupied Gemini is strongly aspected by the Sun and Mars and by the lords of 4 and 5. This has given the native a powerful ability to offer an analytical interpretation of law. He is a High Court Judge.

In chart 13 the yogakaraka Saturn in his own 4th with Mercury (lord of the airy 9th) aspects the 10th. Jupiter is in another airy sign with the Sun and the Mars aspecting the 9th. Intellect, analysis and steadfastness are secured. Mars with Rahu aspects the 6th, the house of the judiciary. He became a judge of the Madras High Court.

13. 1903.2.20. Ascendant—Libra 15; Libra—the Moon 24; Capricorn—Saturn 11 and Mercury 12; Aquarius—Jupiter 7, the Sun 8 and Venus 28; and Virgo—Mars (R) 23 and Rahu 27.

Another Chief Justice has Chart 14. The 10th lord in the 6th is in mutual aspect with the exalted Jupiter. Saturn is in his own mulatrikona with Mars aspecting the Lagna. The 5th has the Sun and Mercury. Intellect, analytical mind, exposition of intricate problems and firmness of decision are clearly indicated here.

Chart 15 shows an exalted lord of the 6th in the 4th. The 6th and the 10th are aspected by Jupiter, who in turn, is aspected by Saturn. The 5th has the lord of Lagna and the 10th.

15. 1955.9.1. Ascendant—Aquarius 1; Pisces—Jupiter (R) 3; Taurus—the Moon 13-56; Gemini—Mars 15-41 and Saturn 20-51; Cancer—Ketu 23-30; Leo—Venus 11-26 and the Sun 15-16; and Virgo—Mercury 1.6.

Again the part played by Jupiter and Saturn is clear in the case of Justice Untwalla. The 5th lord exalted in the 8th and aspected by Mars and Jupiter shows a slow and continuous uphill trek.

Chart 16 is that of another High Court judge. Here the lord of the airy Lagna is in 6, while the 6th lord aspects 16. 1933.11.14. Ascendant—Gemini 19-17; Leo—Ketu 1-1; Virgo—the Moon 18-23 and Jupiter 20-18; Libra—the Sun 20-18; Scorpio—Mercury (R) 9-31; Sagittarius—Mars 3-33 and Venus 13-40; and Capricorn—Saturn 17-36.

Lagna with Venus. The 10th has the powerful aspects of the Moon, Jupiter and Saturn. Again Jupiter and Saturn have revealed their power in the career of the judge.

Chart 17 is that of a professor of law in University. He took his doctorate in law a few years back. Here the 6th lord Jupiter is with Saturn and yogakaraka Mars. The lord of 17. 1942.3.26. Ascendant Cancer 1-47; Virgo—Jupiter (R) 5-17; Capricorn—Venus 27-13; Aquarius—Mercury 20-20 and Ketu 20-9; Pisces—the Sun 11-58; Taurus—Saturn 1-55, Mars 18-14 and Jupiter 22-2; and Gemini—the Moon 26-30.

Lagna aspects the 6th. Mars is also the lord of the 10th. Again we notice the role of Jupiter and Saturn. Jupiter's association with the 10th lord and his aspect on the 4th lord (who has exchanged signs with Saturn) probably explains his position in the teaching line.

Jupiter and Saturn play a major role in the careers of successful advocates, jurists and judges. These have a relation to houses 6 or 10 or both, and to airy signs in general. For an analytical and keen mind Mars and Mercury should be well placed, along with the 5th house and its lord.

4. Poets

Architecture, sculpture, painting, music, dance and poetry (literature) are the traditionally established six fine arts. Some forty years back Herbert Read argued that the film is the seventh fine art. Those who have creatively contributed to these are the artists.

The artist needs an active imagination. Imagination is expressed more clearly by the fiery and watery signs. Psychologically speaking, the fiery signs reveal the projection of the soul into the external world. The nature and activity of the self can be gauged from these signs. Assertion (Aries), manifestation (Leo) and development (Sagittarius) of the self are governed or regulated by the will in these signs. These are highly positive signs.

The watery signs are negative. Preservation (Cancer), discipline (Scorpio) and abnegation (Pisces) of the self are revealed by these. The other signs can also give rise to artistic works. But they are not of much significance.

The Moon, Mercury, Venus and the 5th house are important in evaluating the abilities of a poet or a painter. The sign Aquarius gives rise to day dreaming or the poetic expression of visions and dreams. Libra, Pisces and Neptune also govern dreams, visions and flights of mysticism.

Chart 18 is that of Lord Tennyson. The 2nd house has Venus, the significator of the fine arts. Mercury as the lord of the 2nd and 5th houses is in Cancer, while its lord is in ism. All these are emphasised by the 7th house. Mercury (lord of 4), Venus (lord of 5) and Mars (aggressive lord of 6 and 1) are with the Sun and Jupiter aspected by the moody and conservative Saturn from the 5th. The 2nd lord in the 12th gave him belated recognition.

Artistic ability is indicated by Venus and the houses owned by it. Libra is of particular significance. Our ancients have correctly held that a poet should have pratibha (intuition and imagination, marks of a genius), Vyutpatti (scholarship) and Abhyasa (constant practice). Jupiter, Mercury, Venus and the Moon along with houses 2, 3, 4, 5, 9 and 10 are therefore involved. The Sun gives steadfast ability. Mars and Saturn imply hard work. Uranus confers versatility.

All forms of literature need a strong Mercury and Gemini. Sometimes the signs of Venus are prominent. There are certain sensitive areas or degrees that appear to be closely related to literature. Some of these are the degrees 3, 35, 53, 55, 93, 109, 110, 179 to 183, 215, 243 and 290.

Literary creation shows a strong Moon or Cancer or both. Poetic creation needs a strong Mercury and Venus. Kipling had the Moon at 53° and Byron had his Jupiter at 55° . Tennyson and Shelley had the Sun at 109° and Rupert Brooke had the Sun at 109° . Moon, Neptune and Pisces favour poetry.

Chart 20 is that of Shakespeare. The 4th has the debilitated Mercury while its own lord aspects from his exaltation.

The Lagna is at 243° . The 5th has the exalted 9th lord and the owner of the 8th. The violent nature of some of his plays is indicated by Mars and Uranus.

Chart 21 is that of a great Telugu poet of yesteryears who brought about a literary revolution. Mark Mars in Lagna with Jupiter and Venus. They are aspected by the Moon.

Is indicated by Mars in Lagna and exalted Saturn in the 2nd. The Moon is exalted and so is Jupiter. He was a poet, dramatist, critic and a novelist of repute. Saturn and Mars made him a very harsh critic. Jupiter and Moon made him a scholar in Telugu, Sanskrit and other languages.

Venus, Jupiter and Sun are joined with Mars and Saturn. This is a tormented soul which has practically ruined the future of poetry. The repressed desire played an important part in his poetic career. The mind is also perverted as is indicated by Uranus and Neptune in the 5th aspected by Saturn in Chart 24.

Chart 24 is that of the world famous German poet and scholar, philosopher and critic, Goethe. Here Lagna has the philosophic Saturn. The Moon is in the 5th aspected by Sun and Mercury. Venus is in the 12th house. His varied career is reflected by the 5th and 11th houses and by Venus and Saturn.

Coming to Milton (Chart 25) we find the mystical Scorpio rising with the Moon aspecting it, Mercury is in the 2nd with the Sun. The 5th and 6th lords exchange houses, indicating house has a significant planetarium of Mercury, Sun, Venus and Mars. The Moon in Lagna with the 3rd house made him a great lyric poet of repute.

Shelley had Sagittarius 5° rising. The Moon is in the 3rd at 22° aspected by Mercury 14°. The 11th house has Mars (4°), Jupiter (4°) and Neptune (7°) aspected by Saturn (12°) from Aries. He was more lyrical. An introvert with suppressed desires (Cancer having Sun 23, Mercury 25, Venus 22, and Uranus 29). He could not achieve a mark in his life-time.

spiritual Ketu is in the 5th aspected by Jupiter, the philosophico-religious planet. That he was once a revolutionary is indicated by the Lagna and the 6th house.

The great composer Wagner, the creator of the greatest opera Parsifal had Taurus 10° rising with Sun 9 and Venus 8. Jupiter 13 is in the 3rd house and the Moon 24 is in the 12th. Mercury 14 is in the 12th. Chart 31 is significant because of the part played by Uranus and Neptune in the lord aspected by Jupiter. The lords of 10 and 12 have exchanged signs and are aspected by the exalted Mars. He was a multilinguist. He introduced monologue and chorus and wrote many poetic dramas.

Chart 33 is that of the poet—Saint Thyagaraja. The highly sensitive and imaginative Cancer is rising with the Moon.

This is a great asset. The 9th lord Jupiter is in the house of speech. The lord of 4 and 11 is in his own 11th with the philosophic Saturn. The 2nd lord is exalted in the 10th, giving him lasting fame. The chart shows that he was a born composer.

Chart 34 is that of Rabindranath Tagore. The sign rising with the Moon is sensitive and imaginative. The lords of Lagna and the 5th have exchanged signs; and so have the lords of the 4th and the 2nd. The musical and poetical Venus is in the 2nd. Nothing else is needed to account for his lasting contributions to all forms of literature, music, dance and painting. Cancer and Pisces are very strong.

Petrarch (36) made the sonnet popular in the fourteenth century. His sonnets addressed to Laura have influenced many. Chart 35 shows the imaginative and sensitive Cancer rising. The lord of Lagna is in the 5th aspected by Saturn. The combination of Mars and Venus in the 12th is indicative of the theme of his sonnets—love imaginatively idealised.

The 36th chart is of Swinburne, a musical poet, a dramatist, a critic and a scholar. The imaginative Cancer is rising with Jupiter and Mars aspected by exalted retrograde Saturn and the mystical Neptune. The lord of Lagna Moon is in Pisces exchanging signs with Jupiter. Mercury and Venus are together in the 9th.

5. Philosophers

By a philosopher we mean one who with the help of systematic reasoning develops a view of the Universe and presents it to the people. The view of the Universe includes his argued conclusions regarding the nature of Reality, Soul and Self to external Universe, and the relation between the Soul and the Universe, and between the Soul and Reality. Consequently we are not concerned here with the saints and seers who do not employ logical and metaphysical reasoning. Hence a philosopher is one who is concerned with the epistemological and ontological enquiries.

Well aspected and well placed Taurus gives the native an awareness of Nature as a concrete reality. Such natives can be realists or pluralists. Natives with strong Virgo look at the external world as a means to an end. Libra gives the power to collate, choose and adjust. Aquarius enables the native to apprehend natural facts as illustrating universal laws. Interrelationships of the various forms of life are apprehended as real.

Gemini, Virgo and Sagittarius generate great mental activity. If Mercury or the Moon is aspected by Mars or Uranus this activity becomes greater. Philosophical activity needs argumentative and critical powers. Argumentative skills are noticeable when Mars is in Gemini or in the 3rd, or when there is a powerful aspect of Mercury or Jupiter. Critical powers are indicated by Taurus and Virgo. Strong Gemini is fascinated by details. The powers of the concentration seem to be developed strongly by fixed signs. Immanuel Kant, with whom begins modern Western philosophy, had Taurus rising.

Philosophers of the idealistic school are found with strong fiery signs, Libra and Aquarius. They are associated least with Saturn and the earthy signs. Intellectual powers are indicated by the Lagna, the 3rd house and the house of Mercury. The metaphysical strain is revealed by Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and the 9th house. Bertrand Russel has Uranus in the 9th aspected by Saturn from the 3rd. Sri Krishna and Kant had Saturn in the 9th house. Saturn in the 9th is an asset to the metaphysicians.

The Sun in trine or sextile to Saturn gives painstaking efforts to think systematically. Adi Shankara, Kanta, Ramanuja and Sri Aurobindo had a trine between the Sun and Saturn. Karl Marx and Vidyaranya had the Sun in sextile to Saturn. Saturn is the most philosophical planet.

Leo, Aquarius and the Sun are the most inquisitive. A spirit of enquiry dominates the philosopher. The philosophical attitude is indicated by good Jupiter, or the strong 9th house; or Sagittarius. They should have strong influences. Mental profundity is revealed by strong Saturn and Uranus, their aspects on the 9th or as the lord of the 9th. The aspects from the planets in the 9th also indicate these.

Rationalism is suggested by strong Saturn or Mercury influences and by the earthy signs.

With this background let me consider the charts of some famous philosophers. We follow the sequence of the rising signs.

Chart 37 is that of Lord Krishna, whose teachings are expressed primarily in the Bhagvad Gita. The rising sign is a practical one. It is down-to-earth. The Lord gave accordingly Karma, Bhakti and Jnana Yogas. The fiery signs having their own lords, Jupiter aspecting the Sun, and Saturn in the 9th have given an idealistic twist to his teaching. The opposition of the Moon to Mars gives vigour and combativeness, the square between the Sun made him intellectual; and he was also more interested in the objective problems because of this.

That a close conjunction of Sun and Mercury deprives the nature of an impersonal and impartial judgement is falsified by Chart 38. This is the chart of Immanuel Kant, the founder of modern Philosophy. He brought about a Copernican revolution in metaphysics by turning the philosophers' attention from the object to the subject. Saturn in the 9th made him an idealist. Saturn is in his own house with Jupiter opposed Mars. Kant is famous for his incisive argumentation. His logical acumen demolished the previous logicians and metaphysicians. The conjunction of the Sun and Mercury gives great powers to perception and deep contemplation, and it denies flexibility. The square between the Sun and Jupiter gives a philosophical bent, vigorous intellect and a tendency to sharp invective.

Chart 39 is that of Sir William Hamilton who revived the tradition of realism in British Philosophy. The rising sign is down-to-earth. The external pluralistic universe was real to him. His incisive intellect and logical powers were well indicated by the 5th house. Saturn and Mars are conjunct. The 5th lord is with the lord of Lagna. Saturn and Mars are conjunct. The 5th lord is with the lord of Lagna. Lords of 7, 9 and 10th in the 5th made him give some amiable concessions to the idealists of the day.

The 40th chart is that of a Professor of Philosophy in Rajasthan. He retired long ago. He started his career as an idealist and gradually drifted away. Author of Thoughts and Reality, a presentation of Idealism of the Advaita variety, he turned later to non-philosophical problems. This is evident from his 5th house and from Uranus in the 7th. Saturn in the 9th did not allow him to give up idealism fully.

Chart 41 is that of the greatest thinker Sri Shankara who firmly established Advaita Vedanta. The 3rd is aspected by Mars and this gave him the greatest logical argumentation which is visible in his commentary on the Tarka Pada. The Sun in trine to Saturn gave him painstaking thought and systematic reasoning. Mental profundity is shown by Saturn in the philosophical Sagittarius. Saturn aspects the lord of the 9th who has exchanged signs with him. Two strong fiery signs, Jupiter in Aquarius and well aspected Libra made him an unshakable monist. The Sun sextile to the Moon and Jupiter gave him success without much struggle. As with Kant, so here this position firmly established Sri Sankara as the strong founder and defender of idealistic monism.

The 42nd chart is that of B.G. Tilak, the author of Gita Rahasya and the Arctic Home. The lord of Lagna is in close conjunction with Jupiter, the 9th lord, in the 9th. They receive the aspect of the Philosophical Saturn from Gemini. This gave mental activity. Argumentative skills of Tilak are shown by Mars in the 3rd, and by the 3rd lord in his own house with philosophic Saturn. Great intellectual powers are shown by the signs of Mercury. One of these had the lord of the 5th aspected by Jupiter and the Moon.

Ramanuja (Chart 43) is the founder of the Visishtadvalta school of philosophy. The Lagna has the debilitated Mars, the planet that gives intellectual powers. Possibly this Mars 43. Ramanuja—23-7-1017. Cancer—Lagna 10-35 and Mars 29-57; Scorpio—Ketu 12-15; Sagittarius 18-50; Aries—Sun 10-5; Sagittarius 18-50; Aries—Sun 10-5; Venus 15-9 and Mercury 23-2; and Gemini—Moon 12-23 and Jupiter 1-33.

deprived him of an impartial outlook, though he is great in summarising correctly the views of his opponents. The 10th house placement of planets gave him placidity and contentment. Jupiter with Moon in the intellectual Gemini aspected by the philosophic Saturn from the Philosophical sign Sagittarius is of particular value and significance here. The aspects on Libra by four bodies gave him the power to collate, choose and adjust.

Chart 44 belongs to Lord Balfour, a politician and a philosopher whose lectures on Faith of a Moralist are valuable even today. Incidentally it is Lord Balfour who gave the 44. Earl Balfour—Leo—Lagna 24-37 and Mars 8-30; Aquarius—Neptune 10-30; Pisces—Saturn 3-30; Aries—Uranus 0-47; Taurus—Moon 6-30; Gemini—Sun 11; Cancer—Mercury 0-30, Jupiter 10-30 and Venus 11-44.

Jews Israel in the long run. Only one fiery sign is strong and its lord is in Gemini. Earl Balfour accordingly was neither a pure realist, nor a pure idealist. His critical acumen comes from Virgo being aspected by the philosophic Saturn, and the 3rd by Uranus. Intellectual and logical powers were strengthened by Gemini with the Sun in it. A strong Uranus in the fiery 9th made him an acute metaphysician. The sextile between the Moon and Mercury and between the Moon and Venus gave him a firm grip on commonsense and a logical manner of presentation which has given a popular appeal to his writings. The sextile between the Moon and Jupiter gave him a pragmatic outlook, and that with Saturn made him enterprising.

The 45th chart is that of Prof. S. Radhakrishnan. The rising sign Virgo generated great mental activity. The 3rd house has its own Lord Mars conjunct Jupiter. This explains his critical and logical powers. Mars aspects Gemini. The powerful Lagna has given him intellectual powers. The metaphysical strain is revealed by Uranus in Lagna aspected by Saturn. The conjunction of Mars and Jupiter made him disputative and also gave a propaganda twist to some of his writings.

found commentary on Viveka Choodamani. Saturn in Virgo aspected by Jupiter accentuated his argumentative skills. Libra rising made him idealistic because of the bodies therein. The 9th lord in Lagna with Uranus explains his great metaphysical powers. These are also indicated by the aspect of Saturn on Gemini.

Chart 47 is that of Bertrand Russell, an acute thinker, a subtle metaphysician, founder of mathematical logic, and an ardent champion of logical Atomism and Realism. A sort of modified Idealism runs through his writings. This is indicated by the rising sign Libra. The planet in Taurus and Virgo gave him critical powers. The philosophic Saturn in the 3rd, aspected by Mars, aspects the 9th Gemini. This conferred argumentative skills and made him run after details. The metaphysical strain is indicated by Jupiter, Saturn and the planets in the 7th. Because of Jupiter and Saturn, this is a typical chart of a philosopher. Mental profundity is shown by Uranus in the 9th aspected by Saturn. The conjunction of the Sun and Mars made him an intellectual dealing with objective problems. He wrote on politics, economics, societies, education and the like. The conjunction of Mercury and Venus gave a charming style.

Swami Vidyanarany (Chart 48) has the fiery Sagittarius rising with Jupiter. The 5th, a fiery sign, shows the Sun just entering it. Lagna and Jupiter are aspected by the philosophic Saturn. The 3rd had Mars who is responsible for great logical and critical powers. The Lagna with Jupiter aspected by Saturn generates great mental activity. Virgo aspected by Mercury and Venus and Mars gave him great critical and logical powers. The strong fiery sign rising made him an idealistic monist (Advaitin). Mars, Jupiter and Saturn aspecting the 9th explain his greatness as a sound metaphysician. See his Vivarana Prameya Sangraha, Jivanmukti Viveka, Panchadasi and other works. The Sun in sextile to Saturn made his reasoning meticulous and systematic. The conjunction of Mercury and Venus explains his charming style. The sextile of Mars with Jupiter made him disputative.

Karl Marx (Chart 49) has Aquarius rising. Saturn in sextile to Jupiter and in trine to Mars (Gemini) is far away from the degree of Lagna. Virgo is aspected by exalted Venus and by Mars from the 5th. Accordingly he looked at the external world as a means to an end. The aspects of the Sun and the Moon on Libra enabled him to collate, choose and adjust the details. This and the conjunction of the luminaries (exact degree) warped his mind and he therefore gave arguments to fit his previously arrived conclusions. Saturn in Aquarius enabled him to apprehend natural facts as illustrating universal facts as illustrating universal laws. His argumentative skills are shown by Mars in Gemini aspected by Jupiter; and he was fascinated by details. Critical powers are shown by his Mars and by the aspect of exalted Venus in Virgo. The strong fiery signs made him an idealist of some sort. The metaphysical strain is shown by the exalted 9th lord. Sextile of Mars with Sun and Moon made him vigorous, combative and interested in objective problems.

Sri Aurobindo (Chart 50) the exponent of Integral Yoga and the author of Life Divine, is an idealist. Cancer is rising with Mars and Jupiter. The lord of Lagna is with the philosophic Saturn in the philosophic Sagittarius. Saturn and Moon aspect Gemini and Saturn aspects Virgo. This explains his logical and metaphysical powers. The Lord of the 9th is exalted in Lagna and he is with Mars. This gave him great intellectual power and a deep metaphysical strain. The Sun in trine to Saturn made him think and argue systematically.

10. Criminals

The conditions under which one becomes a criminal have to be understood clearly.

The heavenly bodies do rule the fate of men and nations to a certain extent. The controlling and the most beneficent influence is that of the Sun. Next comes the influence of the Moon. The slower moving planets are at times more powerful than these two. But to give infallible predictions, the astrologer must be infallible. As Madame Blavatsky remarked: "In astrology and psychology one has to step beyond the physical world of matter, and enter into the domain of transcendent spirit." Varahamihira and others, therefore, emphasized that the astrologer must have a sound moral character, a fine spiritual development, and Vaksiddhi (intuition). The need for these qualities becomes clear when we study the charts of criminals.

Let us consider the sensitive areas and planets before we illustrate crime. To detect a homicidal tendency, we have to look at the Sun. There are violent afflictions to the Sun, Cancer and Pisces. The 8th degrees of Cancer and Capricorn, and the 13th degrees of Virgo and Pisces are involved. The first 3 or 4 degrees, 18th and 19th degrees of the fixed signs, 26th degree of Taurus and Scorpio, 25th degree of Aries also appear to be important. Usually Lagna is afflicted by the Sun, the Moon, or malefics.

Criminality needs cruelty and this points to afflicted Mars and Scorpio. Saturn and Mars are in adverse aspects, mutually; and the Moon, Venus and Jupiter are badly placed. One may kill another and then kill himself. In such cases we notice violent malefic afflictions to one or both luminaries, to the lord of the 3rd, and to Mercury. Saturn afflicts these and Jupiter is badly placed having conjunction with or aspect from Saturn. The degrees involved are 24° of common signs, 4° of fixed signs, and 5° of movable signs. Always we have to look at Saturn and Mars and Scorpio.

The native will be murderously inclined if born in Atiganda Yoga, says Jataka Parijata (9.97). The same result appears in the case of one born in Dwadasamsa owned by Scorpio (9.121). Cruelty is indicated by the same peculiar combinations: (1) the Sun, the Moon and Venus in one bhava (J P. 86); (2) Saturn in the 8th (J P. 44); (3) Mars in Lagna; (4) Rahu in Lagna; (5) Mars in the 5th; (6) Lagna in Trimsamsa of Mars; (7) Conjunction of the Sun, the Moon, Mercury, Jupiter, and Saturn (J.P., Chapters 8 and 9). Mantreshwara gives some special combinations: (1) If Lagna and the Moon of a woman's chart are in odd signs and aspected by or associated with malefics, she will be cruel beyond limits (11.2). Mars is cruel by nature (2.10) and so is Saturn (2.14).

Most cases of criminality and all cases of illness involved the glands. A brief idea of these from an astrological point of view is necessary. Aries rules the pineal and the pituitary glands. The pineal gland is behind the third ventricle of the brain. The pituitary secretes phlegm and mucus. It is ductless and is at the base of the brain. Taurus controls the thyroid which is a ductless gland situated on larynx or trachea, the seat of goitre. Gemini has pancreas which is near the stomach discharging a digestive secretion into the duodenum.

Leo rules the thymus, a ductless gland near the base of the neck. Virgo refers to the liver. Libra controls adrenalin, a hormone secreted by the adrenal ductless glands and affecting circulation and muscular action. Scorpio refers to the Prostrate and Gonad. Gonad is an undifferentiated germ gland serving both as ovary and spermary. Sagittarius is catabolic, while Pisces is anabolic. Capricorn and Aquarius rule the nervous system, the former is function while the latter is structural. Saturn controls the valves and the brain. On the metabolic side Sagittarius refers to asthi (bone), mamsa (muscle), nyasti, and medha (fat); while Pisces refers to the watery dhatu and vasa. Lymphatic interior comes under Rahu, while Ketu governs lymphatic exterior.

Similarly let us note the basic elements. Mars refers to phosphorus and sulphur. Mercury is related to magnesium, Venus to Calcium, Jupiter to Sodium, and Saturn to Potassium.

As a scholar observed, "the Dhatus are the supporting roots—rather the constituent ingredients of the body but for whose intrusion sudden cessation of all anabolic activities are perceived". When these Dhatus and the Tridoshas are not in a state of harmony, physical and mental troubles emerge. We have given these details only to emphasize the value of the physiological factors in accounting for the behaviour of the criminals.

While studying the factors that make a person a criminal, it is better to proceed from the known to the unknown. We take up some charts. Chart 51 is that of Emperor Nero. The Sun and Mercury are malefics and the Sun rises on the same degree as that of Lagna. Saturn aspects Mercury and also the 8th house. The native was cruel also because the 5th house is aspected by Saturn and Mars, and the Moon by Mars.

The lord of the 8th aspects the 3rd. The 2nd house shows the conjunction of Mars and Rahu. During the sub-period of Venus in the Moon he had Rome burnt. Jupiter, Rahu and Ketu are in sensitive degrees. The chart shows his innate cruelty and his passion for blood. Saturn's position and his placement in the 3rd from the Moon and in the 10th from Mars is significant.

Chart 52 is that of Aurangzeb. Lagna is afflicted by Mars and Saturn. The 3rd house is afflicted by the Sun and Mercury. The lord of the 5th is combust with the debilitated Sun. During Mercury's sub-period in Jupiter he liquidated his brothers. Both Jupiter and Mercury are in the constellations of Rahu. During the sub-period of the Sun his father died. Malefics are powerful in kendras (angles) and even benefics are in malefic constellation. This is a case of Rakshasa Yoga. He killed his brothers and their sons, the Sikh Guru Tegh Bahadur, and Shambhaji.

The 53rd Chart is that of N.V. Godse who committed only one murder in his life, and that was the greatest crime. The 5th house is aspected by debilitated Saturn, and so are Lagna and Mars. The lord of the 3rd is with Rahu in the 12th, hemmed between malefics. The 5th lord is aspected by malefic Jupiter who in turn is aspected by Mars. Lagna and Mars are on the same degree and in the constellation of Rahu along with Rahu. Jupiter's aspect on Rahu made him a fanatic all the more. Lagna and the lord of Lagna are badly afflicted by three great malefics. The Sun being in the 9th from the Moon indicates mental perversion. Even Jupiter and the Moon in the 4th could not be of any help because of the aspect of Mars. It was in Saturn's sub-period of Jupiter he committed the crime. Saturn being in Ayudha Drekkana, he was hanged to death. Mars is the lord of the 6th and Saturn of the 8th, and both afflict Lagna. Jupiter is on the sensitive degree.

Let us now take up some instance of notorious criminals. The 54th chart is that of Walter Horsford who was born on 1871.3.2. He poisoned many and was executed on 1898.6.28. Here Lagna is afflicted by retrograde Mars (lord of the 2nd and the 9th) and malefic Venus, the lord of the 3rd. The 5th lord is with Rahu and is aspected by Saturn who also aspects Mars. The mutual aspects of Mars and Saturn are significant. His execution is explained by the mutual aspect of Mars and Venus. Lagna has no benefic aspect. One of the luminaries is also badly afflicted. Jupiter occupies a sensitive degree.

A curious example is given by the 55th chart of a male born on 1947. 11.26 with a balance of Venus for four years.

The 4th house shows a conjunction of Mars and Saturn, lords of the 7th, the 9th, the 10th and the 12th. Mars aspects the malefics in the 7th, and Saturn afflicts the lord of the 5th house. The lord of Lagna is in the 8th with the lord of the 3rd. Mars is the lord of the 7th and has exchanged the house with the lord of the 4th. It is not at all surprising that he stabbed a girl because of which he was imprisoned on 1972.2.15. It all happened in the sub-period of Mercury in Mars' major period. Lagna, Rahu, Ketu and the Moon have sensitive degrees.

Consider Chart 56 which is that of Schauman born on 1875.5.10. He killed the Finnish Governor and also himself on 1904.6.6. In all criminal cases, the 3rd, the 5th and the 9th houses are to be considered along with Mars and Saturn. Here the 3rd house is afflicted by the aspect of Mars who is in the 8th. The lord of the 5th is in the 12th combust aspected by Saturn indirectly. The 9th lord receives an affliction from Jupiter. It is not surprising that the crime took place in the Moon's subperiod of Mercury. The lord of Lagna is with Rahu in close conjunction on a sensitive degree, receiving an afflicting aspect from Mars, while Mercury is in the constellation of the Sun aspected by Saturn from the constellation of Mars.

The 57th chart again takes us to Taurus Lagna. The lady was born on 1879.8.30. Lagna is afflicted by Mars, lord of the 7th and the 12th, and by Saturn who is retrograde. The lord of the 3rd is with malefic Jupiter. The 5th lord is retrograde and is aspected by malefic Mars, Jupiter and the Moon. The 5th shows the lord of Lagna debilitated and aspected by retrograde Saturn. Saturn is the lord of the 9th and Mercury of the 2nd, while Jupiter is Dhanakaraka. She poisoned her grandmother, brother and husband only to obtain insurance money. Selfishness, cruelty, and arrogance are revealed by malefic Mars and Saturn afflictions on Lagna. The lower mind is shown by the disposition of Ketu. Mars is in a sensitive degree and so are Mercury, Jupiter and the Moon.

The fifty eighth chart is interesting for many reasons. The native was born on 1906-12-24. Mercury and Saturn occupy sensitive degrees. The 3rd house is aspected by the fickle Moon. The 5th has Mercury aspected by Saturn. Lagna is afflicted by Rahu. The 7th lord is in the 8th and the 7th is aspected by Mars. Jupiter's aspect on Mars is normally good, but here he is in the malefic 12th. The 5th showing Mercury and Venus accentuates the problem. The native shot his wife and then himself.

The fifty ninth chart is a curious case. Lords of the 7th and the 8th are with the 2nd lord and they are aspected by retrograde Mars from the 8th in an indirect way. The 3rd lord is in the 12th unaspected by any. The 5th is tenanted by the 12th lord, and the owner of the 5th is badly placed and aspected. This lady poisoned her own husband. She was tried and released in January 1904. Mutual squares involve five planets. The 8th house position of Mars partly explains her relations with her husband. But Lagna being strong, she managed to get released ultimately.

The next chart (60) is that of notorious highwayman of the 16th century, born on 1521-1-19. He was hanged, drawn and quartered in 1551. The lord of Lagna occupies a sensitive degree in the 5th. He is conjunct with the lord of the 9th and the 12th and is afflicted by the aspect of debilitated Mars. Saturn and the Sun too are afflicted by Mars. Mercury, Venus and the Moon are in the constellations of Rahu. The lord of the 3rd is in Mars' house. Lagna too is afflicted by Mars and Saturn. In the chart of another dacoit, we find Aries rising, with the 7th house having the Sun, the Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn. The lords of the 3rd and the 5th are afflicted, and so is Lagna.

Chart (61) is that of a woman born on 1894-3-9. She was a woman of great courage, endurance and tolerance. Yet she killed her three children and then hanged herself.

Mars is in Lagna and exalted Saturn aspects Lagna. Mars' affliction is on the 4th house where we find the lords of the 8th, the 7th and the 10th. The 9th lord is in the 3rd. The lord of the 5th is spoilt. Then there is an exchange of the lords of the 2nd and the 11th; and Jupiter's aspect on the 2nd from the 6th does not augur well for domestic peace. The Moon is in Saturn's constellation and Saturn in that of Mars.

These charts reveal some common characteristics. Taurus shows in two charts affliction to the first degree by Mars and Rahu, and to the 26th by Lagna and Jupiter. The 18th is afflicted in one by Saturn. Cancer has Ketu on the 8th degree in one. In three charts 1st, 4th, 19th degrees of Leo are afflicted respectively by Saturn, Mercury and the Moon. Two charts show 13° and 24° of Virgo afflicted by Jupiter and Ketu. The 3rd degree of Libra is afflicted by Jupiter in one. The first degree of Scorpio by Ketu, 24th of sagittarius by the Moon are afflicted. The 19th degree of Aquarius is afflicted in two by the Moon and Saturn; 18th in one by Venus; and the first degree by Mercury in one. In two charts the 24th degree of Pisces is afflicted by Saturn and Venus-Rahu. These appear to be highly sensitive tending towards criminality.

Saturn's aspects on the Sun and Mercury, on Lagna and Rahu, on Mercury, on Lagna and Mars, on the Moon and Rahu, on the 3rd lord and Venus, and on Scorpio appear prominently. His aspects on the Sun-Mercury, and on Lagna-Mars appear in three charts each. Mars' aspects on the Moon, on the Sun-Jupiter-Rahu conjunction, on the Moon-Venus-Rahu, on the Sun and Mercury, on Mercury-Jupiter-Saturn, on Saturn, on the Sun, on Mercury-Moon, on Mercury-Venus, and on Lagna are again noteworthy.

Scorpio aspected by the Moon-Saturn conjunction, by the Sun-Mercury-Rahu, and by Saturn also appear. The 3rd in conjunction with Venus in Scorpio is aspected by Saturn in one chart. Other noteworthy details are: (1) the malefic Moon-Jupiter conjunction aspected by the Sun-Mercury; (2) the 3rd lord aspected by Saturn; (3) the 3rd aspected by the Moon; (4) the 3rd lord in the 12th; (5) Mars aspecting the 3rd; (6) the 3rd lord the Sun in conjunction with Mercury and Rahu; (7) the 9th lord aspecting Lagna and the 3rd lord Venus; (8) Mars in the 8th aspecting the 3rd house Moon and the 11th house Venus and Rahu; (9) Lagna afflicted by Rahu, Mars and/or Saturn; (10) the 3rd lord in the 12th or the afflicted 3rd house and/or the Moon in the 8th; (11) conjunction or opposition of Mars and Saturn.

These observations are inductively presented. A study of a large number of charts might reveal more interesting facts. Moreover, a medical and psychiatric examination of criminals is capable of relating the glands and the like to their tendencies. In five cases the thymus is involved. Two cases refer to the thymus and the adrenalin. The thyroid seems to be the source in six. The prostrate and gonad appear to be afflicted in five. The adrenalin is afflicted in six. The liver is the source in six. The pancreas comes in four charts. In fixing the cause of criminality in glands and in relating it to the lymph, anabolism, or catabolism we need the help of the medical profession. If that help is available, one can correlate the astrological findings with the physiological and mental factors.

Crime can appear in a variety of forms. Some forms refer to sex, slander or libel, kidnapping, misappropriation or embezzlement, arson, loot and murder. Since the disguises are manifold it is proposed to deal here only with these involving murder.

The Uttara Kalamrita states that one of the significations of the sixth house is "ugra karma"- cruel or violent actions (5.10), and that the eighth house refers also to "ugra kriasu udyamah"- initiating or indulging in violent or cruel deeds (5.16). This text attributes "kraurya" or cruelty, and "kathinya chitta" or stone-heartedness to Saturn (5.48,50). Saturn is one indicator of crime.

Jataka Parijata gives some interesting guiding principles. We enumerate these before proceeding further. The conjunction of the Sun, Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn makes one wickedly inclined and practise violence or cruelty-ati papa ratogra vrittih (8.27). Saturn in Scorpio indicates a cruel heart- "ugradhih" (8.44). The Sun in Lagna makes one "nirghrina", devoid of pity or sympathy (8.56). Mars or Rahu in Lagna tends to make one cruel-krura (8.58,60). Mars in the 5th inclines to cruelty and to unrighteousness-vidharma (8.72). Gulika in the ninth inclines one to do harm or to kill the elders and parents- "Guru jana pitri hanta", the native indulges in mean or wretched actions-neecha krityah; and he runs contrary to the accepted norms of good conduct and behaviour-nija kula hita karma aachaara hinah (9.5). He has no self-respect even. The Moon in Bharani tends to cruelty (9.84). One born in the yoga called atiganda is fond of killing-vadha ruchih (9.97). A native born in the Sun's hora of an odd sign is cruel (9.110). If one is born in a malefic or cruel drekkana, he has a wicked mind (papa karma), and has a bad repute (9.116). When the Navamsa of the Sun is rising he is khalatwa, he has a wicked mind or soul (9.116). If he is born in the Dwadasamsa of Scorpio, he delights in killing-vadha rucih (9.121). Born in the Trimsamsa of Mars he has a violent mind-kruradhih (9.122); and in the Trimsamsa of Saturn he has an impure mind malina dhih (9.122). When there is the conjunction of the Sun, Moon and Mercury in the ninth, the native is cruel and is engaged in forbidden acts (14.78). All these have to be carefully examined in a given chart since they can get modified and transformed. A blind or verbatim application of the principles given in these and other texts need great care and observation.

Mars and Saturn are the signifiers of cruelty and so are the sixth and the eighth houses. We have also to consider the third house indicating the lower mind, the fifth house showing motivation, and the twelfth referring to the denial of comforts.

Cruelty proper involves Mars, Scorpio, and also the mutual afflictions between Mars and Saturn. The afflictions between Mars and Neptune refer to the subtle and diabolic nature of cruelty. Those between Mars and Uranus make the crime ruthless. Mars is generally prominent in the charts of criminals and so is Gemini, the third house of the fixed zodiac. The placement of the malefics or Lagna in the first quarter of Hasta (Kanya 10°0' to 13°20') is equally indicative of crime.

Destructiveness refers to Mars and Uranus. Since crime involves hatred, we have to consider Mars, Scorpio, Saturn and Uranus. Homicidal tendencies refer to the Sun, Aries and Leo. Other areas involved in crime are 6°40' to 10°0' of Cancer and Capricorn, 10°0' to 13°20' of Virgo and Pisces, the first 3°20' and the 16°40' to 20°0' of the fixed signs. The last 3°20' of movable signs and 23°20' to 26°40' of Taurus and Scorpio and Aries are equally significant. The adverse contacts of Venus with Mars or Uranus may refer to sex as the cause of the crime.

Sun-Mars afflictions prevent the growth of finer feelings and emotions. Since the Moon and Mercury have much to do with the emotions and the mind, their mutual afflictions can set the mind moving in undesirable directions. When Mercury and Neptune are subject to mutual affliction and when enough indications also come from the Moon and Mars, the native tends to be violent.

By referring also to Uranus and Neptune we are not criticising or rejecting the traditional Indian system. If we can get additional support from these extra-saturnine planets, and if they can pin-point the incident or tendency, we believe that there is no harm in taking these also into consideration. The Mahabharata refers to Mahapata (Uranus), Sveta (Neptune) and some unnamed planet that looks like Pluto. When Varahamihira praised Yavanas (Ionians) as having well preserved the science of astrology, there is no harm in considering these planets also.

We take up a few illustrations to focus the attention of the students and scholars of astrology on the role of Mars, Saturn and Rahu along with that of Uranus and Neptune in indicating the criminal propensities. The 62nd chart shows debilitated but retrograde lord of Lagna and the twelfth in the third with Ketu and Uranus. This Saturn has exchanged sign with Mars and they aspect mutually. The seventh house has the aspect of Mars, while the lords of 5, 8 and 7 are in the eighth having mutual aspect with Jupiter. The fifth house is afflicted by Saturn and it is also incidentally the arudha Lagna. Mental and emotional aspects are spoilt. Not only is the sixth lord in Lagna, the lord of the house of the lower mind afflicts that house from the twelfth. It is then not surprising for this woman to kill her husband and her two children.

The 63rd chart also shows the exchange of signs by Mars and Saturn. Here the fourth and the seventh houses are involved. They aspect each other. The fickle Moon is in the 5th in papakartari. Mars is with Uranus. The lord of 3 and 6 is in opposition to Saturn and Rahu and to the lord of the eighth. The native was a criminal, but freed because of Jupiter in Lagna.

The 64th chart has the close conjunction of Mars and Saturn in the third, house of brothers and sisters and of the lower mind. These planets rule the sixth and the eighth houses, while the lord of the third is in the sixth. During the sub-period of the Sun in Saturn (1966) he shot his sister dead. He was only 17 then. The Moon in the ninth and Venus in the seventh enabled him to come out of jail and to get himself rehabilitated.

the twelfth lords have exchanged signs. The sixth and eighth lords are afflicted by both Mars and Saturn. The eighth house has retrograde Uranus. He was a criminal and was convicted. The sixth, eighth and twelfth houses are afflicted. From Arudha Lagna; the third has the sixth lord with Mercury, while the eighth has the violent Mars.

Chart 66 is that of a child murderer. The significator of children is debilitated in the tenth. The third house is heavily afflicted, while the sixth is aspected by Mars and Saturn. Mars as lord of Lagna and the eighth aspects the fifth occupied by retrograde Neptune. The lords of 3, 6, 2, 7, 4 and 5 are all afflicted by Saturn from the twelfth. The eighth is a secretive sign occupied by Rahu. The association of Mars and Neptune with the fifth house is dangerous to one's own children; and in criminal charts such an association suggests a brutal treatment of children.

A criminal born in October 1933 had the third lord Sun (7) debilitated in the fifth aspected by Saturn (17) from the eighth and by retrograde Uranus (2) from the eleventh. The sixth lord Mars is in the sixth with the lords of Lagna, fifth and the twelfth. The houses of lower mind and intellect are spoiled. He was sentenced to thirty five years of rigorous imprisonment.

Chart 67 shows only a distance of four degrees between the eighth house Mars and the seventh Saturn. Mars is also the lord of the sixth, while Saturn owns the third. The fifth house is afflicted by Neptune while a retrograde Jupiter afflicts the third and the fifth. He was a violent criminal who was hanged to death.

The 68th chart is that of the International criminal Charles Sobharaj. The third house is between Neptune and Rahu, and its lord is in the tenth opposed to Neptune. Along with Venus, the fifth lord, in the tenth (ninth bhava) we have enough indications for a smuggling career; and Neptune does indicate narcotics. The lower mind is thus vitiated, along with the fifth house. The opposition of the Moon and Mercury involving the fifth house does indicate criminal propensities. The togetherness of Jupiter and Rahu is Guru-Chandala Yoga and this Jupiter is afflicted by Saturn, the lord of the eighth and the ninth. He is with Uranus in the twelfth. The Lagna has Mars, the lord of the sixth. From Arudha Lagna this happens to be the fifth house. From Chandra Lagna the fifth lord is in the eighth with Uranus, while the sixth lord is in the tenth with Rahu. All these factors do show the magnitude of the crimes the native is capable of committing.

Dacoit Mansingh has Jupiter in Scorpio Lagna, with Mars in the eighth and the Moon in the ninth. Some criminals appear to have the Moon in trine to Jupiter. This may explain their hidden or so-called pious motives, or their longing for vengeance. The sixth lord is in the eighth and the Lagna and the sixth are afflicted by Saturn from the fourth. The fifth is aspected by exalted Mercury and debilitated Venus. After all Mansingh became a criminal under the force of compelling circumstances.

The astrological investigations into the problems of crime are of immense value to society. By determining the criminal propensities of a native astrologically, the astrologer can do his best in moulding the future of the individual, if such propensities are not very strong. It is for the research scholars in astrology to investigate the various aspects of crime astrologically.

Ailments

In the diagnosis of diseases we are apt to pay attention to the sixth and eighth houses in a chart. We do take other factors also into consideration. But if we pay attention to the constellation in which these planets and luminaries are located, we will be able to pay head to the part of the body affected. Also, the constellations are classified into the three characteristics called Sattva, Rajas and Tamas. The features indicated by these can be understood from a close study of the chapter in the Gita called "Guna traya Vibhaga". Only it should be understood that these do not signify qualities but substances as explained in 'SANKHYA TATTVA KAUMUDI'. Thus 'Tamas' refers to the gross physical body; 'Rajas' to the subtle body called Sukshma sharira; and 'Sattava' to the causal (karana) body. When the lord asked Arjuna to be 'nistraigunya', he meant that we should transform these three into the 'Maha karana sharira'. We use the letters S, R and T after each constellation and show the part of the body governed by each.

Some of the usual ailments afflicting human beings are astrologically interesting. Most of these elude our grasp because some of these afflictions are more mental. For instance, take hypocrisy. How should we detect a hypocrite from the horoscope? In our experience, the volatile and flexible planet Mercury has a good deal to say on this question; and so is Mars. The conjunction of Mars and Mercury is not a very desirable one, if it is in 1,5,7 or 9 from the ascendant; and if any planet were to be associated with these two, then the native will not be a hypocrite. The conjunction is valid if it takes place within eight degrees, and if it is also in the same constellation. Similarly an afflicted Mercury in the ninth house along with a malefic is bound to give the same feature. The ninth denotes the higher mind and its opposite looks after the lower mind. If Mars is in the third without any benefic aspects, the same result will follow. The conjunction of the lords of the fourth and ninth houses in the sixth is another indication. If Aries is the ascendant with Mercury posited therein, the same result will follow. This hypocrisy will be perceptible in the emotional life of the individual if Saturn, Mars and Rahu are in conjunction preferably in 3,6,4 or 9 from the ascendant. Along with these indications, one has to look into the other factors also before pronouncing a judgment.

If Mars is in the third house aspected by the Moon and Mercury, one has a tendency to betray those who believe in him. Mercury in the sixth house is undesirable for those born under Gemini or Virgo. The conjunction of the Sun and Jupiter in the ninth from Karakamsa Lagna is bad for the same reason.

Squint or some malformation of the eye is corroborated by some interesting planetary situations. If Mars or the Moon is in the ascendant aspected by Venus and Jupiter; if the Moon is in Aquarius aspected by Mars for those born in Leo; if the Sun is in the seventh aspected by Mars for those born under Cancer, there is generally found a squint in the eye. If the Moon and Venus are in the twelfth, it is generally the left eye that is so afflicted. If the Moon is in the twelfth and the Sun is in the sixth, both the husband and wife have the squint.

If Mercury is in the fourth from Saturn, and the lord of the sixth is in 3,6 or 11; if the benefic Moon and Venus are in the sixth which is an enemy's house; if Mercury is in the sixth and Venus is in the tenth; if Mercury and the lord of the sixth are afflicted; and if the lord of the sixth is in the sixth or twelfth aspected by Saturn, the individuals have a tendency towards deafness. When Mercury and Venus are in the twelfth, it is the left ear that is generally found afflicted.

If the lord of the ascendant is in 6,8 or 12 with Venus; if Mars is in the fourth and Rahu in the twelfth from Karakamsa Lagna; if the ascendant is aspected by Mars and Saturn; if there is an interchange of houses between afflicted Sun and the Moon; if the afflicted Sun and the Moon are in conjunction in their own houses; if Saturn is in conjunction with the Moon and aspected by Mars, there are broad tendencies towards some form of tuberculosis. The conjunction of the Sun, Saturn and Jupiter in the fourth is found to be invariably affecting the heart and lungs.

We have placed some of our observations before our readers with the hope that they too will collect the data on similar lines. It would be a service to the cause of astrology if observers can find out whether these observations are confirmed in their own experience.

Disease is generally indicated by the 6th and eighth houses and by Kuja, Shani and Rahu. But certain mutual relations of planets do indicate possible ailments. These relations are not confined to the aspects traditionally followed. According to Parasara, all the planets aspect houses 3, 10, 5, 4, 8, 9 and 7 though the influence of these aspects varies from planet to planet. Convention has made us accept the seventh house aspect only for all the planets and restricted the others to three only. In this context, we may remember the aspects prescribed by the Jaimini system. We propose to deal with the ailments brought about by the malefic aspect only. Generally speaking the aspects of Mars and Saturn are malefic, though their position is not bad.

Accidents and resulting ill health are primarily due to Mars and Uranus. Aspect of Mars on the Sun can indicate a narrow escape from danger as we find in the chart of Lord Roberts who was in the greatest danger when he won the Victoria Cross. The opposition of these bodies can suggest a heart attack.

We tabulate below some of the ailments indicated by the mutual aspects or associations of the planets.

Sun and Jupiter: defective action of the liver, and toxæmia, gout, obesity.

Sun and Saturn: Catarrhal conditions, colds, tuberculosis, affections of the bones falls, dental ailments.

Sun and Uranus: Nervous complaints, obscure diseases, miscarriage.

Moon and Jupiter: Complaints of the liver. Mercury and Mars: nervous complaints.

Mercury and Jupiter: Liver complaints, poisoning of the nervous system.

Venus and Mars: Mental aberrations affecting physical well being Venus and Uranus: Accidents, nervous afflictions.

Mars & Neptune: Accident from gas.

Saturn & Uranus: Gall stones, injuries hypochondria.

These are only some of the indications. It will be more useful to note some diseases astrologically. If in the third and seventh from arudha lagna is in the third from the lords of these signs there is the conjunction of Shani and Rahu, one has the inflammation of the kidney. For kidney ailments, we have to look to the afflicted houses of Venus, Mars and Saturn and to the sixth and seventh houses.

If the third and eighth from lagna and the karaka have the vargas of Vrishabha and Dhanus, and these are occupied by Mars one suffers from boils or tumours. Boils and skin eruptions are related to Virgo, Scorpio, Libra, Saturn and Mars. Haemorrhoids refer to afflicted Scorpio and Jupiter. Mars and Uranus are involved in surgical treatment. Ovarian tumors involve Venus and Cancer.

If the eighth from the atmakaraka is associated with Mercury one has diarrhoea or dysentery. Dysentery is also indicated by the mutual opposition of the Moon and Mars or by Saturn afflicting the sixth. The eighth from the lord of the Karaka is a house owned by the Moon, acute fever can be predicted. Mars in the eighth from Sun produces cancer in stomach, bowels, head etc.

Mars produces cancer of blood, marrow, genitals, uterus, neck etc.

Mercury produces cancer of nose, navel, mouth etc.

Jupiter produces cancer of liver, ear, tongue, thighs etc.

Venus produces cancer of throat, genital organs etc.

Saturn produces cancer in legs, hands, places around teeth etc.

Rahu produces cancer in private parts of the body.

Ketu produces cancer in private parts of the body.

Urinary Diseases: Libra and Scorpio are the seventh and eighth signs of the Zodiac. Their rulers viz, Venus and Mars and also seventh and eighth houses from the lagna are concerning with urine diseases. It is observed that when these houses and their lords and the Karaka planets are ill placed and weak and if they are in any way related with the sixth house or its lord it indicates the disease. The signs Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces are called watery signs. These signs also rule the urine. When Saturn in any way is connected by association or aspect it produces stones in the urinary passage.

Leprosy: Saturn and Rahu are the two main planets which are responsible for this disease. Besides Moon, Mars, Mercury are also responsible for this disease. The Karaka for blood is Mars and Moon is the cause of all blood diseases and Mercury is the Karaka of all skin diseases and ulcers. They work with Saturn and Rahu to give rise to the disease of leprosy.

Few indications of this disease are given below beside those given earlier:

- (i) Lagna is occupied by Moon and Rahu and Mars in the seventh house.
- (ii) Afflicted Moon, Mars, Saturn and Venus in watery signs.
- (iii) Saturn and Mars in the ninth house aspected by Rahu.
- (iv) Lagna is occupied by weak Moon, Saturn and Mars in second or twelfth, and Sun is afflicted.
- (v) Lagna afflicted by Mars, Saturn and Sun; and Mercury is weak.

Smallpox and Chickenpox: Smallpox is an acute infectious disease. It is characterised by a cutaneous eruption. Chickenpox is also an acute infectious disease.

The ruling planets over these diseases are Mars and Mercury. It is observed when these planets are weak and afflicted and if they are connected with the sixth house or its lord, they give rise to smallpox and chickenpox. Lord of the sixth when it is in retrograde motion also gives rise to this disease when Venus connected with the sixth house or its lord, it puts some marks in the face, because Venus represents face i.e. the second house in the sign of the Zodiac. Rahu is the planet who is the Karaka for epidemic. When Rahu is any way connected with the combination for this disease, it results in an epidemic.

Bronchitis: We have observed in quite a number of cases that when the 4th house is afflicted by Mars, Saturn and Rahu, the person becomes liable for attacks of bronchitis any way, also gives the same result.

Diseases of the Digestive system: The 5th house governs digestion. It is observed that any malefic planet in this house causes disease in digestive system. Besides, lord of the 5th house in company with malefic planet and 5th house is not aspected by any benefic planet also shows similar result.

Cirrhosis of liver: Any affliction in the 5th house with a connection of 6th house indicates this disease.

There are some ailments which can be acute. If we can forecast them correctly they can be controlled and cured before they become acute. First let us look at the planets. Heart disease, bone fractures, leprosy, and diseases in the head are to be read from the Sun. The Moon refers to heart, lungs, left eye, asthma, diarrhoea, poisoning of blood, diseases from water, kidney, diabetes, dropsy, appendicitis and other things. From Mars one can find cuts, wounds, sore-eye, poisoning, boils, itches, blood pressure, bone fracture, tumour, piles, ulcers, dysentery and cancer. Mercury indicates matters relating to chest, nerves, smallpox, chickenpox, epilepsy, fevers, itches, bone fractures, typhoid, gall bladder, paralysis, ulcers, cholera and so on. Jupiter governs liver, kidney, lungs, diabetes, spleen, thighs, dropsy, and tongue. Venus refers to eye, genital troubles, fits, diabetes, glands, dropsy and fever. Saturn controls stomach pains, teeth, skin, bone fractures, rheumatic troubles, blindness, wounds, paralysis, deafness and hysteria.

These are some of the major indications given to us by the planets. The houses primarily involved are the 6th and the 8th, and their rulers too have to be considered here. It is wiser not to read these with reference to Bhavachakra, because the equal house system of Parashara appears to be more valuable. A few combinations indicating appendicitis are given earlier. Here the factors involved are Virgo, the 6th house, the Moon, and the Sun. The combinations we have noted are:

1. The 8th house afflicted by Rahu or Kuja (Mars), while the Moon also is afflicted.
2. Two strong malefics on both the sides of the 6th house.
3. The Moon in Kanya (Virgo) or Vrishchika (Scorpio) afflicted by malefics, while the 6th too is afflicted.

4. The Sun in Leo afflicted by Mars, Rahu, or Saturn by way of conjunction or aspect, while the Moon or the 6th house is afflicted.
5. A malefic in conjunction with the Moon in Kanya while the 6th house is afflicted.
6. When the 6th house is Pisces with afflicted Jupiter in it, while the Moon too is afflicted.
7. Saturn in Virgo or Pisces which must be the 6th house, while the Moon is afflicted.

A native was born while Pisces was rising has Saturn in Leo, Mars and Rahu in Libra, and the Sun and the Moon in Capricorn. This is a good example of the first combination listed above. His appendix had to be removed. Similar examples can be supplied by the readers from their own experiences. If any other combinations are found, it will be better to add them to those given above.

Mercury controls all kinds of ulcers. the major combination indicating the trouble from ulcers are the following:-

1. Malefic Mercury being afflicted.
2. Rahu in the 8th aspected by a malefic.
3. Saturn in Lagna, while a weak Moon is in conjunction with Rahu and the Sun.
4. Saturn in the 2nd, the Moon in the 4th, and Mars in the 10th.
5. Mars in conjunction with Kethu in the 8th being aspected by a malefic.
6. Mars in the 8th aspected with a malefic while Kethu is in the 2nd.
7. Lord of the 6th house with a malefic in the 10th.
8. Lord of the 6th in the 1st or in the 8th in conjunction with a malefic.
9. Lord of the 6th in the 6th in conjunction with Rahu or Kethu.
10. The Moon in the 6th aspected by a malefic.
11. Saturn in conjunction with Mars and Rahu.
12. Mars in conjunction with Venus in the 9th or the 10th aspected by a malefic.

13. Rahu in conjunction with a malefic in the 5th.
14. Mars in opposition to the Sun one of them being in the 1st, the 2nd, the 7th or the 8th.
15. The 6th lord in Lagna in conjunction with Mars.
16. Saturn in the 8th aspectd by Mars.
17. Mars in conjunction with Jupiter and Saturn in Lagna.
18. Mercury in his own house aspected by Mars.
19. The waning Moon in conjunction with Rahu, Saturn, or Mars in the 8th.
20. Conjunction of Saturn and Mars in the 6th or the 12th.
21. Lord of the 11th in the 3rd.
22. Venus in Leo which must be a Kendra square or Kona (trine), while Jupiter is in the 3rd.
23. The afflicted Moon in Leo.

The example given earlier fulfils the combinations 2 and 6. There is another person born when Libra was rising. He had the Sun and Saturn in Lagna while Mars was in the 7th. This is the 14th combination listed above. Dr. Pattabhi's chart fulfils the first combination. Born as Cancer was rising, he had the Sun, Mars, and Mercury in the 5th house. He had the gastric ulcer. In these cases of gastric ulcer, we usually find that the 5th house too is involved. This may explain why gastric ulcers and the like are said to arise primarily from psychological factors. Here again we are interested in pointing out a few model combinations.

There is a dreaded disease called cancer, and we do not come across any known ways of getting it cured. Experiments are still going on. Only it is said that it can be cured only if it is detected in its earlier stages. This can be done only through astrology. Hence we offer an astrological analysis of this. While Mercury indicates ulcers, Mars suggests tumours. But cancer can appear in a variety of places. Cancer, which is primarily indicated by Rahu, finds its place because of the other planets involved. The Sun indicates stomach, bowels, and Mercury gives nose, navel, mouth; Mars suggests blood, marrow, genitals, neck, and uterus; Jupiter refers to liver, thighs ear, and tongue; Venus indicates throat and genitals; Saturn refers to legs, hands, and teeth. A badly afflicted Moon suggests the possibility of cancer. Other indicators are the afflicted Jupiter and Saturn, and the signs Aries, Taurus, Cancer, Libra, and Capricorn. Saturn in Cancer does suggest that a parent may possibly have been a victim of cancer.

	Moon Mars Sat Rahu
Ascdt	1		Sun Merc
			Venus
		Jupit Ketu

This chart is that of a woman who died of uterine cancer. Mars, Rahu and the Moon are in exact conjunction; and they are in opposition to Jupiter and Kethu. Saturn is in the 3rd house. Mars aspects the Sun, the lord of the 7th. Mars is badly afflicted and the position of Venus in the 7th is a little palliative. Note also that all except Mars and the Moon are between Rahu and Kethu. Jupiter, Aries and Libra are afflicted. A collection of the charts of victims of cancer would throw a flood of light.

Some Diseases

Jyotisha is said to be the eye of the Vedas. In the Vedic texts the Sun is said to be the eye of the heavens. In a funeral hymn of Rig Veda the eye is commissioned to enter the Sun. The Sun is thus the significator of the eye. The Uttarakalamrita (U.K) refers the eye to the second house of the horoscope (5.2); and it assigns the left eye to the twelfth house (5.22); by implication the second rules the right eye. It also assigns the Sun (5.24) and Venus (5.44) to the eyes. Thus we have to take the Sun and Venus as significators and the houses on either side of the Lagna as indicators of the eyes. Since the sixth house refers to any ailment, this also plays a prominent part in any affliction to the eyes. Sixth being the seventh from the twelfth, it is necessary to consider also the eighth house.

First let us consider what at least the Jataka Parijata (J.P) has to say about the afflictions to the eyes. Our authorities invariably consider Mars in the afflictions to the right eye and Saturn to those of the left eye. This is because they refer to the owners of the first and the eleventh houses of the natural zodiac and these are the twelfth (Vyaya, loss) houses. We will tabulate some combinations from J.P.

1. Waning Moon in the 8th aspected by a strong Saturn brings death caused by an agony of the eye or after a surgical treatment (5.78).

2. Sun conjunct Moon in Simha lagna aspected by Saturn and Mars makes one blind. If this conjunction has also a benefic aspect, one is clear-eyed (6.52).

3. Moon in 12 affects the left eye and Sun in 12 affects the right eye (6.52). There should be no benefic aspects. Here we find both the luminaries involved in the diseases of the eye. This is of vital interest. This agrees with Brihat Jataka (23-10 and 20-23).

4. Sun in Simha lagna or Tula lagna or Karkat lagna also causes inflammation of the eyes (6.54).

5. Sun and Moon in the twelfth together or separately affect the right and left eyes respectively (6.54).

6. A malefic with sixth affects the left eye and in the eighth the right eye (6.54).

7. Sun associated with Shani in the first or the seventh house affects the right eye. In association with Mars and Rahu, the Sun spoils the left eye (6.55).

8. Sun and Moon in the eighth while malefics are in 6,8 and 12, the malefic in the sixth spoils the left and the malefic in the eighth affects the right eye (6.55).

9. Mars as the lord of the second, Sun and Moon in 8, and Shani in 6 or 12—one becomes blind.

10. Moon in 6,8 or 12, and Saturn is conjunct Mars—loss of sight (6.57)

11. Moon in 6, Sun in 8, Saturn in 12, Mars in 2—blindness (6.58).

12. Conjunctions of lords of 1 and 2 in 6,8 or 12—Loss of sight or cataract.

13. Lord of the second with the Moon and Venus in lagna—night blindness (6.59).

14. Moon or Rahu in 12, Shani in a trine, the Sun in 7 or 8—ailment of the eyes (6.84).

15. Malefics in 4 and 5, and Moon in 6,8 or 12—blindness. (6.85).

16. Sun and Moon in 6 and 12—one eyed; and his wife also will be one eyed (6.99).

17. Conjunction of the Sun, Mars and Venus—Eye disease (8.7).

18. Conjunction of the second lord with Mars and Saturn in the second—eye disease. Same result arises when malefics in the second are aspected by Shani (11.68).

19. Malefics in 12—eye disease (15.78).

All these combinations should not have any benefic association. The ninth chapter gives many combinations with gulika for diseases of the eye. Since the author confuses gulika with Mandi and since these are not said to give benefic result in any house, it is better to ignore these. Some of the combinations given above—2, 4, 15, 17 do not appear to be valid, as we have cases to the contrary.

Sun with Ketu in 2, 6, 8, 12 afflicts the eye with a cataract. Mars and Saturn govern the right and left eye respectively. Sun, Moon, Venus and houses 1, 2, 12, 8 and 6 are involved in any eye trouble, if and only if malefic influences dominate. Jataka Tattva of Mahadeva gives the following significant combinations.

20. Mars or Moon in lagna aspected by Jupiter or Venus one eyed. This is debatable. Other afflicts together with these must be the causes.

21. Moon in 7 for Kumbha lagna aspected by Mars—one eyed.

22. Sun in 7 for Makara lagna aspected by Mars—one eyed.

23. Moon and Venus in 7 or 12—one eyed. If they are in the seventh there cannot be an ailment of the eye.

Some learned state that one becomes blind if Sun is in 6, Moon in 8, Mars in 2, and Saturn in 12. In this combination Saturn afflicts the Sun and Mars, while Mars afflicts the Moon.

The constellations Ardra ($66^{\circ}40'$ to $80^{\circ}0'$ of sidereal zodiac) Krittika ($26^{\circ}40'$ to $40^{\circ}0'$). Pushyami ($93^{\circ}0'$ to $106^{\circ}20'$), early part of Shravana, (280° to $290^{\circ}0'$). Rohini ($40^{\circ}0'$ to $53^{\circ}20'$), and Jyeshtha ($226^{\circ}40'$ to $240^{\circ}0'$) are usually involved in the afflictions to the eyes. The last decanates of fixed signs are also involved. Sun, Moon, Mars, Saturn and Venus are the main significators. Since the eye is most developed part of the nervous system, Mercury's role in eye troubles has to be considered carefully. Mars or Uranus afflicting Mercury has shown squint in the right eye in some charts. Mercury in Aries or Scorpio afflicted by Neptune has given rise to squint or glaucoma.

Cataract has now become a common feature. It refers primarily to Mercury. Affliction of Mercury by Mars, Uranus or Neptune appears a general indicator. In one case Budha was opposed to Neptune and the Moon to Uranus. In another Mars was conjunct Moon in the third quarter of Mula ($246^{\circ}40'$ to $250^{\circ}0'$) and Jupiter was conjunct Uranus in the second quarter of Uttarabhadrapada ($336^{\circ}40'$ to $340^{\circ}0'$). The first is ruled by Ketu and the second by Saturn. Mercury afflicted by Saturn from the sixth or twelfth can give squint in the left eye, while a similar affliction by Mars from the second or eighth makes the right eye squint.

When the luminaries are conjunct in 6 or 12 one loses vision. The Sun appears to refer to the right eye, while the Moon does to the left. In one case Mars ($183^{\circ}26'$) afflicted Mercury ($268^{\circ}38'$) and the Sun ($278^{\circ}10'$). The first brought the squint in the right eye, and the second a cataract in the same eye. This Mars was afflicted by Saturn ($138^{\circ}8'$) and also by Uranus ($307^{\circ}14'$). Mars and the Sun are also the owners of the second and the sixth houses respectively in these instances.

More differentiated examples will be of great help in determining the precise nature of the ailments of the eye.

The Eye is a very important organ of the human organism. It provides a window into the external universe. Now-a-days we find myopia, blindness, cataract and the like becoming frequent. The incidence of eye-diseases can be decreased considerably if we know how these can be prevented. One such way to knowledge is to consult the eye specialist at frequent but regular intervals. But even he can be helped largely by an insight into the problem as presented by an astrological analysis of the chart of his consultant.

The eye is a complicated organ, and its afflictions do sometimes involve the nervous and circulatory systems. In astrology the Sun is said to regulate the right eye while the left eye is under the control of the Moon. Venus too is associated with eyesight. Kethu is another. Cataract is usually referred to Rahu. Mars has a sore eye and Saturn has blindness.

A reference to our ancient texts yields many interesting combinations of planets. Mars in the twelfth is said to afflict the right eye while Saturn in the same afflicts the left. If Sun and Moon are in the twelfth when malefics are in the sixth or eighth, the result is taken to be blindness. These malefics in the sixth would be in opposition to the luminaries, and in the eighth they would oppose the house representing the eye. Moon in the second, Sun in twelfth, and malefics in sixth or eighth give the same result. Mars in second, Sun in eighth, the Moon in sixth and Saturn in the ninth work in the same manner. Blindness resulting from biliousness arises when Moon and Mars are in sixth or eighth. Blindness through the afflictions of wind or phlegm comes when Moon and Saturn are in eighth or twelfth.

Tumour of the eye comes from Sun and Moon in the ascendant. Defective eye results from Sun being in 5, 9 or 12 with malefics. Lords of the ascendant and eighth in sixth spoil the right eye. The following combinations are indicative of different varieties of the diseases of the eye:

1. Sun and Moon afflicted by Mars and Saturn;
2. Conjunction of Mars and Saturn in 6 or 8;
3. Sun or Moon in 1 or 7 aspected by or conjoined with Saturn or Rahu and Mars;
4. Lord of 1 and 2 in conjunction in a malefic house;
5. Afflicted Sun in Cancer which should be the ascendant;
6. Conjunction of Venus with lords of 5 and 6;
7. Conjunction of Mars and Saturn in the second with the lord of that house;
8. Conjunction of the lord of second with Saturn, Mandi and Gulika.

Many similar combinations can be added. The basic facts are simple. Sun, Moon, Venus, Mars and Saturn are planets involved. The houses concerned are 1,2,6,8 and 12. A few illustrations will throw greater light on this question. In Chart 1 we find Sun and Mercury in the seventh. The conjunction in the fifth is not bad. In the eighth month the native had inflammation of eyes leading to blindness; and later one eye got recovered. Jupiter in the second and Moon in the tenth are the relieving factors here.

1. Ascdt. Gemini 2; Jupiter Cancer 17; Saturn 25 and Venus 25 Libra; Mars 17 Scorpio; Sun 11 and Mercury 12 Capricorn; and Moon 4 Pisces.

The second chart shows short sight in one eye and long sight in the other. The lords of 1 and 8 are in the 12th though they do not have an exact conjunction. The conjunction of Mars and Venus has added to the complication.

2. Ascdt. 29 Gemini; Jupiter 11 Gemini; Moon 11 Cancer; Mars 26 and Venus 26 Pisces; Sun 29 Aries; and Saturn 8 and Mercury 22 Taurus.

The third chart gives a peculiar pattern of planets. The ascendant is afflicted by debilitated Venus who also happens to be the lord of the second, and these are aspected by the lord of the sixth Saturn. Sun is in the twelfth. The lord of the ascendant is aspected by Mars conjunct Moon. The native is born blind; and it is not at all surprising to find the result like this.

3. Ascdt. 19 Virgo; Venus 17 Virgo; Jupiter 16 Aquarius; Saturn 23 Pisces; Mars 2 and Moon 7 Taurus; and Mercury 6 and Sun 23 Leo.

Not only are the sign and house positions important, but the positions in the Navamsa too are necessarily to be considered. Find where the lord of the second is located in the Navamsa chart. If the lord of that sign is in a malefic house or is aspected by the malefics in the Rasi chart, then we have a case of the eye-disease. In the third chart there is the affliction to Mercury on the basis of this principle. In the second, we find this planet to be Venus who is afflicted by Mars. In the first it is the Sun who is in the eighth.

There are some sensitive points concerning the eye. These are around the 15th degree of Aries and Libra, 20th degrees of Virgo and Pisces, and tenth and eleventh degrees of Taurus and Scorpio.

The last have a good deal to do with the optical nerves. The 17th degrees of Virgo and Pisces, and the 2nd degrees of Leo and Aquarius also are connected with the eye. Cataract cases show afflictions to the 20th degrees of Virgo and Pisces. Colour blindness involves the 23rd degrees of Aries and Libra, and the 11th degrees of Taurus and Scorpio. Glaucoma usually shows the first three degrees of Cancer and Capricorn afflicted badly. The thirteenth degrees of Cancer and Capricorn, the tenth degrees of Gemini and Sagittarius, and the sixth degrees of Taurus and Scorpio are some of the other sensitive points. In any case of myopia we find Mercury afflicted because he governs the nervous system. When Mercury is afflicted by Mars and when Aries or Scorpio is involved, there may be squint.

Cataract cases usually show afflictions to Mercury and Moon. The conjunction of Mars and Jupiter in Virgo, and of Moon and Mars are also sometimes found to be responsible for this.

9. Tuberculosis

Today a great number seem to be the victims of tuberculosis in our country; and too frequently do we hear of the opening of new sanatoriums. Whatever may be the actual physical causes that bring about this disease, we should analyse astrologically the data that is available and try to find out the particular planetary positions responsible for this ailment. Before we proceed in our enquiry, we have to note certain principles that are given by the authorities. Gemini or Mithuna rules the chest and Cancer or Karkataka controls the heart. Virgo is a mental sign and it must be considered in all ailments. It is the sign representing sickness and it stands for the liver and the intestines in particular. Likewise the sixth sign from the Ascendant is important in this enquiry. The vitality of a person is controlled by Aries, Leo and Sagittarius; Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn have power over the bones and the flesh; Gemini, Libra and Aquarius have their sway over the breath; and the other three govern the blood. Then again we have to read consumption, pneumonia, rheumatism and asthma from Gemini; and Pisces too has something to say about tuberculosis. Coming to the planets, the Sun governs the heart and bone, Mercury controls the lungs and Jupiter rules over the kidneys. Mars brings tuberculosis, while Mercury is capable of bringing asthma, bronchitis, neuralgia and neurasthania. Saturn governs the spleen, endocardium, ribs, bones, rheumatism, consumption, bronchitis, asthma, gout and Bright's disease.

While predicting disease, we have to consider the sixth sign from the Ascendant, the planets therein, the lord of the sixth and the aspects involving these. One should note the relationship between the lords of the first and the sixth houses. Next, one should consider the relationship of Sun to Moon. The aspects of Mars and Saturn falling on the Moon are to be examined.

Some of the planetary combinations that are said to be responsible for tuberculosis can be classified thus:- (i) Lord of the Ascendant with Venus in the sixth, eighth, or twelfth house from Lagna; (ii) Mars in the fourth and Rahu in the twelfth from the 'Karakamsa Lagna'; (iii) Mars and Saturn malefically aspecting the Ascendant; (iv) the mutual exchange of houses by Sun and Moon in the Rasi or in the Amsa; (v) the conjunction of the Sun and Moon afflicted in Cancer or in Leo; (vi) the conjunction of the Moon and Saturn being aspected by Mars; (vii) Mercury afflicted in Cancer; and (viii) the combination of the Sun, Jupiter and Saturn in the fourth.

A few typical illustrations will enable us to understand the principle better. The following chart is that of a male who died of consumption at the early age of twentyfive. The lord of the Ascendant is in Taurus with the lord of Pisces. Jupiter and Saturn are in the fourth, while a peculiar combination is in the Ascendant. The afflicted Venus is aspecting the sixth house. The rising degree of Aquarius is ominous enough. The next chart is more interesting and significant. Sagittarius is rising being afflicted by the aspects of Mars and Saturn.

		Jup 16 Sat 6	Mars 28 R
Mer 9 Moon 10 Sun 1 Lagna 26	4
Venus 23

Mer 28 Sun 11		Mars 8
			Jup 20
Lagna 9	Moon 5		Sat 6 R

Mars is in the sixth, Taurus, while Saturn is in Virgo. The lord of Virgo is debilitated in the fourth, while the debilitated Moon is aspecting Mars and is aspected by Saturn. The malefic influence is gathered into the sixth house. This person lived a spendthrift and died of consumption at fortytwo. The next chart is a slightly better representative. It belongs to Isaac Sprague who was a living skeleton weighing only forty pounds. He suffered progressive muscular atrophy. Sun being the lord of the sixth is with Moon in the fourth sign called Gemini. These two are aspected by Jupiter and are afflicting Jupiter. Mars and Saturn are afflicting one another. The trines are uncared for and the Ascendant is afflicted by Saturn. The wasting fever is amply accounted for by Saturn and by the fourth house.

The following chart illustrates the consumption of the lungs. The Ascendant is unaspected, sensitive, receptive;

Moon 17			Sani 9 R
Budha 2 Sun 1 Guru 8 Ven 10 Mars 18	7		Lagna 19

and weak Cancer which rules the heart, breast, epigastric region and elbow. The lord of the Ascendant is in another sensitive and consumptive sign. The lord of the sixth is Jupiter who brings about degeneration and who is in the eighth with Mars, Sun, Mercury and Venus. Almost all the organs are affected, though the wasting fever was soon felt to react adversely on the lungs. Mars and Mercury have done their worst. Next chart illustrated the consumption of the bowels. The lord of the Ascendant here is in fifth with Mercury, the lord of the ninth and the twelfth houses. The lord of the sixth is debilitated and is about to be joined to Mars who is being afflicted by Saturn. The 6th house is particularly bad and it brings the afflicted Sun, Moon, and Saturn. Virgo governs the bowels and the solar plexus and it is severely afflicted.

In a good many of the cases, we do find the Moon occupying Aquarius, Pisces or Aries. The constellations 'Purvabhadrapada' 'Uttarabhadrapada', 'Revati', 'Asvini', and 'Bharani' govern the heart and the lungs. And we also find that consumption needs the afflictions coming from Mercury, Mars and Saturn. These afflictions are generally concentrated in the sixth house. As 'Chintamani' observes, the conjunction of Mercury and Mars in the sixth afflicted by Venus and Moon, is also indicative of consumption. Likewise, we have another indicator in the conjunction of Mars and Saturn in the sixth afflicted by the Sun and Rahu.

Take the next chart and observe the Ascendant afflicted by benefics in a novel manner. The lord of the Ascendant is exalted in the third sign; and this house governs the skeleton as a whole. Mars is afflicted by Shani and Rahu, both being together in a consumptive house. The Moon is hemmed in between malefics. This person developed tuberculosis at the age of fifty in the subperiod of the Sun in the major period of Jupiter. He breathed his last in the late sub-period of Jupiter.

Kuja Ketu
Chandra	Guru Budha Shukra Ravi Lagna

The following chart is that of a person who suddenly turned bankrupt at the age of the fifty two. Two years later, he died of lingering consumption. The Ascendant is Taurus, controlling the bones and the flesh. It is subjected to the powerful influence of the Moon and the person had therefore to bear a severe nervous strain. As long as the vitality was strong, he was able to withstand the strain. This vitality is bound to melt away as the Sun is conjunct with debilitated Mars in the third house, the sign of Moon. The sensitivity of Cancer is heightened by the presence of the neuralgic Mercury in association with the conjoined planets. The lord of the sixth is subjected to the influences of Jupiter and Saturn; and this brought about the dramatic collapse.

	10		Ravi 19 Budha 6 Kuja 26

Next chart takes us to a person born in the constellation of 'Uttarabhadrapada'. The Ascendant is aspected by Mars

Jup 28 Moon 15
Ketu 21	11
Sat 25 Ven 11			Rahu 21
Sun 1 Mer 22 Lagna 12			Mars 22

who is situated in Virgo. The vitality is subjected to a violent haemorrhage brought fourth by Mars. The third hosue governing the lungs is afflicted by Ketu. Its lord is in the second in association with the lord of the sixth. The tubercular affliction suddenly came up in the sub-period of Saturn in the major period of Venus and he died of it in his forty-second year. Venus and Saturn, Mercury and Mars, have completed his story while the nodes aided the major operation.

From these illustrations let us turn to very peculiar two cases of suspected tuberculosis. The doctors have declared

	Lagna 11	Ketu 4	Moon 29
Ravi 17 Budha 28 Shukra 2	12
			Mars 8 Re
Guru 15 Shani 22	Rahu 4

one ailment, and the patient suffered from another. This chart is the first to be considered. This person started his career well and was somewhat successful at the bar. The affliction of Leo by Mars and Venus, and the conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn aspecting Mars, brought forth diabetes. Scorpio is particularly bad in this direction. As the diabetes became chronic, a new weakness set in with a low temperature. Some medical practitioners diagnosed the ailment to be tuberculosis and treated him with "streptomycin" towards the end of the major period of Ketu. Observe that Ketu is in the second house owned by Venus, and that Venus is subjected to Martian aspects. The lord of the fourth house is the sensitive Moon who is situated in a consumptive and neuralgic sign Gemini. The lord of this is again in Aquarius with the Sun and Venus. Of course, both the Moon and Mercury are at the very end of the respective signs. As a consequence of the treatment given, there was a serious nervous breakdown resulting in an ailment similar to paralysis as soon as the major period of Venus started. Observe the position of Venus and his association with Mercury and others. In the very first sub-period he collapsed. I was consulted just when the tubercular treatment was being given to him; and I warned him not to take that treatment any longer since it is sure to paralyse his nervous system, and since the planetary positions need some treatment that can give vitality to his nervous system. My advice was taken too late and the good man passed away. The positions of the planets are apt to tempt one to conclude that he must have died of tuberculosis.

The last illustration is highly significant in this direction. This gentleman was working in the Railway and he was confined to bed from June 1949 to June 1950. The doctors, as usual, pleaded that he was ailing with tuberculosis. The sub-period of Mercury in the major period of Rahu ended by 1951-6-13 and in the last part of this period he was assured of his recovery by the doctors. The lord of the sixth house is exalted in the third and is with Jupiter; and the lord of the tenth is exalted in the sixth and is aspected by the lord of the sixth. This is enough to show that he did

Budha 10	Sun 2	Moon 13	Rahu 28
Shukra 16	13
Kuja 24 Guru 29
Ketu 28	Shani 2 R Lagna 25

not have any ailments like tuberculosis. The lords of the first and the third have interchanged their places, though they are eighty-two degrees apart. The Moon is exalted in the seventh. Yet he was ailing at least for one year and we have not examined Mercury and his houses. Mercury is the lord of the eighth and eleventh houses; and he is debilitated in a consumptive, neuralgic and sensitive sign. The eighth house is occupied by Rahu, another planet of neuralgia. The location of Jupiter in the third house called Capricornus intensified the affliction to the nervous system. This affliction gathered momentum during the transit influences of Jupiter and Saturn. What this gentleman really had during 1949-50 was only a little nervous breakdown; and there might have been also a slight trace of albuminaria. But it was not tuberculosis at any rate.

These illustrations are clear enough in drawing the attention of the readers to the difficulty in predicting tuberculosis correctly. In a majority of the cases, there is ample room to confuse neuralgic with tuberculosis; and a sound astrological examination can and will point out the real trouble.

10. Heart Complaint

Many factors lead to the ailments of the heart. An unsuspected cause is rheumatic fever which may attack a native prior to his twelfth year and which is erroneously treated as ordinary malaria fever. Here we propose to analyse one such chart.

The native, a male was born on 1924-9-3 at 7-13 A.M. (I.S.T.) 16.12N, 80.39E Balance of Kuja dasa as per Lahiri one year, three months, 16 days. As per the ayanamsa we follow it is six months twelve days. The chart is as per Lahiri's value

14. Asc 5.26 in Virgo with Mercury (R) 2.48, 2-Moon 4.12, Saturn 6.9, 3-Jupiter 18.22, 5-Ketu 29.11, 6-Uranus (R) 27.6, Mars (R) 4.54, 10-M.C. 5.41, 11-Venus 1.48, Neptune 28.5, Rahu 29.11, 12-Sun, Ketu, 10-Sat, Mars, Moon, 11-Jupiter, 12-Mercury.

The significator of the heart, the Sun, is in the twelfth aspected by retrograde Mars (Lord of the third) and Uranus. Varahamihira (1.4) places chest under the third house and heart under the fourth and also under Gemini and Cancer respectively. In the system of Jaimini the Seventh house appears to refer to the heart and to the back. We have, however, to admit that the Sun is the significator of the heart, and therefore Leo and the fifth house are to be reckoned with.

In this chart the lagna is hemmed in between malefics and it is aspected only by the lord of the third and the eight. Jupiter in the third is a cause of balarishta; and he has the strength to bring the life to an end in his major period. The navamsa lagna is aspected by Kuja again. Applying Jaimini's aspects we find the karakamsa afflicted by the aspects of Sun, Uranus, Rahu and Neptune.

Rheumatic fever involves Mars and Saturn. Here Mars is in Saturn's house in Rasi, and is with Saturn in Amsa. It is this Mars who aspects the lagna. Scorpio is particularly amenable to this fever along with Leo, Virgo, Capricorn and Pisces. One of the aphorisms of Jamini is "Dara Jvara bhayam". It means that when Cancer is the eighth from karakamsa there is fear of fever (3.3, 40). Here this is fulfilled; and it is also aspected (as per Jamini) by Mars.

Moreover, Mercury governs the respiratory systems. Here he is retrograde and aspected by Mars in Rasi and by Saturn in Amsa. As per the drekkana classification, the ribs are under the third and the eleventh house, while the chest is governed by the fifth (right side) and the ninth houses. In this chart the ninth is aspected by Mars. Its fifth house has the aspects of Venus, Neptune and Rahu.

The ailments of the heart involve the following : (1) Affliction to the Sun, Leo, and the fifth, or any two of these. (2) Mars in association with the fifth damages the heart through strain. (3) Saturn affects the valves, or brings about a fatty degeneration. (4) Neptune affects the heart through drugs or smoking or both. (5) Uranus causes the ailment through the nervous system. (6) Uranus and Jupiter, jointly or separately bring about the dilated heart. The dilated heart is the major result of Rheumatic fever.

In the chart under consideration Leo and the Sun are afflicted by Mars and Uranus. The fifth house in Amsa alone has Uranus. The fifth house is not associated with Mars, though the fifth lord has the amsa of Mars. Saturn aspecting the fourth affected the valves; and Varahamihira is right in ascribing the heart to the fourth. The native was not given to drugs or smoking; and so Neptune has little to do with this chart. Jupiter is in square to the Sun and to Uranus. The heart is dilated. In navamsa Uranus is in the fifth in opposition to Jupiter. The native died on Nov. 7, 1946.

According to Lahiri's ayanamsa the demise was in Guru, Shani, Budha. But according to the one we follow it was in Jupiter-Saturn-Moon. Readers will be able to judge which ayanamsa fits in to this situation.

One more point. The native was married in May 1943. He had no Kuja dosha. In amsa the seventh lord is in the eighth; and the seventh is afflicted by Saturn. As Parashara stated, the navamsa represents the chart of the partner. Though the native has Mars in the eighth from Venus, the navamsa chart clearly shows that his wife was destined to be a widow.

Heart and Stomach

The concept of Kalapurusha is a unique one in Indian astrology. Karka (Cancer) and the 4th house from Lagna rule the heart, Mithuna and the 3rd govern the chest, Simha and the 5th control the stomach, Libra and the 7th have a sway over the lower abdomen as per Brihat Jataka (1.4).

When the 2nd decanate of Lagna rises houses 5 and 9 govern the chest, 3 and 11 the ribs, and band and the abdomen. The Sun has sway over the heart. The conjunction of Sun, Mercury and Mars in the 4th or in the 5th generally indicate ailments of the heart. The Moon indicates tumours, Mercury refers to the lungs, and Venus to kidneys and ulcers. For ulcers we have to consider also Mars, Rahu and Uranus. Jupiter does indicate abnormal growths. Mars, Saturn and Uranus in their relation to the hylegical point indicate the liability to disease.

With this general background we propose to study a typical case and draw some valid conclusion.

The native was born on December 5, 1962 at 3.17 P.M. The balance of Guru's major period at birth was years 5.6.23.

The 4th house has Rahu and debilitated Mars aspecting the Moon (tumours), Jupiter (abnormal growth), Venus (ulcers), and Saturn. Only Saturn can be said to have an aspect on Mars. The fifth house Leo has Uranus (sudden and unexpected developments) in direct opposition to Jupiter. The 5th (Sun) and sixth (Budha) lords are in the 8th (abdomen). Uranus is in the house indicating the chest. Chest refers also to the 9th whose lord is in opposition to Uranus.

The Sun ruling the heart is in the 8th. Consider the navamsa chart.

Here the Sun is in the 5th aspected by the Moon. Heart and tumours are ruled by these respectively. The 4th is aspected by Shani, and its lord is in the 8th with Shukra and Ketu. Libra, Venus and the 7th house refer to the lower abdomen. In Rasichart Venus in Libra (7th house) is aspected by Mars and Saturn. The Atma Karaka is the Moon and the Karakamsa lagna is Gemini.

His Budha's major period started on June 28, 1987. The sub period of Ketu was from November 25, 1989 to November 22, 1990. Budha as lord of the 3rd (ribs) is in the 8th (abdomen) with the Sun, lord of the 5th (chest). Ketu is with Shani in the 4th from Lagna and in the third (ribs) from Budha, the lord of the dasa.

If the third and the 8th houses from the lagna or the Atmakaraka have the divisions of Taurus and Cancer dominating and if either sign is occupied by Mars, the native suffers from boils and tumours. This aphorism of Jaimini

(3.3.26) applies here partially. Mars in Cancer as the lord of Lagna and the 8th has caused tumours to this native. In the sub period of Ketu in Budha, on June 13, 1990 he was operated for ulcer and tumour. A good part of the stomach had to be removed. He developed colic and dysentery in October 1991. This was in Shukra's sub period. Shukra in the 7th with Neptune is aspected by Mars and Shani. The saving features to Shukra are a sextile from Uranus and a trine from Jupiter. Budha and Shukra are in 2 - 12 relation both in Rasi and in Navamsa. In Navamsa Shani aspects Budha (from Vrishabha) and Shukra is with Kuja. From Atmakaraka in amsa Guru (over growth) is in the 8th (abdomen).

Jaimini states (3.3.34): "If the 8th from the Atma Karaka is aspected by or conjoined with Mercury, he will have diarrhoea or dysentery with vomiting." If we include the 6th, from Karakamsa lagna Budha is in the 6th in Rasi aspecting (as per Jaimini's aspects) the eighth.

Jaimini states (3.3.100): "If the 8th from Lagna, third from A.K., 6th from Navamsa lagna, or the 6th from Karakamsa lagna be Capricorn, he suffers from the diseases of the digestive system like diarrhoea and dysentery. Here the 8th from Karakamsa lagna (9th), the 6th from Navamsa lagna (Simha) is Makara.

Add the longitudes of the lords of the first and 6th houses. The product indicates a sensitive point referring to disease. Here the longitudes of Mars and Mercury give $353^{\circ} 54'$. It falls in Pisces. In Navamsa Shukra, Kuja and Ketu are in Pisces, aspected by none. In Rasi, Shani aspects that house, Kuja aspects this Shani and the lord of Pisces.

This analysis shows how easier and also how difficult it is to detect the ailments. His digestive system is almost paralysed. When Guru's Vidasha in Shukra comes he will start improving. With Ravi's sub period he should be near normal.

11. Meningitis

Meningitis arises from an affliction to the membranes enveloping the brain and the spinal cord. The brain comes primarily under the first house in a chart, though the 3rd and the 5th houses also play a part. Brain and the nerves are signified by Mercury, while the Sun regulates the spine. Jaimini, however, assigns the 7th house to the back. Any affliction to the Sun, Saturn and Uranus, jointly or severally, indicates some kind of spinal trouble. The Moon also is involved. Any inflammation comes under Mars or Rahu

Here we propose to analyse a case of meningitis which was diagnosed at a very late period. The lady was born on 1925.5.12/13 at 1.42 A.M. (IST) 16. 12 N, 80. 39E. Balance of the Sun 5 years, 10 months, 3 days as per Lahiri's ayanamsa; and as per the one we follow it is 5 years, 2 months 10 days. The chart is as per Lahiri's.

She developed meningitis towards the end of June 1946 and died on July 14, 1946. Lahiri's value places it in Mars - Rahu which began on July 11, 1946.

Some of the cases of meningitis show some common features in the charts. (1) The conjunction or opposition of the Sun and Saturn involving fiery or airy signs (2) Mars is in an airy or earthy sign having an association with Mercury.

(3) Afflictions between Mars and Saturn, or from these to lagna, third or fifth houses. (4) Mars or Mercury or both having an association with Uranus or Neptune. (5) Malefics in the third or in Lagna. (6) Some unusual relationship involving Mars, Saturn and Jupiter. Above all the Sun and Mercury play a major role here.

In the chart under investigation we note a few interesting plus points. The Sun and Saturn (lords of 7 and 1) are exalted. Venus (4) and Jupiter (11) are in their own houses. Mars (5) and Mercury (3) have exchanged. Jupiter and the Moon are Vargottama. There are a few disconcerting factors. The significator of longevity is retrograde in exaltation and occupies a badhaka house. Lagna is not aspected by any. The 8th lord is weak. Mars in the 7th from the Moon and in Arudha lagna denies a long life. The 8th from navamsa lagna and its lord is afflicted Saturn. In Amsa Mars and Saturn are in aspects.

Now let us look at the chart more closely to understand the ailment. The Sun in a fiery sign is opposed to Saturn placed in an airy sign. The houses involved are 3 and 9, and they are lords of 7 and Lagna. Brain, spine and back are affected because of the houses involved and because of the opposition. Mars is in an airy sign owned by Mercury, while the latter is in the fiery sign of the former.

Mars is also in square to Uranus. 3rd and 5th houses are involved. Saturn also afflicts the 3rd house. Saturn and Mars aspect the Moon (lord of the 5th) and Jupiter. Almost all the factors mentioned above are fulfilled here.

Let us study the chart from the standpoint of Jaimini's system to find additional support. The Karakamsa has five bodies including the Sun, Mars and Neptune. All these are severely afflicted by Saturn from the 4th house. The significator of the brain Mercury is with Rahu while the lord of the 6th is in lagna. The 8th from Karakamsa being Cancer (Sutra 3.3.41), there was an acute fever preceding death. The 7th house from Karaka is also aspected by Saturn. Thus the brain and the spine are afflicted.

A similar situation appears in the case of the Moon sign in the natal chart. Mars in an exchange with Budha aspects the 6th lord. So does Saturn (the lord of 1 and 12) afflict the Moon, Rahu, Sun and Mercury. The inflammation of the membranes of the brain and the affliction to the spine are clearly evident here. Even when we take the arudha lagna, we get the same result. Readers may study cases of meningitis in the light of these observations. Moreover, in the Vimsottari system the major periods that can bring about this ailment are the planets in or ruling the lagna, the 3rd and 5th. Here it was the major period of the 3rd lord situated in the 5th, from Mars the 5th lord is Venus situated in the 12th from him. And the Vidasa lord is Mercury again the 5th lord from Venus situated in the 12th from Venus.

12. Thrombosis

It is good to enumerate the various principles found in our ancient authorities and to memorise them. But a more valuable thing is to know how to apply these principles to a given chart. Another, and an easy going method is to say that I have predicted such an event in the presence or absence of others and that it came true. There is no written or published proof for such predictions. A good method for one, keen to know the subject, is to analyse a chart and see how and why such an event took place at a given time. This is a better way than the previous one. Here we propose to study a chart in the light of some events that happened.

The native was born on March 15, 1937 at 7.15 a.m. or so. Place 16.19 N, 8.39 E. Here is the chart of the person who died on March 26, 1972. The balance Ketu's period at birth is 5 years, 10 months and 8 days as per Lahiri's ayanamsa according to which the chart is cast. As per the ayanamsa we follow it is 5 years, one month and 4 days.

The native had one younger brother and one sister older to him. After graduation he discontinued his studies for two years, and then took his M.A. degree in 1963. He worked as a Lecturer. Note Guru in the tenth house Vargottama. Prior to 1961 he underwent an operation for a Hydrocele. Why did it take place? When the lagna is in the third drekkana, the testicles come under the third and the eleventh houses. Jataka Parijata (11.36) states that the enlarged scrotum results from the conjunction of Rahu with Mars or Saturn, or when Mars is in Lagna. Here Mars is with Rahu in the ninth aspecting third house. In amsa Mars is with Ketu aspecting the third and the eleventh houses. Mars being in the eighth from navamsa lagna, he affects the genitals. In Rasi, the conjunction of Mars and Rahu is in the third from arudha lagna. Thus the chart justifies the event which took place in the subperiod of Mercury in Venus.

The conjunction of the Sun with Saturn, unrelieved by any benefic aspect is undesirable (J.P. 8.2). Saturn aspects Ketu in the third. The lord of the third and the eighth is in the second; and from arudha lagna he is in the eighth with the Moon. In spite of Jupiter's aspect on the Moon and Venus, there is no long life. Lagna in itself is weak. The major periods of the Moon, or Venus should cause death. But from navamsa lagna and Karakamsa lagna it is the Moon who has to bring about the end. It took place in the subperiod of Jupiter in the major period of the Moon. Jupiter is afflicted by Saturn, the lord of the twelfth from lagna situated in the twelfth from the Moon.

The native had an attack of cerebral thrombosis in Jan. 1972 and lay unconscious for nearly two months. Blood and the circulatory system come under Sun. Here the Sun is conjunct Saturn in lagna which refers to the head, while the Sun rules the heart. Kuja also governs blood and all forms of inflammation. Kuja aspects Budha who governs the brain and who is in the twelfth from lagna. In Amsa again Kuja aspects the Moon, Mercury, and Jupiter, while he himself is aspected by Saturn. The Moon presides over the modulla oblongata, and he is afflicted by the lord of the eighth and by the lord of the twelfth, Uranus. Shani refers to the accumulation of toxins in the blood. Most of the afflictions centre round blood only. From lagna the Moon as the lord of the fifth afflicted the chest; and the fourth (heart) lord is in the twelfth, while the Sun is afflicted by Saturn. As per our ayanamsa, the attack came in Chandra-Guru-Shukra which ended on Feb. 5, 1972, and death came in the Vidsa of the Moon during the subperiod of Jupiter in the Moon. It was from Feb. 29, 1972 to April 9, 1972.

This analysis shows how complicated an interpretation can be to many astrologers, and how an unsuspecting lord of the lagna can cause death during his subperiod.

26. Mental cases

These require a careful study. We present an analysis of the lower and higher minds. Houses 3, 5 and 9, planets like the Moon and Budha have to be examined. We start with a general analysis of the types of mind. Then we offer some illustrations, and at the end deduce some conclusions.

The fifth house refers to the mind. The purity of mind can be learnt from the 9th. The 12th refers to mental agitation and wretchedness. The Sun governs mental purity. The Moon governs the disposition of the mind. Mercury rules over wisdom.

Aries governs the head and so is the 1st house of a chart. Virgo is a mental sign and so it is the 6th house. The brain and nerve centres come under Aries. Taurus rules cerebellum. The brain derangement comes from Aries. The Sun rules the brain, cerebellum, and blood, Mars controls the cerebral hemispheres. Mercury rules the nerves.

The house of diseases is the 6th. One has to consider the lord of the 6th, the aspects on the 6th, and the lord of the Navamsa occupied by the lord of the 6th. We have also to consider the relationship between the lord of the ascendant and the owner of the 6th. The mental peculiarities are to be known from the Moon. The weak Moon in the 12th with Saturn is likely to bring about insanity.

The judgement of mentality and of nervous reactions depend to a great extent on Mercury. The Moon refers to faulty reasoning and one can become fussy. Mercury is diffusive and nervous. Venus is indecisive, indefinite and never satisfied. Mars is foolhardy, impatient, restless, thoughtless, and pugnacious. Saturn is depressive, dogmatic, dull, and fearful.

Severe afflictions are involved in cases of insanity. Mars afflicts the mental rulers, and Uranus does so in the case of one of the luminaries. Usually Mars is found in the 3rd house, and in dangerous cases he is in a watery sign. The Moon and Mercury are generally in malefic aspects to Mars or Uranus. The Sun too gets afflicted. Where there is confinement, the 12th house is involved. The degrees susceptible to mental afflictions are 29° Leo and Aquarius. George III had four planets in the 12th opposed to Uranus. The Moon is afflicted in the 6th by Mars and Uranus. In another instance we notice Pisces rising, with Mercury and Venus in the 12th along with Saturn. The Sun is with Uranus in the 12th, while the Moon is in the 3rd with Mars. A third example gives Saturn conjunct Jupiter in Leo 29° opposed to Neptune on the cusp of the 8th. Mars is in the 3rd with a square to the Moon.

Uranus refers to abnormality, changefulness, perversity, and eccentricism. Neptune can make one hypersensitive, deceptive, unstable, sentimental, and subversive. These factors have to be borne in mind while judging mental condition.

Gemini, Libra, and Aquarius are intellectual signs. Cancer, Scorpio, and Pisces are emotional, sensitive, and unstable. Aries is impulsive. Gemini refers to nervous complaints and psychological troubles. Nervous ailments come under Sagittarius while Capricorn refers to diseases which limit the native.

Mental deficiency is related to the 3rd house. If Saturn is in the 3rd and is afflicted by its ruler, there is trouble. Generally Venus is square to Mars or Saturn. The last degree of the fixed signs is usually involved.

The Sun in the 3rd refers to mental pursuits. The Moon in this place can explain the insufficient continuity of mental application, and changeful ideas. The 3rd is the mental house. The other houses that relate to the mind are the 1st, the 5th and the 9th. The higher mind is denoted by the 9th while the lower comes under the 3rd. The 6th also has a reference to the mind.

The Sun gives, if well placed, will-power and individuality. The Moon has a changeable and plastic nature. The mental ruler is Mercury. When the Moon is afflicted in the 3rd by Mercury, Saturn, or Mars, there may be mental aberrations like insanity and mania. Mercury governs the mind, memory, intellect, intelligence, desire, and knowledge. He is the chief indicator of all kinds of mental aberrations and nervous disorders. An ill-dignified or ill-aspected Mars makes one impulsive and fickle.

According to western astrology, Uranus refers to hallucinations and mental delusions, while Neptune controls brain troubles, delusions, hypochondria, obsession, and insanity. We may for the time being ignore these two planets because there is still uncertainty about their influences on individuals.

The 6th house refers to sickness. We have to consider the planet in this house, the sign on the cusp of the 6th, its lord, and the aspects to it. The nature of the disease is to be determined by the 8th house, the planet in it, the aspect to it, its lord, and the 22nd drekkana which falls in it.

In cases of insanity, there should be severe afflictions. Mars in a watery sign in the 3rd is most dangerous. The aspects between the Moon and Mercury must be adverse. Generally the Sun is afflicted. The last degrees of Leo and Aquarius are usually involved. George III had four planets on the cusp of the 12th, opposite Uranus. The Moon is afflicted by Mars and Uranus.

Melancholy which precedes insanity follows the affliction of the Moon or Venus by Saturn. It may arise in the signs ruled by Jupiter. But the 3rd house is generally involved. The watery signs make one moody. Capricorn is to be a significant indicator. Saturn should be afflicted, and so should be Virgo. Mercury is capable of impairing the memory.

Before we proceed further let us look into some illustrations. The positions are given according to the Nirayana system of Lahiri. But the balance of the planet's period at birth is given as per Raman's ayanamsa.

The Chart 18 deserves notice. The ascendant is with Saturn and it is not exactly aspected by any. The lord of the 18. Sagittarius Lagna 10.8 and Saturn 1.23; Pisces Moon 7.7 and Uranus (R) 17.4; Aries-Rahu 21.33; Taurus Jupiter 23.6; Cancer Venus 29.28; Leo Neptune 9.10; Virgo Sun 3.0; Mars 25.36, Mercury 28.27.

3rd, house, of the lower mind, aspects it, and there is a certain animality about the native. The 5th is eclipsed by Rahu. The lord of the 5th is with a malefic. Only the lord of the 9th has the aspect of the lord of the 8th. The mental planet Mercury is conjunct Mars, lord of the 5th; and Mercury is a malefic, aspected by Jupiter. In the major period of Mercury, the sub-lord being Mars, he lost balance of mind; and in Ketu he left his home and his whereabouts are still not known. When the major period of Ketu began, he became a self-appointed exile. He has powerful Jupiter in the 6th. The 3rd is afflicted by Saturn. The 5th has Rahu. The 9th is unaspected. The mental planet is conjunct Mars, and the relieving feature is the aspect of Jupiter. But the major period is that of Venus, lord of the 6th and the 11th situated in the 8th which is a hidden one. There are slight chances of his recovery. But these may occur at the end of the major period of Venus. The position of Saturn in the ascendant indicates possession by a ghost, even if Saturn is in the 12th Bhava. Jupiter's aspect on Saturn can still save the native.

The 19th chart is interesting. The Moon as lord of the 5th occupies the lower mind aspected by Saturn. Both the Chart 19. Pisces Lagna 28; Taurus Moon 11; Leo Rahu 15; Scorpio Saturn 3; Sagittarius Sun 25, Mars 25, Mercury 15; Capricorn Venus 22; Aquarius Jupiter 18, Ketu 18.

Moon and Saturn are conjoined in the 5th from Navamsa Lagna. The lord of the 3rd is aspected by Saturn and the two are together in Navamsa. In the first chart there is Saturn, ruler of the lower mind in the 1st, without receiving any aspects. The lord of the 5th is in the 5th conjunct Mercury, aspected by Jupiter. The Sun receives aspects of Saturn and the Moon. These are ominous. In the second chart, lord of the 5th is in the lower mind aspected by Saturn. They are in exact conjunction. The 5th house is aspected by the lord of the 3rd. This person became mad in the sub-period of Mercury in his own major period.

The 20th Chart is an interesting chart. The ascendant is well aspected by Saturn and Jupiter. This is a saving feature

Thus a number of charts reveal the signifiers of mental troubles. We have here omitted the minor ones among such trouble-makers.

Aberrations

For a long time an esoteric group of astrologers divined the psychic phenomena on principles which they did not care to divulge. This tradition affected subsequent astrologers who felt that the nativity is valuable only as providing a symbolic representation of the mental or psychic life. One is almost tempted to remember the emphasis on the mental symptoms given by leading homoeopaths. Carl Jung utilised the horoscopic charts for a diagnosis of the currents and cross-currents in the inward life of an individual. These studies are valuable no doubt; but they tend to overemphasise one aspect and to consider it as the only valuable aspect.

Mithuna, Thula and Kumbha are known as airy signs. They govern the mental and humane aspects. They constitute a triangle of harmony, equilibrium and peace. The afflictions to these must be carefully noted. At times the mental aberrations are due to the over-indulgence of the animal in man; and here our pointers are the bestial signs known as Mesha, Vrishabha, Simha, Dhanus and Makara. A weak constitution on the other hand is implied by the afflicted Kataka, Makara and Meena. In most cases of mental aberrations we find the food consumed being converted into bile. Consequently we have also to examine the signs governing certain parts of the body. Thus the fiery and cardinal signs rule the head, the watery and the cardinal signs have a control over the stomach, and the common signs have much to say about the nervous system. The watery signs have an influence on the lower mind. To be more specific Aries refers to the head and brain, Gemini to the blood, Cancer to the digestive organs, Scorpio to the genitals, Sagittarius to the nerves, Aquarius to the circulation of blood, and Pisces to the lymphatic system.

Coming to the planets, the Sun rules over the blood and brain, while the Moon governs the stomach and the lymphatic system. Mercury refers to the brain, wind and nervous system. Mars controls the bile and the muscular system. Jupiter has sway over blood, liver and arteries. The nerve fluids, membranes of the brain and the nervous disorders are supposed to be regulated by Uranus. Even Neptune is taken to have power over the brain.

When Aries becomes the ascendant, we have to look to the condition of the head, stomach and kidneys. Taurus as ascendant inclines to apoplexy. Gemini is prone to nervous disorders and mental overstrain besides the impurity of blood. Cancer tends to hypochondria, to a morbid disposition. All irregularities of the digestive system are traceable to Virgo. Libra points to the head and to the stomach as the two possible sources of trouble. Sagittarius has a tendency to bring about disorders of the nervous system and of the blood circulation. At times Aquarius inclines to nervous disorders. We can also separate the various parts of the brain and assign each to a planet. The Moon has a power over the cerebrum, Jupiter over the mid-brain, and the Sun over the oblongata medulla.

This account complicates the study of mental aberrations. It makes it evident that we do not have an easy path in pronouncing a judgment on the mental condition of the native. Before we proceed further it is better to look into a few nativities; for it is the actual horoscopes of those who had or have these aberrations that can help us in our study. A person was born in the seventh month of conception. Such persons normally are over-intelligent or mentally weak. This native has a weak mind. The ascendant is afflicted. Though the Moon is in the 6th bhava he conveys a morbid hypochondria to the house of health which is a nervous sign, receptive and weak. The mental aberrations emanate from the 12th house whose lord is rendered ineffective if not positively harmful.

Chart 26 belongs to a person who was insane just for a month and who thereafter committed suicide. The ascendant as such is opposed to any strong mental obsessions. Still it is afflicted by Saturn (ruler of the 6th) and Neptune.

The lord of the 5th is in a terribly weak sign, while the 5th is well fortified by Venus who, however, catches the evil eye of Uranus. The lower mind is affected; and it was suppressed remorse following a deep awareness of guilt that has resulted in the aberration here. The sign controlling ill health receives the powerful rays of the planets ruling the lower mind, the cerebral disturbances and the accumulation of bile.

27th belongs to a nymphomaniac. Such persons have an impulsive, wayward streak so characteristic of the animal spirits. The ascendant is an animal sign subjected to the opposing rays of Mars and Venus. The former is reinforced by the aspect of Saturn. The 2nd house acquires a purely animal character in a nymphomaniac's nativity. Jupiter afflicted by Uranus has affected the mid-brain. The brain and the mind are subjected to the larger impulses emanating from the oblongata medulla as revealed by the conjunction of Sun and Mercury in the 8th house where they receive the malefic aspects of Mars and Saturn. Saturn as the lord of the 6th has contaminated the cerebrum. Mars has converted the Venusian passion into a felt or imagined virtue.

Chart 28 also is that of a nymphomaniac. Here the lord of the 9th is in the 6th, while the Venusian lower mind has tone to a nervous sign. The animality of Scorpio gets a support from Saturn who is again in an animal sign.

The 29th chart is an interesting one in that it shows the brain derangement clearly. The derangement arose after the fourteenth year. The 5th house is deserted. Its lord is in Pisces thereby accentuating the impulsive and nervous dispositions. Here the Sun is hemmed in by a variety of planets that do not augur well for the equilibrium is upset by the position of the Moon in Libra where he is opposed to Mars.

year, roughly in the sub-period of Venus during the major period of Jupiter. The sign Gemini itself is nervous and amphibious. Its lord has gone over to a cardinal sign, indicating disturbances in the cerebellum. The lord of the 6th has occupied the place of happiness with the lord of the lower mind; and here they get the malefic rays of Jupiter which are capable of upsetting the blood and the liver. The 31st chart belongs to a person who underwent a mental derangement after a serious financial loss which synchronised with the birth of his only son. Note the location of Sun and Mercury with Rahu in a watery sign. Mercury is afflicted by Saturn who transmits the affliction emerging from Mars. The retrograde Jupiter has heightened the imaginative association of the Sun with the loss. The 32nd chart is that of a male born immediately after a lunar eclipse. This person is haunted by visions of hanging. The nervous sign controlling the blood is rising, practically unaspected by any. The lord is in the common nervous sign along with the lord of the 12th. The past remains a permanent feature of the present, and it obstructs or prevents the present happiness.

The rays from the lord on the 6th fall on these two, while the 6th is powerfully aspected by Saturn. All these afflictions proceed from Aquarius, a sign of unconventional revolt against the reactionary trends of the present and of the immediate past.

The 33rd chart is that of a business magnate who relied upon his nearest relatives; these relatives finally betrayed him. There resulted an obsession of being poisoned. The lord of the 5th and the 6th are conjunct in the watery twelfth. The lord of the 3rd has gone over to another watery sign which is also very receptive, weak and nervous. The lord of happiness has come over to the 2nd, but Jupiter is ill placed receiving the Saturnine affliction from a bestial sign. The impulsive character is heightened by the affliction of the ascendant from Mars and Saturn. It was in the last one-third of Mercury's major period that these afflictions began unfolding in his life. The 34th chart is that of a great friend of Wagner, Louis II of Bavaria, who committed suicide when he was mad. The ascendant is a common sign, left unsuspected. The lord of the 2nd has come to the 12th receiving the affliction of the lord of the 6th from a nervous point. This Mars in turn has spoilt the Sun and the 4th house.

The 35th chart belongs to a mentally defective person who lacked moral sense greatly. He used to attempt marvellous tricks, though he was failing in them. Still the mental aberration gave him an uncanny power. The ascendant is an animal sign badly afflicted by Neptune and Jupiter, all these also receiving the aspect of Mars. In this struggle of the ascendant, the Sun is crushed, and the lord is relegated to the Martian 12th. The 5th house has Saturn, but receives Mars, it being a very receptive sign. The horoscope becomes then self-explanatory. The 36th chart is that of a woman who was unable to smell fruit. She could eat neither fruit nor vegetables. She used to feel unwell when any of these happened. The sign Libra lost its equilibrium because of the Martian aspect from the 10th. The lord of the 10th takes refuge in the watery Pisces, the 6th from the ascendant. This has resulted in a certain sensitivity to anything referring to the lymphatic system. The instability is further heightened by the location of Jupiter in Virgo, another common sign. The lord of the 4th and the 5th has fallen a victim to the aquatic influences of Pisces; and the olfactory nerves have been upset, resulting in mental aberrations of a far-reaching nature.

Now we can safely proceed to consider certain basic principles involved in these and similar cases. The opposition of the Sun and the Moon is a psychically important position. Particularly on an eclipse day it is a dangerous portent of mental instability. Sun's conjunction with Saturn is critical and unfavourable indicating a tendency to mental depression. A square between Mercury and Venus tends to separate the thinking principle forcibly, while Mercury's opposition to Jupiter involves a psychic conflict. A square or opposition of Mercury to the ascendant tends to accentuate nervous disorders.

Planets in the 3rd house, ruler of the 3rd, planets in common and cadent houses, Moon and Mercury are the general indicators of mental aberrations. Mercury governs the pure intellect, while the Moon has a sway over the brain and concrete mind. The 3rd house indicates the lower mind, the 9th the higher mind, the 6th the sub-conscious mind, and the 12th the hidden or the unconscious mind.

When the Moon and Mercury are in common signs without any association of any other planet, when these two do not aspect the ascendant, and when they are aspected by malefics, we find mental instability. If it is Saturn who afflicts them we get melancholia. Some charts illustrate this. When the affliction comes from Jupiter and Mars, there is religious mania. When there are many aspects to such a Mercury, even if they are malefic, it is better since an unaspected Mercury tends to lack of balance. The worst possible affliction to Mercury arises from a conjunct Saturn-Mars, or from Uranus. In such a case there is insanity, nervous breakdown, obsession. Charts reveal the afflictions from Saturn or from Mars transmitted through one another. All these aspects must fall within the orb of eight degrees only.

In a day map when Mercury or the ascendant is malefically aspected by Mars, and in a night map when Saturn has a malefic aspect on Mercury or the ascendant, then also there will be a mental aberration. The result in such cases is manifest glaringly when these afflicted signs are watery signs. Sometimes a mental aberration proceeds from the conjunction of Sun and Moon in the house of Saturn. This is slightly revealed in chart 32. At times the opposition between the Sun and the Moon, if one of them occupies a house of Mars, is an ominous portent. All these are minimised when there is a benefic aspect coming from Jupiter or Venus.

Jupiter in the ascendant in opposition to Mars; Saturn in the ascendant having Mars in the 7th or in a trine; Saturn in the ascendant with Sun in the 12th and with Moon or Mars in a trine; the lord of the 3rd combust or in the 6th from his debilitation with malefic aspects; Saturn and the waning Moon in the 12th – these are additional factors giving rise to mental aberrations. Some of these are amply illustrated by some charts. When Saturn and the lord of the 2nd are with malefics, the aberration is due to wind trouble. When the malefic here is the Sun, the derangement is brought about by the action of the authorities. When the malefic is Mars, the aberration arises from the accumulation of bile. When the Sun and the Moon are in the ascendant and trines, there can be a mental aberration if Jupiter is in a square, if the time of birth is governed by Mars or Saturn, and if the day is Tuesday or Saturday. When the Moon and Saturn are conjunct with the ascendant and aspected by Mercury, then too one can speak of a mental crisis. The mental aberration which arises of results from a state of being haunted or possessed requires the conjunction of a powerless Moon with Saturn in the 8th, or the conjunction of Saturn and Rahu in the ascendant.

In all mental aberrations there is a prior state of intense mental activity; and during the derangement this activity becomes onesided. This disproportion affects the body, the nerves, joints, vision and the like. Consequently one has to look into the nativity for all these. Thus we cannot omit Saturn, the planet of stability, patience, seriousness, contemplation and mediation. Nor can we ignore the animal and instinctual aspect expressed by the Moon, or the moral side indicated by the Sun. Mercury has something to say about the imagination and the optic nerve. The eccentrics are found to be ruled by Uranus. While the ascendant refers to the physical body, the Moon to the etheric, Mars and Venus to the astral or desire body, Saturn and Mercury to the mind body, and Jupiter to the causal body or individuality.

Ever since the advent of Sigmund Freud, even a 'normal' individual is said to possess some germs of insanity, more or less like the Tubercular bacillae. Any activity that is repeatedly done without any apparent or conscious reason is taken as the widest possible definition of the word by the Psycho-analysts. Washing the hands too often, observing meaninglessly at a thing without end, or anything that can be taken as a symptom of restlessness, comes under this. Clear cases of madness are well known. Hysteria in women is too common.

The Sun governs bile, Moon rules wind and phlegm, and Mercury all the three. Jupiter and Venus govern phlegm, while Saturn and Venus preside over wind. Insanity is the peculiar prerogative of Moon and Mercury, and of the lagna and the sixth. Contact with Rahu turns it to be a case of obsession. The afflictions of the malefics too play a prominent part.

Proceeding on this basis, we may note a few more important points. The fifth is the house of intellect and the third that of valour and 'push'. Most cases of insanity reveal that the native was unable to bear a particular shock or experience. That sets in the derangement of the brain. This unbearability pre-supposes a certain want of courage. As such the third house too should be carefully examined along with the fifth. In a few cases, the nature of the wife seems to be the prime cause, and consequently the seventh house is to be examined in conjunction with the ascendant. In those cases which are the results of Abhicharika Kriyas, the ninth and the twelfth require analysis. Above all, the sixth and the eighth houses, being the houses of personal happiness, must be scrutinised. By the house one has to take only the cusps.

Coming to the planets, the Sun rules blood and brain, will and courage. The Sun must be strongly placed to avoid the stroke of lunacy. Since madness consists in easy receptivity and assimilation, the Moon too requires attention.

Mercury governs the brain and mind, along with nervous and mental disorders. Uranus presides over the nerve fluids, membranes of brain and spinal cord, nervous disorders and incurable complaints. A strong Neptune can counteract these fits of lunacy. Equally so is the Sun, who has more sway over faintings. The Moon brings in the inflammations of the brain and convulsions. Mars accentuates all the solar diseases, while Saturn accentuates the lunar diseases. Saturn has much to do with mental depression.

Brain comes under Aries. Gemini controls nervous disorders, restlessness and mental overstrain. A Cancerian can be easily hypnotised for he has a weak will. Similar is the case with Scorpio, which, being a magnetic sign, easily attracts diseases. Nervous system as a whole belongs to Sagittarius. Pisces can bring forth insanity through excessive indulgence.

Passing to some other considerations, we may note that these planets must not be badly afflicted. An afflicted Mercury is the most dangerous planet; more so if he happens to be in Cancer, Virgo or Pisces. When he is afflicted by Saturn he brings worry, fear, melancholy and want of self-confidence. When Mars afflicts there will be nervous affections of the head. When Uranus afflicts there will be nervous complaints, besides a muddled condition of the mind. Since Saturn rules the lower mind, he must be well placed.

Since a good number of the cases of insanity are said to be due to 'Karma', we must pay particular attention to Moon and Mars who are the principal factors in making fate. Similarly we must examine Saturn and Mercury who combine both free will and desire in themselves. Thwarted ambitions and weakly developed will power too are responsible for lunacy. Sun vitalises both desire and wisdom. Since Jupiter combines thought and feeling, he must be free from afflictions. Uranus completely governs will while Neptune controls feeling, desire, emotion and imagination. Finally, we may say that while the Sun influences the character, the Moon affects personality.

This account of the astrological considerations involved in lunacy might seem lunatic. But it points at last to the fact that lunacy is too complicated an affair. It embraces a vast field. Even a genius has a bit of the lunatic in him. And as Shakespeare said, the poet, the lover and the lunatic agree in their imagination. We have to examine a good deal before we arrive at some decision. To facilitate this, we propose to give some select examples of the important types of lunacy.

The next chart is a typical case where insanity proper has not stepped in; but all the preparations are ready. The Ascendant is the nervous Gemini with Moon, who is the sou-rice of all human trouble. This person easily receives ideas and has no brain whatsoever to think for himself. The lord of the ascendant and of the intellect is Mercury who is hemmed in between Mars and Venus in the third house. He is a great coward having much animality. The fifth house has the lord of the eighth, who afflicts not only Jupiter, but also Sun and Neptune. And a powerful Saturn in the fifth is as bad as a powerful Jupiter in the seventh, especially in Gemini. The lords of the sixth and the twelfth are highly afflicted. But Jupiter, being in his own house, and having a true degree aspect, is able to save the situation a little so far. But he represents the missing link between sanity and insanity. Note also that most insane people are fond of money. So we find here the 'Dhanakaraka' exercising influence over the ascendant.

Equally typical is chart No. 38. The ascendant is afflicted by Sun, Moon, Mercury, Jupiter and Neptune. All these have powerful sway over the mind and brain. To add to that Mars is aspecting them, while Uranus, the source of trouble, is in the sixth. This person is mentally defective. He has no moral sense like the above person. He attempts marvellous tricks but invariably fails. Here the ascendant is responsible for all the agony.

The 39th is an important case of epilepsy. The twelfth house is totally spoilt with Mars and Neptune, the two Jarring planets. They bring in the inflammations of the brain. They are aspected by the debilitated Jupiter, who also afflicts the Moon. Above all Uranus has spoiled the third house and also its lord by having a true degree opposition. It did not resolve itself into a clear case of insanity because Mercury is actually in the cusp of the eighth house. Still, the lord of the fifth is afflicted by Saturn, who rules the lower mind.

Chart 40 is an interesting case. The individual was born two weeks before time. Consequently his formation is defective, and nerves weak as is clear from the positions of Mercury, Saturn, Moon and Uranus. Mars and Uranus powerfully afflict one another. Moon is completely spoilt. The ascendant is dominated by the lower mind. Jupiter in the third brought forth the necessary timidity. The position of Mercury also reveals that his weak mind is largely the result of his mother's character and nature.

The lady (Chart 41) has a typical mental obsession. She is terribly afraid of solitude. She cannot remain alone. She wants some one to be with her always. Here as usual Mercury is afflicted by Sun and Mars. But the most important factors are Venus-Saturn affliction, and Uranus-Jupiter affliction. Venus is the lord of the house of intellect. He is in association with the planet of the lower mind in the house of personal happiness, thus depriving her of comfort and ease. Mars has a true degree aspect of Lagna, himself being the lord of the sixth. From the house of the Moon, Uranus has a true degree opposition to Jupiter who is already debilitated. This affliction of the second, seventh and eighth house is responsible for her fear of solitude.

Another case of obsession is Chart 42. He is always haunted by visions of hangings. Unfortunately he was born soon after the lunar eclipse. The ninth house is spoilt by Moon, Mars and Saturn, one of them being the lord of the ascendant. These three are in the sensitive sign, Pisces.

Mars and Saturn are almost on the same degree too. The third house spoils both Mercury and Venus. There is no aspect to the Lagna. The debilitated third is most mischievous. Equally so are the lords of the fifth, of the lower mind and of the animal mind in the ninth.

Chart 43 is a gentleman who is haunted by the idea that every one is intent on poisoning him.

He changes the dishes served to him. He will take only that which the others take. Even then, he either tries to vomit the food, or swallow an antidote for the supposed poison. He is not rich; nor is he famous or beautiful. But the obsession did not leave him. The seventh lord and the lord of the lower mind is in the sixth. The sixth lord is in the fifth with Rahu, the poison. Mars is afflicting the house from Taurus. He suspects mostly his own wife; hence the positions of Mars and Saturn are important. Moon is afflicted in the twelfth by Saturn. The lord of the Ascendant is in a weak and nervous sign.

Chart 44 is that of a young boy who went mad recently due to an important and outrageous shock. Sometime in October last year, he was travelling in the train which collided at Ongole station. The train disaster shocked him and upset his system. Ever since he was unfortunately off the lower mind, we note the incendiary Mars exalted with Venus.

A typical case of a genius and an artist turning perverse is provided by Oscar Wilde (Chart 45). He is one of the few best literary artists of English. His "De Profundis", "Ballad of the Reading gaol", and "Lady Windermere's fan" stir us intensely. But it is all a satanic genius. We all know that he was convicted of rape and other things in France. That is to say there is something of animality, cruelty and indecency in his mental make up. It is an ill-directed mind and is often found in sexual neurotics. The house of the lower mind has unfortunately become the fifth. It is afflicted by a debilitated Jupiter, who is the lord of the seventh. The seventh and ninth are spoilt in this direction. Similarly the lord of the fifth is in the nervous tenth. The ascendant itself is sensitive and susceptible. The picture is complete with the Moon in the twelfth being afflicted by Saturn, who in turn is afflicted by the lord of the third. A similar case is found in a gentleman born in Virgo with Jupiter and Moon in the fifth (Chart 46), with Mars, Venus and Kethu in the twelfth. Here both Jupiter and Moon are spoilt. They have also afflicted the lord of ascendant, Mercury. The twelfth house is the worst.

He actually went mad twice and the main cause is only sexual hunger and the consequent loss of equilibrium. The sixth house has become too weak. To add to that Sun-Saturn combination in Gemini has brought forth asthmatic troubles too.

Chart 47 reveals how insanity sometimes leads to suicide. The position of the Moon in the twelfth is exasperating when we note Mars and Mercury in the receptive third, being afflicted by Saturn.

Another case of weak mind is provided by a person born in the seventh month of pregnancy (Chart 48). Here the lagna is afflicted by the incendiary and insane planets, Mars and Uranus. Sun and Mercury joined the lord of the sixth in the receptive Capricorn. Jupiter and Mercury have true conjunction. The lord of the fifth is in the sensitive Virgo having opposition with Moon, who is in another sensitive sign, the sixth. Besides, Saturn is retrograde. The third house again a house of the nervous system, is inhabiting a timid planet, while the fourth has the malefic aspect of Mars.

Chart 49 is a typical case of fruit-obsession. She cannot eat fruit. She is simply unable to eat fruit. Just as the smell of a Jew made a Nazi sick, so the smell of fruit made her feel sick. She is terribly afraid of them. The ascendant is the receptive Scorpio. The animal mind, Moon, and the lower mind, Saturn, are aspecting one another from the sensitive signs. Mercury is afflicted by Uranus in the nervous sign. The lords of the sixth and twelfth have met having a "papargala". The afflicted Saturn is spoiling the eighth. A similar case of flower-obsession occurred in an individual born in Virgo, having Jupiter in the fifth, Saturn in the seventh, Mars in the seventh, Moon and Rahu in the third and the rest in the fourth. Of course, here, the interchange of places between Jupiter and Saturn has not made him advance in this obsession. It only frightens him still, if flowers are thrown at him.

Charts 50 and 51 are cases of nymphomania. It is a mental disease revealing itself in constant sex hunger and thirst for ever fresh romance.

In the first one the significant thing is the powerful disposition of Mars and Venus. Venus is exalted in the seventh and is having a true degree opposition with Mars. They are placed in sensitive and susceptible signs. But generally the Virgo natives are a bit shy and timid. They have ideas; but are afraid of translating them into action. More so when Jupiter dominates the ascendant. Consequently sex urge is great and unrepressible. Yet lack of the necessary courage resulted in mental derangement. To add to this, the Moon is eclipsed by the lord of the sixth, the lord of the lower mind. In the other one, we note the lords of third and ninth houses - two 'Kama Trikonas' - are in the seventh, another Kama Trikona. It is a nervous sign and these planets are inimically disposed to one another. They afflict the lagna. The lord of the seventh is in the sixth. The twelfth lord is in the ninth, another Kama Trikona. These and the unfortunate position of the eighth house points out to the unrealised and unrealizable sex hunger. Hence as Freud says, the tendencies are repressed and consequently the mania set in. It took the form of a mental disease.

Chart 52 is that of a famous business magnate who has unfortunately gone mad at the age of sixty, after a glorious and flourishing career. He believes that some one or other is poisoning him. He feels that every one is attempting to rob him and make his children poor. At times he eats plenty. At other times he starves himself. He feels that his children too are being poisoned. This is an interesting case where an obsession is aided by an Abhichara. He started business with the co-operation of his brothers. He wanted to get rid of them when they began to be purely selfish and money-minded. Consequently there were many obstacles on his way. Finally he went mad two years back. Here the sixth house is the weak-minded, sensitive and receptive Cancer. There the lord of the third is debilitated. He is together with the lord of the second. And the lord of the sixth is in the twelfth along with Mercury. It is already a receptive sign. The source of obsession came from the brothers. He received it easily. The Abhichara from Rahu and Kethu aided it immensely.

Another case of obsession occurs in the highly sensitive Pisces (Chart 53). This lady is obsessed, of course by visions of her husband's so-called immorality, which, as Freud would say, is nothing but her own wish to be immoral herself. The ascendant is dominated by the animal mind and the fifth by the lower mind. Mercury is with the lord of the sixth. The position of Jupiter in the third in conjunction with Uranus being aspected by Venus reveals that she is overcome by sex hunger; but she is too timid to act that way. Hence she was caught in mental derangement. The interchange of houses between Mars and Venus is significant in this light.

We can close this survey of the types of lunacy with another case where an obsession and an Abhichara have played their part. (Chart 54). This is a Graduate who passed with great merit and brilliancy. But he went mad. Note here the tenth house. The inflammatory mind of Mars has joined the vital mind of the sixth lord. Both are affecting the Intellect of Mercury, Saturn, the lower mind is occupying the ninth aspecting Venus and Moon alike. Saturn is the lord of the twelfth. Besides he is afflicting Rahu also.

From this survey we can distinguish the mind represented by the planets. The Sun stands for the vital mind, Moon for animal mind, Saturn for lower mind, Mars for the criminal and Mercury for the intellectual. Jupiter for the timid, and Mercury and Uranus for the nervous. Moreover, the twelfth, third, fifth, sixth and ninth houses play a prominent part besides the ascendant. Jupiter in the third or at times in the ascendant seems to aggravate it. Rahu, Kethu, Saturn, the twelfth and the ninth houses along with the fifth have something to say regarding Abhicharikas.

As such it is all too complicated and requires a careful study, experience and exhaustive analysis. Sometimes the Upagrahas too cause this state of mind. For instance, Parivesha in the cusp of the third house is capable of bringing insanity. The counteracting influences for all these are a powerful Sun and a Jupiter well placed in a trine or the fourth and the tenth houses. Jupiter is too dangerous a planet to be understood easily. For instance, he is seen to make a Gemini immoral by staying in the seventh. Jupiter is far better off in the sixth, fourth, tenth, fifth and ninth houses. As such, one ought to be very careful and painstaking while pronouncing 'judgment' on the major issues.

The date of birth is 1929.9.19 at 12.58 hour (Lat. 16-19N, 80.39E), Ayanamsa 22.52.25 gives a balance of Sani's period yrs 13.7.12. The other ayanamsa gives a balance of sani for years 11.6.18. The chart is as per the former ayanamsa.

Here Uranus is within the orb of the Moon who governs the mind and feelings. The unsteady Mercury is conjunct Mars, aspected by Jupiter and Uranus. The lord of the lower mind is in lagna and is debilitated in navamsa. Saturn in lagna gives mood of depression and a feeling of personal insecurity or inadequacy. This started in this case by the middle of 1948 during Budha's major period, Moon-Uranus conjunction made him claim independence from parents and brothers. Mercury-Uranus opposition developed his 'ec-centric' behaviour. Mars-Uranus opposition made the temper explosive and wilfully impatient. As per the ayanamsa of Raivata paksha the symptoms of Schizophrenia first appeared in the sub-period of the Moon in Mercury, which started from May 7, 1948. The Moon is close to Uranus who aspects Mars, and through Mars the aspect of Uranus falls on Mercury. The Moon is the lord of the eighth situated in the fourth. The entire situation revolves round the hidden or secret parts, and the chart is contributed by the five bodies situated in the fourth and the tenth signs. The Sun is involved in the opposition and conjunction through the Moon.

The mania for independence at the age of 19 is due to the Sun-Uranus positions which drove him to the Verge of anarchy. The judgement became perverse and he worked out his own destruction. He became stubborn misguided and fickle. Virgo being involved, the nervous system broke down and because of the eighth house ownership of the Moon, the sex-instinct dominated in the Subperiod of Mars. The navamsa chart shows the seventh lord debilitated and conjunct Ketu. This led to his impotency in Rahu's sub-period and it aggravated insanity.

Moon-Uranus conjunction brought about high emotional tension and a paralysis of the intellect. The fifth lord with the unstable Mercury in the isolated and sensitive sign of Mercury is responsible for a nervous and mental breakdown. Early in March 1955 he turned violent. This was at the fag end of Quru's Sub-period. The sextile aspect of retrograde Uranus on Jupiter explains this.

Mercury-Uranus opposition made him self-willed and stubborn. He lived in his own world of illusions and make-believe.

Mars-Uranus opposition is a dangerous one involving brutality. It was in the subperiod of Mars in Mercury that the first symptoms of schizophrenia violence appeared. Mars in an enemy's sign and with an enemy is the cause of the split in consciousness. Selfishness made him go his own way. During this sub-period and in that of Saturn he had to be chained.

The ninth and fifth lord and the fifth house are afflicted. Medical treatment and remedial measures were of no avail. Arudha lagna falls in Libra which is afflicted, since he used to speak a language he never knew, during his insanity, it was thought that there is a case of possession-Rahu in the fifth aspected by Mars. The sixth lord at the fag end of the eighth sign aggravated this situation. Since the seventh house is also involved by way of Mercury, the wife is also greatly responsible for this insanity.

During Rahu's sub-period in Ketu and again in Saturn's sub-period he was kept in an asylum, and it was of no avail. Late in 1968, during the sub-period of Mars in Venus his wife took him away; and nothing was heard of him since then.

In this context let us have a look at the chart of his wife briefly. Her navamsa lagna is the sixth from her lagna, thus showing basic incompatibility between the husband and the wife. Her third house is afflicted heavily and therefore the ninth, the seventh lord and Venus are in the houses of their foes. In navamsa the third lord is in an enemy's house with Saturn. The Kalatra Karaka is with Rahu in amsa. Mars with Venus in the house representing the character of a woman is ominous. Her Ketu-Shani appeared in the affliction of her husband. Her period of Venus, brought about the disaster. Her husband's lagna and navamsa lagna too are in 6/8 relationship. The navamsa chart, as Parashara noted, represents the partner. The wife's fifth house saved her from insanity; and her third house brought out the lower mind the sensuous mind.

31. Kidney

Shukra and Tula govern the kidneys. Second degree of fixed signs, tenth degree of Vrishabha and Vrishchika, and first degree of Simha and Kumbha are to be considered. Seventh house is important. In cases of kidney trouble Kanya and Tula are afflicted.

32. Cancer

Cancer is a malign tumour, a malignant growth eating the part of the body it affects and it spreads.

We will first examine the principles and analyse the charts of some persons affected by this deadly disease.

One of the deadliest diseases is cancer. It is a malignant tumour eating a part of the organism and spreading indefinitely. It tends to reoccur when removed. Its causes are unknown and cure is almost impossible. In its early phase it may be controlled. An astrological analysis of known cases of cancer can be of help in diagnosing, controlling, and curing of this deadly disease.

Wounds and the like come under the 6th house and Virgo. Mars rules over blood and wounds. Bone and joints fall under Capricorn and the 10th house. Kidney refers us to 2° of fixed signs and generally to 10° of Taurus and Scorpio. We can enumerate some other factors as follows : Spine - 26th degree of Cancer and Capricorn, 1° of common signs and Saturn; blood - Mars and the Moon; spleen - the Moon and Rahu; Lungs - the 3rd house, Gemini, 4° of Aries and Libra. Cancer proper appears to fall in the opening degrees of Virgo and Pisces.

In most cases of cancer we have to look to Mars, Saturn, the Moon, and the nodes. Carter, however, states that this disease shows the Sun related to Jupiter and Saturn by sign or aspect; that Neptune may take the place of Jupiter and have the aspect of Mars or Saturn or both; that the Sun is in bad aspect to Mars, Uranus, or Neptune; or that the Moon is afflicted by Venus and Mars in cardinal signs. This is a wide spectrum forcing us not to generalise. Spleen, intestines, genitals, lungs, shoulder, throat, uterus skin, breast, stomach, hip, bone, blood, and tongue are some of the parts invaded by cancer. Let us study some interesting cases.

Chart 57 is that of the late deposed Shah of Iran. Spleen and other parts were affected. The Moon and Rahu conjunct in the 2nd house aspected by Mars, the malefic owner. The Sun is malefically aspected by Saturn conjunct Mars. Jupiter is not involved. Thus Carter's hypothesis falls. Hindu astrology stands vindicated. We do not need the extrasaturnine planets which may have a bearing on other matters. Rahu and the Moon refer to the spleen. The Moon is in the early part of fixed Scorpio aspected by Mars who is conjunct Saturn. The debilitated Sun is afflicted by Saturn. Mark the semi-square between Venus and the Sun and the Sun is in the 12th house as per the equal house system. The sub-period of Saturn in the Moon brought an end to his life.

Let us now consider lung cancer. Lungs come under the 3rd house, Gemini, early degrees of Aries and Libra. Chart 58 is that of a victim of lung cancer. The lord of the 3rd and the 4th houses is with the Sun aspecting the 6th. The Sun is in the 3rd house. Jupiter is not involved here also. He aspects the 3rd and so does Rahu. Though the 6th house has benefics on either side, the third from the Moon has the Sun-Saturn conjunction. Saturn afflicts Lagna also. The disease was diagnosed in Rahu's major period and he died in the Moon's sub-period. Chart 59 is another case. The 3rd house is aspected by Mars who is in the fall of his mulatrikona; and it is also aspected by Saturn who is conjunct Rahu. Here again death came in the Moon's sub-period of Rahu. Carter's observations are again falsified. The Sun, Saturn and Rahu point to the ailment.

The Moon and the 3rd house govern the shoulder. Chart 60 is an example of cancer in the shoulder. The 3rd house is afflicted by Jupiter (lord of the 5th and the 8th), the Moon (lord of the 12th), Rahu, Saturn (lord of the 6th and the 7th) and Mars (lord of the 4th and the 9th). Lords of the 3rd and the 12th have exchanged houses, thereby aggravating the results of Saturn's affliction of the Moon. The conjunction of the Sun and Mercury is significant. Here Saturn is also the ruler of the 6th. From the Moon we notice Mars in the 6th while the 6th lord is with the Moon aspected by Mars and Rahu. Debilitated Saturn is in the 7th from the Moon.

Stomach cancer comes under the sign owned by the Moon and the 5th house. The Sun and Ketu figure here prominently along with the 6th house. Chart 61st is an example. Here Jupiter and Saturn have exchanged houses.

61. Ascendant - Sagittarius ; Capricorn - Jupiter 11, Rahu 27; Aquarius - Venus 9; Pisces - Saturn 4, the Sun 21, Mercury 21; Aries - the Moon 1, Neptune 14; Taurus - Mars 22; Leo - Uranus (R) 3.

The lord of the 5th is in the 6th aspected by Jupiter and Saturn. The early degree of Pisces is afflicted by Saturn while Jupiter is with Rahu. The Moon as the lord of the 8th is in the 5th with malefics on either side. Chart 62 is another case. Venus and Rahu are in the 5th aspected by Mars who is debilitated and aspected by Saturn. This Mars is also the lord of the 6th. Death came towards the end of Ketu's major period. Uranus afflicting the Moon might have played a part. Both these charts again emphasize the roles of Saturn, Mars, the Moon and the Nodes.

Consider next cases of cancer affecting the genitals. These come under the 8th house, Scorpio, and Mercury. The last degrees of Aries and the first of Taurus, Mars, Mercury and Saturn are also to be considered. Note Chart 63 where the 12th house Mercury and Venus are together afflicted by Mars and Saturn. The lord of the 12th is in the 63. Ascendant - Leo with Neptune 2, the Sun 10; Libra - Saturn 27; Sagittarius - Ketu; Capricorn - Jupiter (R) 28; Pisces - Uranus 6 and the Moon 29; Aries - Mars 10; Cancer - Venus 17, Mercury 17.

8th. Because of cancer his genital organ had to be amputated. Venus is also in the 12th while the lord of the 7th is in opposition to Mars.

The native of Chart 64 was operated for cancer in gall bladder, which points to the 8th house and Scorpio. Rahu is in the 8th, in his debilitation. The owner of the 8th is afflicted by Saturn. As in many cases of cancer, here too the first two degrees of Pisces are afflicted by Mars and debilitated Mercury who with the Moon are combust. Lords of the 11th and the 12th have exchanged houses, thereby making Mars and Saturn afflict each other. As against Carter's view, the Sun has nothing to do with Saturn.

From our analysis we find that the planets involved are the Moon, Mars, Saturn and Rahu. Particularly the last three, the planet and the house governing the body are all involved in the diagnosis of cancer. Since cancerous growth destroys the vital cells Carter was led to believe that in all such cases afflictions of the Sun from Jupiter and Saturn are found. But the cells come under Saturn and Mars, and their maintenance depends on the Moon and to some extent on the Sun and Jupiter. We therefore find afflictions to and from Saturn and Mars; and any kind of malignant growth involves Rahu. Blood being corrupted in such cases, we need to examine the luminaries and Mars as well as the 6th house. Merely because Saturn or Mars or both are in the 6th or the 8th does not imply cancer. In fact Saturn in these houses can be a great asset warding off many an ailment or giving great powers of resistance and quick recuperation. The 6th being the house of ailment has to be considered along with the house of longevity. Since cancer can attack any part of the body, one has to examine the planets and houses governing these parts. We also emphasize the importance of Rahu because of the poisonous nature of this ailment.

In the foregoing analysis we have followed the equal house system according to which the ascending degree is the first point of Lagna, not the middle. Secondly, mutual exchange of houses are treated as exchange and also as the planets being in their respective houses; and in all exchanges the planet concerned loses the ownership of the other house. We have given the positions of Uranus and Neptune also merely to enable a research analyst to find out whether these planets have a bearing on the cases studied here. To give a last illustration consider the chart of the famous Bengali novelist Sarat who had Saturn retrograde. Aquarius 11, Jupiter Scorpio 4, Mars Leo 20, Rahu Aquarius 27, and the Moon Cancer 26. He died at the age of 62. He was a patient of cancer. There is mutual opposition of Mars and Saturn, the conjunction of Saturn with Rahu, and all these afflicting Jupiter who is in Scorpio being the lord of the 6th from the Moon. Venus is with the Moon, while the Sun and Mercury are in Virgo. Uranus just entered Leo while Neptune is retrograde in Aries. The luminaries are not afflicted, nor are Uranus and Venus. Taking Chandra Lagna (the natal Moon) we notice Saturn in the 7th house, Mars in the 1st and Jupiter in the 4th as per the equal house system advocated by us. The signs remain the same, making Leo and Aquarius heavily afflicted.

Still we cannot generalise and lay down any specific rules. Each case has to be examined separately and on its own merits.

cally it is possible to diagnose cancer in advance. In any chart the 6th is the house of disease, and the 8th that of the nature of death. Cancer is an infection of the blood, and blood comes under the Moon and Mars, also under the Sun. The maintenance of the cells is regulated by the Sun, the Moon and Jupiter; and any affliction to these comes from Mars and Saturn. Rahu governs any form of malignant growth.

The part of the body ruled by the planets is indicated in the following order of the weekdays from the Sun to Rahu—stomach, heart, head, chest, thighs, face, knees, and feet. The diseases to which one is subject is to be read from houses the 6th, the 8th and 12th, Lagna, and lord of Lagna. If the sign occupied by the Sun is a common one and afflicted, the ailment is below the waist; if it is the fixed sign to which he moves, it is below the neck and above the waist; if it is a cardinal sign which he has left, it is above the neck. We have also to consider the 8th house, planets associated with it, and planets occupying it. According to Varahamihira, the signs from Aries and Lagna control head, face, breast, heart, stomach, waist, navel, genitals, thighs, knees, shanks, and feet. If the afflicted houses are from the 8th to the 12th, the ailment is on the right side; otherwise, it is on the left side.

The signs ruled by Mars refer to head, eyes and wounds; those of Venus to testicles, swelling and watery complaints; those of Mercury to nose, skin, and breathing; those of Jupiter to the ears and mind; those of Saturn to digestion, nerves and mind. The Moon controls face, tongue, breasts and swellings. The Sun refers to the eyes and the stomach. Rahu controls all wounds. Ulcers and blood refer to Mars. Following the order of the weekdays, the planets have a control over bones, muscles, skin, fat, sperm or ovum, and nervous material. If Saturn is aspected by the Sun, there can be blood impurities. If the lord of the decanate occupied by Saturn is the Moon, there is a possibility of tumour; and if it is Jupiter, the ailment is in the stomach and it is hidden. The Sun and Mars in malefic places cause ulcers, burning and the like, Benefics in the 3rd, the 6th, the 8th, the 11th and the 12th, and malefics not in the 3rd and the 11th are malefics for our purpose.

Mr. Surendra Pai gave us 59 cases of cancer in the January and March 1982 issues of THE ASTROLOGICAL MAGAZINE. The ascendants for nine are not available. His findings will be briefly summarised. Jupiter controls the growth of cells; their eccentric behaviour is due to Uranus who also controls electrolytes; Mars indicates surgery and he is connected with blood. He admits that in 11 out of 173 cases there was no part played by Mars, Jupiter and Uranus. But he notices the influence of the Moon and Saturn. He finds the mutual associations or aspects of Mars, Jupiter and Uranus - all the three or at least two. But he did not indicate in any instance what part of the body was affected.

We will first analyse the charts given by Mr. Pai. The numbers are counted from Aries. The charts are as per Lahiri's Ayanamsa. The interpretation is based on equal house system as advocated by us.

In these cases we have to go by the Moon sign. Though we have the positions of Uranus and Neptune, we believe that cases of cancer can be diagnosed from the Moon, Mars, Saturn and Rahu. Some involve Mars and Saturn; others involve the Moon and Mars; some show the affliction of Saturn and the Moon, and also of Mars and Rahu; one has the axis of Saturn and Ketu. The Moon rules over blood; Mars suggests inflammations, bone decay and blood pressure; Saturn refers to stomach and legs; and Rahu involves an acute and undiagnosed ailment. The dhatus governed by the planets are indicative of the source of ailment. In the order of the weekdays, the planets govern bone, eyes and the cutaneous system; blood; bones and blood; throat; ears; eyes and genitals; stomach and legs. Any relation between the lords of the 6th and the 8th makes for a high intensity of the ailment.

Let us turn to Mr. Pai's charts where Lagnas are known.

Lagna - Mesha (Aries).

Case No. 1 : 4 - Neptune ; 6 - Saturn and Rahu; 7 - Jupiter; 8 - Venus ; 10 - the Sun and Mercury; 11 - Uranus; and 12 - the Moon, Mars and Ketu.

Case No. 2 : 3 - the Moon; 4 - Jupiter; 5 - Neptune; 6 - Ketu; 10 - Saturn; 11 - the Sun, Mercury and Mars; and 12 - Venus, Rahu and Uranus.

Case No. 3 : 1 - Rahu and Saturn; 3 - Neptune; 5 - the Sun, Mercury and Jupiter; 6 - the Moon and Venus; 7 - Ketu; ; 9 - Uranus; and 12 - Mars.

Case No. 4 : 1 - Jupiter and the Sun; 4 - Saturn and Neptune; 9 - Rahu; 11 - Uranus; and 12 - the Moon, Venus, Mercury and Mars.

These charts clearly show the malefic influences of Mars, Rahu and Saturn. In the first Saturn with Rahu has aspect to and from Mars, involving houses the 6th and the 12th; and Mars aspects the 12th lord. The second has Mars with the 6th lord in badhaka house. The third is fairly simple with Saturn and Rahu. Mars in the 4th chart is with the 6th lord.

Lagna - Vrishabha (Taurus)

Case No. 1 : 1 - Jupiter; 2 - Mars and Mercury; 3 - the Sun, Venus and Rahu; 5 - Uranus; 6 - the Moon; 7 - Neptune; and 11 - Saturn.

Case No. 2 : 3 - Saturn ; 4 - Neptune; 5 - Ketu; 7 - Mercury; 8 - the Sun, Venus and Mars; 10 - The Moon, Jupiter and Uranus; and 11 - Rahu.

Case No. 3 : 2 - Rahu; 5- Neptune; 6 - the Moon; 7 - Venus; 8 - Saturn, Mars, Mercury and Ketu; 9 - the Sun; and 12 - Jupiter and Uranus.

Case No. 4 : 2 - Saturn and Uranus; 3 - Jupiter ; 5 - Venus and Rahu; 6 - the Sun, Mercury, Mars and Neptune; 9- the Moon; and 11 - Ketu.

Here we have the 6th lord with Rahu; the 12th lord in Lagna; the 6th lord with Mars Saturn aspecting Ketu and Mars aspecting Rahu; Mars, Saturn and Ketu aspecting Lagna; the 6th lord with Rahu and Saturn aspecting Ketu.

Lagna, the 6th house and the malefic explain the results satisfactorily.

Lagna - Mithuna (Gemini)

While Virgo as the Ascendant gave a large number of charts, Sagittarius has only one in Mr. Pai's collection. Here we have the badhaka in a maraka house, the 8th lord is in the 6th aspected by Mars who is with Rahu and the lord of the 6th. This again justifies our view that the extrasaturnine planets do have some significant influences on individual lives.

Lagna - Makara (Capricorn)

The second shows Mars with badhaka aspecting Lagna and Ketu and the Moon (lord of the 6th), Saturn with Rahu in the 8th aspecting the Moon, and Saturn, Rahu and Jupiter (lords of maraka houses) becoming combust. Here again we notice in all the four the badhaka with 6th lord, and in the 3rd the 8th lord also is with him. Thus, badhaka with the 6th in Lagna aspected by Mars, Saturn aspecting the Moon, Venus and Rahu; badhaka with the 6th, Saturn aspecting Mars and Venus (lord of the 8th) in Lagna, Mars aspecting Rahu; badhaka and lords of the 6th and the 8th aspected by Saturn, Mars-Saturn-Rahu conjunction; badhaka with the 6th aspected by Saturn, Mars with Rahu aspecting Lagna.

Let us now see how we can determine the part affected. Varahamihira's classification of the various parts of the body is of great help in locating the part of the body that may be affected. When one is born in the first Drekkana, the indication refers to the area between the neck and the head; if it is the second Drekkana, the reference is to the area between the neck and the navel; and if it is the third, the affected area is below the navel. Depending on this he allots the various houses to the different parts of the body. These can be tabulated thus :

Houses	1st Drekkana	2nd Drekkana	3rd Drekkana
1	Head	Neck	Navel
2, 12	Eyes	Shoulders	Rectum, etc.
3, 11	Ears	Hands	Testicles
4, 10	Nostrils	Sides	Thighs
5, 9	Cheeks	Heart	Knees
6, 8	Chin	Stomach	Shanks
7	Mouth	Navel	Feet

Houses the 2nd to the 6th refer to the left side and the houses; the 8th to the 12th to the right side; We have also to consider the badhaka house, its lord, and the planets in it. The badhaka should not be in the 7th, the 8th, the 10th, the 12th.

Wounds come under the 6th house and Virgo; Mars rules blood and wounds. The Moon controls blood. Bones and joints come under the 10th house and Capricorn. Kidney comes under the fixed signs, more particularly Taurus. The signs Cancer and Capricorn reveal the condition of the spine. Lungs are under the 3rd house. Spleen is regulated by the Moon and Rahu. Cancer appears to have some relation with the signs Virgo and Pisces, and it can be detected from the Moon, Mars, Saturn and Rahu.

We will illustrate these principles with the help of some charts.

Affecting the face, the factors to be considered are the Moon, Venus, the 2nd house and Taurus, besides Mars, Saturn, Rahu and badhaka. The badhaka planet Mars here is in Lagna with Rahu. The 2nd has the Sun conjunct Venus, and Mercury conjunct Saturn (Chart 72).

Lungs come under the 3rd house, Gemini, Aries, Libra and Mercury. Chart 68 has badhaka Venus in Lagna, Saturn and Rahu opposing Mars and Ketu, Mars aspects the 6th lord, and the 8th lord aspects the 6th lord. Chart 82 shows Saturn as the 3rd lord aspecting the lord of the 1st and the 6th Mars, and Rahu in the badhaka house is aspected by Mars. Another chart 87 shows Saturn aspecting Aries the 3rd house, Saturn conjunct Rahu, lord of the 3rd in the badhaka house Libra, and the 8th lord Mercury combust.

Throat is mostly governed by houses the 2nd, the 7th and the 11th. There are three charts. One chart 79 has Mercury (lord of the 9th and the 12th) in the 2nd, lord of the 11th (badhaka) is with Rahu, Mars (lord of the 7th) aspects Mercury (who is in the 2nd), Saturn aspects the Sun and Rahu from the 6th house. Chart 83 has the 8th lord in the 2nd, the 2nd lord in debilitation with Rahu is aspected by Mars, the debilitated 11th lord is with the Sun, Mercury (lord of the 7th and badhaka) and Mars. Another chart 86 has the lords of the 6th, the 7th and the 8th in Lagna, badhaka Venus in the 2nd, and Mars in badhaka house. The lord of the 2nd and the 11th is in his enemy's house unaspected.

Shoulder involves houses, the 2nd, the 12th, the 3rd and the 5th, karaka, Jupiter, the Sun and Ketu: In chart 70 the 3rd house has Jupiter conjunct Ketu aspected by debilitated Saturn (lord of the 6th and the 7th), Rahu from badhaka house and by badhaka from the 8th house.

Breast cancer refers to the 3rd house, Gemini, Mercury and the Moon. We have four charts. Chart 86 has lord of the 3rd is in that house with Rahu aspected by debilitated badhaka Mars from the 12th, the Moon (lord of the 12th in the 6th) is aspected by Mars. Chart 80 has Mercury (lord of the 8th) aspected by Mars (lord of the 1st and the 6th) from the 5th, and the badhaka Moon in the 3rd is aspected by Saturn who is with Ketu in Lagna. Chart 88 has Mercury (lord of the 8th) in the badhaka house, Saturn conjunct Rahu in the 6th (karaka), the 6th lord Moon exalted, and the 3rd lord Mars between malefics. Chart 89 has 3rd lord Mars in the 8th aspected by Saturn and aspecting him, the 6th lord Moon in badhaka house.

Cancer of the stomach comes under the houses the 5th, 6th and the 8th, Leo the Sun and Jupiter as the lord of the Drekkana occupied by Saturn. We have five charts. Chart 67 has Saturn (lord of the 8th) in the 12th aspecting Mars (lord of the 6th) conjunct Jupiter (badhaka). Mars aspects the 5th which has Venus and Rahu. Chart 74 has Saturn (lord of the 6th) aspecting the Moon (lord of the 12th) and Rahu who are in Leo, badhaka Mars aspecting Saturn and the 5th lord Jupiter. Chart 77 shows Saturn (lord of the 5th and the 6th) and debilitated Mars (lord of the 3rd and the 8th) having mutual aspects, the Sun (lord of the 12th) in Lagna, and the badhaka (lord of the 7th) in the 12th with Mercury and Ketu. Chart 84 has the 8th lord with the badhaka in the 5th, the 5th lord in the 6th, Saturn, aspecting the 5th lord, and Saturn in the Drekkana of Jupiter. Chart 85 is a case of enteric fever at the age of 69, then it became cancer and the native died soon after. As mentioned by Carter, here Mercury (lord of the 6th and the 9th) is with Rahu in the 12th, the 8th lord is in Lagna receiving the aspect of debilitated Saturn.

Cancer of the spleen as that of the lungs is indicated by the Moon and Rahu. In Chart 78 the debilitated Moon is with Rahu in the 2nd aspected by Mars (lord of the 2nd and the 7th) who is within a degree of conjunction with Saturn (lord of the 4th and the 5th) and Venus (lord of the 1st and the 8th) in the badhaka house. The badhaka Sun in debilitation in Lagna is aspected by Saturn from the badhaka house while Rahu is in the fall of his moolatrikona.

Cancer of the hips is controlled by houses the 6th, the 9th, the 4th and the 10th, Sagittarius, and Jupiter. In Chart 78 Sagittarius has combust Mercury and Venus aspected by Saturn. The bodies involved are the lords of the 10th, the 8th, the 11th, the 7th and the 12th. The lord of the 4th Saturn is exalted in the 12th and is in opposition to Mars (lord of the 1st and the 6th). The badhaka Moon is in the 4th, while Jupiter is in the 8th.

Cancer of the spine is indicated by karkataka, Copricorn and Saturn. Chart 90 is a case. Saturn in Capricorn is in opposition to the Moon in Cancer. Mars in the 8th and Saturn in the 11th have mutual aspects. Again we note Mars' aspect from the 8th on Rahu and Saturn's on Lagna.

Cancer of the blood (lukemia) is indicated by the Moon and Mars, and also by the Sun's relation to these and to Saturn. Chart 8 has combust badhaka Mars (lord of the 4th and the 9th) and Jupiter (lord of the 5th and the 8th) in the 2nd, while Lagna owned by the Sun is aspected by Saturn (lord of the 6th and the 7th). Venus conjunct Rahu and the Moon is in the 3rd between malefics. Chart 91 shows Mars (lord of the 2nd and the 9th) with Saturn (lord of the 11th and the 12th) in the 11th. The badhaka is combust along with Venus (lord of the 3rd and the 8th) in the 11th. The Sun is in his enemy's house.

Cancer of the gall bladder refers to the 8th house and to Scorpio and Pisces. In chart 66 the 8th house has debilitated Rahu and the lord of the 8th is in the 12th aspected by badhaka Saturn. Mars is combust along with Mercury and the Moon in Pisces. The 8th house Rahu is aspected by its afflicted lord.

Uterine cancer refers to the Moon, Mercury, Venus, Saturn and the 7th house. Chart 69 has Saturn (lord of the 7th) debilitated in the 10th and having mutual aspects and exchange with exalted Mars (lord of the 5th and the 10th). The Moon is debilitated, and Mercury (lord of the 3rd and the 12th) is conjunct badhaka Venus (lord of the 4th and the 11th). Chart 71 has debilitated Moon (lord of the 12th) in the 4th aspected by badhaka Mars (lord of the 4th and the 9th) from Lagna. Mercury (lord of the 12th) is in the badhaka house aspected by Saturn (lord of the 6th and the 7th). The lord of Lagna the Sun is in the 8th aspected by Mars.

This analysis reveals the importance of the lords of the 6th and the 8th, Lagna, badhaka planet and the badhaka house. At the same time Mars, Saturn and Moon and Rahu play a major role. Moreover, each part of the body refers to a specific house and to a particular planet which have to be considered along with the other factors. One should not run into a judgement simply because these factors exist in a given chart. One should also carefully examine the charts for Shashtyamsa (one-sixth) for ill health, Ashtamsa (one-eighth) for longevity, Shodasamsa (one-sixteenth) for happiness and otherwise, and Trimsamsa for Rishtaphala. Above all one must ascertain the Shadbala strength of the planets and Bhava-bala. Then only one can predict with accuracy. Otherwise the prognosticator will condemn the persons consulting him to unnecessary worry and mental torture. There are a few remedial measures that can prevent the attack and also cure in its early stages along with proper medication.

Problems like Kuja dosha, early widowhood, nature of the husband's demise, tumour and the like are best explained by case studies. Here we propose to study the charts of a lady and her husband together, instead of taking them in isolation. The first is the chart of the lady in question. She was born on 20-5-1945 at 10.59 P.M (war time), 16°19'N/ 80°.39' E. Balance of the Sun's Mahadasa 5 years, 5 months, 3 days. As per our Ayanamsa it is 4 years, 9 months, 8 days.

There are persons who enumerate exceptions to Kuja dosha. We refuse to accept such exceptions. At the most the dosha is neutralised, not cancelled. Here Kuja is in the second from lagna, and in the twelfth from arudha lagna and Venus. This is a very strong dosha. When we were shown the chart of the proposed boy we found Mars and Rahu in the eighth from the Moon and Venus; and we felt that there is no dosha samya equality or similarity of defect. Scholars reeled off the Slokas about the exceptions and we refused to accept them. Still, the girl was married to the boy in February, 1961 and the girl became a widow in March 1972.

33. Bad Health

1. Lord of Lagna in 8, 6 or 12 with a malefic.
2. Lord of 6 or 8, in Lagna.
3. Lord of the sign occupied by the lord of lagna in 6,8, or 12.
4. Malefic lord of lagna in lagna or with Chandra or in 4.
5. Lord of 6 and the seventh house associated with malefics, and Shani is with Rahu.
6. Sixth lord in lagna which must be Mesha, Mithuna, Simha, Tula, Dhanush or Kumbha.
7. Guru in Tula lagna or Vrishchika lagna.
8. Planet in lagna is debilitated or in the house of its enemy.
9. Shukra in 3 or 6.
10. Kuja and Shani in 6 aspected by Ravi and Rahu, and the lord of lagna is weak.
11. Budha with the lords of 1 and 6.
12. Lords of 1 and 6 in conjunction with debilitated Shani.

34. Painful and unnatural deaths

Some planets in association with others in 8 bring about the unnatural deaths. Ravi and Kuja indicate narrow escapes from accidents. Budha and Kuja suggest risks. Guru and Shani refer to suicides. Shani—bones and falls; Uranus—accidents. Guru and Neptune refer to gas and fumes. Chandra opposition to Shani is a case of accident death. Budha and Uranus refer to attacks. Shukra conjunct Uranus gives attacks and accidents. Kuja conjunct or opposition to Shani gives physical suffering: victim of accidents, burns, blows, cuts, stabs and falls. Kuja and Uranus refer to accidents, assaults and suicide. Kuja and Neptune indicate danger from water, poison, and brutal persons. Shani and Uranus refer to injury and violence. Rahu indicates danger from poison and snakes. Kuja and Uranus in movable signs or in Dhanus suggest danger from fire or water.

Cases of suicide show malefic affliction to Sun and Moon, to the third lord, and to Budha and or Shani. Here

Guru must be ill placed, or Uranus in afflicted or Neptune is related to the eighth.

We give some combinations for painful or unnatural death.

1. Lord of 8 in Shani's drekkana and Shani with Rahu or Mandi-Suicide.

Some Remedial Measures

Any ailment needs three-fold treatment according to our ancients. These are mani (precious stones), mantra (Vedic or Tantrik mystic syllables) and aushadha (medicine). Any planet which is weak and which is obstructing has to be brought under control. We are not to meddle with the strong and favourable ones. Of the mantras those sanctioned by the Vedas and those given by the proper preceptor are helpful. Any mantra can work well for a Hindu if he does not neglect Gayatri mantra. Moreover, the worship of the family deity should never be ignored. The chart of the individual indicates which deity he had to worship.

The fifth house is the mantra-sthana and the ninth is the Tapo bhava. If the fifth is an even sign and is aspected or occupied by Chandra and Shukra, he has to worship a female deity. The planets in that house or aspecting it indicate the deities thus:

Sun-Gayatri, Moon-Gauri;

Kuja-Kartikeya; Budha-Vishnu;

Guru-Shiva; Shukra-Gauri; Shani-Vishnu

Jaimini Sutras instruct us about the deities favourable to a native. These are based on karakamsha and its twelfth house. We can extend them to the fifth and ninth houses.

Ravi and Ketu, Shiva

Chandra-Gauri

Shukra-Lakshmi

Kuja-Skanda (Kartikeya, Kumara)

Budha and Shani-Vishnu

Guru-Shiva

Rahu-Chandi and Durga

Ketu-Ganesha and Skanda

In malefic houses Shukra and Shani indicate Kshudra Devatas. These may give results but are harmful. They invoke the so called evil spirits.

Vedic Remedies for Planets

In any chart we notice that there are certain malefic periods giving rise to undesirable results. These results cannot be totally warded off. At best their adverse effects can be minimised by following some measures. We find some astrologers presenting the japa of mantras. Some of the mantras mentioned for the planets are purely Tantrik or esoteric. Their value appears to be doubtful particularly when the person who does these japas does not conclude with the recitation of the Gayatri mantra for a thousand times. If he does Gayatri at the end, the japa for the planets can be effective. In such a case persons like the present author attribute the efficacy mostly to Gayatri mantra.

This brings us to the relevant point. The Gayatri mantra appears in many Vedic texts. It is in Rig Veda (III.62.10), Samaveda, Vajasaneya Samhita, Taittiriya Samhita (1.5.6.4; 4.1.11.1) and Taittiriya Aranyaka (1.11.2). The seer who had a vision of this mantra was the celebrated Vishvamitra. Why is the pride of place given to this sage? This Gayatri mantra is used on a variety of occasions. In another hymn of Rig Veda (3.53.12) we read:

brahmedam bhaaratam janam

Freely rendered this means; "This hymn (Brahma) of Visvamitra protects the people of Bharata". It is his hymn that controls and guides the destiny of our motherland. Such power being that of Vishvamitra, the Gayatri mantra envisioned by him and present in all the Samhitas has become central to the Hindu faith. It is the basic mantra. The 'Panchadashi' and 'Shodashi' mantras are called 'Rahasya' (esoteric) Gayatri. In a sense all the mantras are derived from this Gayatri and from the hundred lettered Gayatri. The latter is made up of gayatri with the fourth line, the 'Jatavedas' Mantra and 'Tryambakam' mantra.

This lengthy introduction is intended to emphasise the absolute value of the graha mantras (mantras for the planets) taken from the Veda alone. Let us remember the statement of Manu that 'the primal source of Dharma is the Veda.' Vyasa in Mahabharatha states that 'Dharma protects when it is protected and preserved'.

In the light of these celebrated views we give first the appropriate hymns of Rig Veda.

The Saura Suktas, hymns for propitiating the Sun, the lord of all life) are seven. These are found in the Rig Veda 1.35, 1.50, 1.115, 10.32 (Namomitrasya), 10.120 (Vibhrad), 10.158, and 10.178 (ayam gauh). These are taken from the first and the tenth mandalas of Rig Veda.

The Vedic mantras found in Rig Veda for the propitiation of the planets are as follows:

Sun:	1.35	Moon:	1.81
Mars:	8.44	Mercury:	1.101
Jupiter:	4.50	Venus:	6.58
Saturn:	10.8	Rahu:	4.31
Ketu:	1.6

The mantra for Saturn curiously enough is employed for the ritual of any deity that is worshipped. Even the mantra with which Ganapati is invoked appears in Rig Veda (2.23.1) and in Taittiriya Samhita (2.3.14.3). Only the Vedic mantras can offer perfect remedial measures.

The Dharma Sastras simplify the procedure of propitiating the planets to ward off or to minimise the malefic result. We give them below. They are all from Rig Veda, and the variants of some of these do appear in some of the Samhitas.

Sun:	1.21.1; 1.35.3; 7.59.12
Moon:	8.43.9; 1.91.16; Taitt.B. 2.8.1.17.R. V. 1.164.41
Mars:	8.44.16; 1.163.1; Taitt.B. 5.7.7.12
Mercury:	1.22.17; 10.101.1; Taitt.S. 1.2.13.10; R.V.4.57.1
Jupiter:	Taitt. S. 7.5.18.1; 4.6.4.8; 4.2.8.4; R.V.9.64.2; 2.23.15
Venus:	10.145.2; Taitt.S. 4.6.5.16; R.V. 4.34.7; R.V. 1.7.10; R.V. 6.58.1; Taitt. A. 10.1.34.
Saturn:	Taitt.S. 1.8.14.12; 4.2.8.4; 5.7.3.8; R.V. 10.9.4; 8.18.9
Rahu:	4.31.1; 4.2.5.8; 4.2.9.3; Taitt.S. 1.3.13.5; 4.2.5.8; 4.2.9.3; 5.2.8.8.
Ketu:	1.6.3; 6.6.7 Taitt.S.1.5.3.2; 1.5.7.13; 4.2.8.7; Taitt.A. 6.5.9.

Against each planet two or more mantras are given. This is because the authorities differ.

At the end of the japa, Gayatri should be recited for a thousand times. The number of times a mantra is to be recited is determined by multiplying the Vimshottari Dasa years of a planet by one thousand.

Prasna Marga gives us the deities to be worshipped on the basis of the signs occupied by each planet.

1. The Sun in various houses from Mesha onwards refers to the deities thus: Shiva, Yakshi, Vishnu, Sarpa, Kuladevata, Vishnu, Bhadrakali/ Svayambhu, Gandharva Yaksha, Ayyappa, Pishacha and Kirata.

2. Chandra: In the houses of Kuja-chamunda; In Vrishabha-yakshi; Tula-Dharma daiva; in Budha's houses-Vimana Sundari and Sundara; in Karka-Sarpa and Dharma deva; in Simha-Bhagavati; in Guru's houses-Gandharva; in Shani's houses-Preta and Pishacha.

3. Kuja: In Mesha-Bhuta rakshasa and Brahma Rakshasa; Narabhojini and Bali Prabhakshini; in Shukra's houses-Bhairava, Yakshi and Yaksha; in Mithuna-Narasimha and Gandharva; in Kanya-Narasimha and Yakshi, In Karka-Bhagavati, Krishna and Chamundi; in Simha-Shivabhuta; in Danush-Kushi and Shasta; in Mina-Virabhadra; in Shani's houses-Abhichara Deva.

4. Budha: In Kuja's houses-Dvara devata; in Shukra's houses-Gandharva; in his own houses-Gandharva and Kinnara; in Karka-Jala Pishacha; in Simha-Nagakanya; in Guru's houses-Chamundi; in Shani's houses-Kavachi Shula Pishachi, and Kala Pishachi.

5. Jupiter: In Mars' houses-Siva Bhutas, Durdevata; in Venus'-Apasmara Yakshi, Yaksha; in Mercury's-Devata (Yama); In Cancer and Leo-Devata Gandharva; in Saturn's houses-Bhasma Pisacha, Jala Pisacha, Adhama Gandharva.

6. Venus: In Mars' houses-Siva Bhutas, Yaksha Rakshasa; in his own and in Cancer-Yaksha, Yakshi; in Mercury's-Abhichara Devata; in Leo-Yakshi; in Sagittarius-Murti; in Pisces-Durga; in Capricorn-Apasmara; in Aquarius-Kala Pisacha.

7. Saturn: In Aries-Apasmara Devata; in Scorpio-Shiva Bhuta; in Taurus-Apasmara Yakshi, Yaksha; in Libra-Bhutanatha (Shiva); in Gemini-Vanadevata; in Leo-Sasta, Kirata, Pisacha; In Jupiter's houses-Gandharva; In his own houses-Preta and Pisacha.

The 4th house and its lord indicate the family deity. The deities to be propitiated for receiving or controlling planetary afflictions are many. These are: the Sun-Shiva Bhuta; the Moon-Durga, Dharma Daivata; Mars-Subrahmanya Bhairava; Mercury-Gandharva, Yaksha; Jupiter-Devas; Venus-Yaksha, Brahmarakshasa; Saturn-Sasta, Kirata, Pancha Bhutas; Rahu-Naga; Ketu-Chandala Devata; Gulika-Preta.

Add the longitude of the lord of Lagna to that of the lord of the 6th. Note which planet is there or which one is aspecting it. This gives a clue to the propitiatory rite called for, as follows: The Sun-Aghora Bali; the Moon-Kapala Homa; Mercury-Chakra Homa; Jupiter-Pratikara Bali; Mars-

Bhutamaranabali, Khadga Ravanabali, Krittikabali; Venus-Pratikarabali. Bhutamaranabali; Saturn-Pratikarabali.

The mantras to be recited for the various planets are many. For the sake of convenience we give a few: the Sun-Raja shyamala; the Moon-Bhuvaneshwari; Mars-Bagalamukhi; Mercury-Tripura Sundari; Jupiter-Tara; Venus-Kamala; Saturn-Dakshina Kali; Rahu-Chhinna Masta; Ketu-Dhumavati. The mantras of these deities have to be received at the time of initiation from a competent Guru.

Shrimad Ramayana of Valmiki has brought untold happiness to millions of persons. Certain chapters are said to be an antidote to certain kinds of afflictions. Some of these have been tried by us and we vouchsafe the fruitfulness of these propitiatory rites. We give the Sargas (cantos, chapters) of this sacred text and as authorised in Uma Samhita.

When we were unable to fix the marriage of one of our daughters in spite of six years' efforts, we recited the 73rd Sarga of Balakanda for 40 days and on the 41st day the marriage was fixed. For getting a girl married soon, the earlier generations of Andhras used to make the girls read every day the section on Rukmini Kalyana in Bhagavatam. This was most effective.

The Vimshottari Dasa and Antardasas, if they are malefic, are effectively brought under control by certain chapters (Sargas) of Sundara Kanda in Valmiki Ramayana. We give some that we have tried with success:-

The Moon's major period-Sundara Sarga 5. Mars Jupiter's antara Sundara-51. Mars-Venus-53. Rahu-Saturn 47. Rahu-venus 65. Major period of Jupiter 1. Saturn-Saturn 48. Jupiter-Ketu 61-62. Saturn-Mercury 54. Saturn-Venus 38. Mercury's major period 35. Mercury-Ketu 14. Mercury-Mars 29. Ketu-Venus 6. Venus major period 73 of Bala. The others are from Sundara.

One of our daughters having Venus sub-period in Rahu started reading every day the 65th canto of Sundara Kanda along with Lalita Sahasra Nama Stotra; and five months after she began this, her marriage was celebrated. For Sagittarius she has the Sun and Rahu in the 9th and Mercury and Venus in the 10th.

The afflicted Nakshatra too needs propitiation. We have texts dealing with Graha Makha and Nakshatra Makha. The deities of the Nakshatras starting from Aswini and ending with Revati are:

Nasatyas (Aswini's), Yama or Vivasvan, Agni, Brahma, Soma., Rudra, Aditi, Brihaspati, Sarpa-Rudra, Maghvan or Pitris, Bhaga, Aryaman, Savita, Tvashta, Marutvan, Indraghni, Mitra, Indra, Nirriti-Rudra. Apam Napat, Visvedevas, Vishnu, Vasus, Varuna, Aja Ekapat, Ahirbudhnya, and Pushan.

This incidentally takes us to the most important Vedic foundation of propitiatory rites. In Yajnavalkya Smṛiti we read:

Sri kamah santi kamo va graha yajnam samacharet.

Vrishtyayuh pushtikamo va tathaivaabhicharannapi (295)

One desirous of wealth, peace, rainfall, long life, health and protection should perform a sacrifice to the planets. The Vedic mantras given for the planets differ slightly from one smṛiti to another. The japa (prayer) of a planet is in terms of its Vimshottari Dasa years multiplied by a thousand. Each japa is preceded by a sankalpa which gives the Rishi, Chhandas and Devata of the mantra along with a dhyana sloka. Then follow tarpana and homa. The homa is with the prescribed samidhas (herbs) dipped in milk, sugar and honey. The form of the planet in the prescribed colour has to be invoked on to the pedestal. Many a time we hear that these japas have not proved effective. This is because after the japa, tarpana, homa and dana one forgets to recite Gayatri Mantra a thousand times. In a tabular form we present the details of the Graha Japas.

Planet	Colour	Deity	Place	Pedestal	Sacrificial
1. Sun	Red	Agni	Centre	Square	Sabhya

All this does not mean that an affliction brought by the planets can be cured only by these remedial measures. Our ancients have prescribed mani (precious stones), mantra, and aushadha (medicine) jointly. Graha japa hastens the process of recovery only when the horoscope assures longevity.

One should find out the nature or source of the ailment from the radical chart and determine the planet or planets responsible for it. Then along with medication one should perform the japa.

We give a few instances based on our experience. When the 3rd and 5th houses are severely afflicted and we noticed mental derangement or possession we have successfully employed Pratyangira (Bhadra Kall) Parayana. In some cases Vanadurga mantra or the first chapter of Durga Saptasati has proved effective. Ordinary fevers or drishti dosha (evil eye) were controlled by Sitala Mantra which appears to control Mars. Stolen goods indicated by the 12th house, Saturn, Rahu and the like were recovered by Kartaveeryarjuna Mantra. Parasara has given the causes for the loss or absence of children as some curses; and these can be alleviated by mantras; and in some cases Rahu being involved we prescribed Naga Pratishta and worship. The results were amazing. Stammering or inability to speak are well indicated by the 2nd house and controlled by Vagvadini Mantra. Ability to make both ends meet was made possible by Svarna aakarshana Bhairva as indicated by Mars and houses 2, 6, 12 and 11. Affliction to Mercury, the 4th house and the lord of that house can cause slackness in the education of the native. In such cases we have found Hayagreeva Mantra to be very effective. Blood pressure indicated by the Moon and Mars and/or Venus was controlled by the wearing of a particular type of rudraksha; and in some instances daily Rudradhyaya parayana was also followed with successful results. Affliction to the 7th house and its lord and to Venus made one lose three wives in succession, and we prescribed the daily recitation of Argala, Keelaka, and Kavacha of Durga prescribed for Durga Saptasati; and he leads a happy life now with his fourth wife. These mantras are those given as per the tradition of the Sakhas, following Samayachara only. Difficulties involving delayed marriage came to our notice. The chart has Venus and Ketu in the 9th, the Sun and Mars in the 10th, and Saturn in the 12th for Scorpio Lagna. We prescribed Ganapati Mantra along with Chandi Navarna Mantra. After 40 days she was married. In one case afflicted Jupiter, Saturn afflicted the 5th house denied offspring. The lady was asked to do 108 pradakshinas daily around a Vatavriksha (वट वृक्ष) for 40 days. Later she conceived and delivered a healthy child. An afflicted Rahu refers to the worship of Subrahmanya and/or Durga. Saturn is best kept under control by Hanuman Chalisa.

These are some of our findings. The minimum period for a mantra is a mandala of 40 days. A prolonged illness indicated by Lagna refers to Aditya Hridayam and Suryanamskaras.

The Vedic Riks prescribed for the different planets have been found to be extremely effective. These when combined with the Mantras given by Samaya school of Sakti worship have not failed us so far, provided the mantra raja called Gayatri preceded and followed the same. Some texts give tantrik mantras, and these have not proved to be so good as claimed. Above all we trust that any planetary affliction, if longevity is assured, can be overcome with medication accompanied by Gayatri, Panchadasl or Shodasl and the mala mantra of Tripura Sundari as given in Tripura Tapini Upanishad. These remedial measures have the sanction of celebrated Rishis like Parashara, Jaimini, Yajnavalkya and the Upnishadic seers.

Female Horoscopy

1. Nativities of Women

In the third chapter of Hora Sastra, Parasara states that he will outline the results to be predicted from each of the 16 Vargas. Here we read:

नवमांशे कलत्राणां दशमांशे महत् फलम् (3.109)

From Navamsa chart one has to read the nature and effects concerning the husband or wife. A disparity between Rasi and Navamsa charts points to an inharmonious married life. The Rasi and Navamsa charts of any individual indicate three possible ways of relationship between husband and wife. These are: (a) mutual influence or support; (b) degrading or counteracting and (c) indifference.

There are some specific factors to be followed while examining a woman's chart. As Mantreshwara puts it: longevity of the husband from the 8th house, children from the 9th, nature of husband from the 7th, chastity and the like from the 4th. As in all cases, one should predict from the Moon sign or Lagna whichever is stronger. According to some, says Jataka Parijata (16.5), the well being or otherwise of the husband is to be determined from the 9th house; others ascribe ascetic tendencies to the 9th (16.6).

Brihajataka states that malefics in the 7th make a woman a widow. If there is a weak malefic aspected by a benefic, she may be discarded.

Some peculiar combinations listed by the authorities deserve special attention. These are the following.

1. The Sun in the 7th aspected by inimical planets—the wife will be separated.
2. Mars in the 7th aspected by inimical ones—widowhood or estrangement.
3. Saturn in the 7th aspected by inimical ones—lives long along with the husband.
4. Saturn in the 7th which is a malefic sign—widowhood.
5. Mars and Venus in the 7th—undesirable.
6. The Moon and Venus in Lagna owned by Mars or Saturn and a malefic in the 5th—children.
7. Mars in Navamsa of the 7th lord aspected by Saturn—disliked by the husband.
8. Mars in Navamsa of the 7th lord Venus and aspected by a malefic—happy married life.
9. The Moon and Venus in Lagna owned by Mars—hates the husband. The Moon and Mercury in a similar position—skilled in arguing; Mars and Mercury in such a position—valorous; Jupiter in such a Lagna—good children.
10. Benefic in the 9th—highly fortunate.
11. Lagna or the Moon in Trimsamsas of Mars, Venus or Saturn—undesirable.

In the case of a woman the chart erected for the time of birth is not so important as the one cast for the time of her first menstruation. The latter chart is all-important. The first menses should not be on a Sunday, Tuesday or Saturday. For this Kalyana Varma's text Saravali (M/s Ranjan Publications) has to be taken into consideration. The combinations given have to be modified by considering the ownership, position and aspects. The favourable and lucky combinations are:

1. Lord of the 7th in Lagna with the owner and aspected by Venus.
2. Lord of the 7th in the 7th with the lord of Lagna and aspected by Jupiter and the Moon.

3. Exalted lord of the 7th with the lord of Lagna is in Lagna.
4. Lord of Lagna exalted, lord of the 7th aspecting the 7th and benefics in kendras:

A virtuous life is indicated by the following combinations:

1. Lord of the 7th in the 6th, or lords of the 6th and the 7th in the 12th, or lords of the 6th and the 7th in the same Navamsa or in one constellation.
2. Lord of the 7th in Lagna, lords of the 6th in the 7th or the 12th, and these lords in the same Navamsa or in mutual aspects.
3. The Moon as lord of the 7th in last Navamsa aspected by the 6th lord.
4. Lord of the 7th in an angle and in Navamsa of the 6th lord with the owner of the 6th, aspected by the 12th house.

Widowhood is indicated by the following:-

1. Lords of the 7th and the 8th aspected by malefics.
2. Rahu in the 7th and lord of the 7th with the Sun aspected by the 8th lord.
3. Lord of the 7th with Saturn aspected by Mars, while the Moon and Rahu are in the 8th.
4. Mars in the 8th with its owner and Lagna in a malefic Navamsa.
5. Rahu with Saturn and Mars in the 7th or the 8th.
6. Lords of the 7th and the 8th in the 12th and the 7th aspected by a malefic.
7. Lord of the 7th as a malefic or in a malefic house while Mars and Saturn are in the 7th or the 8th.

These combinations get modified by benefic aspects.

Leaving aside these generalised statements, let us study a few charts to show how the planets operate in the lives of those women. The first chart shows the lords of the 7th and the 8th in the 12th with no aspects. As per Jaimini's Upapada, it falls in Capricorn which gives lords of the 6th, the 9th and the 8th in the 7th while the 7th lord is aspected by Saturn and Jupiter. From Lagna the 2nd house is afflicted by Saturn. During her 25th year she lost her husband. The 8th house is also afflicted by badhaka Jupiter.

The second chart is that of a medical practitioner born under the constellation Pushyami. The 7th house has Ketu aspected by benefic Jupiter (lord of the 9th and the 12th).

Chart No. 2: Aries-Ascendant and Rahu; Gemini-Mars and Jupiter; Cancer-the Moon; Leo-the Sun; Virgo-Mercury and Venus; Libra-Ketu; Sagittarius-Saturn.

But Jupiter is with the lord of the 1st and the 8th and is aspected by retrograde Saturn (lord of the 10th and the 11th). The 7th lord is in the 6th with its owner aspected by Mars. She was deserted by her husband during the major period of Venus. Lord of the 8th and the 12th and of the 6th and the 7th have played their part.

In the chart of the woman deserted by the husband, lords of the 6th and the 7th for Aries exchange houses, while Venus is with the Sun and Mars is in Virgo. The 8th house has the powerful aspect of retrograde Saturn from Taurus.

There is another case illustrated by the third chart. She is highly educated but is known for her loose morals, though unmarried. Here lords of the 6th and the 7th interchange their houses, the 7th lord owning also the 12th. Lagna is afflicted by Mars aspect and the 8th lord by that of Saturn. The 4th house refers to chastity and here is malefic Jupiter (lord of the 8th and the 11th) aspected by a natural malefic. The 4th lord is in the 6th with the 7th lord. These are enough to justify the nature of the native.

The fourth chart of a woman is of special significance. Born under the constellation Makha, she has her Lagna aspected by badhaka. The 5th lord is in the 12th. The house of chastity is clouded. The 7th is aspected by Mars and Rahu is in the 8th. There is nothing serious so far. But consider the Moon sign. The 7th and the 8th are afflicted. The lord of the 4th is aspected by debilitated Mercury indicating some defect in character. Lords of the 6th and the 7th are in 2/12 relationship. Mars and his aspect on the lord of chastity and on the 7th made her divorce her first husband. The peculiar positions of Jupiter and Mars combined with the location of Rahu in the 8th made her marry a European. She had two children by him. The malefic in the 9th is also the lord of the 8th; and as lord of the 6th and the 7th from the Moon, he is in the 7th. She divorced the second one too. The dictum of Mantreswara about the lord of the 7th in the 5th applies here fully. She is also accused of lesbianism. Jupiter in the 5th for Gemini does not augur well.

The 5th chart needs explanation from those who give plenty of exceptions to Mars dosha. Saturn, lord of the 7th, is in the 7th aspected by the lords of the 6th and the 9th. Mars is in the 8th aspected by the Moon. Saturn is also the 8th lord. From the Moon Lagna we find Mars in the 7th, the 8th having malefics. She was married in the sub-period of Saturn (which ended on 1-8-1951) in Venus and she became a widow in Venus' sub period of Moon. Mars and the Moon have mutual aspects. Jupiter's aspect on Saturn was of no avail.

Consider the sixth chart. The 10th house is very powerful. The 7th has lords of the 3rd and the 12th and the 4th and the 11th, with the malefic aspect of Mars. The 8th is afflicted. In Saturn's sub period of Venus her husband died (1972). She was tortured considerably. She married again, note the 7th house and a powerful lord of the 8th, while the house of chastity has Mars. She has been a Naxalite—again note Mars, and the exchange between Mercury and Saturn. Here it may be noted that according to experience, when two planets have a mutual exchange of houses, they lose the ownership of the other house. In this chart, Saturn is the lord of only the 7th and Mercury of only the 3rd. In essence Mercury and Venus are in the 7th aspected by Mars. This offers a fuller explanation of the facts.

The seventh chart supplies a good illustration of Mantreshwara's dictum regarding the exchange of houses between the 5th and 7th lords. She was married in 1972 November at the age of 35; when the sub-period of Ketu in Chart No. 7: Virgo-Ascendant; Scorpio-Mars and Rahu; Capricorn-Jupiter; Aquarius-Mercury; Pisces—the Sun and Saturn; Aries—the Moon and Venus; Taurus-Ketu.

Rahu began; and she became a widow just before this very subperiod ended. Jupiter and Saturn have exchanged houses and Saturn is with the lord of the 12th. The 9th house is afflicted. Ketu is aspected by Mars and Saturn, Mars being also the lord of the 8th. The exchange of the 5th and the 7th means death of partner, or estrangement, or childlessness. Usually the first alternative is stronger. Saturn's aspect on Ketu clinches the issue. Moreover from the Moon sign the 8th has Mars and Rahu.

The eighth and the ninth charts are those of women whose husbands are impotent. The 8th shows a badhaka who is the lord of the 7th is with Ketu, while the 7th is aspected by Saturn. The 10th house needs watching particularly because Mars is with the 7th from the Moon with Venus. The 9th places Jupiter in a badhaka house while the 7th badhaka lord is in the 8th aspected by Saturn and Mars. The 4th house has the aspects of Mars and debilitated Venus. The eighth chart also shows the 4th house aspected by Mars and Venus. One may draw the necessary conclusions.

The tenth chart is an example showing the value of Navamsa. The girl was married but left her husband on flimsy grounds. In Navamsa the 7th has Mars and Venus and the 7th lord is debilitated and aspected by Saturn. The lord of Lagna is in the 12h. In Rasi chart the 7th lord is afflicted by Rahu and aspected by many. The lord of Lagna is aspected by Mars and Saturn and there is shashtashtaka (6/8) relationship between Venus and Mars. In ansha such a position does not appear. Now look at the husband's chart (11). He is a medical practitioner, Rasi of the wife and Amsa of the partner have Saturn in Lagna. The 7th lord in both is in the 3rd house aspected by Jupiter and Saturn. If the lord of Lagna is in the 10th aspected by Mars in her Rasi, the lord of Lagna in Amsa of her husband is Mars in the 4th. Incompatibility is evident from Venus in his 8th and from her Mars with Rahu in the 3rd. They have a daughter. More instances like these are available and they vindicate Parashara's dictum effectively.

The twelfth chart is that of a woman who lived with her husband for 12 years and then sought a divorce. Lords of the 6th and the 7th are together in the 11th. These are Mars and Venus. Mars having Saturn's Amsa. Saturn and Jupiter aspect Lagna, the aspect of the former being malefic. Saturn is not in a malefic sign, but in the 7th house he is positively bad. Ketu in the 4th house aspected by Saturn is ominous in a woman's chart. Likewise from the Moon sign the 4th lord is not well placed. Moreover the badhaka being the Moon, his aspect on Mercury and Venus has contributed to the unfortunate situation. In one chart of Sagittarius Lagna we find in Lagna the lords of the 7th, the 10th, the 6th, the 11th and the 9th. Lagna lord exchanges places with the 10th lord. The association of the lords of the 6th, the 7th, and the 10th is to be noted. Saturn from the 2nd aspects the Moon in the 8th. Both are in the 8th. Yet she became a widow in 1976 at the age 43. The 8th house is afflicted and Mars is in the 2nd from the Moon.

Chart No. 12: Scropio-Ascendant; Aquarius-Ketu 12° 22'; Pisces-the Moon 22° 20'; Taurus-Saturn 19° 54'; Cancer-Jupiter 2° 55'; Leo-Rahu, 12° 22'; Virgo-Mars 1° 57'; Mercury 29° 47' and Venus 29° 57'; Libra-the Sun 4° 57'.

Look at the thirteenth chart. She was married in July 1949 and became a widow in September 1950. Then she married again. Mars as lord of the 4th is in the 8th, which is the 12th from Venus; Mars then from Venus is the lord of the 8th. Lords of the 1st, the 2nd, the 3rd, the 12th, the 5th, and the 10th are with Rahu and afflicted. Mercury and Venus exchange places, thereby making the lord of the 6th and the 9th associated with the 9th house directly. The 8th lord is debilitated. Saturn's aspect on the Moon is equally bad. Lagna is unaspected. Moreover, Mars as badhaka is in the 8th. These, explain the facts clearly. The 8th house denoting the second marriage is stronger than the 7th and its lord is in the 10th with the lord of the 9th. This is a favourable point, if it is.

The last chart (14) is of particular interest. She married a person who divorced his earlier wife with three children or so. He married this woman after going through the family planning programme. She discovered it long after. She urged to adopt a child and it was prevented. Till her 40th year she was happy. Then followed serious quarrels started by her husband. Mars here is in the badhaka house. But the 8th house Jupiter and the 8th lord with the Moon in the 5th saved her considerably from widowhood. The estrangement too was short-lived. But it was there because Mars was in the 7th from Karakamsa Lagna and in the 8th from Upapada.

These illustrations are intended only to show the complexity of problems we have to deal with in judging the nativities of women.

The skill of an astrologer lies in analysing and interpreting a chart. We propose a case study of a lady's chart to elucidate a few principles. She was born at 00.59 A.M. of 1935.6.6/7 at 17.0 N and 81.57 E. The last sign of the Zodiac is rising while the lagna in the Navamsa chart is Simha. The Karakmsa lagna is Kumbha. Three bodies are in their own signs indicating a kind of Raja yoga. But of what avail is a Raja yoga for a lady brought up in the Hindu traditions if the chart indicated widowhood even before she completes forty seven years of age? She lost her husband in November 1981.

We strongly believe that there are no exceptions to Kuja-dosha if the charts of the husband and wife have the same defect, it gets neutralised. Neutralization is not cancellation. Since the former term means the avoidance of only the major disaster like the loss of the partner. In reading a chart, we have to pay attention also to the navamasa chart, since this is a symbolic presentation of the partner's chart. As Parashara stated, "Navamanshe Kalatram." Whether the partner will have kuja-dosha can be found from the navsmsha chart.

The Chart under question shows Kuja in the seventh from lagna and darapada, in the eighth from karakamsa, and in the fourth from the Moon in navamsha chart. The disposition of Mars in Navamsa is not as strong as it is in the natal chart. Radical lagna and Navamsa lagna are in six-eight relation, indicating little domestic harmony or compatibility. The seventh lord from lagna is retrograde and is in the sixth from navamsa lagna; and the seventh lord in navamsa is in the eighth from lagna there.

Taking the navamsa chart to represent the partner, let us try to find something about her husband. The seventh lord in the eighth and the twelfth lord in the seventh should indicate the loss of his wife. But the twelfth house (Comforts of bed) is tenanted by Uranus, Ketu and lord of lagna, aspected by Rahu and by the lord of the second. There are no benefic aspects. But as the lagna has Venus in the seventh from the Moon and as this Venus is aspected by a malefic and a benefic, this lady will have to be his second wife, even when the first was alive. The sixth-twelfth axis involving Rahu and Uranus suggests, a legal or a suddenly legal separation from the first wife. Moon-Venus axis shows that he cannot be happy in his family life. This was what actually happened. He had two sons and a daughter by the first wife. Jupiter from Aries, Mars from a Venusian sign, and Saturn from Pisces aspect the fifth from navamsa lagna. Because of these aspects he had no cordial relation with his children too.

Going back to the lady's chart let us look to the house of children. In a woman's chart the ninth refers to children. This house is aspected by the sixth and the twelfth lord. These are negative facts. The ninth lord in the seventh and the seventh lord in the eighth from the ninth add to be negative directions. She was denied children. Why did this happen? The navamsha chart shows the husband to be passionate. But the seventh is hemmed in between malefics and the lord of lagna is with Uranus in the twelfth. Uranus and Mars indicate some kind of surgical treatment. The lady's ninth lord and the seventh lord are in the signs ruled by the eunuch Mercury. From her arudha lagna (Taurus) the seventh lord Mars is in the fifth, a sign owned by Budha. All these factors cumulatively point to a family planning operation undergone by her husband prior to her marriage. But as her fifth house shows she is highly intelligent and sensitive, and she came to know of it some three or four years after her marriage. This knowledge is the main cause of their embittered relations.

The husband worked in the teaching profession—sixth house Budha, sixth also being a house of profession. We are referring to the navamsa chart. There the lord of second and eleventh being in the sixth with Rahu aspected by Uranus and Sun, he was a first rate gambler at cards and he earned much. This property was left to the lady—note the lord of dhana and bhagya (ninth) in the seventh. As the lord of the eleventh is in the twelfth and as the significator of wealth is in her eighth, it is clear that she cannot retain the property till the end of her life.

At the birth the balance of Mercury's period was for years 5-5-25. The real trouble started with the beginning of the major period of the Moon from 1973.12.3. Though the Moon is in his own sign, he is in the third from arudha lagna. His association with the functional malefic Venus is serious. We accept the equal house system and consider the rising degree of lagna as the first degree, not the middle one. For her seventh house the Moon and Venus are not quite good, from her arudha lagna these are in the third; and from her karakamsa lagna they are in the sixth. The subperiod of Venus in the major period of the Moon was from 1981.10.3 and in the following month her husband passed away. The eighth lord in the fifth from lagna, and in the sixth from karakmsa lagna does suggest some abhichara (black magic) leading to the demise of her husband.

2. General outline

There are only a few references in our ancient texts and most of them are only cursory. They have not attempted any systematic treatment, nor have they devoted their attention elsewhere. From the scantiness of the available literature we cannot visualise what exactly our ancients have thought and deduced regarding female horoscopes.

There is one important factor which has been stressed often. It is that the various predictions found in the horoscopes of women are to be applied to their husbands only. This is a very misleading proposition, for it presumes that women, as such, have no individuality of their own. A husband might be completely jovial, and he may not have any occasion to look gloomy. But for all this, if his wife were to put upon only a melancholy appearance, if she were to lead only such a life, how are these to be reconciled? It is a thing to be asked. But in most cases, as the institution of marriage is nothing less than a unification of the apparently diverging factors of life, this formula holds good. Yet we have to admit it with great caution and reticence.

Before we actually proceed to examine the question in its various implications there is one more thing that we have to bear in mind. After an individual is married, and this alone entitles him to the rank of a responsible citizen of the State, we cannot predict from his horoscope alone. We have always to note the horoscope of his wife, and in the case of a lady of her husband's; we have to co-relate them and then alone begin to predict. Generally it is the lady's horoscope that has a vital bearing on the life of the male's. There is a gentleman whose horoscope was a very brilliant one. Till the time of his marriage he was very successful and prosperous, though he came from a very poor family. There is a rich gentleman, whose daughter's horoscope is not at all promising enough. But since the horoscope of the boy is a very good one, he was advised by some to give his daughter in marriage to him. And he did accordingly. The boy who stood first so far in his academic career, suddenly failed that year. It was never dreamt by anybody. Another person who was mentally and physically under-going a regular torment till the time of his marriage, has become now, after marriage, a perfectly normal individual. Such considerations force us to conclude that after marriage both the horoscopes must be consulted, and that we have to place a greater weight on the lady's horoscope in almost all cases.

From the Lagna, we can generally say something regarding the appearance, beauty, fame and fortune of the lady. The fourth house is the house of happiness and in female horoscopy it has something to say about the association she is going to contract and about her own chastity. Much depends on this to ensure peace and happiness of the hearth. This is only a logical corollary and nothing else.

Children can be predicted from the fifth and the ninth houses. The ninth house is the house of wealth and for a lady her wealth is concretely realised in her children. Further the ninth house has again to say something regarding her wealth and asceticism also.

But the entire trouble arises from seventh, eighth, and ninth houses. Here female horoscopy is widely divergent from the male one only apparantly; for the underlying cause in both is the same. Generally they are supposed to speak about Kalatra, Ayus and Bhagya. But in a lady's horoscope, the seventh denotes welfare, nature of the husband, husband's happiness and wedded happiness. Here there is practically little or no difficulty in extending the related ideas. The eighth house has something to say regarding her prosperity, wedded happiness and widowhood. The eighth being the house of ill health and death, the only death or ill health that matter most to a good lady, is the death of her husband. With the disappearance of her husband, the cord of unity is broken. And she is so to say, only a divided self from that time onwards. And a divided self is always a source of misery, sorrow and gloom.

The ninth house also has much to say regarding the welfare of her husband, and her religious attitude. All the religious activities of the good women are directed not towards any God in reality, but are simply acts to ensure the longevity, happiness and fortune of their husbands. This is the secret underlying their asceticism. In the religious attitude, if one is careful enough, the sex-motive can be seen very clearly. This in short is the main outline of female horoscopy.

Besides this, there are a few planets who play a vital part in horoscopy. Though we belong to a solar system, we are to remember we are controlled by Jupiter, who presides over intellect and feeling. And naturally we cannot ignore in the horoscopes of ladies the part played by Jupiter. If he is well placed, he will ensure good-will, a sympathetic heart, a profound mind and a religious attitude. We have seen what this religious attitude means when it is associated with ladies. It is the unification of the divided self. Further, while man is mere by a victim of emotions and passions, woman is practical and calculating. They have a balanced mind inherently, otherwise they cannot carry on their activities normally.

This activity is strengthened by Jupiter, while the Moon wants to tilt the balance. Moon is a creature of emotions and feelings. And a woman who is swayed away by the influences of the Moon, will be an "Idealist" pure and simple. When the Realist begins to become Idealist we know his/her tendency is to go to the extreme. As such they prove to be the bane of the normal hearth. Hence the importance of Moon must always be stressed in a lady's Horoscope.

Mars is the ally of Moon. He is the product of impulses. An impulsive woman or man cannot maintain peace and tranquility. Impulse is the negation of reason. Further, we have to note that Moon and Mars control the menstrual periods of women. And Mars is responsible for abortions. These are simply the external manifestations of the inner impulsive structure of the brain. So a proper care must be bestowed on these two.

The counter part of these two is Mercury who is the symbol of practical wisdom. A love of order, an interest in realities and purposes, a sense of decency and sharpness are all his peculiar possessions.

Closely allied to Moon and Mars on the one hand, and to Mercury on the other one is Venus. A Venusian is always aesthetic minded. The love of the beautiful, the attachment to the artistic are always essential for a woman, for it is she alone that is ultimately the connoisseur of the fairest things and activities. But if Venus happens to be bad in a particular horoscope, the influences of Moon and Mars are always to be keenly felt. Hence one must not lose sight of the influence of Venus in female horoscopy.

When all is said and done one thing remains and that is the peculiar Karakatvas or responsibilities of the planets. In a male's horoscope, the planet tries to bring into effect something concrete. Man is forced to be as practicable as possible. He is required to see the hard reality of things.

But in the lady's horoscope, the planets have a different purpose. They always try to make her as otherwardly as possible. It is only when such influence is felt that persons of both the sexes can maintain an equilibrium and run the gamut of life as smoothly as possible.

Generally the principles of interpretation apply to both sexes. But There are specific differences. Moreover, women are now competing with men in all fields. At times the husband of a woman depends on her earnings.

Before we proceed further, we emphasise the need to reject the theory of the Trimsansas and their interpretation. If you follow them literally the vast majority of women have to be suspected of infidelity. This is on the face of it an absurdity. Even the concept of the Trimsamsa is faulty. If a dasamamsa refers to the tenth part of a sign, trimsamsa must refer to the thirteenth part of a sign. This is not found in the enunciation of the theory by the ancients.

Where a woman is not employed, the yogas in her chart apply to her husband. A few combinations may be noted.

1. Guru in 1, Moon in 7, and Shukra in 10 – marries a - rich one.

- 2. Guru in benefic saptavargas or shadvargas and is well aspected by the Moon-husband has a responsible position.
- 3. Benefics in all the kendras and a masculine sign rises in the seventh-political power.
- 4. Kuja in 3 or 6 and Shani in benefic shadvargas-Rajayoga.
- 5. Waxing Moon in Mithuna lagna, Budha in 10, and Sun in 11-Rajayoga.
- 6. Sun in 3 with benefic shadvargas, and Shani in 6-a good Raja yoga.

Shadvargas, Saptavargas, and Ashtakavargas have to be calculated for a proper prediction of a woman's chart. Earlier we have shown the importance of Navamsa. We will now present an analysis of a woman's chart with reference to her Ashtaka Varga.

3. Ashtaka Varga

There is a difference of opinion among moderns regarding the calculation of Ashtaka varga. Some reckon this from Bhava Chakra and others follow the equal house system. The Rajayogas, Arishtayogas and the like mentioned by Parashara are applicable only to the position counted from Lagna, not to the positions in Bhava. Jaimini and Varahamihira did not consider Bhava positions as distinct from positions in Rasi. Only Mantreshwara and other later writers created confusion by distinguishing Bhava from the sign. When Varaha used "bhavana" he meant the sign where a planet is housed; and it has no reference to "bhava". "Bhavana" is the house where one lives; and the planet lives or is in a certain sign only. The same meaning is found in Chapter 21 of Parashara where he used the words "sthana" (place), "griha" (dwelling place) and the like. If a planet is in 29° 53' of Virgo for Cancer Lagna and the alleged third Bhava ends at 27° 9', are we to place it in Libra which covers the fourth Bhava? We cannot forget that it is in Virgo only. In Chapter 28, Parashara used "sthana bhedana", not "bhavabhedana". Anticipating the misinterpretation of some moderns, he clarified by stating "Rasidrishtivasaat phalam". The entire tradition of India in astrology compels us to follow only the Rasi-position while computing Ashtaka varga.

In the first chapter of the "Uttara khanda" Parashara gives the Ashtaka varga for Lagna also (verses 68 to 71). Five planets, the Sun, the Moon and the Lagna make total of eight (ashta). In the Lagna Ashtaka varga the benefic places of the Lagna are:

3, 4, 6, 10, 11 and 12 from the Sun; 3, 6, 10, 11 and 12 from the Moon; 1, 3, 6, 10 and 11 from Mars; 1, 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 11 from Mercury; 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10 and 11 from Jupiter; 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8 and 9 from Venus; 1, 3, 4, 6, 10 and 11 from Saturn; and 3, 6, 10 and 11 from Lagna. Total bindus are 49. The grand total comes to 386. In later times the Lagna Ashtaka varga has been ignored. Vaidyanatha Dikshita states:

सविलग्नसमाश्च केचिदाह गुरुर्मूलान् समुपैति तुल्यमायुः । (10-48)

This means: "Some say upon the authority of great teachers (like Parashara) this should be supplemented by the number of years for the Lagna (derived from Lagna Ashtaka varga) in order to arrive at the correct longevity".

Again in "trikona Sodhana" we have to follow only Parashara who says in Chapter 17:

त्रिकोणेषु च यन्यूनं तत्तुल्यं त्रिषु शोधयेत् ।

This actually means that the figures in the three signs of a triangular group are to be made equal to (tulyam) the least number (nyunam). This view is accepted by Balabhadra and others. Vaidyanatha endorses this view only when he says:

त्रिकोणभावेऽपि यदल्पबिन्दुकः तदीयबिन्दू भवतस्तु तावुभौ । (10-38)

This means: "If a sign in a triangular group has the least number of benefic dots, the other two signs must have their bindus changed into this lowest number." It is only Mantreshvara who wanted the lowest figure to be deducted from all the three signs. This view was endorsed by some others and it is based on the ambiguity of the expression. This ambiguity was because of the word "trishu" (in the three); and it was resolved by Balabhadra and Vaidyanatha. On the basis of this trinal reduction and taking Lagna ashtaka varga into consideration we get fairly good results.

In the light of these considerations, we examine the 7th house and the marital state in the chart of a lady. She was born on 4-10-1953 at 1-24 a.m. (LMT); Lat. 13° 4' N., Long. 80° 15' E. The balance of Ketu Mahadasa at birth is 5 years, 4 months and 20 days.

Whatever others may say we firmly hold that there is a strong Kuja Dosha from Lagna, Arudha Lagna, Darapada, Upapada, and Navamsa Chandra. The 7th house has 29 bindus including four given by Lagna. Venus as significator has six, and the 7th lord has five bindus. Mars who causes dosha has only three bindus which indicates separation from near ones; but his rapt conjunction with Venus brings about a fusion of charm and energy, of a sensitive nature and momentary irritability. We append the Ashtaka varga charts before and after reduction to examine her married life. The Sodhya Pindas are: Lagna 386, the Sun 374, the Moon 384, Mars 234, Mercury, 394, Jupiter 367, Venus 454, Saturn 191 and Sarva Ashtaka varga 463.

From Lagna onwards the benefic dots in this chart are: Lagna: 5, 5, 3, 6, 4, 5, 4, 2, 4, 3, 4, 4; the Sun: 4, 3, 4, 5, 3, 3, 3, 4, 3, 5, 5, 6; the Moon: 2, 3, 3, 4, 2, 6, 4, 5, 3, 6, 6, 5; Mars: 4, 3, 2, 2, 3, 2, 4, 3, 4, 3, 4, 5; Mercury: 4, 6, 4, 4, 5, 3, 4, 4, 4, 5, 6, 5; Jupiter: 4, 4, 6, 3, 4, 6, 4, 4, 5, 4, 6; Venus: 5, 6, 3, 5, 3, 5, 3, 4, 5, 5, 3, 5; Saturn: 5, 2, 3, 5, 1, 4, 3, 1, 3, 3, 4, 5. The total figures from Lagna onwards are 33, 32, 28, 34, 25, 34, 29, 27, 32, 35, 36, 41. For Rahu the figures are 3, 3, 6, 4, 4, 3, 4, 4, 3, 4, 2, 4.

After the first reduction (trinal) we get the following figures from Lagna onwards. Lagna: 4, 3, 3, 2, 4, 3, 3, 2, 4, 3, 3, 2; the Sun: 3, 3, 3, 4, 3, 3, 3, 4, 3, 3, 3, 4; the Moon: 2, 3, 3, 4, 2, 3, 3, 4, 2, 3, 3, 4; Mars: 3, 2, 2, 2, 3, 2, 2, 2, 3, 2, 2, 2; Mercury: 4, 3, 4, 4, 4, 3, 4, 4, 4, 3, 4, 4; Jupiter: 4, 4, 4, 3, 4, 4, 4, 3, 4, 4, 4, 3; Venus: 3, 5, 0, 4, 3, 5, 0, 4, 3, 5, 0, 4; Saturn: 1, 2, 3, 1, 1, 2, 3, 1, 1, 2, 3, 1. The figures of Sarva Ashtakavarga are 1, 8, 4, 3, 1, 8, 4, 3, 1, 8, 4, 3.

After the second reduction we get the following figures from Lagna onwards. Lagna: 4, 3, 3, 2, 3, 3, 2, 2, 3, 3, 2, 2; the Sun: 3, 3, 3, 4, 0, 0, 3, 3, 0, 0, 0, 4; the Moon: 2, 3, 3, 4, 2, 2, 3, 3, 2, 2, 0, 4; Mars: 3, 2, 2, 2, 2, 2, 0, 0, 2, 2, 0, 2; Mercury: 4, 3, 4, 4, 3, 3, 0, 0, 3, 3, 0, 4; Jupiter: 4, 4, 3, 3, 0, 0, 3, 3, 0, 0, 3, 4; Venus: 3, 5, 0, 4, 3, 3, 0, 4, 3, 3, 0, 4; Saturn: 1, 2, 3, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1, 1. The figures in Sarva Ashtakavarga are 1, 8, 4, 3, 1, 1, 3, 3, 1, 1, 3, 3.

On the basis of these figures we can interpret the past and the future by correlating these to the general framework of the birth chart, the transits of the planets, and to the Vimshottari Dasa system. The birth chart is of supreme importance.

Bhinna A.V. determines the strength of the houses and the planets; Prastara A.V. enables us to time the events; and Samudaya A.V. reveals the important phases in life. Mars has only three bindus in his position indicating separation and in his own A.V. the 7th has four suggesting mixed but happy results. Saturn has five showing gains and in the 7th from Lagna he gives three only implying loss.

In this chart the strong houses in a descending order are 12(41), 11(36), 10(35), 6 and 4 (34), Lagna (33), 2 and 9(32). The other four houses are weak, the 5th being the weakest having 25. The 7th has 29, and the 8th has 27. Looking into the total figures, we find the 28th year (the Sun in Virgo which has 28) is a pretty bad one, as the lord of 2 is in 3 between malefics. The years 32 (the Moon in Leo), and 33 (Lagna which has 5) should be the turning points in her life. The 29th year (7th house) is again a critical year. Saturn in an Upachaya from the Moon indicated the 34th year to be a highly favourable year for her married life as Saturn is the lord of the 7th from the Lagna and from the Moon as well.

It may incidentally be noted that the Ashtaka varga of Lagna gives only 49 bindus. For the various seven factors the bindus from Lagna come to fifty. In the A.V. of Venus the 11th from Lagna is said to be auspicious; and this position is dropped in the A.V. of Lagna given by Parashara. This evidently means that the Lagna A.V. is to be reckoned separately, and that it cannot be ignored. This is more so for determining the A.V. longevity; and in Amsa, Pinda and Naisargika determination of longevity also the Lagna does contribute its quota.

The Sodhya Pinda of Mercury (394) multiplied by the bindus in the fourth from him (4) and divided by 27 gives out the remainder to be Makha. When Saturn transited this star August 26, 1977 to September 20, 1978) there was misunderstandings with relations and mental worry. The same Sodhya Pinda multiplied by the bindus in the 10th from Mercury and divided by 27 gives Makha as the remainder. Saturn's transit on this brings disappointments. Saturn is the lord of the 7th and the 4th and the 10th from Mercury are the 7th and the Lagna. This was the preparatory ground for the events that followed in 1979 and 1980. She has a mild heart attack in June 1975 while Saturn was transiting Gemini. In her 5th house Saturn gave in his A.V. only one bindu; and Mercury with five saved her.

Kalatrakaraka is Venus. His Sodhya Pinda is 454. Multiplying it by the bindus in the 7th from Venus (4) and dividing the product by 27, we get the remainder Punarvasu. Jupiter's transit on this must bring about the marriage. This transit took place from March 31, 1978 to August 14, 1978 and Saturn's transit on this causes ill-health or misfortune to the husband. The period of this transit was from March 26, 1975 to August 7, 1975, and from July 30, 1974 to March 3, 1975; and this does not apply to the present case. Saturn's transit caused the heart attack. When he moved into Pushyami, her grandparent to whom she was deeply attached passed away on November 13, 1975. The bindus of Rahu in Capricorn, as per Sambhu Hora, point to this.

The same figure 454 multiplied by 4 and divided by 12 gives Cancer. Jupiter's transit in this sign (July 29, 1978 to August 29, 1979) brings about marriage or it takes place in the major period of the Moon. The marriage took place on July 9, 1979. Jupiter has four bindus in Cancer in his own A.V. The marriage, however, was consummated when Jupiter was in Leo. This coincides with the sub-period of the Moon in the Sun. It was naturally not fated to be successful during the major period of the Sun as five bodies are in the 2nd and the 12th from him. She ought to have chosen a better time.

From Lagna to Saturn the total bindus are 127. These multiplied by 7 and divided by 27 give the remainder as the star Poorvabhadrapada. Malefics transiting on this star bring misfortune. Mars was on this from February 22, 1981 to March 11, 1981, March 11, 1979 to April 1, 1979. Only after the period was over she was promoted to a higher post, though she had to stay away from her parents. The promotion, however, came in the sub-period of Mars (12-12-1979 to 18-4-1980), Mars being the owner of the 10th house and the 5th. It was only during the sub-period she could get a transfer to the place of her birth.

In dealing with the 7th house we are emphasising Saturn (lord of the 7th from Lagna and the Moon), Mars as there is Kujadosha, Venus being the karaka, and Jupiter as the karaka of children. The Sodhya Pinda of Sarva A.V. (463) multiplied by the bindus in the 7th before reduction (29) and divided by 27 leaves Pushyami as the remainder. Saturn's transit on this brings malefic results. This was from August 8, 1975 to August 15, 1976. Jupiter's transit shows favourable results from August 14, 1978 to November 13, 1978 and December 9, 1978 to June 21, 1979. a grandparent's death in November 1975 and temporary jobs between July and October 1979 were the major events. We cannot expect any better from a vaquished Venus in the inimical 2nd house, during his major period which was over on February 24, 1979.

The total number of figures in the signs occupied by Venus, Mercury and Jupiter are 32, 34 and 41. These should be the years of marital happiness. Saturn as the 7th lord has five bindus which show gains. The 32nd year shown by Leo having Venus shows happy married life. The 33rd given by Lagna is favourable. 34 shown by the sign having Mercury indicated intellectual achievement. 41 presented by the sign having Jupiter shows the birth of a child and a position of authority. But the signs occupied by Mars (32), Ketu (33) and Saturn (34) are the years of injury, accidents and operation, and sickness respectively. As the 7th has more bindus than the 5th she is fully controlled or obsessed by her husband. As the 11th has more than the 10th she has wealth but as the 12th has the greatest number, her expenses will be too high.

The bindus in the sign occupied by the lord of the 5th from Jupiter after reduction are four. This must be the number of children she will have. But there are malefics in this sign, and in the 5th from Jupiter; moreover, the 5th from Lagna has the lowest number of bindus. The 5th from Jupiter before reduction has three bindus. This evidently points to her having children in wedlock though the 5th has the lowest number of bindus (25); and this is countermanded by 32 bindus in her 9th. Incidentally the 8th, which is the mangalyasthana has 27 bindus, the second lowest. The marriage was consummated as soon as her 27th year started; and a separation took place before she completed twenty-seven years of age. Lagna has two bindus and Saturn one bindu in the 8th in their own A.V.

Let us apply the bindus to interpret the major period of the Sun (24-2-1979 to 24-2-1985). The bindus of the planets during the successive antardasas as per their sign positions in the Sun's Ashtakavarga are 4, 3, 3, 3, 6, 5, 5, 4 and 3. The sub-period of Jupiter must be the best (12-3-1981 to 18-2-1982). Though the subperiods of Saturn and Mercury should be good, they cannot be as per the transit effects of Saturn. Those of the Sun and Ketu are average. The rest are bad. Only the Moon, Venus and Saturn have contributed bindus to the 7th. Saturn (lord of the 7th), Venus (karaka) and the lord of the Lagna should give her a happy married life in general. But the sub-periods of the Moon, Mars and Rahu have only three bindus each, less than the average. Marriage, misunderstandings and a separation were forced on her—all took place between June 12, 1979 and March 12, 1981.

Let us apply the principle of Kakshyas to interpret the Dasa of the Sun. The sequence of the Kakshyas is Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, the Sun, Venus, Mercury, the Moon and Lagna. Each has a duration of nine months. The periods 24-2-1979 to 24-11-1979 (Saturn) and 12-8-1980 to 24-5-1981 (Mars) are adverse. For, the Sun the 5th and the 6th lord and the lord of the 3rd and the 8th are on either side of the Sun. The 7th lord from the Sun is a functional malefic, and the karaka is vanquished by Mars. Except for periods of hope (November 1979 to August 1980 and May 1984 to February 1985) the period of the Sun can give only adverse results about marital life. The marriage was at the end of Saturn's Kakshya, he being the lord of the 7th placed in the 4th; and the separation was in that of Mars who vanquished Venus in the second and who has caused Kuja dosha from a variety of places including from the Moon in Navamsa.

In the Moon's own Ashtaka varga the Moon has only three bindus. This is not quite favourable. The major period of the Moon is from 24-2-1985. In the Moon's A.V. the various successive antardasa lords as per their sign positions are 3, 3, 4, 5, 4, 4, 2, 3, 3. The subperiod of Ketu is the worst. Those of the Moon, Mars, Venus and the Sun are not quite good. Those of Rahu, Saturn and Mercury are tolerable. Jupiter's is the best. The Moon being the lord of the Lagna, and Mars being a yogakaraka, these two sub-periods will have to show an olive branch. But when Rahu's sub-period begins (from July 24, 1986) we can safely visualise her reunion. Transit Jupiter will then be in the 7th from the natal Moon; and in the Moon's A.V. There are five bindus in Aquarius. The positions of the Moon, Rahu, Jupiter, Saturn and Mercury are good from Karakamsa also.

The Kakshya principle gives each a duration of 15 months in the sequence of Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, the Sun, Venus, Mercury, the Moon and Lagna. The Kakshyas of Saturn, Jupiter Mercury and the Moon appear to be sound. From the Moon and the Lagna Saturn is in an upachaya exalted; and his Kakshya operates till May 24, 1986. Some favourable steps will be taken during this period; and these will yield beneficial results soon after. Saturn's Kakshya can only offer a hope because the sub-periods are not so good. A correlation of these two factors compelled us to predict a bright married life after July 1986 only. In the Moon's A.V. the sign occupied by Jupiter has five bindus; and from the Moon he is the lord of the 5th, while from Arudha Lagna he is the lord of the 7th.

The Sun is in the Kakshya of Venus, his enemy. During his major period marital life is bound to get disturbed. The Moon is in the Kakshya of Saturn, the 7th lord who is a neutral to the major lord. Family life has to be resumed during this period. Mars in the Kakshya of Mercury, and Rahu in that of Mars are not bad. Venus in Mercury's is favourable, though occasional misunderstandings cannot be ruled out because of Mercury's ownership. The others are in Jupiter's and they are favourable in the major period of the Moon. The sub-period of Jupiter appears to be the best. From the Sun the 7th has bindus contributed by the Sun, Mars and Mercury. Mars as lord of the 3rd and the 8th from the Sun has caused adverse influences. From the Moon, the 7th has bindus contributed by the Moon, the Sun, Mercury, Venus and Saturn. This is an excellent position ensuing a happy marital life. Considered from any point of view the major period of the Moon favours a reunion and it is supported by A.V. by the transits, and by the major and minor periods of the natal chart.

Rahu is in the adverse 7th, unaspected by any. As per Sambhu Hora, his location has bindus from the Sun, Mercury, Venus and Jupiter. The last is inimical to the preceding two, and is an enemy of Venus. The Sun too is inimical to Venus. Thus Rahu offers mixed results for the 7th house indications. The contribution of the bindus by Mercury and Venus does forebode a favourable situation finally. In Rahu's own Ashtaka varga houses 1,2 and 6 have only three bindus each. His transit in the 12th and 10th from the Moon brings worries, quarrels, losses and enmity. These periods were from June 8, 1980 to February 11, 1982 in the 12th, and August 29, 1983 to February 18, 1985. In the 9th from the Moon he offers mixed results only.

Saturn transiting the Moon's sign causes fear of friends and separation and on the 12th brings grief. On the 4th there is separation. He was in Leo, where he has only two bindus in his own A.V., from August 27, 1977 to October 21, 1979 and again from April 3, 1980 to July 10, 1980. In Virgo he has only three bindus indicating loss, and in Scorpio (4th from the Moon) only one bindu which also means the same. He was in Virgo from October 21, 1979 to April 3, 1980 and again from July 10, 1980 to September 23, 1982.

He entered Scorpio on December 8, 1984. She was unfortunately married on July 9, 1979 and was consummated on October 19, 1979. Saturn was transiting Leo and in his own A.V. he has only two bindus. The marriage was in the Moon's sub-period of the Sun. The two are in 2-12 relation. She last heard from her husband on October 27, 1980. Saturn was transiting her Sun and there was the sub-period of Rahu operating. Transit Jupiter on the Moon brings losses. He was there from August 23, 1979 to September 20, 1980. During September 1979 she had rheumatic corea in Jupiter's subperiod of Venus. She could get over it as Jupiter has four bindus in Leo. Jupiter was transiting exactly on her natal Sun who was in the nervous Virgo.

Transit Mars on the 7th brings quarrels with the husband. He was in Aquarius (three bindus) from February 18, 1979 to March 28, 1979. He has two bindus only in Virgo, Libra and Sagittarius. His transit here covers the periods from July 22, 1978 to October 22, 1978. December 2, 1978 to January 13, 1979, June 26, 1980 to October 2, 1980 and November 11, 1980 to December 20, 1980. Two bindus suggest quarrels with the partner.

More than Mars, the greatest trouble is to be expected from Saturn and Rahu during the transit of the signs in which there are very few bindus. This is again subject to the natal chart. But Saturn as the 7th lord exalted has to confer benefic results; and these will come slowly and late, after trying the patience of the native.

Saturn was on her Moon on June 7, 1978 and Mars on June 5, 1978. Mars was on her Venus on July 6, 1978, Saturn on February 9, 1979, and Mars again December 23, 1979. He transited her Saturn on August 26, 1980. Saturn was on her Venus on November 10, 1978, February 9, 1979 and July 30, 1979; on her Mars on November 12, 1978, February 6, 1979 and August 1, 1979. Rahu was on her Mars and Venus on June 10, 12, 1979. These transits are capable of suggesting a number of facts about her 2nd and 4th houses. These can be found out on close scrutiny and questioning. The one fact that strengthens our hope is the position of the 7th lord and Jupiter's aspect on him.

The 2nd lord has three bindus in the 2nd and the 7th; and so have Venus and Saturn in the 7th. This is a disquieting position. But in the 4th house except Mars and Jupiter all others have 4 to 6 bindus; and in the 12th (comforts of the bed) all have 4 to 6 bindus; and one can safely predict a reunion on the basis of A.V. in relation to the natal chart. After the second reduction only Mars, Mercury and Venus have no bindus in the 7th.

4. Special features

1. If the Moon is stronger than the Sun, the predictions are to be based on the Moon-sign. The problem of odd and even signs rising, the Moon in an odd or even sign, and masculine or feminine planets posited therein or aspecting it is not of much significance.
2. Lagna, Moon-sign, seventh and eighth houses must be strong and favourable. Malefics should not be in the seventh and eighth houses.
3. When a malefic in the seventh is delibitated or is in an enemy's house, she will be quarrelling with her husband. Mars in the seventh or the eighth is undesirable; Shani in the seventh also is not desirable.
4. If lagna is owned by Kuja or Shani, and a malefic is in the fifth, she will have no children. Mars in the navamsa of the seventh house aspected by Shani, makes her husband dislike her. But if Kuja is in the navamsa of Shukra aspected by a benefic, she will be her husband's favourite.

5. Chandra and Shukra in a lagna owned by Kuja, make her develop an aversion to her husband. Moon and Budha in such a lagna make her an expert in discussing higher truth. Chandra, Budha and Shukra in such a lagna give her all comforts. Guru in such a lagna gives her good son, intelligence and ornaments.
6. When benefics are exalted, but the eighth is a malefic sign with a malefic aspected by another malefic, she becomes a widow. The lord of the eighth in the navamsa of a malefic does not give her a long happy married life. Benefics should be in the eighth if she were to pass away before her husband.
7. Benefics in the ninth and a malefic in seventh or eighth gives her a happy married life, prosperity, comforts, happiness and children. Malefics in the fourth give her many children, according to Vaidyanatha but Mantreshwara observes that she will not be chaste.
8. Vrishabha, Simha, Kanya or Vrishchika is the langa and the Moon in the fifth gives her few sons. She has few children if the Moon is in these signs.
9. Malefics in 4 or 8 give her poverty and sorrow; but if these houses have benefics also, she has both good and also evil results; and if there are only benefics, she has prosperity and good fortune.
10. Lord of 5 in 6, and lord of 10 in lagna causes her death by a weapon.
11. If both benefics and malefics are in the seventh, she will remarry. If weak malefics are in the seventh, she will be rejected by her husband.
12. When the navamsha occupied by Kuja becomes the seventh from lagna, she has a uterine disorder.
13. If Chandra and Shukra are in lagna, she has short temper and she lives in comfort. Chandra alone in lagna makes her happy and amiable. If Guru, Budha and Shukra are in lagna, she is renowned for her excellence. Jupiter in 1, 4, 7, 10, 5 or 9 or is exalted, she is chaste and well behaved, has good sons and comforts, and brings credit to her husband's family. Lagna must be aspected by benefics to make her happy. When Moon is in Karkalagna, and Chandra, Budha, Guru and Shukra are strong, she is learned in arts and sciences and she wields a spiritual influence. Benefics in the second and a malefic in the eighth bring her death before that of her husband. When the lords of 1 and 7 are in one house, or when they exchange houses and are aspected with a benefic, the husband and the wife will die at the same time.

14. When the seventh is weak and unoccupied and unaspected by a benefic, but aspected by a malefic, the husband is a wretch. Budha in her seventh makes him impotent. Budha and Shani in her seventh make her barren or hated by her husband.
15. The position of the planets in the seventh from the navamsha lagna must be noted. Sun there makes her husband gentle and playful, Chandra-happy; Kuja-devoted husband, but gallant; Budha-learned husband, Guru-husband having self-control; Shukra-husband is beautiful and voluptuous; Shani-old one. Lord of the ninth with Guru in 6, 8 or 12 gives her a decrept husband, but if they are in a kendra or kona, he will be wealthy and long-lived; if they are associated with the fourth house or Budha, he will be learned; if they are with Kuja or Shani he is an agriculturist; if they are with Rahu or Ketu, he is a villain; if they are with the sixth lord, he will be leader of robbers.
16. The position of the planets in the seventh house of a woman's chart reveals something about her husband. Sun- fair looks, lustful; Chandra- handsome, worthy, lean, voluptuous, and sickly; Kuja- humble in appearance, loves cruelty, indolent, strong speech; Budha- a man of taste, learned, wealthy, excellent qualities, Guru- long life, wealthy, powerful, lustful in youth; Shukra- lovely, playful, poetical; Shani- old, infirm, wicked; Rahu-Ketu- evil minded person.

17. A woman becomes voluptuous under the following combinations; (a) Shani in Shukra's navamsha, and Shukra in Shani's navamsha, aspecting each other; (b) Lagna is owned by Shukra and the navamsha is Kumbha.
18. Consider the seventh house from lagna or Moon whichever is stronger. If that house has no planet, is not aspected by any benefic, or is weak, then her husband is wicked. If Budha or Shani is in that seventh, her husband is impotent; If there is Sun, she will be deserted by her husband; if Kuja, a widow; if Shani, she becomes prematurely old. If in the seventh there is a weak malefic aspected by a malefic, she will be deserted. When there are malefics, she becomes a widow. If there are both benefics and malefics, she may marry again.
19. When Shukra is in Kuja's navamsha and kuja in Shukra's, she has loose morals. If the seventh has Shukra, Kuja and Chandra, the same result follows. Chandra and Shukra in a lagna owned by Kuja or Shani aspected by malefics give her a doubtful character.
20. When the seventh house and its navamsha are owned by Shani, her husband is old, and foolish. If Kuja navamsha rises as the seventh for a sign owned by Kuja, she is always sick, and her husband is full of anger and is fond of other women.
21. Chandra and Shukra in lagna make her envious and fond of pleasures. Chandra and Budha in lagna make her happy, talented in music, and she has excellent qualities. If Budha and Shukra are in lagna, she is beautiful, and well versed in fine arts.

Marriage: Matching and Kuja Dosha

1. Marriage

Marriages are made in heaven" says an old adage. The time of marriage is generally believed to be fixed by destiny. This is a disputable point. Dharma shastras speak of the four ends of life, of which Dharma shastra lays down the rule that one must marry. From the state of Brahmacharya one can proceed directly to the ashrama of Sanyasa. One can renounce the world the moment he feels to:

Yad ahar eva virajet

One need not necessarily proceed through the different ashramas to become a sanyasi. This in essence means that the time of marriage is not a fixed one. In the horoscope of a person, it is not easy to say that one will be married at a given time. On the other hand, an astrologer can discover in a chart different periods when marriage is likely to take place. If the marriage somehow does not occur at those times, there might develop a spiritual era - spiritual attachment during those times. If we accept this framework, then the following hints would become significant.

Marriage in the Hindu tradition is not meant for the enjoyment of sexual "pleasures". Marriage is intended primarily for begetting children; and at the same time it permits the husband and the wife to perform certain rites and to discharge certain duties. This naturally implies that a possibility to marry is determined by the individual's willingness or unwillingness, and ability or disability to carry out these duties. In other words, the potentiality of the 7th house in a chart is governed by the nature of the 5th, 9th and 10th houses.

While fixing the auspicious moment for marriage, one has to observe certain rules. Transiting Saturn and Rahu should not afflict radical Venus of the boy and radical Mars of the girl. They should not be transiting the 7th house of either, or aspecting it. The radical Moon of the boy and the girl should not be afflicted by transiting Saturn or Rahu. The lord of the 7th house of either should not transit through a malefic house from the Ascendant of either. Mars should not transit through the 1st, the 7th and the 8th houses from the Lagna of either. The transiting malefics should not be in the Lagna and the 7th house of either. Venus in transit should not be in a malefic house from the Ascendant of the boy; and Mars in transit should not be in a malefic house from the Ascendant of the girl. The Moon at the time of marriage must be in a benefic house from the Lagnas of both.

In addition to these, there are other principles given in our texts. The boy is to be married in an odd year from the date of his birth, and the girl in an even year. The Moon must transit through Rohini, Mrigasira, Makha, Uttaraphalguni, Hasta, Swati, Anuradha, Moola, Uttarashadha, Uttarabhadrapada or Revati. The best Lagnas are Mithuna, Kanya and Thula, provided Venus is not in the 6th and Mars is not in the 8th. No marriage should take place when the Moon transits Poorvaphalguni, Poorvashadha, Poorvabhadrapada, Punarvasu, Pushyami, Aridra, Aslesha, Visakha, first quarter of Magha or fourth quarter of Revati. Sunday and Tuesday are to be avoided. The second, third, fifth, seventh, tenth, eleventh and thirteenth lunar days and the months of Vaisakha, Jyeshtha, Sravana, Aswayuja, Magha and Phalguna are auspicious. One must avoid Chaitra when the Sun is in Meena (Pisces) and Ashadha when the Sun is in Mithuna (Gemini). A man should not marry in the, Lagna and Nakshatra of his birth. Eldest son or eldest daughter should not be married in the month of Jyeshtha. Two brothers or two sisters or a brother and a sister should not get married on the same day. All these principles have a relevance only in the light of what we have stated in the first two paragraphs.

Regarding the time of marriage, we read in Mantreshwara (10.12):

शुक्रोऽस्तपो वा तनुनाथाभांशक त्रिकोणमायाति तदा विवाहः।

Marriage takes place when Venus or the lord of the 7th house comes to transit in a trine to the sign occupied by the lord of the ascendant in Rasi or in Navamsha. This is alright if the lord of the 7th happens to be a slow-moving planet like Jupiter or Saturn. Otherwise many troubles will crop up during any given year. Hence Mantreshwara gives the next verse which imposes certain other determining factors:

कलत्रसंस्थस्य कलत्रदृष्टेर्दशागमे वाथ कलत्रपस्य।

यदा विलग्नाधिपतिः प्रयाति कलत्रं तत्र कलत्रलाभः ॥ 10 : 13 ॥

Marriage takes place in the periods of the planet in the 7th house, planet aspecting the 7th house, and the lord of the 7th house. It can also take place when the lord of the Ascendant comes to the 7th house in his transit.

Find out where the lord of the 7th house is in Rasi and in Navamsha. Then ascertain the relative strength of the lords of these houses. The major period of the stronger one gives rise to marriage. When Jupiter transits a trine to the sign in Rasi or Navamsha occupied by the lord of the 7th house, marriage can take place.

There are other factors we find in our texts. A favourable period appears when Jupiter in transit aspects or passes through the sign occupied by radical Venus, the 7th house or the lord of the 7th. If this position is not afflicted by transiting planets, marriage is likely to take place. At every step we are asked to relate the transit positions to the radical positions and this is important. Yet the radical positions are more powerful and more relevant.

Venus, the 7th house, lord of the 7th house, and the 2nd and the 4th houses are involved in determining the time of marriage. We have to note the planets influencing these in the natal chart. When similar influences appear in transit also, one can be sure of that period as the time of marriage. One person was married when his lord of Lagna (Jupiter) was transiting on his radical Venus situated in the 11th from the Moon; and this radical Venus had the aspect of his radical Jupiter. Curiously enough, this Jupiter at that time was transiting over the lord of the 7th house in the chart of the girl he was marrying. This is a powerful indication indeed.

More precise fixation of the time is possible when we follow the Vimshottari Dasa system. Here again we advise a scrutiny of the relative strength of the Lagna and the Moon; and then the dasas can be worked out. The dasas and antardasas of the lords of the 7th, the 2nd and 4th houses, the period of Venus, the periods of planets posited in the 2nd, the 4th and the 7th, and the period of the planet having the lowest number of degrees in any house – these are some of the favourable periods for marriage. Having ascertained the major period, then one can proceed to fix Vidasa and the Antardasa.

Marriage is an institution with varied association. In Hinduism and in the Catholic religion, at least, it is taken to be an indissoluble and sacred institution. To these faiths, marriages are literally made in heaven. In some countries marriage is a contract and it is therefore capable of being dissolved. Even where the law of divorce is found on the statute book, some countries like the United Kingdom do not allow a divorce as far as the royal family is concerned. When we turn to astrology, we only know that marriages are largely governed by planetary dispositions. We do not think that astrology would sanction divorce or oppose it, since astrology is neither a legislature nor a judge. Astrology only enables us to read the tendencies and indications that make a marriage happy or otherwise.

Since the zodiac begins with Aries (Mesha), the natural seventh is Libra (Thula). The main indicators of marriage are Libra and its lord, as far as men are concerned. The seventh from Libra being Aries, the chief indicators of marriage for a woman are Aries and Mars and also Jupiter. In a woman's chart, the Moon too must be taken into consideration since the menstrual period is regulated by Moon and Mars; and in a man's nativity Sun too must be examined carefully.

In a man's chart, we have to consider Libra and the 7th from the ascendant, Sun and Venus; and in a woman's we must note Aries and the seventh from the ascendant, Moon and Mars. The eighth houses from these govern the sex life; and therefore Scorpio for men and Taurus for women have to be added to the list. Then the extra-marital life is determined by the twelfth house from the ascendant; and in a man's chart, Pisces too needs scrutiny while in a woman's Virgo too deserves a study. This might terrify one since all the houses and planets appear to get into the picture. But what is needed is to find out the strongest among the ascendant, Sun and Venus in a man's chart, and among the ascendant Moon and Mars in a woman's. The major scrutiny should be from this point only. The others are needed as corroborating or strengthening aids only.

An affliction to a planet or house arises from a conjunction with or an aspect by a planet who is a malefic by nature or by ownership or by both. If a conjunction with or an aspect by a benefic also operates, then we get the mixed character of the house or planet.

A strong, well-placed and unafflicted Venus gives a harmonious and balanced marital life of man. A similar Mars governs the balanced sex life of woman. These are the two basic planets. Venus is to be examined with the Sun, and Mars with the Moon. The position of Venus in a male chart is to be compared with that of Mars in the wife's chart; and a similar comparison between the Sun in the husband's chart and the Moon in the wife's is necessary. Whether they aspect one another, they are in square or trine to one another, or they are inimical to one another must be carefully noted. The next step is to see whether the Navamsa chart of the wife agrees with the Rasi chart of the husband and whether the Rasi chart of the wife agrees with the Navamsa chart of the husband. These preliminary observations will be taken up for a scrutiny and illustration at a later stage. Now we have to consider the possible effects resulting from certain positions of the planets. In the following, 'he' means and includes 'she' also.

The Sun in the seventh indicates a successful marriage; and in the eighth a successful interest in the affairs where the strongest feelings are involved and in matters of sex. The Moon in the seventh makes one change his attitude frequently towards those intimately related to him; and he hopes the marriage partner to be motherly. The eighth house position stimulates these interests. Mercury in the seventh can either advance or retard reciprocity of feelings and emotions, and in the eighth he affects the emotions roused by others. Venus in the seventh is a very good indication of happy marriage and of the ability to live with others in peace and happiness. If this Venus is afflicted, there may be disappointment in this direction. In the eighth Venus secures a balanced sex life if it is not afflicted. Mars in the seventh makes one forceful in intimate relationships. If afflicted, it might bring about irritation and quarrels. In the eighth it makes sex life very important for the native. The seventh house Jupiter is very good for marriage life. In the eighth it brings prosperity through marriage. Saturn in the seventh brings about frustration and disappointment in marriage, if it is afflicted. In the eighth it makes one serious in matters concerning sex.

Of the various signs involved in a consideration of the problem of marriage, there are a few sensitive degrees which may be noted. All these refer to Nirayana or sidereal Zodiac only.

Aries: 1°: The sexual need is an inescapable necessity. It might be almost fatal. 2°: one is fierce, restless and selfish, whimsical, and tyrannical, without any sign of chivalry. 4°: one is sensuous and generous. 6°: one may be ruined by the partner. 9°: it is likely that one may have untimely love. 11°: it makes one lack the ability to live in harmony with the person he or she loves. 13°: one is passionate to excess or is completely detached and isolated. 14°: it speaks of a deep-rooted lust. 17°: it refers to many love affairs and an artless and coarse behaviour. 19°: it suggests an ideal partner. 22°: one is indifferent to love. 23°: marriage can be lucky. 26°: one has a very good feminine nature, gentle and sweet, she will be least self-assertive.

Taurus: 3°: one loves peace and spreads around himself comfort and harmony. 6°: the woman would order her husband and bully him. There may be bigotry and vulgarity. 8°: one gives himself or herself up wholly to friendship and this might lead to strife in family and unhappy married life. This is likely to ruin one's self-respect. 10°: it gives rise to chaos and disorder in the household. 11°: it offers a happy marriage. 14°: one is fond of family and home, and yet faces domestic strife. 18°: one is fond of his family but is really despotic and unscrupulous. 25°: there is a likelihood of being divided from the partner. 29°: it indicates happy marriage and perfect sociability. 30°: It is likely that estrangement from the partner and children follows.

Libra: 3°: it gives a generous heart. 8°: one allows himself or herself to be ruled unconditionally by the person he or she loves. In some cases we may find lust and delinquency. 15°: his behaviour is determined by his sexual urge. Intrigues and adventures dominate his love affairs and he will quarrel over very paltry things. Sometimes lust may make him a criminal. 18°: one is unable to live without love; and there is faithfulness along with jealousy. 19°: there is a strong sex urge which may develop into lust. 22°: it offers neither joy nor pleasure in life. 24°: in his private life he is selfish and lustful, shameless and sensuous. 26°: there is an unbridled lustfulness, and he becomes a prey to wine, women and gambling. 29°: he is deeply attached to home.

Scorpio: 10°: one is dominated by sex urge, love of family and home. 12°: it indicates loneliness, sorrow and widowhood. 14°: it offers a steady domestic happiness. 19°: one becomes a deeply attached lover lavishing his affections. Sometimes excess of lust may bring him to trouble.

2. Matching

There are many unfounded beliefs and ideas about matching charts for marriage purposes. First, there are twenty Kutas based on the Nakshatras of the Moon of which eleven are taken to be important. They give a total score of 35, and we are told that eighteen is the required minimum. Each Varga or Kuta has a specific function as follows:

(1) Dina: Longevity, health, fortune. This is important for Brahmanas. (2) Gana: Health, auspiciousness. This is important for Kshatriyas. (3) Yoni: Children, mutual compatibility. This is important for Sudras. (4) Rajju: Long life with husband. (5) Vedha: Mutual opposition (6) Nadi: Physical well-being, happiness. (7) Mahendra: Children and grandchildren. (8) Stree deergha: Health. (9) Rasi: Progeny. This is important for Vaisyas. (10) Rasyadhipati: Children and (11) Vasya: Mutual agreement.

The others are Ganitagata Ayurdaya, Aya, Jati, Pakshi, Yogini, Linga, Bhuta, Chandra and Gotra. These refer to longevity, incompatibility, good or bad, quarrels, misunderstandings, enmity, auspiciousness and inimical nature. Generally, the first eleven alone are taken into account.

In North India, the man and his bride having the same Nadi is said to be inauspicious. Possibly Nadi refers to blood groups. In Tamil Nadu and other places persons having the same Rajju are not allowed to be husband and wife—Eka rajjurmrityukarl. The same Rajju for both brings about death. In our illustrations we will show the couple having the same Nadi or same Rajju or both.

Our authorities are kind enough to see that marriages are accomplished. Hence they provide exceptions. We are told that there is no Nadi defect if the birth constellations are Kritika, Rohini, Mrigasira, Magha, Hasta, Swati, Anuradha, Moola, Shravana or Revati. Muhurta Chintamani states that there is no Nadi defect if the Moon-sign is the same with different Nakshatras, or the same Nakshatra with different signs or quarters.

Counting the Nakshatras from Ashwini, the same Nakshatra is allowed if it is 4, 6, 10, 13, 16, 22, 26 and 27.

The Nakshatras 1, 3, 5, 7, 11, 12, 14, 17, 20 and 21 may be allowed. But if it happens to be 2, 9, 14, 18, 19, 24 or 25 it is prohibited.

The first Nakshatra being that of the girl, the following pairs are prohibited. 2 and 9; 9 and 15; 14-20; 17-23; 23-2; 24-3; 18-24; 12-5; 13-19; 16-10; and 16-22. The last two show opposition or enmity. 1-22 and 26-5 indicate widowhood. 18-24 indicate destruction of family, 12-5 and 13-19 show fear of life.

The pairs allowed are 6-12, 11-17, 8-14, 7-13, 4-10, 25-4, 27-6, 18-12, 27-21 (happiness), 25-19 (progress), 26-20 (attachment), and 8-2 (happiness).

Added to these is Kuj Dosha. From the Lagna or from the Moon, Mars is inauspicious in 2, 4, 7, 8 and 12. Of these 2, 7, 8 are the worst. Both the charts should have similar placement. Some authorities speak of exceptions. We do not admit these exceptions, as our illustrations show.

(1) Compare the Lagna lord of one chart with the 7th lord of the other chart, and vice versa. They should be in mutual Kendras or trines for a happy married life.

(2) The owner of the sign occupied by Lagna lord is to be compared with the owner of the sign occupied by the 7th lord of the other.

(3) Apply the second rule from the sign occupied by Venus in the two charts.

(4) Apply the first rule from the signs occupied by the Moon in the charts.

(5) The Lagna of one chart is to be compared with the position of the 9th lord in the other.

(6) The position of the 5th lord in the male chart is to be compared with that of the 9th lord in the girl's chart.

(7) Lagna lord of one is to be compared with the 7th lord of the other and vice versa.

(8) The positions of the lords of Lagna in the two charts are to be examined in mutual relations.

(9) Compare the Moon-sign of one with that of Mars in the other, and the sign of Mars in one with that of the Moon in the other. Similarly, compare the Sun of one with that of Venus in the other, and vice versa. Also compare the sign occupied by the Sun with that of Jupiter in the other, and vice versa.

(10) Compare the positions of the Moon in the two charts.

If the Moon-signs of the two are in the houses of Saturn, the girl's Moon is in the 2nd (Aquarius).

If these are in mutual Kendras, Konas or sextile (3-11), it is a plus point. If they are in 2-12 or 6-8 relations, it is minus point. The plus points should be more for recommending the match.

In addition, we have some more rules.

(11) Consider the longevity in the two charts; who has a longer life is to be determined.

(12) The positions from Lagna occupied by the 7th and the 8th lords have to be considered in the two charts separately. Note whether Mars, Saturn, Rahu or Uranus are in the 7th or 8th houses of the two charts.

(13) After delineating the various Vargas in the 3rd chapter of Parashara Hora the sage has stated: Navamamse kalatranam (verse 105). From the Navamsha chart we have to interpret everything about the partner. Thus we have to compare the Rasi chart of one with the Navamsa chart of the other, and vice versa. There should be a broad agreement between the two. Sometimes the people deliberately or otherwise deny having the chart of the boy or girl. In such a case, the available Rasi and Navamsa charts of one person need a close comparison.

These are some of the rules we have applied in actual experience. In addition we refuse to accept any exceptions to Kuja Dosha. Kuja (Mars) in 2, 7 or 8 of the girl's chart has to be neutralised by Mars in 2, 7 or 8 of the boy's chart. Moreover, much importance need not be attached to the Kutas, though some of these are really valuable like Nadi and Rajju. The count from the Nakshatra of one to that of the other for Tarabala is faulty and mischievous. We illustrate some of these principles for a proper understanding.

The first charts show the same Nadi and the same Rajju. The Kutas give a score of fourteen, the alliance on these points is unfortunate. The Navamsa of the male has Rahu in the 8th while Saturn (lord of 1 and 12) and Moon (6).

1. Husband: 1950.7.13. Rasi: Gemini-Ascendant 15-55 with Moon 0-41, Uranus 12-56 and Sun 26-48; Leo-Saturn 22-11; and Virgo-Mars 20-43, Neptune 21-24 and Ketu 7-56; Aquarius-Jupiter (R) 13-52; and Taurus-Venus 26-15.

Wife: 1955.1.16 Rasi: Pisces-Ascendant 22-26 with Mars 7-29; Cancer-Jupiter (R) 1-37 and Uranus (R) 2-27; Libra-Neptune 5-7, Moon 4-56 and Saturn 26-19; Scorpio-Venus 15-34; Sagittarius-Rahu 12-16; and Capricorn-Sun 2-2 and Mercury 15-26.

are in the 9th. His 7th is aspected by Mars and its lord by Saturn. His wife had Saturn and Moon in the 8th aspected by Mars. They are to be separated.

The second charts have the same Nadi and the same Rajju. The Kutas give sixteen points. On these points one may not recommend these. The Navamsa Lagna of the girl has the boy's in its 12th. The girl has Mars in the 8th from the Moon. The boy's 7th house is aspected by Saturn who is afflicted by Mars. The girl's 7th lord is aspected by Saturn. The Moon and Rahu afflict her 4th. Some of the rules apply here. There is only marital discord between the two.

2. Husband: 1944.12.7. Rasi: Virgo-Ascendant 27-57 with Jupiter 2-24 and Neptune 13-2; Scorpio-Mars 14-58 and Sun 21-34; Sagittarius-Mercury 12-20 and Rahu 25-42; Capricorn-Venus 1-45; Taurus-Uranus (R) 17-57; Gemini-Saturn (R) 15-57; and Leo-Moon 13-26.

Wife: 1950.8.30. Rasi: Gemini-Ascendant 3-17 with Uranus 15-24; Cancer-Venus 23-0; Leo-Sun 12-42 and Saturn 27-22; Virgo-Mercury 7-58 and Neptune 22-30; Libra-Mars 18-45; Aquarius-Jupiter (R) 8-52; and Pisces-Moon 8-44 and Rahu 5-11.

The third charts have only the same Nadi. The Kutas give a score of 27. The boy's 7th and 8th lords are in conjunction with Ketu. The girl's 7th lord is with Rahu aspected by Mars. The Kuta score is of no use here. She married, conceived within six months and left her husband. Three years later she joined him and was again separated. His Navamsa has Mars in the 7th, and it is not equal to her Mars (Rasi) in the 2nd from the Moon. His Navamsa has Uranus in the 7th with Mars. The girl's chart has Uranus in the 2nd aspected by Mars.

3. Husband: 1951.11.1. Rasi: Libra-Ascendant with Sun 14-32, Mercury 25-55 and Neptune 27-45; Scorpio-Moon 3-30; Pisces-Jupiter (R) 12-29; Gemini-Uranus (R) 20-5; Leo-Mars 23-10, Venus 28-35 and Ketu 15-3; and Virgo-Saturn 16-13.

Wife: 1958.8.5. Rasi: Gemini-Ascendant 20 with Venus 23-10; Cancer-Sun 18-44 and Uranus 18-35; Leo-Mercury 13-24; Libra-Rahu 1-56, Jupiter 1-30 and Neptune 8-51; Scorpio-Saturn (R) 26-6; Pisces-Moon 18; and Aries-Mars 15-30.

The fourth charts have the same Nadi. The Kuta score is 18. He has Mars and Venus in the 2nd and the girl has these in the 12th. So far so good. His 7th lord is with Rahu in the 12th, while her 7th lord is in the 12th, (not desirable). Her

4. Husband: 1953.2.9. Rasi: Aquarius-Ascendant 2 with Mercury 5; Pisces-Mars 7-31 and Venus 13-23; Aries-Jupiter 19-46; Gemini-Uranus (R) 22; Libra-Saturn (R) 4-5 and Neptune (R) 0-35; Scorpio-Mars 19; and Capricorn-Sun 26-46 and Rahu 19.

Wife: 1959.7.23. Rasi: Virgo-Ascendant 8 with Rahu 12-55; Libra-Jupiter 28-50 and Neptune 10-55; Sagittarius-Saturn (R) 8-37; Aquarius-Moon 13-35; Cancer-Sun 6-12, Uranus 21-48 and Mercury (R) 26-1; and Leo-Mars 8-20 and Venus 16-52.

Navamsa shows Mars and Saturn in the 4th while the 7th lord is in the 12th. Why was she frightened by her husband and her mother-in-law? The answer lies in her Moon. This Moon is aspected by Saturn (lord of 5) and Jupiter (malefic lord of 7) and has Mars and Venus in the 7th.

The 5th charts have the same Kantha Rajju. But the Kuta score is 24. But husband's lords of 6 and 7 are in opposition to Mars. From Chandra Lagna, the lords of 7 and 8 are together aspected by Mars (lord of 6 and 11 from Moon, and of 3 and 8 from Lagna). The girl has Saturn in the 7th. Jupiter's aspect is of no avail. The Lagna lord Mars is with

5. Husband: 1960.12.5. Rasi: Virgo-Ascendant 27-41; Libra-Neptune 16-45; Scorpio-Sun 19-26 and Mercury 2-31; Sagittarius-Jupiter 14-36 and Saturn

23-14; Capricorn-Venus 0-10; Gemini-Moon 8-21 and Mars (R) 23-56; and Leo-Uranus 2-26 and Rahu 17-27.

Wife: 1971.5.7. Rasi: Scorpio-Ascendant 22-28 with Jupiter (R) 10-14 and Neptune (R) 8-39; Capricorn-Mars 8-16 and Rahu 25-52; Pisces-Venus 23-22; Aries-Sun 23-58 and Mercury 0-23; Taurus-Saturn 1-22; and Virgo-Moon 20-45 and Uranus (R) 16-43.

Rahu in the 3rd making her obstinate and perverted. His Navamsa has Saturn in 2 and Uranus in 8. The lord of her Moon-sign is in 6-8 relation with his Moon-sign lord. They are fighting for a legal separation. What happened to the Kuta score?

The sixth charts have the same Rajju with a Kuta score of 12. In addition, the 7th lord is debilitated in 3 and aspected by debilitated 8th lord Jupiter who is with Saturn. From Navamsa he has Mars in the 2nd. The significator is aspected by Saturn and malefic Jupiter. The girl has Kuja

6. Husband: 1961.4.24. Rasi: Taurus-Ascendant 18; Cancer-Mars 0-41, Moon 23-4 and Uranus (R) 28-21; Leo-Rahu 10-55; Libra-Neptune (R) 16-48; Capricorn-Saturn 6-21 and Jupiter 12-18; Pisces-Venus (R) 20-44; and Aries-Mercury 1-36 and Sun 10-21.

Wife: 1961.10.22. Rasi: Aries-Ascendant 9-21; Leo-Uranus 6-20 and Rahu 1-30; Virgo-Venus 12-7; Libra-Sun 5-32, Mercury 8-12, Neptune 17-17 and Mars 20-51; Capricorn-Saturn 9-25 and Jupiter 5-20; and Pisces-Moon 16-49.

Dosha. Mars is in the 7th with debilitated Sun and Mercury (lord of 3, 6). From the Moon Mars and Mercury (lord of 7) are in the 8th. There is marital discord.

The seventh charts give a Kuta score of 24 which has been of no value. The 7th lord of the boy is in the 8th aspected by Saturn from the 6th. The 4th and 6th lords have exchanged signs. The 12th lord (conjugal bed) is with Rahu in the 7th. The girl has Mars in the 7th from the Moon

7. Husband: 1944.5.4. Rasi: Capricorn-Ascendant 25-29; Aries-Venus 5-32, Mercury (R) 18-23 and Sun 20-9; Taurus-Uranus 14-15; Gemini-Saturn 1-8 and Mars 26-48; Cancer-Rahu 8 and Jupiter 24-56; Leo-Moon 28-49; and Virgo-Neptune (R) 8-45.

Wife: 1950.3.20. Rasi: Virgo-Ascendant 4-55 with Mars 9-55, Neptune (R) 23-13 and Ketu 14-14; Capricorn-Venus 22-21; Aquarius-Jupiter 1-36 and Mercury 28-25; Pisces-Sun 6-11 and Moon 27-1; Gemini-Uranus 7-51; and Leo-Saturn (R) 26-51.

aspected by Rahu and the 12th lord. The 7th lord is in the 6th with his enemy aspected by the 12th lord Saturn. The man was in love with another woman and avoided his wife from the first day of his marriage. He seeks divorce. His Navamsa shows the 8th lord in the 7th and the 7th lord debilitated.

The eighth charts give a Kuta score of 22. The boy has a strong Kuja Dosha from Lagna. His Mars is in opposition to Jupiter. This opposition is found to be adverse in actual experience, thus vindicating the view of Yavaneshwara Sphujidhwaja which was explained by Shudraka in his play, Shudraka compared Charudatta with Jupiter opposed to

8. Husband: 1952.6.20. Rasi: Aries-Ascendant 5-17 with Jupiter 18-30; Taurus-Moon 6-31; Gemini-Sun 5-16, Venus 3-54, Mercury 17-51 and Uranus 20-4; Cancer-Ketu 29-47; Virgo-Saturn 15-4 and Neptune (R) 25-45; and Libra-Mars 8-37.

Wife: 1958.4.5. Rasi: Capricorn-ascendant 25-1'2 with Mars 20-23; Aquarius-Venus 4-59; Pisces-Sun 21-22; Aries-Mercury 7-23 and Ketu 8-5; Cancer-Uranus (R) 14-19; Libra-Jupiter 5-3, Moon 2-16 and Neptune (R) 10-38; and Sagittarius-Saturn (R) 2-26.

Mars-like Shakara. His 7th lord is in the 3rd with Mercury (lord of 3 and 6), Sun and malefic Uranus, all aspected by Saturn from the 6th. From the Moon Lagna, the 7th lord is in the 6th and 6th lord is in the 7th opposed to Saturn. The girl's chart shows Mars in the 4th from the Moon and this is not as strong as the boy's Kuja Dosha. Her 7th lord is in the 10th with the 12th lord aspected by the 6th lord Mercury. The boy is after divorce.

Now for a change, look at the ninth charts. The man's 7th lord is in the 4th with his friend the Sun and with Mercury (lord of 5) and Rahu. Debilitated Moon is in the 7th opposed to Saturn, a Yogakaraka from Lagna. The lady's 5th house has a benefic aspect by exalted Saturn. Kuja Dosha is present from the Moon. His Mars is in the 9. Husband: 1942.8.19. Taurus-Ascendant 4 with Uranus 11-15 and Saturn 18-18; Gemini-Jupiter 22-25; Cancer-Venus 10-9; Leo-Sun 3-0, Mars 18-35, Mercury 18-48 and Rahu 11-26; Virgo-Neptune 5-24; and Scorpio-Moon 8-4.

12th from Arudha Lagna. From her Navamsa, Mars is in the 8th causing Dosha-samya. This is neutralization of Kuja Dosha, not a cancellation. His 5th lord is with the lord of the 12th Mars. Her 9th lord is in the 3rd. Her 6th lord in the 5th and the 5th lord is in the 8th. The two are having a happy married life, though they are childless. The Kuta score is 27.

These examples show clearly that the Kuta score is misleading, that Kuja Dosha has no exceptions, and that Navamsa charts have to be carefully evaluated before recommending any alliance.

3. Special points

The significator of the partner is generally found in the sixth or the eighth house. Sun, Moon or Venus of one chart may be found on the arc of the other. The Sun of one may be placed on the Moon of the other, though this is not essential.

Guru in the seventh or aspecting the ruler of the seventh may indicate the death of the partner and a second marriage. The Sun applying to Uranus in a woman's chart sometimes shows the sudden illness or accident to the husband.

Lord of 7 in 5, and of 5 in 7, or the conjunction of these two lords can indicate love marriage or no worldly motives in marriage. Strong malefic aspects, specially from Shani to the fifth and seventh houses indicate celibacy.

Trouble in marriage or sex relation is shown by afflicted Mina 15°, Karka 26°, Kanya 2° and 15°, Simha 4°, Makara 26° and Kumbha 4°.

The eleventh house has also to be considered as it indicates the mental interests, wishes, hopes, aspirations and friendships.

Uranus plays as great a part as Mars in marital relations. Uranus gives unexpected development, accidents, and romantic exploits. He points to the nature of the native's dealings with officials. His influence on the seventh house, on the seventh lord, and on Venus has to be scrutinised.

As Ketu owns Vrischika, Ketu also functions like Kuja in marital affairs. Kuja dosha may have to be extended to Ketu also.

4. Kuja, Ketu and Uranus

Purva Mimamsa system of philosophy has given us some principles of interpretation which are implicitly accepted in jurisprudence and elsewhere. One such principle lays down the sequence of sruti, linga, vakya, prakarana, sthana, and samkhya. Each succeeding one is weaker than the preceeding one. By Sruti, Sabara stated, we have to mean the sacred scripture, statements of the seers, and experience of wise man. The places where Kuja dosha occurs are stated and these have absolute authority like Sruti. Some zealots flaunt before us some exceptions to this rule, and these are given by later writers, and not by those who laid down the original principle. Exceptions do not nullify the original maxim. Here we may note that some of the principles of interpretation given by Purva Mimamsa are codified in the form of maxims or axioms. One such is relevant here. It is "dadhitakranyaya". It is laid down that "all the Brahmanas should be served with curds while Kaundinya should have buttermilk". It does not deny that the poor Kaundinya is a Brahmana. But the fellow deserved buttermilk and not curds, even though he is a Brahmana. The exception does not cancel or negate the original; it only modifies the original in a given case. Likewise the so called exceptions do not cancel the Kuja dosha. They only modify it. This should be borne in mind carefully.

There are some unwritten principles in astrology as in all other branches of knowledge. These are orally transmitted because they are liable to be misinterpreted. One such may be shared with the readers. For a proper interpretation of any chart we have to consider lagna, arudha lagna, and chandra lagna. When it is a problem concerning marriage we have also to consider the position from Dara-pada (arudha of the seventh), and Upapada (arudha of the twelfth), and Venus. When all these are considered, there will be very few charts free from Kuja dosha. It is true, but Kuja dosha does not mean death of the partner always. It may mean temporary or permanent separation because of health or profession, misunderstandings, quarrels, sufferings and the like. As the Buddha said—show me any family where absolute domestic peace prevails all the year round. Mars is said to be exalted in the seventh house of Sri Rama. This position is one of the exceptions listed. For twelve years the couple suffered and for one year they were physically separated. Even when Kuja is in his own in the seventh or eighth the effect remains. A lady with Kuja in the eighth in Scorpio aspected by Guru from the second house, was divorced. Mars in a movable sign in the eighth has made the native a widower when he was barely twenty six. Mrs. Gandhi with Mars in the second for Cancer lagna and with the Sun in the fourth did not enable her husband to live long. What happened to the exception in Leo? Another with Gemini rising had Kuja with Chandra in the second. Debilitated Kuja or Kuja with the Moon or Jupiter is said to be exception. He gave up his wife and became a Sanyasi. Mrs. Bandaranayake has Kuja debilitated in the twelfth. We know all about Troy, said the sirens in Homer's Odyssey. In some examples Kuja is conjunct Guru in the eighth house Leo. He lost his wife within a year of his marriage. A lady with Karka langa has Kuja and Shani in the fourth, and she had numerous love affairs before she got married. Another with unaspected Kuja in the seventh for Mesha lagna became a widow at the age of 35 only. Kuja in the twelfth for Scorpio got her divorced nine years after marriage. A lady had debilitated Guru in lagna and Kuja in Cancer : she was harassed by her husband, and was separated within three years.

Kuja dosha can also delay or deny marriage. Experience and examples have the final say.

It is said that Mars in the seventh in the constellation of the lord of the eleventh will do only good. This could appear for those born in Mesha, Karka, Simha, Kanya, Vrishchika, Dhanush, Makara, Kumbha, and Mina. A rule which is not applicable to nine out of the twelve lagnas cannot be a rule. A rule must have universal validity.

Of late it is fashionable to find exceptions to Kuja dosha in the theory of the subs. The late Mr. Gopala Krishna Rao (Meena) published his Studies in Nadi Astrology between 1932 and 1937 and introduced this theory. He was wise enough to take into consideration only the constellational lords. But as it is flaunted about now, it lands us in an infinite series. If lagna is in Guru-sub Budha., Budha may be in Shukra-sub, Shukra in Chandra, Chandra in Kuja and so on. You have to take the theory to its logical conclusion, and not stop where it suits you. Parashara's mahadasa, antardasa, vidasa, sukshma dasa, and Pranadasa are free from this defect. Any theory can be formulated to explain a past event. But it is better to take a chart, predict in advance, and publish the same in advance. Otherwise any one can say that he or she predicted such and such a thing in advance; and none can prove or disprove it. The law of evidence in such cases is not reliable.

We believe on the basis of our most ancient authorities and experience in the equal house system. The cusp is not the midpoint, but the first point. If Bhavas are to be followed, our ancients followed the method of trisection, not the unscientific Placidian system. We hold to the principle of Kuja dosha as absolutely and universally valid; only the interpretation of this dosha is different in each case, and it depends on the navamsha chart and on matching the charts. Death, divorce, separation, denial or delay of marriage, ill-health and the like are the possible results. Care should be exercised in watching the charts and in evaluating the aspects. We have to accept square, trine, conjunction, opposition, sextile, and semisquare aspects for all planets. Except in the case of the Sun and the Moon, the orb of the aspect extends to eight degrees before and after. The luminaries have an orb of twelve degrees. Moreover, Uranus in many ways functions like Mars in the context of marital life. The astrologer should not try to console or to eye-wash the anxious parents of girls. If he cannot speak out truly, he should observe silence. There are no exceptions to Kuja dosha. This is what we found after 60 years of study of astrology. While matching, if we find similar Kuja dosha the results get modified and never completely cancelled.

Let us note the arudhas of lagna, the seventh house and the twelfth house also while examining Kuja dosha. We will now look at Arudha.

5. Arudha

Arudha lagna is important for predictive purposes. The distance from the lagna to the sign occupied by its lord, both inclusive, is to be counted from that lord to get the Arudha lagna. This principle is given by Jaimini when he said: "Yavadeesasrayam Padam Rikshanam". Though many authorities have ignored the Arudha of the houses 3, 6, 8 and 11, Parashara was clear that the Arudhas have to be taken for all the 12 houses.

सर्वेषामपि भावानां ज्ञेयमेवं द्विज! (Telugu edition by M.K. Sastri, 30.3).

Thus if the lord of the lagna is in the 9th from lagna, the 9th from him is the Arudha lagna. It happens to be the 5th from lagna. Special or specific (Visesha) results are to be predicted from Arudha padas of all the 12 houses. Gautama Samhita, and Uttara Kalamrita mention only eight arudhas. But Parashara and Jaimini appear to include all houses. Arudha Lagna is known as Vijnana (wisdom), Purva (previous birth), Vidhi (duties), Vyanjana (suggestion), Pada, Nimitta (cause), Bhava (family life), Rupa (appearance), Pradesa (place) and arudha. Gautama Samhita gives some specific details.

The arudha of the 2nd house tells us about wealth, clothes, substances regarding food, fortune, speech and family. The arudha of the 4th refers to gardens, wells, friends, progress, happiness, worship, strength and conveyances. The arudha of the 5th refers to tantra, mantra, power, relations with others, children, and Purva Punya. The arudha of the 9th tells us about special prosperity, fortune, generous nature, dharma, good karma, teacher, righteousness, and penance.

The arudha of the 10th refers to profession, authority, war, enjoyment, prosperity, honour, knowledge and the like. The arudha of the 12th refers to marriage and related matters. Most of the yogas are to be predicted from the arudhas of houses 1, 4, 5, 7, 9 and 10.

This general rule about arudha is qualified on two occasions by both Parashara (30.4, 5) and Jaimini. A planet in its own house or in the 7th from it cannot be treated as its own arudha for that house.

This is Parashara. In such a case the 10th from the house becomes its arudha. For example the 12th lord for Mina lagna is in Simha. The arudha for the 12th cannot be Kumbha. It becomes Vrishchika. If a planet is in the 4th itself is the arudha for that sign. Thus for Mina Lagna, the 7th lord is in Sagittarius, 4th from Kanya. The arudha of the 7th (dara pada) is Sagittarius only, and not Mina. These are specially given by Jaimini in his Sutras "Swasthe Darah", and "Suthasthe Janma".

If for a native born in Mesha Lagna Mars is in Cancer, the Arudha Lagna is Cancer only. These restrictions apply only when the lord of the house is in his own sign or in the 7th from it, and when he is in the 4th from that sign. Thus for Mina lagna native, Kuja is in 8, Shukra is in 9, Budha is in 10 and Chandra is in 11. The arudhas of 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7 houses are from lagna onwards the houses Makara, Kumbha, Mina, Mesha, and Dhanus.

Commentators on Jaimini like Nilakantha, Krishnananda and others have given different opinions. Hora Saramsha (Bombay Edn.) states that the lord of a house is in that house or in the 7th from it, that house itself is the arudha of that house. This text does not refer to the Visesha Vidhi (special rule of exception). Therefore some argue that Jaimini has given only examples, and not ordained special rules.

Nilakantha argued that in the aphorism of Jaimini- "Svasthe darah" the word dara refers to the wife and therefore the 7th house. Thus if the lord is in the 4th house, the arudha of the 4th is the 7th. But Jaimini clearly stated that he refers to the houses by the numerals indicated by the word. Here 'da' is 8 and 'ra' is 2. Reversing it we get 28 and dividing it by twelve, we get four as the remainder. 'Swa' gives four Nilakantha has ignored the rule given by Jaimini. As such the aphorism is not an example, but a modification of the original in two special cases. In 'Sutasthe janma' Nilakantha took suta (67 divided by 12=remainder 7) to mean seven the Janma to mean lagna and not (58 divided by 12 = remainder 4) the fourth. He cleverly misinterpreted parts of the sutras. He has not given any authority in favour of his interpretation. The commentary of Durga Prasad Dwivedi is acceptable as against Nilakantha.

Bala Krishnananda Swami states that the second house refers to the wife or husband, the 11th to the elder brothers and sisters, the planet in the 2nd to the partner and so on. His commentary does not fit into the context.

In his commentary as Jaiminiya Padyamrita, Ayodhya Natha has stated the view which we have stated earlier. Somanatha in his Kalpalata interpreted 'Sva' to mean own house. Thus when a planet is in its own house, the fourth from it is its arudha; and when it is in the 7th from that house, the 10th from that house is the arudha of that house.

Somanatha's father Krishna Misra has given us Jyotisha Phala Ratnamala. He argued that if the house is an odd sign, the count for arudha is in the clockwise direction and if it is an even sign, the count is from the Sammukha (opposite) sign. The Sammukha signs for the cardinal or movable signs are the 8th houses and for the fixed signs these are the 6th houses from it. But for even signs we have to find whether that sign or its other sign is stronger; and from the stronger sign the arudha is to be fixed. The count here is clockwise. The arudhas are clockwise or anticlockwise as the signs are odd or even.

For a nativity of Libra the 9th has Budha and Shukra. The Arudha lagna will be Kumbha. For a Taurus native the position of Budha and Shukra is in Mithuna. Then they are in the 2nd and the arudha lagna will be Cancer. Then Budha and Shukra are in the 12th from arudha lagna the latter is an even sign.

Krishna Misra also stated that according to some the arudha is not only from that sign but also from the sign occupied by the lord of that sign. Of these we have to determine the stronger one as per Jaimini's rules and then count. Scorpio is owned by Kuja and Ketu, while Kumbha is owned by Shani and Rahu. If Ketu is stronger than Kuja, and Rahu stronger than Shani, the arudhas are to be counted from Ketu and Rahu respectively. Still the author is clear that this rule applies only to the period of the years given by signs occupied by them.

When the lord of the sign is in it, he says that the fourth from it is its arudha, and if he is in the 7th from it then its 10th is its arudha. The word 'sva' in the first quarter of the first chapter of Jaimini is taken by Somanatha to mean lagna, and in the second quarter of the first chapter he took it to mean the fourth sign. The word "anyatra" was taken to mean the 10th by him.

Raghava Bhatta (1704 AD) interpreted the two special sutras of Jaimini to refer only to the years given by those signs when a planet is in its own sign, that sign gives twelve years. If it is in the 7th from it that sign gives ten years.

In his Jaimini Sutrārtha Pradarsika, Narasimha Suri stated if a sign has its own owner, that very sign is the arudha of that house and it gives twelve years. If that planet is in the 7th from it, that sign gives ten years. In an example of Mesha Lagna given by him, Kuja is in the Makara and the arudha lagna is given as Tula.

Thus we have two different views. The arudhas are counted in the normal way. If a planet is in its own sign or in the 7th from it, that very sign is its arudha. The second view makes the fourth from that sign its arudha. In such a situation we have to go by the majority opinion among the classical authorities. If a planet is in its own sign, that sign is its arudha, if it is in the 4th, the arudha of that is the fourth; if in the 7th, the arudha is the 10th, and if it is in the 10th, the arudha of that sign is the 7th.

Here is enough material for further research.

6. Kuja Dosha

There has been much discussion about Kuja Dosha. In houses 2, 4, 7, 8, and 12 from Lagna, the Moon or Venus it is dreaded. Many exceptions are given in the authoritative texts. Following the maxim "Kujavat Ketuh" we are inclined to apply the same dosha to Ketu also.

First, we note some of the exceptions mentioned by some authorities: (i) No Dosha if Kuja or Mars is in the 2nd identical with the houses of Mercury. (ii) No Dosha if Mars is in the 12th identical with the houses of Venus. (iii) No Dosha in the 4th if it is the own house of Mars. (iv) No Dosha in the 7th if it is Cancer or Capricorn. (v) No Dosha in the 8th if it is owned by Jupiter. (vi) No Dosha if Mars is in Leo or Aquarius. (vii) No Dosha if Mars is conjunct Jupiter or Moon. (viii) No Dosha for the Lagnas owned by the Sun, the Moon, Mars and Jupiter and also for Capricorn. (ix) No Dosha if Mars is in a Kendra or Kona, or if Mars is with Moon, Jupiter or Mercury by aspect or conjunction. (x) From Taurus Lagna Mars in the 12th causes no Dosha. (xi) For Gemini Lagna Mars in 2, 8 or 12 causes no bad effects. (xii) For Virgo Lagna there is no Dosha if Mars is in 2 or 8, (xiii) For Scorpio Lagna there is no Dosha if Mars is in 2, 8 or 11. (xiv) For Aquarius Lagna there is no Dosha if Mars is in 2, 8 or 12.

This list is formidable. It virtually means that there is no Kuja Dosha in any chart. Mrs. Indira Gandhi had Mars in Leo, the 2nd from Lagna and 8th from the Moon. There are many charts in our file and they show that these exceptions have not worked. In 7 or 8, Mars denotes death or separation of the couple under certain conditions. In the 2nd he creates discord in the family, and in the 12th he denies bed comforts for various reasons. In the 4th he denies happiness. The association of Mars with Venus is condemned by Jaimini when he states:

It is always necessary that a person having Kuja Dosha should be married to one having a similar Dosha. This neutralises the Dosha. It does not cancel the Dosha.

Some observe that Kuja Dosha applies only to those born south of the Krishna. Unfortunately for them no planet is partial to any geographical region. The Dharma Sastras have ordained Kumbha Vivaha for girls having Kuja Dosha. These Sastras have ignored the exceptions.

Kuja Dosha has to be examined from Lagna. But Narada Samhita states:

अथ भृगुजवशात् केचिदाहुश्चन्द्रात्।

Some authorities speak of Kuja Dosha from the Moon and also from Venus. The text also states as the author's own opinion.

लग्नाच्चन्द्रात् शुक्रादुक्तस्थानेषु दोषदो भवति।

The Dosha is to be reckoned from Lagna, the Moon and Venus.

The 2nd speaks about happiness and character. The 7th is the house of the partner. The 8th in a woman's chart refers to her mangalya, the well-being of the husband. Of these the 7th and the 8th houses are the most powerful ones. Vachaspathya refers to the 8th house. Mars' association with the 5th can cause miscarriages or loss of children.

Vivaha Vanamala states that Mars in the houses of Mercury or Saturn causes maximum Dosha; in the house of Saturn he is three-quarters malefic; in Jupiter's houses, he is a half malefic; and in his own houses he is one-fourths malefic. This has the support of Narada Samhita.

Deva Kerala has given many exceptions. From a pragmatic standpoint these exceptions are meant only to facilitate marriages. Some have argued that Kuja Dosha has to be examined also from Arudha Lagna, Darapada and Upapada. This is a valid fall out from Jaimini's system of Astrology. If there are malefics in Upapada, or if the Upapada is aspected by malefics, there is death of the partner or renunciation (1.4, 2). If the 2nd from Upapada is associated with Saturn and Rahu, the same result is said to follow (1.4.12). These and other combinations have to be considered also from the 7th from Upapada and from Karakamsha Lagna, according to Jaimini.

Let us consider some charts which clearly prove that there are no exceptions of Kuja Dosha.

Chart 1 Mars is in the 4th house owned by the Sun. She got married in Moon-Mercury. In Rahu-Rahu she lost her husband. Rahu is in the 11th aspected by Mars who is con-

from Arudha Lagna and Darapada. The lord of the 9th is associated with the 8th lord.

In our experience spread over six decades, we have found that the so-called exceptions to Kuja Dosha have not worked. We have to examine both Rasi and Navamsha, because Parashara has stated, नवांशो कलत्राणाम्। Moreover, as Kalyana Varma states, we have also to examine the chart for the time of the first menstruation of the girl. This reveals a good deal about her future marital life.

Shantis for Kuja Dosha are prescribed by our ancients. These include Kumbha Vivaha, Savitri Vrata and Pippala Vrata. Mars is also a form of Bhairava. In Argala Stotra we read भार्या रक्षतु भैरवी।

Durga is called Bhairavi here. Mars is a form of Durga. The Stotra of Durga is another remedy.

Children

1. General

Parashara expounds some interesting principles regarding children. Childlessness, laws of children, and adoption are some of the things he refers to.

Lords of 2, 5, and 11 play an important role. In the case of women, the ninth house has to be considered. We have also to consider the lord of lagna and Guru. The weakness of these houses and their lords can bring about the loss or denial of children. When the lord or the navamsha occupied by the lord of the twelfth is in the eighth along with the afflicted fifth lord, the same result follows. If the lord of the first and fifth houses are afflicted or debilitated, while a barren planet (Shani, Budha, Ketu) occupies the fifth, we have to predict the same.

Houses 5 and 11 are important. The twelfth house, its ruler and the planets therein also indicate them, especially the eldest.

Benefics, Moon, and Neptune will give many children, when they are properly placed. Uranus indicates artificial prevention of conception, as in the cases of persons undergoing vasectomy, tubectomy, laproscopy and family welfare schemes employing tablets and capsules.

Moon and Neptune indicate daughters. The number of children depends on the Moon in the case of men, and on the Sun in case of women. Sun afflicted by Uranus in the charts of women shows miscarriages. Mars in the fifth, with the lord of the fifth, or aspecting the fifth house or its lord also indicates loss of children or miscarriages or both. Mars and Neptune in the fifth or in the eleventh can give rise to still births; and so do Uranus and Neptune in these houses. Any affliction to the fifth house or to its lord from Uranus suggests miscarriages or loss of children.

A person with Aquarius ascending had Mercury and Rahu in the ninth; Mars, Jupiter and Saturn in the eleventh. Here only Saturn and Mercury are in the exact cusps of the houses. Rahu is in exact conjunction with Budha. Budha and Shani are barren. He died at 48 leaving only a widow behind to mourn him. Another has the same ascendant with Shukra and Rahu in the fifth; Guru and Ketu in the eleventh, Shani and Budha in the seventh, and Ravi and Kuja in the sixth. All these associations of the undesirable planets in the fifth, seventh, and eleventh houses have their effect. He is 62 with no child of his own.

When Mars as the lord of the lagna is exalted with Shani and Ravi in the eighth having beneficial aspects, one begets a son after a long time. Shani in the lagna, Guru in the eighth, and Mars in the twelfth, if they have good aspects, are capable of giving a child after a long time has elapsed. When the lord of the fifth is a benefic and is in the Lagna whose lord is a benefic, one begets a son after a long time if Shani, Guru and Budha are in the fifth. Rahu, Ravi, Shukra and Guru should be in an auspicious house if there is to be a child after a long time. Similar results follow when a good planet is in the first, and malefics are in the second and third while the lord of the fifth should be in a benefic sign.

Next we have a series of verses indicating the various combinations that can give rise to adopted children. When Mars and Saturn are in the fifth, the lord of the Lagna is in the house of Budha aspected by Budha, there will be adopted children. If the fifth house is owned by Budha or Shani, and if both Shani and Mandi aspect it or are posited

In it, the same results follow. If the fifth house belongs to Budha and if Budha is in it or aspects it while Shani is the lord of the ascendant, there is a possibility of adopting some one. When the lord of the fifth is Shani and is aspected by Kuja and by the benefics, and when the lord of the ascendant is in the navamsa of Budha, then also we should predict the same. If the lord of the seventh is in the eleventh, lord of the fifth is with benefics, and if Budha or Shani is in the fifth, then there will be adopted children. When the lord of the fifth is in the ninth and the lord of the ninth is in the tenth and when the fifth is aspected by Shani, then too the same prediction has to be given. When Shukra, the lord of the Lagna, is exalted, and when Shani is in the fifth and when Guru is very strong, we can arrive at the same conclusion. When the Moon, as the lord of the fifth, is in Lagna while Shani is in the fifth, one can have adopted children if Guru is very strong. When Budha, the lord of the Lagna, is in the fifth aspected by Kuja, one has adopted sons if Guru is in the eleventh. When Guru, the lord of the Lagna, is in the fifth aspected by Shani, one has adopted children if the lord of the fifth is in one of the houses of Kuja.

A gentleman was born with Sagittarius rising. Guru and Shani are in the Lagna. Budha is in the third, Ravi and Shukra in the fourth, Kethu in the sixth, Kuja in the ninth and the Moon in the eleventh. This person adopted a son and a few years after the adoption he had his own children. Adoption was necessitated by Guru and Shani, while the birth of his own children came from the peculiar position of Kuja, though Kuja is aspected by Budha. This accounts both for the delay and for adoption. A similar set of incidents overtook another person who was born when Capricorn was rising with Moon in the seventh, Rahu in the ninth, and the remaining six planets in the eleventh house.

Another section of the sixteenth chapter in Parashara's text deals with the loss of children. The losses here are explained as being due to some curse or other heaped on the individual in his previous birth. This might appear to be a fantastic one for those who disbelieve in the concept of rebirth. But a close examination of empirical data will dispel these suspicions. We shall enquire into the matter after enumerating the principles laid down by Parashara. The great serpent, father, mother, brother, maternal uncle, teacher, wife and the spirits of those to whom proper funeral rites are not performed - all these are taken into consideration as capable of cursing the individual.

(1) Rahu in the fifth house owned by Kuja and aspected by Kuja; (2) lord of the fifth with Rahu while Shani is in the fifth with some association or other with the Moon; (3) lord of the lagna with Mars, lord of fifth debilitated, and Guru in conjunction with Rahu; (4) lord of the fifth in a malefic sign, Rahu in lagna, and Guru in conjunction with Kuja; (5) Rahu and Mandi in the lagna, Kuja in his own navamsha, and the lord of the fifth is Budha; (6) Rahu in the fifth which is a house of Mars and is in conjunction with or is aspected by Budha; (7) When the lords of the lagna and the fifth are weak and when Ravi, Shani, Kuja, Budha and Rahu are in the fifth; (8) Rahu with the lord of the lagna, lord of the fifth with the Sun, and Guru aspected by Rahu — in all these cases there will be loss of children due to the curse of the great serpent. This can be expiated by installing an image of the serpent.

(1) Ravi in the fifth debilitated, and hemmed in between malefics and having the navamsha of Shani; (2) Ravi, as lord of the fifth, in one of the trines in association with malefics and hemmed in between malefics; (3) Guru in Leo, lord of the fifth with the Sun, and malefics in the first and the fifth; (4) the weak lord of the fifth with the Sun, and malefics in the first and the fifth houses; (5) the lord of the ninth in the fifth or the lord of the fifth in the ninth, while the first and the fifth houses are with malefics; (6) Mars, as the lord of the ninth, in association with the lord of the fifth while malefics are in the first, fifth and ninth houses; (7) lord of the ninth in a malefic sign, Guru in a malefic house, and the malefic lord of the lagna in the fifth; (8) Ravi, Kuja, and Shani in the fifth, malefics in the lagna, and the lord of the fifth with Rahu; (10) lord of the twelfth in the lagna while the lord of the eighth is in the fifth and the lord of the ninth is in the eighth; (11) lords of the ninth and the sixth in the fifth while Guru is with Rahu – In all these cases the loss of children should be explained as being due to the curse of the father. This curse is expiated by what is known as Gayasraddha.

(1) Shani in the eleventh, malefics in the fourth, and the Moon debilitated in the fifth; (2) lord of the fifth in a malefic sign, lord of the lagna in debilitation, and the Moon in association with malefics; (3) lord of the fifth in a malefic sign, malefics in the lagna and the fifth and Moon in the navamsha of a malefic; (4) lord of the fifth in a malefic sign, Guru in 5 or 9, and the Moon is with Shani, Rahu and Kuja; (5) Mars as the fourth lord in conjunction with Shani and Rahu, while Ravi and Chandra are in 1 or 4; (6) lords of lagna and the fifth in 6, lord of 4 in 8, and lords of 9 and 12 are in lagna; (7) lords of 6 and 8 in 4 or 1, lord of 4 in 12, and Guru and Moon with malefics in 5; (8) lagna hemmed in between malefics, waning Moon in 7, Rahu and Shani are in 4 or 5; (9) Lord of 12 in 5, lord of 5 in 12, while the Moon and the lord of 4 are in 6 or 8; (10) Lagna as Cancer, Kuja and Rahu in lagna, Moon and Shani in 5; (11) Houses 1, 5, 6, and 8 having Kuja, Rahu, Ravi and Shani, while the lords of 1 and 4 are in a malefic sign. (12) Guru with Kuja and Rahu in 12, while the Moon and Shani are in 5.

In all these cases loss of children arises from a mother's curse. This can be expiated by Setu snana.

(1) Lord of 3 in 5 with Kuja and Rahu, while the lords of 1 and 5 are in 8; (2) Kuja and Shani in lagna and 5, lord of 3 in 9, Guru is debilitated; (3) both lagna and the fifth are in papakartari while the lords of these two must be in a malefic house with Guru; (4) lord of 10 in 3, benefic lord of the fifth is with malefics, and Mars is in 5; (5) the fifth being owned by Budha, there should be Shani and Rahu, while the lord of 7 is in 6, lord of the first in the third, lord of the third in the fifth and malefics in the first, third and fifth houses; (7) lord of the third in the twelfth, Guru with Rahu and Mandi in the fifth; (8) lord of the twelfth in the fifth with the lord of the third, while Mars and Saturn are in the eighth. In all these cases the loss of children is due to the curse of the brother and it can be expiated by the holy waters of the rivers and by the installation of the Asvattha Vriksha.

(1) The fifth, which is a house of Budha, should have Guru along with Kuja and Rahu while Shani should be in the lagna; (2) lords of the first and the fifth in the fifth along with Budha and Kuja, while Shani should be in the first; (3) lord of the fifth in the fifth, Shani in the seventh, and the lord of the lagna with Budha; (4) lord of the sixth in the fifth along with the lord of the twelfth while the Moon, Mars and Mercury should be in the fifth – in all such cases the loss of children is due to the curse of the maternal uncle; and it is expiated by Setusnana and Vishnupratishtha.

(1) Rahu in the house of Guru, the lord of the ninth in 12, while in the fifth there should be Guru, Kuja and Shani; (2) lord of the ninth in the fifth, and the lord of the fifth in the twelfth; (3) Guru, Kuja, and Rahu in the eighth; (4) lord of the ninth in debilitation, lord of the twelfth in the fifth associated with Rahu; (5) Guru in debilitation, Rahu in the first or the fifth, and the lord of the fifth in the eighth; (6) lord of the fifth in the house of Guru, malefics in the eighth, while the lord of the fifth is the Sun or the Moon; (7) Shani in his own navamsha, Guru in conjunction with Kuja, while the lord of the fifth in the twelfth; (8) Shani with Guru in the lagna, Rahu in the ninth – in all these cases the losses of the children are to be traced to the curse of the preceptor. This curse can be expiated by Chandrayana, Dhenudana and Annadana.

There is yet another group of cases where the loss of children is traced to the curse of the wife. Now let us focus our attention on a few instances where some of these Yogas are found and where the required expiation has borne fruit. There is a gentleman born when Aries was rising with Guru, Chandra and Rahu. Ravi and Budha are in the fifth, Shukra in the fourth, Kuja in the tenth, and Shani in the sixth. A glance at the horoscope convinces us that this falls under the first group. This gentleman lost quite a good number of children and the installation of the serpent gave him at last a son and two daughters. These are alive. All those born earlier to the installatin of the serpent are no more. Another gentleman was born when the early degrees of Leo were rising. Kuja was in the second, Shukra in the ninth, Budha in the tenth, and Shani in the twelfth. Ravi, Chandra, Kethu and Guru are at the fag end of the tenth house. This has inevitably resulted in the death of three or four children even before they were three years of age. Very recently he listened to the astrological advice and performed the Sarpa Pratishtha. As a result there was a child born later on and the child is alive, hale and healthy. In this manner a series of examples can be multiplied. And diligent students of astrology should study a good numebr of the horoscopes of persons that suffer and groan under the heavy weight of this particular calamity.

Now we shall consider a few more cases. (1) The lord of the 7th in the fifth, while Shani is in the house owned by that planet in whose "amsa" is found the lord of the seventh; (2) lord of the fifth in a 'nasa rasi; (3) lord of the seventh in a nasa rasi, lord of the sixth in the fifth, and Guru afflicted; (4) Venus in the fifth, lord of the seventh in the eighth, and Guru afflicted; (5) second house afflicted, lord of the seventh in nasa rasi, and malefics in the fifth; (6) Venus in the ninth, lord of the seventh in nasa rasi, and malefics in the first and fifth houses; (7) while Venus is the lord of the ninth, lord of the fifth in satru rasi, lords of the first and seventh afflicted, and Guru afflicted; (8) the fifth house being the house of Venus should be occupied by Rahu and Moon, while malefics are in the twelfth, first and second houses; (9) Venus and Saturn in the seventh, lord of the eighth in the fifth house owned by Mars, and Rahu in the Ascendant; (10) Mars in the second, Jupiter in the twelfth, and Venus being in the fifth should be associated with Rahu or Ketu; (11) lords of the second and seventh in the twelfth,

Mars and Saturn in the fifth and first, and Guru afflicted; (12) Rahu, Saturn and Mars should be respectively in the first, fifth and ninth houses, while the lords of the fifth and seventh should be in the eighth – in all these cases the loss of children is to be traced to the curse given by the wife.

This type of curse is a little intriguing. How can a wife, treated as 'patni' curse her husband? This is possible only when there are serious lapses on the part of the husband. This curse, as the general tenor of the argument implies, goes back to the previous birth; and it can be expiated only by adopting a girl and giving her away in marriage to someone. There are cases of persons who remained childless till they actually performed the marriage of their adopted daughters. These cases amply convince us that there must be a causal relationship between such marriages and their later begetting own children. A few illustrations will make this point pretty clear.

Chart 1 is that of a gentleman who is of a very good nature. He is amiable and good natured. Shani is on the Ascendant and Rahu is found to be in the Lagna bhava. Mars is situated in the ninth being aspected by Budha and Guru. These circumstances led to the inevitable fact of his begetting children after he has adopted a girl and got her married.

Sun Venus		Kethu
Mercury	1
			Mars
Jupiter Saturn Lagna	Rahu	Moon

The second chart is more interesting on this particular point.

Moon			Venus Rahu
Lagna	2		Sun Mars
			Mercury Saturn
Jupiter Ketu

The lord of the fifth is Budha and he is posited in the seventh along with another barren planet Shani. Venus is afflicted in the fifth house with Rahu, while Guru is thus afflicted in the eleventh. The lord of the seventh is afflicted in the sixth, while the second house has the lord of the sixth. This gentleman performed and helped many to perform the marriages of their daughters. And yet he had no children. Note the twelfth and the seventh houses. The fifth house is afflicted, though it has a good aspect from Jupiter. But Jupiter himself is afflicted. And we have to say here that his Karma of the previous births has been so strong that he cannot have any children. This is the only rational explanation that I can offer; and I am sure that in his life to come he will have plenty of children.

Take the third chart and it offers an interesting career. He is a gentleman--crook at times. Lord of the fifth is in the twelfth in association with Kethu. The Moon is further afflicted by Mars, who in his turn is afflicted by Saturn. The Ascendant is possessed of the lord of the eighth and the third, and is aspected by the lord of the twelfth. From Chandra Lagna, the positions of the planets are still worse; and the gentleman is childless. He tried to adopt many a time and he failed consistently. There is another gentleman who was born when Capricorn was rising, with Mars, Saturn, Jupiter and Rahu in the eleventh. He adopted a boy and a girl, got the girl married, and then had his own children. Of course his own children could not remain alive for long due to certain other factors.

Venus Lagna	Mercury	Sun	Saturn
Moon Kethu	3
			Mars Rahu
			Jupiter

There is one more class of childlessness enumerated by Parashara. (1) Sun and Saturn in the fifth, the waning Moon in the seventh, and Rahu and Guru in Lagna and in the twelfth; (2) Shani who is the lord of the fifth must be in the twelfth, Kuja in Lagna, and Guru is in nasa rasi; (3) malefics in Lagna, Sun in the twelfth, Saturn in the fifth, lord of the fifth in the eighth; (4) Rahu in Lagna, Saturn in the fifth, and Guru in nasa rasi; (5) Rahu, Shukra and Guru in Lagna, Moon in association with Saturn, and the lord of Lagna in a good sign; (6) Rahu in Lagna, Saturn in the fifth being afflicted by Mars; (7) Guru in debilitation, lord of the fifth afflicted by a planet in debilitation; (8) Saturn in Lagna, Rahu in the fifth, Sun in the eighth, and Mars in the twelfth; (9) Lord of the seventh in an evil sign, Moon in the fifth, and Lagna having Saturn and Mandi; (10) Lord of the sixth in the fifth along with Venus and Saturn, and Guru in nasa rasi—in all these cases the loss of the children or the absence of children is due to the curse given by a 'Preta'. This is expiated by 'Vishnu Sraddha', 'Rudra Sutra' and 'Brahmamurthidana'. Such cases appear in the lives of those who have suddenly taken to a religious way of life.

These instances go to prove sufficiently the continuity of human life from past births to future births. The transmigration of the souls is a cardinal doctrine of the Indian faiths; and in the face of all this evidence, it is no use brushing it aside. There is a good deal in Indian astrological thought which needs investigation and systematization; and this can be achieved by a systematic collection of the principles and finding their application in the actual horoscopes of individuals.

2. Different Kinds of Children.

Kalyana Varma discussing the problem of children in his 'Saravali' has given an important verse which enables us to predict about a modern problem. It is the problem of artificial insemination, the so called Test Tube Babies. He calls them 'Kritrima' (artificial), the verse is :

सप्तमभागे कौजे सौरयुते पंचमे सदा भवने।

कृत्रिमपुत्रं विन्द्वाच्छेषग्रहदर्शान्मुक्ते ॥ 34.30 ॥

We paraphrase the conditions laid down here. The saptamamsa (one-seventh part of the cusp) of the fifth house is to be owned by Mars; it should be occupied by Saturn; and it should not be aspected by other planets. Then there is an artificial son. One may interpret this to mean an adopted child. This cannot be accepted. Earlier he gave combinations for 'aurasa' (one's own), 'Kshetraja' (from his own wife by another) probably 'devara', 'datta' (adopted), and krita (purchased) sons or daughters. Next he came to kritrima (artificial). He insists on Saturn being in the saptamsa of the fifth house. We can offer a liberal interpretation by stating that Saturn's aspects on this is also enough, if other planets do not aspect it.

All these are excluded from the children born of clandestine love or sex. These exclusions are called by the author 'bijaja' (born to a person from an unmarried woman), 'gudhotpanna' (born to his wife from a person living in the same house, appanindha (a child deserted by its parents and brought up by the native), punarbhuva (child of a woman by her second husband), 'Kanina' (child of an unmarried girl), sahodha (child of a woman who was pregnant at the time of marriage), and the child one has from his servant maid. Thus 'Kritrima' refers only to artificial insemination.

Since this kind of pregnancy arises also from injecting the sperm of another (known or unknown) person. Let us see the condition for having a Kshetraraja child (a child born to one's own wife from another). The verse is :

सौरर्क्षे सौरगणो बुधदृष्टो गुरुकुलजार्कदग्धीनः ।

क्षेत्रजपुत्रं जनयति बौधोऽपि गणो रविजदृष्टः ॥ 34.28 ॥

The fifth house should be owned by Shani. The shadvargas of Saturn should be aspected by Budha. The Sun, Mars and Jupiter should not aspect these. Similarly the fifth house should be owned by Budha, and Budha's shadvargas have to be aspected by Saturn, and these are not to be aspected by Sun, Mars and Jupiter.

It is difficult to illustrate these principles since in the case of a chart of a test-tube baby we did not have the chart of the father. Still from the ninth house from lagna or the Sun we will make an attempt. The child was born at 10-47 P.M. (G.M.T) on July 24, 1978. Lat 53.30N, Long 2.10W. Balance of Budha dasa at birth 0 years, 11 months, 14 days. The ninth house (house of father) is Dhanush. Though the ninth bhava falls in Vrishchika 25°19'. We take the degree of M.C. which is 17° 54'. This is because Parashara observed that the tenth house refers to the father "Pitrustray Byoma sthanatnirikhyayet"

The saptamsa of Dhanush 17° 54' falls in Aries ruled by Mars. The saptamsa of the fifth from it is the saptamsa of Mesha 10° 8' is Mithuna ruled by Budha.

The saptamsa of the fifth from M.C. is aspected by Mars. This is contrary to the rule laid down by Kalyana Varma. We have to take the saptamsa chart from the house (M.C.)

indicating the father. This is given. Here the saptamsa of M.C. falls in Mesha. The saptamsa of the fifth from M.C. shows Mithuna lagna. Mesha shown the fifth from it aspected by Shani, Budha and Guru. If we take Mithuna as required by the text (it is the lagna of the fifth from M.C. rising in saptamsa), the owner is with Shani, and the fifth from it has only the aspect to Mars, possibly the aspect of Mars explains the short life of the child.

Following the equal house system, the tenth is Makara 10° 8'. In saptamsa the rising sign is Virgo, from here the fifth is owned by Saturn. The Shadvargas of Shani are – Rasi Simha, Hora-Simha, Drekkana-Simha, Saptamsa-Kanya, Navamsa-Mithuna, Dwadasamsa-Vrishchika, and Trimsamsa Kumbha. Here only two fall in Budha's house.

Let us take the vargas of the 5th house from the saptamsa of the 10th house which rises in Kanya. The others are Karka, Vrishabha, Kanya, Mesha, Vrishabha and Kanya. Here three fall in Budha's houses.

The vargas of Shani have Budha in Rasi, Hora and Drekkana; Budha aspects the Trimsamsa and he owns Saptamsa. Five are associated with Budha, of which one also is aspected by Guru. The child is a kshetraja.

The vargas of the fifth house from the saptamsa of the tenth show Budha as the owner of three vargas though in these vargas we find Kuja and Rahu. Two vargas are aspected by Shani only. The other is unaspected. More research is needed to establish firmly the validity of Kalyana Varma's principle.

There are children begotten by the parents, besides those adopted or purchased. There are cases of denial of children. Apart from these four varieties, there are nine more varieties of children mentioned by Kalyana Varma in his Saravali (34.26 to 38). The principles that determine the variety were given by the author. These have to be explained and examined in order to find out their validity. Sometimes we may have to amend these principles to fit into the known cases.

1. There is a child called kshetraja who is born to one's own wife from an outsider, or to one's own husband from a different woman. The fifth house has to be owned by Shani. The shadvargas of Shani have to be aspected by Budha, and not by the Sun, Mars and Jupiter. Or the 5th house owned by Budha should have Budha's shadvargas aspected by Shani, and not by the Sun, Mars, and Jupiter. This applies to the ascendants Virgo, Libra, Taurus and Aquarius. In Chart 5 Shani is in Kanya Vargottama. The dvadasamsa is occupied by Budha. Kuja aspects the first two and Guru aspects the last and also the Trimsamsa. The fifth is owned by Shani and is unaspected. If we take the orb of eight degrees the aspects of Kuja and Guru do not fall. The native has extra-marital relations with some men. In chart 6 the 5th lord is aspected by Shani who aspects also the hora and drekkana of Budha. The navamsa, dvadasamsa, and is in his own house aspected by Guru. Kuja aspects 1/9. Shani aspects 1/2 and 1/12. Budha is in 1/3 and aspects 1/30. His wife is in love with his elder brother and begot children by him.

2. Next we have a Kritrima putra, an artificial child. It can refer to insemination as in the case of test-tube babies. The Saptamasma of the 5th should be owned by Mars and occupied by Shani. It is not to be aspected by any. In Chart 8th 1/7th of the 5th house falls in Dhanush occupied by Mars and is unaspected. Since the lagna is at the very end Case No. 8 : Date of birth - 6.8.1986. Cancer - Moon 26.37, Ravi 19.56, Budha 2.42; Leo - M.C. 8.44; Virgo - Ketu 29.41, Shukra 4.45; Scorpio - Shani 9.24, Lagna 29.43; Sagittarius - Kuja (R) 18.0; Aquarius - Guru (R) 28.13; Pisces - Rahu 29.41.

we have to take it to be Dhanush, the 1/7th falling in Mesha and unaspected. In chart 9, the 1/7th of the fifth house has Jupiter in it. On the basis of the equal house system the 1/7th is Tula aspected by Shani and Guru. These two, are test-tube babies. The rule has to be amended after examining the Saptamsa chart.

Case No. 9 : Date of birth - 24.7.1978. Aries - Lagna 10.8; Gemini - Guru 29.9; Cancer - Ravi 10.9; Leo - Shukra 23.17, Shani 7.48, Budha 6.50; Virgo-Kuja 1.59; Sagittarius - M.C. 17.45; Pisces - Ketu 7.38, Moon 29.12.

Such a one for chart 8 shows Mars in the 5th from 1/7th of the fifth house, aspected by Shani and Guru. The 1/7th of chart shows the lagna and the 1/7th of the 5th house falling in Mithuna aspected by Kuja and Shani.

3. Next we have bijaja child. This is a child born to one's own wife, not by himself but by another. Also it refers to a child born to him from another's wife. One of the Vargas of the 5th should belong to Shani, be occupied by the Sun and be aspected by Mars. In chart 3, the 5th house is owned by Shani. The other conditions are not fulfilled. In chart 10, the 5th is owned by Shani-Rasi, drekkana, navamsa and 1/12,

More extensive investigation by competent scholars of astrology is needed to prove the validity or otherwise of the principles laid down by Kalyana Varma. We may have to interpret these principles liberally and also amend them in the light of the known cases. Of particular interest are the principles governing Kritrima and Kshetraja children. The former can be of greater help in determining surrogate mothers and test-tube babies. Instead of generalising as para-jata (born not of the real parent), Kalyana Varma has given us the possible varieties of children. It is upto the scholars to apply these principles and to test their validity.

3. Jupiter and Children

Jupiter in the fifth house is said to deny children since as the significator of children he destroys the house of progeny on the principle of "karako bhava nasaya". Mrs. Mridula Trivedi has been spearheading this theory today with her almost convincing argument. We have yet to cross astrologers who will argue that Jupiter as the significator of wealth will destroy it if he is in the second, the house of finance. Let us see two ancient and what one modern authority have to say on this.

Jataka Parijata states "alpatmajah suragurau sutarasi yate" (8-73). When Jupiter is in the fifth the native has a few sons. By implication, he will have more daughters. Children are not denied. In 'How to Judge a Horoscope' Dr. B.V. Raman observes that Guru in the fifth gives "a number of children" (1.227) Analysing chart 101 (P.254) that the fifth house is Aquarius and it is occupied by Jupiter Putrakaraka and hence bad". While analysing chart 108 (P-262), he did not try to bring out the effect of Jupiter in the fifth, but emphasised the aspect of Mars and the Moon from the eleventh. There is an implicit self-contradiction in the two statements of Dr. Raman. Vaidyanatha has rejected the view that the karaka destroys the house signifying that very karakatva. We accept his view as a sound one.

Parashara gives the following combinations for having children. (1) Ravi, Rahu, Budha, in the fifth while Guru is well associated. (2) fifth lord in a benefic sign with a benefic aspect while Jupiter is in a kendra. (3) Interchange of the first and fifth lords, when Guru is in a kendra or kona. (4) The lord of the fifth or Guru in the fifth, aspected by or associated by benefics. (5) A very strong Guru in the fifth, while the lord of lagna is also strong. These are some of the many combinations given in chapter 16 (16.109-123). The last two combinations refer to Guru in the fifth house; and Parashara blesses such a native with many children (Bahu Putra).

For childlessness the combinations given by Parashara are many. Some of these may be cited : – (1) Conjunction of the lords of 2, 5 and 7 in malefic amsas and with malefics. (2) When Guru and the lords of 1, 5 and 7 are all weak. (3) Lord of the fifth in a malefic shashtyamsas. (4) Lord of 1 and 5 in evil houses while Guru is debilitated, and a eunuch is in the fifth. (5) Guru in an evil shashtyamsa and in the fifth while the lord of the fifth is in the house of destruction (16.124.128). Then he gives combinations for the delayed birth of children and so on. Our main problem is the relation of Guru to the fifth house in connection with the problems of having and not having children.

Without denying completely the arguments advanced by Mrs. M. Trivedi we take up some of the charts advanced by her to see whether Guru in the fifth denies or destroys the children. The present writer has exalted but retrograde Guru on the 22nd degree in the fifth, opposed to the Moon on the 20th degree in Capricorn. He has eight living children and one only dead. The daughters are five and the sons are four (including the dead one). Vaidyanatha correctly spoke of more daughters by implication. All these children are well educated, well settled in life, and prosperous in material and spiritual ways as well. This personal experience compels the present writer to question the total validity of Mrs. M. Trivedi's connection. The attempt is not to reject here arguments in toto, since she is one of the few really successful research scholars in astrology today in India.

In a male chart an exalted Guru in the fifth aspected by the Moon and Venus from the Eleventh, by Mars from the second, and by Saturn in the eighth we notice that native had only daughters. In another chart where Cancer rises with Mars and Saturn, the native has Moon, Venus, Jupiter and Ketu with fifth. Here it was not the fifth, Guru who denied children, but weak Moon and debilitated with fifth lord. In a woman's chart the ninth has Guru, Kuja and Ketu offered to the Moon and Rahu from Aquarius, while the Sun and Mercury are in the twelfth. Since in a woman's chart the ninth is the house of children, the ninth Guru gave her two sons and four daughters. Again Vaidyanatha is proved correct. Here Kuja aspected by Rahu would have destroyed some children, but his exchange of house with the Sun prevented it. This distinction between the fifth house of a male chart and the ninth of a woman's chart as signifying children, appears to have been ignored by the astrologers who find fault with the fifth Guru in a lady's chart.

We turn to have a second look at some of the charts presented by Mrs. M. Trivedi in a recent valuable study. The first chart is of a lady whose Asc-Aries, 3-Moon, 4-Uranus, 6-Venus, Rahu, 7-Neptune, Kuja, 8-Ravi, Budha (R), Guru, 9-Shani, 12-Ketu. Here Guru is innocent, the ninth has a eunuch. The seventh lord debilitated is with Rahu in a eunuch's house; and the seventh has the dangerous Kuja and Neptune combine. Any affliction to the house of children by Kuja and Neptune jointly can result in still born children. Here the denial of children is due to Shani in the ninth, and to Neptune in the ninth from navamsha lagna squaring Mars. We cannot blame Guru. In the second chart Asc-Taurus, 3-Shukra, 4-Ravi, Budha, 5-Ketu, 6-Neptune, 7-Shani (R), Guru (R), 20-Ketu, Chandra. The girl is childless because a eunuch is in the ninth squaring Neptune, Guru is debilitated. Lords of 1st and 5 are not well placed because Rahu and Uranus (3.25) are with them. The fourth combination given by Parashara applies here. Debilitated and retrograde Guru in the ninth is only a part cause. Moreover, Saturn is weakest in Capricorn as per the constellational zodiac.

The third chart Asc. Cancer Shani (R), 2-Nep (R), 4-Ketu, Guru, 5-Chandra, Shukra, 6-Kuja, 7-Budha, Ravi, 11-Ura (R), Rahu. Here Guru and Ketu are afflicted by Rahu and Uranus. The fifth lord is trine to retrograde Neptune, both being afflicted by the eunuch. He had no children. As per a Pre-Varahamihira view Guru is not at all strong in the house of Mars. Here again Guru alone cannot be blamed. The fourth chart is that of a girl whose Asc-Cancer, 2-Rahu, Uranus, 3-Ravi, 4-Neptune, Shukra, Budha, 6-Shani, Guru, 8-Ketu, 11-Chandra, 12-Kuja. This girl is said to be sterile. The ninth lord is with a eunuch and is opposed to Mars. Here Shani and Kuja denied children, not Guru who is in his mula trikona. Shani is also the lord of the seventh and the eighth. The significator Venus is conjunct Neptune and malefic Budha. The fifth chart is that of a lady who has no children and she is fiftyseven, Asc-Capricorn with Kuja and Budha, 2-Shukra, Ravi, 3-Uranus, 4-Rahu, 5-Guru, 8-Neptune (R), 10-Ketu, 11-Chandra 12-Shani. Here again we cannot blame Guru, since in a woman's chart we have to look to the ninth for children. The ninth is afflicted by Shani and Uranus and by malefic Guru. The ninth lord is with the exalted incendiary Mars in Lagna. The eighth house is again afflicted by Mars and Neptune. These and other charts convince us that Jupiter's presence in the house of children is not in principle an indication of children denied.

For some unknown reason Venus in the fifth appears to give more sons than daughters. Malefic aspects between the Sun and Mars give few children. Good aspects between the Sun and Saturn give worthy sons; and malefic aspects between these are very bad for the first child. Malefic association of the Moon and Saturn in a male chart can make the wife sterile. Malefic relation between Mercury and Saturn appears to favour childlessness or to bring about worries through them. Mars and Neptune in the fifth may give still births.

Jupiter as karaka denies children if he is in the fifth. Then he should destroy wealth if he is in the second. Similar argument can be applied to the other significators in the concerned houses. For Saturn we are asked to make an exception; and so for Venus. What sin is committed by the other planets and the luminaries? Let us not blame the virtuous, spiritual, religious and benefic Jupiter for childlessness. Moreover our shastras also speak of seven kinds of children.

4. Kuja and Guru

There is a maxim that a significator (karaka) in the house signifying it, destroys that house Karako Bhava Nasaya. Exception is given to Venus (wife or husband) and Saturn (longevity). This maxim is repeated ad nauseum. One can question the validity of this rule. Jupiter as the significator of wealth is not found to be destroying wealth when posited in the 2nd. Does Mercury destroy the educational career if he is in the 4th? Mars in the 6th does not destroy the collaterals, nor does Saturn in the 10th destroy service. There are many instances of persons having Jupiter in the 5th blessed (or cursed, as per the family planning adepts) with many children. Mars does not deny or destroy or abort the progeny. Much is also said of the relation between Mars and Jupiter with regard to the birth of children.

Masculine planets and masculine signs, feminine planets and signs, and neutral planets and signs – all these have to be taken into consideration while examining the house of children. The aspects and conjunctions of the planets, the position of the planets in the Navamsa, the 5th house and its lord, Jupiter and the 5th from him, the 9th house and its lord – all these are to be reckoned with before pronouncing any judgement.

We take up the question of children under various heads – denial, adoption, childbirth after adoption, abortions and still births, late births, only sons, only daughters, both sons and daughters, and afflicted children.

Omitting the system of Jaimini, we give a brief resume of the earlier views before examining the charts. Jataka Parijata considers the 5th house and Jupiter for predicting about one's children (13.1). Much will depend on the friendly or inimical nature of relations between the lords of the 1st and the 5th (13.3). For women the 9th is the house of children (16.5). Sanketa Nidhi clearly states that children are to be divined from the Saptamamsa (2.27); and it is based on Parashara's statement - Putrapoutradhikanam vai chintanam Saptamamsake. (3.104). Merely from the position of the planets in the 5th or the 9th house we should not jump to a conclusion. Likewise we have to consider the 5th house also from Jupiter (S.N.3.36). Saptamamsa plays an important part. A native had exalted Jupiter in the 5th opposed to the Sun and the Moon. His Saptamamsa chart shows Mercury in the 5th house Cancer, while its lord is with Mars and Venus in the 9th. He had accordingly more daughters (Moon, Mercury, Venus) than sons; and because of the association of Mars with the 5th lord, and the aspect of Mars on Jupiter in the 4th, he lost one son also. This Jupiter in Saptamamsa is in opposition to Saturn. The natal chart does not make the position as clear as the Saptamamsa chart.

1. Denial: Let us now consider the combinations that deny children. Our main emphasis is on the roles of Mars and Jupiter in relation to children. The authorities from Parashara downwards have given us valuable principles, hints and clues. We take up some of them. The aspect of Mars and Saturn on the 5th denies children, says Vaidyanatha (J.P. 13.10). Other yogas given by Vaidyanatha for the denial of children are : (a) the lord of the 7th in the 5th; (b) malefics in 6, 8 and 12 from the 5th (13.12); (c) lords of the 2nd and the 5th being weak, malefics should aspect the 5th (13.15); (d) lord of the Lagna in 6 or 8, while the 5th is associated with malefics, enemies or debilitated ones (13.21). Sanketa Nidhi speaks of the death of children when Mars is in the 5th (4.39). Mars with a malefic in the 5th gives rise to abortions (S.N. 4.44). When the lord of the 12th is in the 5th or in the 11th, there is no happiness of having children; or the native adopts a son. Jatakadesa Marga gives short-lived sons for Mars in the 5th (15.4). But in a later verse this text speaks of children from the second wife for such a Mars (15.5).

Uttara Kalamrita is kindly to Mars and Jupiter. If Mars and Jupiter are in their own or in their exaltation signs or in the corresponding signs, are in trines or angles, and are associated with benefics, there will be sons endowed with long life (6.32-33).

The combinations for the denial of children referring to Mars and Jupiter as given by Parashara are the following; (a) lords of the 1st, 7th and the 5th along with Jupiter should be weak (16.125); (b) Jupiter in a malefic Shasthyamsa and in a malefic 5th house, while the 5th lord is in a malefic sign (16.128).

Analysing these we find the following for the denial of children: In chart 18, the 5th house is afflicted by vargottama

3. The conjunction or exchange of the 5th or its lord with or the 5th lord in 6, 8 or 12 can deny children. This is contrary to the examples we have. In a case of Virgo rising, Jupiter was in the 5th and Saturn in the 7th. The marriage was delayed and he had two sons only.

while its lord is with Mars. These instances clearly show that the denial of children is mostly due to Mars and Saturn. These get additional malefic strength from Uranus. We cannot and should not blame Jupiter, the greater benefic.

II. Children : We now take up combinations given in our texts for many children, sons or daughters or both. According to Vaidyanatha, Jupiter in Pisces gives very few children, in Sagittarius after much difficulty, and in Cancer or Aquarius no children; and these signs are to be the 5th from Lagna and Jupiter should be in them, and the results are those given in the earlier part of this statement (13.30, 21). In a woman's chart few children are indicated when the Moon is in Taurus, Leo, Virgo or Scorpio (16.43). This implies that the 9th house should fall in one of these signs then.

Moon or Mercury in the 5th gives daughters; Jupiter or Venus gives an intelligent and good son (S.N. 4.41). There are few children when Jupiter is in the 5th and many if Venus is likewise placed (J.P. 8.73). In a woman's chart, says Vaidyanatha, malefics in the 4th give many children (16.28). According to Sanketa Nidhi (3.38), if Jupiter owns the 5th house, the first child may not survive. This might mean that he should be in the 5th also. Jatakadesa Marga gives daughters only for Jupiter in the 5th identical with Cancer (15.5). The text further states that malefics in the 5th from Jupiter give a child late in life (15.7).

The combinations for the late birth of a child are given by Parashara thus: (a) Saturn in Lagna, Jupiter in the 8th and Mars in the 12th associated with benefics, or one of these being exalted (16.130); (b) Saturn, Jupiter and Mercury in the 5th, while the benefic 5th lord is well placed in Lagna (16.131).

Some of the rules given by the texts after Parashara do not appear to agree with facts as we have them. The charts will explain on considering some more combinations found in the ancient authorities. Vaidyanatha observes that the lord of the Lagna aspected by a benefic gives children

(J.P. 8.47); and so does Venus in Lagna (8.58) or the Sun in the 11th (8.94).

The combinations for children given by Parashara are interesting. We take up only those that refer to Mars and Jupiter. (a) Exchange of houses by the lords of the 1st and the 5th, while Jupiter is in a trine or in an angle (16.111); (b) lord of the 5th or Jupiter in the 5th and associated with benefics (16.114); (c) a powerful Jupiter in the 5th and a powerful lord of Lagna (16.116); (d) Jupiter in vargottama and in the amsa of a benefic lord of Lagna associated with the lord of the 5th (16.17) - these give rise to many children.

According to Varahamihira Mars in the signs owned by Mercury gives many sons; in Leo he gives few children; in Capricorn, many children (B.J. 16.19.20). Mars in the 5th denies children (B.J. 18.6); and Mantreshwara supports this view (P.D. 8.9). Mantreshwara also states that Jupiter in the 1st, the 4th and the 9th gives children, and that in the 5th he brings sorrow through or from children; in the 11th he gives few children, while in the 12th he denies children (P.D. 8.14.16). He states that Jupiter in the 5th identical with Cancer gives many children (12.5).

Let us draw some broad principles out of these. (1) Some take Jupiter in Cancer in the 5th to deny children. Some give this Jupiter many children. Some give few sons. Others give only daughters. From our experience we find that this Jupiter gives more daughters than sons. At times he denies only sons. It all depends on whether such a Jupiter has the aspect of or conjunction with masculine or feminine planets. Our experience falsifies the view that the significator Jupiter denies children by placement in the 5th. If he denies children, it is because of Mars, Saturn, Rahu, or Uranus associated with him.

Its lord is with Mars who has the Navamsa, of Jupiter. She had therefore only sons. In 51, the 5th has Jupiter aspected by Mars. The 5th lord is in a feminine sign with Venus. He had two sons and two daughters. Jupiter or Venus in the 5th, or Mars in the houses of Mercury gives sons. In 51, Mars is in Gemini.

Generally predictions regarding children are made from the 5th house and its lord, from Jupiter, and from the 11th house. Other planets are involved directly or indirectly. There is also the need to take Saptamsa into consideration. There are some exceptions. Jataka Parijata (16.5) states that it is the 9th house in a woman's chart which indicates children. Jaimini (44.37) wants us to consider also the 7th house of a woman's chart for predicting children. Even Mercury and Ketu can be the signifiers of children (44.38). The strongest between the 9th from Lagna and the 9th from the Moon indicates children. Ketu does not appear to be favoured by the followers of Parashara.

The Moon, Neptune and the benefics related to the house of children give many children. Uranus indicates artificial prevention of conception. The Moon, Venus and Neptune are said to indicate daughters. In our experience Jupiter has given more daughters, while Venus has given more or equal number of sons. Mars and Neptune associated with the 5th give rise to still-births. Mars alone tends to give miscarriages. Rahu indicates the curse of a serpent-god or others. The Sun afflicted by Uranus in female charts shows miscarriages. The number of children depends on the Moon in a man's chart and on the Sun in a woman's chart.

5. Twelfth House

12th house, its ruler and the planets there give enough indication about the children, at least about the eldest child. The 12th house indicates the pleasures of the bed. These pleasures, if they are not purely physical, must result in the birth of children. From the 5th house, the traditional house of children, the 12th is the 8th, indicating the longevity of at least the eldest child. From the 9th it is the 4th, the house of happiness.

In many charts we get indications of the native becoming a parent. But there are cases where, in spite of this, children are denied. The clue lies in the 12th house. Along with Jupiter, following Jaimini, we take Mercury and Ketu as indicators of children. As Ketu is the joint ruler of Scorpio, we have to reckon with Mars also.

First we start with some instances which show the denial of children, even if other traditional rules governing the 5th house indicate children. We are neither disputing nor rejecting the traditional rules.

Chart 52nd shows the 11th lord in the 5th well-placed. The significator of children is in the 7th in his own house aspecting the 11th. Mars' aspect on the 11th must indicate at least a miscarriage. But this gentleman had no children. As per the theory advocated here, the eldest is indicated by the 12th. The lord of this house is in the 7th with the 5th lord, and in Bhava both Sun and Saturn get into the 8th house. The aspect of Mars on them is beyond eight degrees. The native had no children. Note the debilitated Mercury (Maraka as per Jaimini) in the 7th and Ketu in the 8th. When the first child is denied, there is no question of other children following.

The 53rd chart is intriguing. The 5th lord Mercury is with debilitated Jupiter in the 12th. Ketu (indicator as per Jaimini) is in the 9th afflicted by the 12th lord from the 7th.

53. Born 1949.3.7. Ascendant- Aquarius with Venus 12 - 37, Sun 22 - 58 and Mars 25 - 11; Aries - Rahu 3-13; Taurus - Moon 11 - 15; Gemini - Uranus 3 - 22; Leo - Saturn (R) 8-35; Virgo - Neptune (R) 21 - 22; and Capricorn - Jupiter 18 - 00 and Mercury 26-52.

The first and the 7th lords have exchanged signs and are afflicted by Mars. The native had no children. Traditional rules are also applicable here.

The 54th chart is that of a lady. The 5th lord is in the 11th aspecting the 5th. The significator Jupiter as a functional malefic is placed in the 2nd with a benefic. But she had no children. The 12th lord Sun is with Mars in close conjunction in the 4th. The aspect of Mars on the 5th lord can at best account for a miscarriage which did not take place. Mercury and Ketu are with the waning Moon afflicted by Uranus. Conception was prevented.

54. Born 1946.12.22. Ascendant - Virgo with Neptune 17 - 31; Libra - Jupiter 25 - 20 and Venus 27 - 10; Scorpio - Ketu 18 - 28; Mercury 20 - 1 and Moon 27 - 59; Sagittarius - Sun 7 - 11 and Mars 10 - 56; Taurus - Uranus (R) 26 - 16; and Cancer - Saturn (R) 14 - 50.

In the 55th chart the significator Jupiter is in the 5th unaspected by any. Yet she has no children. The 12th lord is between malefics and he is badly afflicted by Uranus who prevents conception. Uranus acts like Mercury and he is in the 9th, a sign owned by Mercury. The 12th has the 5th lord Saturn with Ketu and Neptune. Children are denied because of the 12th house and because of Mercury and Ketu.

In the 56th chart, the 5th house has Jupiter and Ketu afflicted by Uranus partially. Still Jupiter has to give children as the 5th lord is exalted in the 7th and as the 9th lord is in the 5th. But look at the 12th house. The lord is in the 8th in exact square to Uranus. There is prevention of conception because of Ketu and Mercury (12th lord) being afflicted by Uranus.

56. Born 1947.2.16. Ascendant - Cancer with Saturn (R) 10.40; Virgo - Neptune (R) 17-19; Scorpio - Jupiter 5-48; Sagittarius - Moon 11-17 and Venus 17-54; Capricorn - Mars 23-50; Aquarius - Sun 3-44 and Mercury 20-39; and Taurus - Uranus (R) 24-40 and Rahu 15-10.

The 57th chart shows Serpent dosha to the 5th house. But the 5th lord is well placed. After propitiation she should have got children. Venus as the 12th lord does not receive the aspect of Jupiter. The exalted Moon in the 12th and Mercury are afflicted by Saturn who is in turn afflicted by Mars. She has no children so far.

The 58th chart shows Jupiter and Saturn aspecting the 5th. Saturn afflicts the Sun, Moon and Venus. But Jupiter ought to have given children as he is the lord of the 9th.

58. Born 1941.7.25. Ascendant - Cancer 20-35, Venus 4-31, Sun 8-36 and Moon 16-58; Virgo - Rahu 0.50 and Neptune 2-36; Pisces - Mars 19-2; Taurus - Moon 3-34, Uranus 5.17; Saturn and Jupiter 20-9; and Gemini - Mercury 18-46.

The 9th is afflicted by Neptune, Mars and Ketu. The 12th lord is in the 12th afflicted by Mars, and he is hemmed in between malefics. There are no children.

Consider the 59th chart. The 5th lord is in Lagna with its lord, a friend. The 9th is unafflicted. The 5th has Ketu. Like Jupiter, Ketu in the 5th should give children. But why was she denied children? One may argue that Saturn's affliction of the 3rd and the 9th is responsible. But this cannot deny children. It may at least destroy them and yet give surviving children as Jupiter is in the 9th from the Moon. The 12th house is aspected by both Jupiter and Saturn. Even as per the view advocated here, there should be children. But look at the 12th lord Venus. He is in close conjunction with Uranus who prevents conception.

59. Born 1948-7-27. Ascendant Gemini with Venus 3.32, Uranus 5-27 and Mercury 24-25; Cancer - Sun 10-40; Leo - Saturn 0-6; Virgo - Mars 12.41 and Neptune 17-28; Libra - Ketu 16-57; Scorpio - Jupiter (R) 26 - 35; and Pisces - Moon 14-00.

Let us now turn to the charts where we find only one child.

The 60th chart shows the 5th afflicted by Uranus, while the 9th has retrograde Mars. The 5th lord is in a male sign and the 9th lord Venus is in his own sign combust. This does not explain the facts. The 12th lord Sun is debilitated in the 2nd; but he is with Venus, Jupiter and the Moon in a sign owned by a female planet. The lady has one daughter and later she divorced her husband.

60. Born 1958.11.10 Ascendant Virgo 28-0 with Rahu 28-45; Libra-Moon 7.00, Neptune 11-42, Jupiter 19-55, Venus 23-21 and Sun 23-40; Scorpio - Mercury 13-34; Sagittarius - Saturn 0-16; Taurus - Mars (R) 2-53; and Cancer - Uranus 22-59.

The 61st chart is that of Pandit Nehru. The 5th is a male sign occupied by a male planet. He did not have a son, but only a daughter. Look at the 12th house. It has Rahu in 61. Born 1889.11.14. Ascendant Cancer 23-0 with Moon 15-53; Leo-Saturn 12-5; Virgo-Mars 9-58; Libra-Uranus 1-52; Venus 7-21 and Mercury 17-8; Scorpio-Sun 0-16; Sagittarius-Ketu 12-43 and Jupiter 14-51; and Taurus-Neptune (R) 10-12.

Mercury's sign and Mercury is with Venus in Venus' house. The aspect of Saturn did not destroy the daughter as Venus owns it. Venus being in his own house with the 12th lord did not allow Uranus to prevent conception. Mercury too is an indicator of children, as per Jaimini.

The 12th house thus appear to play a very important role at least as far as the eldest child is concerned.

Now let us examine a few charts where the sex of the eldest child is known. This will enable us to generalise.

The 62nd chart shows the exchange of signs by the 4th and 5th lord. They are aspected by Mars, the lord of Lagna. Jupiter and the Moon are aspected by the Sun and 62. Born 1938.9.8. Ascendant - Scorpio 6-7; Aquarius-Jupiter (R) 2-0 and Moon 3-41; Pisces - Saturn (R) 23-47; Aries - Uranus (R) 24-28 and Ketu 27-32; Leo - Mercury 6-59, Mars 7-13, Sun 21-52 and Neptune 27-4; and Libra-Venus 8-4.

Mercury. These factors indicate some loss and at least one surviving child. It can be a son. But look at the 12th house. The owner is Venus and he is in his own house aspected by Jupiter. When Venus is in his own house having a relation to the house of children, he definitely gives a son. He is also in the 9th from the Moon. He is away from Rahu by more than 19 degrees and from Uranus by more than 196 degrees. Uranus was powerless to prevent conception. This native had two sons only.

The 63rd chart is interesting. The 5th house is aspected by Jupiter, and its lord is in Moon's house with Rahu and Neptune. Naturally there should be both daughters and sons. As the 12th lord Jupiter, a male planet, is in the house of Mars. But the affliction of Jupiter by Uranus denied him sons. The 12th house is powerfully aspected by exalted Saturn who also aspects Venus in whose sign he is situated.

63. Born 1924.9.14. Ascendant - Capricorn with Ketu 28-35; Aquarius - Mars 2-54 and Uranus (R) 26-41; Pisces - Moon 12-32; Cancer - Venus 12-37, Neptune 28-31 and Rahu 28-35; Leo - Moon (R) 22-55 and Sun 28-31; Libra - Saturn 7 - 16; and Scorpio-Jupiter 19 - 26.

In another chart with Virgo rising Jupiter was in the 5th and Saturn in the 7th. Sun, Mercury and Venus are in the 4th in Jupiter's house. The native had only two sons and no daughters. The 12th lord with Karaka Mercury in Jupiter's house explains this.

In the 64th chart the 5th lord Sun is with Jupiter in the 11th. The 5th is aspected by retrograde Saturn. He should have sons, at least one son and some daughters. But look at the 12th house. Its lord Jupiter is with the Sun in the 11th. Same result as before. But what about the eldest child? The 12th house has debilitated Mercury, exalted Venus and Uranus. One feminine planet in exaltation with Mercury (a non-masculine planet) has given two daughters only. This is the result of exaltation. The significator of the Sun and Jupiter is Saturn afflicted by Mars. A third child is denied also by Uranus in the 12th.

64. Born 1927.2.28. Ascendant - Aries 2.0; Taurus - Mars 10-21; Leo - Neptune (R) 2-32; Scorpio - Saturn (R) 14-34; Sagittarius - Moon 25-17 and Ketu 11-0; Aquarius - Sun 15-40 and Jupiter 16-37 and Pisces - Mercury 3-12, Uranus 5-32 and Venus 9-17.

In the 65th chart the 1st (Moon) and the 5th (Mars) lords have exchanged houses. He should have a son or no child at all. The 12th is owned by Mercury, a significator of children (as per Jaimini), who is with the exalted Sun. Still a son was denied as Mercury is in the house of Mars who is in Cancer. He had four daughters only, of whom one died.

The 66th chart shows the 5th lord Moon with Venus in the 11th. They aspected the 5th. Though it is Saturn's house, there ought to be a son. The aspect of Uranus does not fall on them. Saturn in the 8th has exchanged signs with 66. Born 1955.3.21. Ascendant - Pisces with Sun 6-23; Aries - Mars 22-27; Gemini - Jupiter 26-41 and Ketu 7-52; Cancer - Uranus (R) 0-29; Libra - Neptune (R) 4-19 and Saturn (R) 27-37; Capricorn - Moon 25-44 and Venus 25-35; and Aquarius - Mercury 10-11.

Venus. Saturn is exalted and is directly opposed to Mars. Jupiter aspects Saturn also. He has only daughters. The 12th house explains this situation. It is Saturn's house. Mercury, an indicator of children and a non-male planet, is there. Saturn is in the house of Venus. Saturn and Mercury are both aspected by Jupiter from Mercury's house.

These examples show the importance of the 12th house at least as far as the eldest child is concerned.

6. Some combinations

1. For Kanya lagna Kuja in the fifth brings about the death of the son in the first ten degrees. This Mars calls the first son. In the next ten degrees, he kills the next one; and in the last ten degrees those born after the second.
2. Lord of 5 or 9 in 7 or in an even house associated with Chandra or Shukra gives many daughters. But in this combination if the Moon or Shukra is in a male varga and is associated with male planets, there will be many sons.
3. If the fifth house or its lord is a male rasi or amsa, or is associated with male planets, there are sons. If it is a female rasi or amsa, or is associated with female planets, there are daughter. We have to reckon the fifth house from Guru also.
4. If the fifth from Lagna has the varga of Chandra and Shukra and is associated with either of these, and if the fifth has no malefic, there are many children. But Shani and Kuja aspect the house, there are none.
5. Lord of 5 in 5 - not many sons.

6. The planet owning the navamsa occupied by the fifth lord must be in his own navamsa. Then there is one son.
7. Lord of 7 in 5 gives no children.
8. Exchange of houses by lords of 5 and 7, or their conjunction in 5 or 7 gives no children, or two children, or delays children.
9. Malefics in 6, 8 and 12 from the fifth – no children.
10. Rahu in 5 and fifth lord in 6, 8 or 12 – death of children.
11. Exchange of the houses by the lords of 1 and 5 – adopted son.
12. Lords of 1 and 5 in 6, 8 or 12 aspected by a benefic – a son after adoption.
13. Lord of 5 with a benefic in a benefic kendra or kona – a son early in life.
14. Lord of 5 with Rahu – son born in the subperiod of the fifth lord has short life, and the one born in Rahu's subperiod has long life.
15. Lords of 2 and 5 weak while a malefic aspects the fifth – no children.
16. Fifth house, its lord, or Guru associated with a benefic – son is definite.
17. Guru and the lords of the fifth from lagna and Moon well placed, and the fifth aspected by a benefic; or not aspected by the lords of 6, 8 or 12; or lords of 1 and 5 are conjunct, in mutual aspects – there are children.
18. Lord of lagna in fifth, fifth lord and Guru are strong – sons.
19. Strong Guru in 5 aspected by the lord of lagna – son.
20. (a) Moon in 10, Shukra in 7, and malefics in 4 – no children. (b) Malefic in 4, Shukra in 7, Chandra in 10 – no children. (c) Malefic in 1, 5, 8 and 12 – no children. (d) Budha and Shukra in 7, Guru in 5,

- malefics in 4 – no children. (e) Moon in 5 and malefics in 1, 8 and 12 – no children.
21. Lord of lagna in 6 or 8, lord of 5 with a malefic or aspected by its foe or one in debilitation – loss of children.
 22. Malefics in 1, 7, 9 and 12 and in the vargas of their foes – no children.
 23. Guru weak, and the lords of 1, 5 and 7 weak – no children.
 24. Malefic in 5, fifth lord debilitated and without benefic aspect – no children.
 25. Lord of the fifth debilitated, combust, or in enemy's house, or with the lords of 6, 8 and 12 – loss of children.
 26. Lord of 5 in 5 without a benefic aspect – loss or no children.
 27. Malefics is the fifth from lagna; Chandra and Guru having no benefic association – no children.
 28. Malefic 5, fifth lord in papa Kartari without a benefic association – no child.
 29. When the fifth houses from lagna, Chandra and Guru are associated with malefics without having any benefic association; or when these houses are in papa kartari, and when the lords of these houses are in 6, 8 and 12 – no children.

Association means conjunction and/or aspect.

Papa kartari is hemmed between malefics.

30. When Guru is between two malefics, and the weak lord of the fifth is not associated with a benefic – no children.
31. If the fifth is owned by Budha or Shani and if it is occupied or aspected by Mandi or Shani – adopted son.
32. Weak lord of the fifth, not associated with lords of 1 and 7 – adoption.

33. Kuja and Shani in 5 and lord of lagna in Budha's house aspected by Budha – adoption.
34. Lord of 7 in 11, fifth lord with a benefic, and fifth has Kuja or Shani or both – adoption.
35. Guru in Mina – few children; in Dhanus – Children after much difficulty, in Kataka or Kumbha – none. These results get modified by other factors.

7. Some considerations: Sphuta and Saptamsa

1. To find whether the married couple will have children we have to calculate Bija Sphuta and Kshetra Sphuta. From the husband's chart note the longitudes (from Mesha) of Sun, Shukra and Guru. Add these and expunge multiples of 360. The resulting sign and degree gives Bijasphuta.

From the wife's chart add the longitudes of the Moon, Kuja and Guru. The result gives the sign and degree of Kshetra sphuta.

These two sensitive points should not be associated with the eighth lord, or with Budha or Shani or Ketu. There should be no malefics in the kendras or konas of these points. Otherwise there will be no children. There will be children if these points are associated with the lords of 1, 5, 7, or 9.

2. Add the longitudes of the Sun, Chandra, Kuja, Guru and Shukra. If the product falls in a Kendra, a child is born in the first part of life; if it falls in 2, 5, 8, or 11, it is in the second part of life; and if it falls in 3, 6, 9, or 12, it will be in the last part of life.
3. Birth, death, or absence of children has to be ascertained from the saptamsa. We are giving two examples here. The fifth lord is with Shukra in the ninth aspected by Neptune. This gave many daughters. The Karaka is with Budha aspected by Shani, and the fifth lord is hemmed in between malefics. He is in Kuja's house. Kuja is in the 12th from the 5th lord.

He had four sons, of whom one died, and five daughters. In the natal chart Mina was rising with retrograde Neptune and Guru in the fifth, while Ravi and Chandra are in the eleventh aspected by Kuja.

8. Loss of children

1. Guru in 5 aspected by a malefic – loss of children : deity's curse.
2. Guru associated with the lord of 6 – loss : Brahmana's curse.
3. Lord of the fifth with Kuja and aspected by the sixth lord, and has no benefic aspect – loss : wrong done to an enemy.
4. Malefic in 4, fifth lord conjunct Shani, and malefic in 8 or 12 - loss of children; offence against the mother.
5. Malefic in 9, lord of the fifth conjunct Shani, and Mandi in 1, 5, 9 – loss : offence against the father.
6. Rahu or Ketu in the fifth or aspecting the fifth or the lord of the fifth is weak – loss : offence against a serpent.
7. Conjunction Guru and Kuja with the lords of 5 and 7 – losses : caused by evil deities. Also note 10, 21, 25, 26 under 6 above.

9. Adoption

1. Moon in a malefic sign, lord of 5 in 9, and lord of lagna in 1, 5, or 9 - adoption. Also note 11, 12, 31, 32, 33, 34 under 6 above.
2. Rising sign is an even rasi, lord of 5 in 4 or in Shani navamsa - adoption.
3. Lord of 5 with Ravi and Budha in an even navamsa, or in a navamsa owned by Shani - adoption.
4. Lord of 5 in a navamsa of Shani, Guru and Shukra in their own signs - He will first adopt a son and then have a son by his wife.

Note: also 12 under 6 above.

5. Planets strong in the bright half of the month occupying a navamsa owned by Shani, while Guru is in the fifth - adoption.

10. Sons late in life

1. Kuja in lagna, Sun in 4 or 8 aspected by a benefic - a son late in life.
2. Sun in a children sign, Kuja in lagna and Shani in 8 - son late in life.
3. Shani in lagna, Guru in 8, and Kuja in 12, while the fifth is weak or a childless sign - late in life.
4. Moon in 11, malefic in the fifth from Guru, more planets in lagna - late in life.

The children signs are Vrishabha, Simha, Kanya and Vrishchika.

11. Number of Children

The number of children is to be ascertained from the fifth. After the first child consider the possible next children in the sequence of houses 7, 9, 11, 1 and 3. In a woman's chart the sequence is 9, 11, 1, 3, 5 and 7.

Multiply the elapsed navamshas of the fifth (in minutes) by the benefic aspect in Rupas. Divide this by 200. The quotient gives the number of children.

We have to consider planets in the fifth or those that are with the fifth lord. Note how many are in friendly or inimical or debilitation navamshas. Likewise examine the fifth house or its lord from the sign occupied by Guru or the sign representing the navamsha having the Sun.

Convert the elapsed degrees and minutes of the fifth house into minutes. Multiply this by the Virupas showing the benefic aspect. Divide the product by 200. The quotient gives the number of children. The figures got by the virupas of the malefic aspect indicate the number of losses.

12. Time of birth and Number

1. Add the longitudes of the lords of the first and fifth houses. Find the Rasi and amsa from this product. When Guru transits this or its trines, a son can be born.
2. Add the longitudes of the Sun, Moon and Guru, and note the Rasi and amshas given by the product. The number of the navamshas gives the number of children.
3. Add the longitudes of the lords of 4, 5, and 9. From the product find the number of the elapsed navamshas. This is the number of children.
4. Add the longitudes of the planets in 4, 5 and 9. The number of the elapsed navamsas shows the number of children.
5. The houses 5 and 9 from lagna, Chandra, and Guru indicate children. The birth of a child is possible in the dasa and antardasa of a house that can give children.
6. Add the longitudes of the lords of 5 and 7. Divide the total by 360. The remainder gives a nakshatra. The dasa of a planet ruling that nakshatra gives a son.
7. The dasa and antardasa of a planet associated with the lords of 5 or 7 can give a child.

13. Absence of Children.

1. If the lord of the fifth is combust or debilitated or in an enemy's house or is situated in 6, 8, or 12.
2. If the planet in the fifth is situated similarly, or is the lord of 6, 8 or 12 - there will be no children.

If the planet concerned is the Sun, he is sonless because of a harm done to Shiva and Garuda - curse of the Manes (Pitri Devatas).

If it be the Moon - displeasure of the mother, a pious woman, or Bhagavati.

If Kuja – fault done to the village deity, Kartikeya, enemy or collaterals.

If Budha – curse of the youngsters, killing of the eggs of the fish and the like, anger of Vishnu.

If Guru – Harm done to the family priest, cutting fruit trees.

If Shukra – cutting a tree with flowers, injury to a virtuous lady or to a cow, sins to the respected.

If Shani – destruction of an Asvaththa tree or anger of yama, anger of the departed spirits.

If Rahu – curse of serpent.

If Ketu – curse of a Brahmana.

If Moon is conjunct Shukra – slaughter of wife or cow.

If Mandi with Guru or Ketu – Murder of a Brahmana. These may have been done in a past birth or in the present birth. These can be expiated by a bath at Rameshvaram, reciting the lives of great men, worship of Shiva, observance of vows to Vishnu, gifts, ceremonies in honour of the departed spirits, installing of the serpent deity and the like.

14. Loss and gain and time

See also 10, 21, 25, 26 under 6 above, and those under 8 for loss.

1. The fifth lord, Guru, planet aspecting the fifth house and occupying it - if these own 6, 8 or 12; are weak and are in 6, 8, or 12 - loss of a son during the major and minor periods of one of these. But if there are benefics, strong, the opposite result appears.
2. The dasa or antardasa of the lord of lagna, lord of the seventh, the lord of the fifth, Guru, the planet aspecting or occupying the fifth - these are periods when the birth of a son is likely. When Guru transits the Rasi or Navamsa occupied by the fifth lord, then also there can be the birth of a son.

3. Birth of a child is possible when Guru transits on the lord of the fifth, on the fifth house, on his natal position or karaka, and on the sign occupied by the lord of the fifth.
4. Add the longitudes of the lords of lagna, fifth and seventh houses. The remainder gives the nakshatra. Note its lord as per the Vimshottari system. During his mahadasa and in the antardasa of the planet in the fifth, the planet aspecting the fifth, or the planet owning the fifth can give a son.
5. Add the longitudes of the fifth lord, Guru, planet occupying the fifth, and the planet aspecting the fifth. The product gives the Rasi and its Navamsha. When Guru or Shani transits these signs, the birth of a child is likely.

There are many more combinations given in works like Parashara Hora, Brihajjataka, Saravali, Jataka Parijata, Phala Dipika, Manasagari, Sanketa Nidhi, and Jatakadesa Marga. One may profitably consult these.

In the case of a woman's chart consider the ninth in place of the fifth.

Kalpalata on Jaimini Sutras

Nilakantha's commentary on the first two chapters of Jaimini Sutras is in great use. This commentary does not help us much in calculating the Dasas precisely and in predicting the results of the Dasas.

Venkateshwara also commented on the first two chapters. Krishna Misra's Jyotisha Phala Ratnamala, Raghava Bhatta's (1704 A.D.) Jataka Sara Sangraha, Narasimha Suri's Jaimini Sutrārtha Prakasika (on first two chapters), Somanatha's (son of Krishnamisra) Kalpalata, Nrisimha Daivajna's Jaimini Sutra Vyakhya (on all the four chapters) are available in manuscript.

Jataka Sara Sangraha was published a century ago in Madras with a Telugu translation. Raghava Bhatta and Narasimha Suri were Andhras. Somanatha's Kalpalata is an exhaustive and authoritative treatise.

Somanatha's text covers all the four chapters. He gives an account of the contents of all the chapters. Thus the first quarter of the first chapter deals with Sanjna (technical concepts); the second quarter deals with the results of the signs occupied by the Swakaraka; the third explains Arudha, and the fourth, Upapada. The second chapter, he says, explains forty kinds of Dasas. The third chapter is concerned with Rajayogas related to Drekkana, longevity, calculation of sixteen Dasas and female horoscopy. The fourth chapter gives the indications of death, wanderings or travels abroad, the world after death and fourteen kinds of Dasas.

The first quarter of the first chapter deals with aspects, Argala, Karaka and technical terms. III-1 gives Rajayogas related to Drekkanas; III-2 is concerned with longevity; III-3 explains sixteen Antaranga Dasas; III-4 is about female horoscopy. IV-1 gives indications of death; IV-2 gives Yogas for wanderings and travels abroad; IV-3 explains the results of the soul in the other world after death; IV-4 explains fourteen kinds of Dasas.

Many of the available printed texts deal with the problems as outlined by Somanatha who offered an analysis of the text in his introductory remarks.

Somanatha refers to the view of Jaimini and others. He establishes his own views and also the traditional teachings as handed down orally. The last three quarters of the fourth chapter are not yet available even in manuscript. The available commentaries (in manuscript) give the following number of Sutras:

I.1 - 35; I.2- 121; I.3 - 47; I.4 - 49. Total 252 Sutras.

II.1 - 60; II.2- 31; II.3 - 32; II.4 - 37. Total of I and II 412 Sutras.

III.1 - 30; III.2 - 41; III.3 - 128; III.4 - 54. Total of I, II and III 665 Sutras.

IV.1 - 54; IV.2 - 47; IV.3 - 121; IV.4 - 40. Total of all the chapters 927 Sutras.

The manuscript of Khetamkara Nrisimha Daivajna is a commentary on chapters 3 and 4. This does not agree with Somanatha's Kalpalata. There are differences even in the Sutras. The Sutras in chapters 3 and 4 need a careful examination before arriving at a definitive text.

The Oriental Manuscripts Library, Madras, has a manuscript which gives the contents thus: III. 1 - Rajayoga Lakshana; III. 2 - Determination of longevity and the Dasa giving death; III. 3 - Exceptions and Mriti Lakshana; III. 4 - Garbha Varnana - conception. IV. 1 - Body etc; IV. 2 - Results of Bhavas; IV. 3 - Stri Lakshana; IV. 4 - birth of birds and animals. Here is a vast difference. The Drekkana principle emphasised by Somanatha is missing here.

Kalpalata mentions seventy Dasas. The method of calculating these is said to be given in the Mula Sutra by Kalidasa. This book is not available.

Jaimini Sutras give Dasas dealing with longevity and Dasas explaining results of the Dasas. Those dealing with longevity are given by Raghavabhatta as follows :

(1) Hora Dasa, (2) Darpana Dasa, (3) Shula Dasa, (4) Mahesvara Dasa, (5) Atmanadidhara Dasa, (6) Sthira Dasa, (7) Varnada Dasa, (8) Chara Paryaya Dasa, (9) Atmanobhava Pausa Dasa, (10) Jayabhavapa Dasa, (11) Atmamse Bhavapamsa Dasa and (12) Drekkana Dasa.

The Dasas that explain the results are :

(1) Trikona Dasa (also known as Gochara Dasa), (2) Chara Paryaya Dasa, (3) Sthira Paryaya Dasa, (4) Drig Dasa, (5) Bhava Rahasya Dasa, (6) Rasyabheda Brahma Dasa, (7) Chara Dasa, (8) Sthira Dasa, (9) Yogardha Dasa, (10) Drekkana Dasa, (11) Prakarantara Drekkana Dasa, (12) Atmamsa Bhavapamsa Dasa, (13) Karaka Dasa and (14) Granthantara Karaka Dasa.

Phala Ratnamala speaks of (1) Sridasa, (2) Padanatha Dasa and (3) Padanathamsa Dasa.

In the third chapter, Kalpalata mentions (1) Drekkana Dasa of the sign occupied by the lord of the 11th, (1) Prakarantara Dasa, (3) Ketu Dasa, (4) Upakrama Rasi Dasa, (5) Nisargabheda Dasa and (6) Nakshatra Dasa.

Of all these, the authorities give great importance to Trikona Dasa and Padanathamsa Dasa.

What is important is to examine the manuscripts and arrive at a definitive text of the Sutras in the third and the fourth chapters. All the available manuscripts have to be examined. In our English rendering we have noted that some Sutras are out of place in the context in which they appear.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Madhura Krishnamurthi Sastrigaru, we were privileged to go through some parts of Kalpalata. In actual experience we have found the principles laid down in this text are correct.

But there are some doubts which the learned alone can answer. Somanatha's views on Drekkana and Navamsa are not clear. He refers to Karaka, Atmakaraka and Swakaraka. How are the first two distinguished? It is of great importance in following Kalpalata.

Somanatha's Kalpalata is a valuable unpublished Vritti on Jaimini Sutras. The text offers some valuable information about the Sutras. The first two Stabakas provide a preface to the commentary. It is proposed to give a free translation of these now.

"The venerable teacher Jaimini composed the Sutras in four chapters to determine the events and their timings, the longevity of the individual and the destiny of the soul. The four chapters deal respectively with Karaka, Lagna, Drekkana and Navamsa. What is the purpose of all this? When we know the nature of the events and their timings, one begins to investigate the nature of the world to which the soul goes after death. This can give rise to fear. To overcome this fear, one performs the duties (Karma) which give rise to the purification of the mind. This leads to Brahma-Jnana. Hence this science of Astrology is a Vedanga".

In this first chapter, the author determines Sanjna (technical terms or concepts), Karaka, Pada (Arudha) and Rajayoga. The second chapter deals with Lagna, Karaka, longevity and special Dasas (periods of the signs). The third chapter is about the Drekkana.

There are three Drekkanas. In works like the Brihat Jataka, Drekkana is not properly pointed out. In this Sastra, Drekkanas move in three signs. Thus for Mesha (Aries) the first Drekkana is that of Mesha (Aries); for Vrishabha (Taurus) the first is that of Meena (Pisces). In this way we fix the Drekkanas. Even the Navmsas are not to be fixed as in the earlier texts. The Navamsas are reckoned as follows: For Mesha (Aries) the first Navamsa is Mesha (Aries); for Vrishabha (Taurus) the first is Kanya (Virgo); for Mithuna (Gemini) it is from Tula (Libra); and for Kataka (Cancer), it is from Meena (Pisces).

Next Hora Lagna and others have to be determined.

There are five varieties of Hora. Brihat Jataka and others have established some varieties. The first Hora of a Bhava is that of the 11th house from it. The second variety of Hora is that followed regarding the lost or unknown horoscopes.

In this Sastra the first Hora of Mesha (Aries) Lagna is Mesha (Aries); and the second is Vrishabha (Taurus). The first Hora of Vrishabha (Taurus) falls in Mithuna (Gemini) and so on. This classificatin is of great help in dealing with Rajayogas and longevity.

The fourth view is that the first Hora is that of the sign occupied by the lord of the 8th. The moderns who hold this view argue that this is valid only for calculating longevity. Others argue that the 8th sign from that occupied by the lord of the lagna is the Hora Lagna. But this is of value only while determining the world to which the soul of the dead will go. Keeping in mind the purpose, fix the Hora Lagna.

Next determine Ghatika Lagna. Some hold that this is reckoned in the clockwise direction from Lagna. But determine which is the stronger one between Lagna and the 7th. In case of males, the count is clockwise; and in the case of women it is anti-clockwise.

Next determine Karaka. There are five varieties of Karakas. These are Karaka, Atmakaraka, Swakaraka, Dasakaraka and Bhavakaraka.

Karaka is the planet that has advanced to the highest degree when compared to the others. The Atmakaraka is well-established and this is to be understood from the other Sastra. Swakaraka is the lord of the Lagna. Their relative strengths have to be calculated as per the principles laid down later. The Dasakaraka is the one whose Dasa is operating. The Bhavakarakas are classified as nitya (always true) and anitya (temporary). The anitya Bhavakarakas are explained in the Sastra. The nitya Bhavakarakas are those given in the other works. These can be known from Krishniya.

The Jainas place greater emphasis only on Atmakaraka and Svakaraka; and they use the other Karakas as and when they are necessary or useful.

Of all the five Karakas, Svakaraka alone gives many results. But we have to consider also the other Karakas and then predict the strength of the results. All this has to be learnt from the teacher directly. Rejecting the teacher amounts to a rejection of tradition which rejection does not enable one to predict accurately. This brings the science of Astrology into disrepute.

Now we give a clear account of the various chapters and their quarters.

The second quarter explains the results of the signs occupied by the Swakaraka.

The third quarter deals with the results of the sign which is the Arudha of Lagna and other houses.

The fourth quarter explains the results of the Upapada of the sign indicating the partner (wife or husband).

The second chapter gives an account of the forty kinds of Dasas.

In the third chapter the author deals with Drekkana, Rajayoga, longevity, the calculation of sixteen kinds of Dasas and female horoscopy.

The fourth chapter deals with indications of death, wanderings abroad and the calculation of fourteen Dasas which determine the future of the soul of the dead.

One has to examine a chart with reference to all the four chapters and consider the suitable Dasas out of the seventy before predicting the results.

When two or three of the methods agree, the malefics predominate. In the case of benefics, consider whether there is a powerful Rajayoga. Then the result should be based on the strength of the concerned benefic. In the case of others consider their strengths and predict the result, when two or three, or four, or five agree. The malefic results too are to be based on the agreement of at least two of the methods or approaches.

In the case of a Dasa of the Rajayoga, even if one method alone indicates the malefic result, predict death at the end of that Dasa. In the middle of a Rajayoga Dasa, even if two or three factors agree in the case of the major periods of malefics, one should not predict death till the end of the Rajayoga Dasa. Thus predictions are to be given after mastering the science of astrology and after examining many horoscopes.

Next we examine the Dasas and their results.

Of the forty Dasas explained in the second chapter, only eleven have to be applied to those who have Rajayogas. Five Dasas refer to the rulers. The other Dasas can be applied generally to all. Even then the Dasas which give results of the Rajayogas are only four. These are Yogardha, the Drekkana occupied by the lord of the 11th, Bhava Rahasya and Mandukapluti (frog leap). Here for those having Rajayoga even one Dasa will give results. If two Dasas agree, the results are definite.

The ordinary Dasas are Nakshatra-bheda, Nakshatraja (derived from the nakshatra), Nisarga (natural, inherent), Chara, Chara Paryaya, Sthira Paryaya and Gochara Dasa. Results on the basis of these have to be given to the rulers and who have no Rajayoga. They have to be considered as and when necessary or appropriate.

Regarding the problem of longevity the Dasas that can be applied to all are Brahma, Varnada, Chara and Chara Paryaya. The other Dasas are to be employed as and when they appear to be appropriate.

In all horoscopes determine the position of Brahma and calculate Brahma Dasa. Then predict the results.

The calculation of the Varnadas for the twelve signs depends on the relation of the Hora Lagna and the birth Lagna. Then calculate the Varnada Dasas. In this way calculate the Brahma, Varnada, Chara and Chara Paryaya Dasas. Note how many of these Dasas agree in giving a certain result. Then on the basis of the accord between these predict the time of death. This is to be given only after noting the increase or decrease of the Kakshyas.

When you determine the longevity by means of the Ghatika Lagna, follow the method given in the chapter on Drekkana (chapter 3). Death is at the end of the concerned Dasas.

Now about aspects: When a waning Moon aspects, even a benefic result becomes malefic. Even if it is slightly malefic, it indicates death. Good or bad results of even the strong planets materialise only when they are supported by the Moon. The Jainas argue that Rahu too is similar to the Moon. According to them, in a malefic relation (association or aspect), only Mars and Rahu matter. In the case of a benefic association, consider the strength or weakness of the associated planets.

In the case of Rajayoga, we have to note the part played by Mars. Even the aspect of an exalted Mars sometimes does give good results. But Saturn, Mars and Rahu are always indicators of death.

In the case of Rajayoga, the relative importance of the planets will be explained now. If the Yogakaraka is the Sun, the native becomes a king. If the Sun is aspected by the full Moon, the native becomes a ruler of an island country. When the Yogakaraka is the Moon, he rules over the seas, or has full control over marine affairs. If it is Mars, he becomes the commander of the army. If it is Mercury, he works and earns under the protective power of others. If it is Jupiter, the native is a scholar and becomes a minister. If it is Venus, he leads a sensuous life of pleasure, a life of passionate lust; he may become a minister. If it is Saturn, he earns by doing menial or undesirable work; or he rules over a tribal area or country or he lives near the outskirts of the forests. If it is Rahu, he carries out successfully the orders of the rulers or he is Palsunya jeevi. If it is Ketu, the native worships Shiva with great devotion; or he becomes the leader of a town dedicated to Shiva.

Thus having understood the nature of the planets and having examined the nature of their aspects, one should predict the results. If there are many planets involved, predict the results on the basis of their natural or inherent nature and strength. Sometimes the results will appear even when predictions are made without determining their strength.

Some observe that with reference to the Yogakaraka, the most influential one is the planet aspecting him. But in our view this holds good only when the aspecting planet also is a Yogakaraka. In the charts of the kings, the Yoga arises even in the absence of the aspecting planet, if there are many benefics associated with the Yogakaraka. If this Yogakaraka is aspected even by one, the native becomes an emperor. If two or three benefics, the Yoga is a little less. When many planets aspect, it is still less.

If the Yogakaraka is associated with Rahu in a Brahmana's chart, he suffers poverty. If the chart with this association is that of a Mlechchha, he becomes a powerful ruler. If the Yogakaraka is aspected by Saturn, the Mlechchha rules over uncivilised areas or countries. The Brahmana having this gives Tambula. Aspected by Mars, the native becomes a king and a commander of the army. This aspect in a Brahmana's chart makes him worship the sacred fires. The aspects of Jupiter make him a righteous ruler or a scholar. The aspect of Venus gives him good houses. The aspect of the Moon and Rahu destroys the Yoga. The aspects of Saturn and Rahu bring death by snake-bite. The amount of good or bad results is to be determined by the exaltation and debilitation of the planet. If there is no Yogakaraka in a chart, the native has always malefic results.

Some agree that the association of a Yogakaraka with Arudha Lagna - or a Yogakaraka determined from Arudha Lagna - causes Yoga. This is not true since Arudha is subordinate to the Rasi chart. The results get modified or determined by tradition and by the individual's nature.

Regarding jaati (caste etc.), judge them from the Svakaraka. If the 11th is owned by Jupiter, the native is a Brahmana. In the case of other planets, following Krishniya and judging the planets, determine the caste on the basis of the lord of the 11th.

When the Svakaraka and the lord of the 11th from him have the association (aspect or conjunction) of Rahu, the native is a Chandala. If such a Rahu is with Saturn, the native is a Mlechchha. The association of Mars indicates that he is a Nishada or Pulinda (forest tribe). The association of Venus makes the native a member of the royal family. When Saturn is exalted in this combination, the native is a Sudra and if Saturn is debilitated, he has a hybrid origin. If there is the association of Mercury alone, the native is a Vaishya. If there are more planets, the caste is determined by the strongest.

Now we explain Kakshya Vriddhi (increase) and Kakshya Hrasa (decrease) with reference to the Dasas. The Sun has three years, the waning Moon has one year, Full Moon has six, exalted Jupiter has twelve and otherwise only six, Mercury has three and Venus has six (even when exalted). About Rahu the text gives Paryayah. Depending on the strength or weakness of Saturn we get 5, 6 and 7. Ketu is like the Sun. Mars has 2 or 3 years. This is with reference to longevity.

Regarding Yoga Mercury, Full Moon, Venus and Jupiter give an increase of 1, 2, 3, 4 years. Saturn, Mars and Rahu give 1, 2, 3 years. Ketu gives six months. Debilitated Sun has two months, and exalted Sun gives six months. Some deny giving anything to the Sun.

When the planets with Rahu are benefics, for each the increase is for six months. If they are malefics the decrease is for six months. We have to consider exaltation, debilitation and the like as and when required.

Even when there are many benefics together, the relative increase and decrease will not arise by way of Paryaya. When they are in exaltation and debilitation in Amsa we have to consider the question of increase and decrease. Probably the increase and decrease get their strength only from the positions in the Amsha.

While considering the benefic and malefic nature, we have to judge the strength. The method is now given. Among the benefics, full Moon, Venus and Jupiter are strong. Among the malefics the strong ones are Mars, Saturn and Rahu. The Sun and Ketu are neutral – neither strong nor weak. Mercury becomes strong or weak because of his association with others. Jupiter in the houses of the Moon and Venus is the strongest of all.

Depending on the signs, let us determine the strength. When there is a benefic association in the Trikona (Drekkana), the sign is effective in giving results like the planet in it. If the Kendra has benefic association, the sign is less effective compared with the planet in Lagna. Even the malefics acquire a benefic nature when they are exalted. Everything about debilitation and exaltation may be learnt from Brihat Jataka and other authorities. But there is a special feature.

If Mars is with the Sun, the Sun is like one in exaltation. If the Sun is with Venus, the Sun is like one in debilitation. If Venus is with the Moon, the Moon is as in exaltation. If Mars is with Saturn, Mars is as one in exaltation. If Mars is with the Moon, Mars is like one in debilitation. If Jupiter is with Mercury, then Mercury is like one in debilitation.

Some observe that if Mercury is with Rahu, Mercury gets exaltation. This is not correct. But we hold that such a Mercury is neither exalted nor debilitated.

From the other texts one has to learn how Mercury becomes a benefic. If Mercury is alone, he is a high benefic. In the same way consider Jupiter, Venus and others.

In this Jaimini system exaltation, debilitation and the like are helpful while considering Rajayogas and longevity.

Knowing about exaltation, debilitation and the like, we have to predict about birds and animals. This is implied in this Sastra.

When the Lagna is that of a quadruped, note that the Moon is in the Drekkana and Navamsa also of quadruped signs, or the Moon is aspecting the Lagna. Then the birth is that of a quadruped. Some apply this to the biped sign to predict the birth of a quadruped. If a human being has similar positions, he becomes a master (or owner) of cattle when the proper Dasa operates. If the Dasa sign is aspected by Saturn, he is the leader or owner of elephants. Some argue that when Ketu is aspecting, the native acquires buffaloes. If Rahu aspects, there is the destruction of cattle. If the aspect is that of the waning Moon and Mars, the cattle will be stolen by enemies. If the aspect is from the full Moon and malefic Mercury, the cattle get destroyed by floods and rains. In this way examining carefully Krishniya and other texts, predict the results. Even the results fructify when the Moon is in a quadruped sign. Follow the same method in horary astrology about animals.

When the quadruped sign is Lagna aspected by Saturn and Mercury and the 11th has the waning Moon, there is the birth of a bird or animal. (Aries, Taurus, Cancer, Leo, Scorpio, first half of Sagittarius, Capricorn and Pisces are Viyoni signs).

Here the word Lagna means Drekkana. Hence all that has been said earlier, has to be considered also from the Drekkana of the Lagna. Some want us to consider from the Lagna in Navamsa. This is incorrect because this Sastra gives primacy to Drekkana as compared with Navamsa Lagna. Some consider the Hora; others Ghatika Lagna, to predict about the Viyoni Janma.

Some predict the results of the Bhavas for determining the Bhava Lagna. But in this Sastra, make the sign occupied by the Karaka as Lagna. With reference to this Lagna ascertain the Bhavas and planets and predict the results. All this has to be learnt from the teacher orally and confidentially.

(There are some Sutras which are called Adhikara Sutras. These govern all the subsequent Sutras till an exception is made by the author). The author now mentions the Adhikara Sutras. The three Sutras beginning with Abhipasyanti rikshani (1.1.2-4) and the three from Darabhagya ... and the Adhikar Sutras for all the four chapters. All the Sutras in the first quarter of the first chapter are helpful and necessary when required. The Sutra Atha Padam (1.3.1) is an Adhikara Sutra for the entire third quarter. Thus we mention the Adhikara Sutras as and when they are necessary (applicable).

While considering the Bhavas, we have to follow the earlier Sastra. But here is some peculiarity. The 5th house is designated as Pita (father) and the 9th as putra (child). In female horoscopy, the 7th is mangalya house and the 8th that of the husband.

Now we give the characteristics of Bhavas. The Bhavas are of four kinds. These are reckoned from Lagna, Karaka, Drekkana and Amshaka. From the Lagna the Bhavas are the signs (Rasis). From the Karaka the Bhavas are planets. Regarding Drekkana note the special feature. The Drekkana of the lord of Lagna is the Lagna here. Similarly, the second house is the Drekkana occupied by the second lord and so on. Amsaka is the Arudha sign. From this Arudha sign, consider the planets. Having considered the Bhavas in this way, we have to consider in the same way the Dasas and then predict the results.

There are some special Yogas in the third quarter of the first chapter (Pada adhikarana). In the case of males, the Arudha is determined in the clockwise manner and in that of women, it is in the anti-clockwise manner. Determine the Arudha Lagna in this way. If there are the Moon and Venus in the 2nd from Arudha Lagna, the native becomes very rich. If the 4th from this Lagna is a movable sign (cardinal chara), it is of no use regarding conveyance. If the 4th is a dual sign, it has the fullest strength. The exaltation of a planet in Arudha Lagna, exaltation of benefics, aspects of benefics are to be considered in this way; and if they are strong, the results will materialise. This is of importance even if there is no Yoga in or from Lagna.

If the Arudha Lagna has no association with an exalted planet and if it is aspected by a malefic, it causes poverty.

The aspect of a benefic or of an exalted planet causes Rajayoga. The same has to be applied even to the Lagna. Both for Lagna and Arudha Lagna, there is no Rajayoga if there is no agreement with the 4th and 5th houses.

All these are not stated by the earlier teachers probably because the text will become huge. The teachers have orally communicated the secrets. We have examined the secretly preserved texts and given some of the points. Here ends the first Stabaka of Jyotisha Kalpalata by Somanatha.

1. Vidhi

Vidhi means the writing of the fruition of results based on the natal chart or on a Prashna chart.

When the Lagna is an even sign, the odd sign which is opposite to it (Abhimukha) is to be taken as Lagna. If the Lagna is an odd sign, the even sign facing it is to be taken as Lagna. This is to be considered after ascertaining whether the chart belongs to a man or to a woman. If this abhimukha sign is powerful, it is to be taken as Lagna; otherwise we consider the 7th from it. Having thus ascertained the relative strength or weakness of the abhimukha sign and its 7th, take the stronger sign as the Lagna. Then determine the Dasas (periods) beginning with this Lagna.

In the case of women born in an odd Lagna, take the sammukha (opposite) Lagna. Then determine the strength or weakness of this sign and its 7th. The Dasas are to be reckoned from the weaker sign; and so are the Bhavas to be considered.

In the case of women, take the house of the husband (this is the 8th as mentioned earlier). If this house is associated with a Yogakaraka, predict the Yoga. Similarly Yoga has to be predicted for children and the like when these houses are associated with a Yogakaraka.

Among the planets one who has the most advanced degrees in a sign and aspects the concerned Bhava, he is the Yogakaraka. When the Moon is in Cancer, who is the Yogakaraka? In such a case, the lord of the sign occupied by the Sun is the Yogakaraka. If this planet has the association of the Svakaraka and even if he does not aspect the Lagna, we have to predict the Yoga.

When the Lagna is Cancer and the Moon is in it, some take the Moon to be the Yogakaraka. But find who is stronger of the lords of the 5th and 9th. The owner of the sign occupied by the stronger one of these lords is the Yogakaraka. This is about female horoscopy.

For the horoscopes of men the method is different. One may be born in Cancer Lagna with the Moon in it. Still Leo and Aquarius are the stronger signs for Cancer Lagna. Here determine the Yogakaraka, considering the Sun. Then note the exceptions mentioned now.

One exception is having Rahu and Saturn in Trikona. The second is that of Mars and Ketu. Some observe that any association with Mars or even with Rahu is an exception. The benefic or malefic results arising from the association of Saturn depend on his exaltation and placement in a friend's sign.

When there are many exceptions, how is one to determine the Yogakaraka? When Saturn and Rahu are in one Trikona, and Jupiter is with the Moon in another Trikona, there is Yoga-samya. When one Trikona has Mars and Ketu, and the other has Jupiter and Moon, the benefic nature is greater. When the Trikona has more benefics, the Yoga is destroyed. When the Trikona has more benefics, the result is highly beneficial. According to some many benefics in Kendras contribute to Yoga. But if they are subject to Argala, the Yoga gets destroyed. The Argala is more powerful.

The fixed sign is stronger than the movable (cardinal) sign and the dual (common) sign is stronger than the fixed. In Argala, note which signs are involved and its affirmation or cancellation.

After thus determining the Yogakaraka, then predict in the charts of a male or a female, the Yoga arising from his association. In the case of the ruler (kings) follow the principles given in the Drekkana Sutra.

If there is a Rajayoga in a woman's chart, then determine the Rajayoga in her husband's chart and predict that her husband is her Svadhina Vallabha. If such is not the case, she will be a royal princess or the ruler. All this has to be predicted after a careful consideration of all the relevant factors.

While determining the Drekkana, in the case of the chart of a woman, the procedure is anti-clockwise. The determination of the Drekkana Lagna has been explained earlier.

The appearance of the native is determined by the Svakaraka. From the Amsa of this Svakaraka or from the lord of the 11th, determine the caste (jaati). After determining the benefic and malefic nature, calculate the Dasas (major periods).

One should know how to calculate the Dasa from the original Sutra. This has been given by Kalidasa. But the nature of the results has not been explained by him. The Sutras have briefly indicated this. We propose to explain the nature of the results in greater detail.

The first Dasa must show the association of many benefics with the sign concerned. This is one factor cause. The second is the association of many benefics with the Drekkana. In the same way treat the Kendras. The Dasas of the Kendras are to be considered from the point of view of Argala. The association of malefics in the Trikonas is always indicative of suffering and sorrow. If the factors are of equal strength the results are balanced. If the association of benefics is greater, the results will be more beneficial.

In case of those born with Rajayoga, If the Kendras or Konas are devoid of the association of benefics or of malefics then the results of the Yoga are experienced in that Dasa. If there is the association of the exalted planet and or benefics, then that Dasa gives Rajayoga. When the Dasa is associated with benefics, even if in the 3rd, 6th or 8th houses, the favourable results are realised in some cases. In such cases consider the signs, the Arudha and other relevant factors.

Note which Dasa is operating and what is its distance from Lagna. Convert the same number from the Dasa-sign. This is the Arudha of the Rasi whose period is operating.

Some argue that it is not the distance from Lagna to the sign, but the distance from that sign to the owner of that sign that has to be considered in this Arudha. This Arudha also is at times helpful.

There is also the Arudha of Drishti (aspect). Note the sign from which a planet first aspects. From that sign count the number to get the Drishti Arudha. What is the first aspect? The first aspect on Aries is from Scorpio and on Scorpio it is from Aquarius and Capricorn respectively; for Gemini and Pisces, it is from Virgo and Sagittarius respectively. The planets aspecting from the first sign, have mutual aspects with the aspected sign and the planets therein.

After this, note in the Dasa the planets aspecting the 2nd and other houses, the Karakas of those houses and ascertain the signs aspected by the Karakas of these houses. Then predict the results accordingly.

When more planets aspecting the sign are involved, consider the planet aspecting from the Abhimukha Rasi and predict the result accordingly. If two or three planets are involved, ascertain the stronger one. The strength is the natural or inherent one.

The planet aspected by Lagna is the first Karaka. The next sign is the second and so on. When many Karakas aspect the same, we have to determine the stronger one by the advanced degree position of the planet or by the mutual strength of the planet. If the planet aspecting the Lagna is a benefic, the native has an attractive appearance; and if he is a malefic, predict the opposite.

We have to consider the twelve houses with the help of only nine planets. How is this possible? From the Karaka, the lord of the 2nd is the lord of the 12th, the lord of the 3rd is also the lord of the 6th, and the lord of the 4th is also that of the 10th. In this way consider the Bhavas.

If the lord of the 4th is debilitated, then there is the destruction of that Bhava. A benefic association will make the native happy. An association with an exalted planet heightens the importance of that house. The Rajayogas and the twelve Bhavas have to be examined in this way.

Some argue that even the temporary planets are the Karakas. This is not correct because in this Sastra, the temporary planets are considered only in two or three Dasas.

This Dasa is also called Drik-karaka-Dasa. Others describe it as Drig-dasa. In our view, everything about this Dasa being treated as a secret, it is known as Rahasya-Dasa.

In all the Dasas, consider the Dasa of the lord or of the Karaka. When the second from it has benefics, the third has debilitated planets or malefics, and the fourth has benefics or exalted ones, then this Yoga makes one a ruler. It is Prabhu-Yoga. If there are benefics even in the 5th, then predict Rajayoga. If in one of the above mentioned places, there are two or three benefics, even then predict the certainty of a Rajayoga. Note where there is any doubt regarding the opposition from Argala. If in the above mentioned places there are two or three malefics together, predict inauspicious results. At the fag end (Dasa-chhidra) of such a Dasa, there is death or loss of wealth.

Some argue that in the Trikonas and 8th houses other than the above mentioned signs, we have to predict as before. This is improper because in this Sastra, greater importance is attached to Argala. Thus when there is the opposition or enmity of Argala for the 9th and the 10th houses, we have to predict the good and bad results as before. In the case of malefics, the planets in Virodha Argala alone are fruitful.

Note whether the sign whose Dasa is operating or of the Karaka has the conjunction or aspect of a benefic, or association with an exalted place. Then predict happiness and other results. If the 2nd or 3rd from the Karaka or from the sign whose Dasa is operating, has the Moon and Venus, there is great acquisition of wealth. If these planets are in the 4th, the native acquires a good house. If they are in the 7th, there is happiness from the wife, and the native lives in the house of his powerful father-in-law. When they counteract mutually the Argala, the native acquires fame. If they are in the 12th, at the end of the Dasa the native loses his house and everything. In the same way proceed in other cases.

If in the 2nd from the Dasa sign or from the Karaka there are Jupiter and Moon, then that Dasa gives great education and wealth. If in that house there are Rahu and the Moon, the wealth earlier earned gets spent now. If Rahu and Mars are there, the body suffers through fever and the like. If this position falls in Capricorn or Aquarius, the native travels to a different country; and through the anger of the king (ruler) he loses everything and is imprisoned. When they are in the 8th he is killed with weapons by thieves or by the command of the ruler. When they are in the 7th, he loses the wife. If they are in the 12th death is due to strangling. A benefic aspect gives some relief. Thus in whatever Bhava they are posited, that Bhava gets destroyed. If they are in Lagna, the native is always sick. If they are exalted and/or in Kendras, or if they are aspected by an exalted planet or placed in a trine and exalted, or placed in the Trikonas of an exalted planet, then that Bhava becomes stronger and powerful.

Even if they are in the 12th, and even if they are aspected by an exalted planet, the results mentioned earlier will materialise at the end of the Dasa. The ability of a planet to give powerful and favourable results is not possible if it has no dependence on the Moon. The same applies to the conjunction of Saturn and Rahu.

Note with which planet, another planet is associated. That planet becomes powerful like the strong ones. Some extend this even to malefics and argue that the association of a planet with the malefics is helpful and useful. Even if two benefics are associated with such a planet, sometimes the planet does not acquire strength. Whatever may be the case, the planet is not fruitful in the absence of any association with the Moon. Some hold that even if it has an association with the Karaka, there will be favourable results.

There are some Rajayogas not mentioned in the Sutras. For the sake of edification we will present some of these.

Determine the strength or weakness of Rahu and Ketu. Note whether in the Kendras or in the Trikonas, there is the association of benefics and association with exalted planet. In such a case the native becomes very wealthy (Srimanta). When there is the association of malefics and debilitated ones, the native suffers from poverty. When the benefics and malefics are together, predict the results after examining their relative strengths.

Even in the Dasa, consider the Nakshatra Dasa. Then note the association of its Trikonas and ascertain their strength. The stronger one gives results.

Consider Rahu and Ketu as Karakas. From that point onwards, following the sequence of the planets, we get the Karakas for the Dasas. Determine the strength of the planets. Thus in the Dasas of the Karaka grahas, note the Arudha of the Rasi also.

There is some speciality regarding those born in Scorpio and Aquarius. In determining the Karaka, note that Rahu owns Aquarius and Ketu owns Scorpio. Then note the stronger planet in the Trikonas of these Lagnas. Determine the Karakas from that sign. If Rahu alone is strong, begin from Rahu and determine the Karakas following the anti-clockwise direction. The same is to be followed with reference to Ketu.

When the lord of Lagna is associated with many Karaka grahas, consider all of them. The planet having the lowest number of degrees becomes the first Karaka. If in the Trikona of this planet there is a strong Rahu, then fix the Karakas from the sign occupied by Rahu onwards. But if there is a stronger one in the Kendras of this planet, then the Karakas are to be taken from that sign onwards.

If in the 12th from this Karaka there is Rahu or Ketu, then this Rahu or Ketu is said by some to be the Karaka. This has to be examined on the basis of one's experience.

But for those born in Aquarius and Scorpio Lagnas, determine the Karakas if Rahu or Ketu are not involved. If they are involved, proceed in the anti-clockwise direction from them. If the Karaka is in an even sign, the procedure for determining the other Karakas is anti-clockwise.

In the Dasa of the Karaka, there is the importance of the atmakaraka. This Atmakaraka is of help at times. In this Sastra, the Karaka mentioned earlier is of importance. From the sign occupied by that Karaka learn about the native's appearance, age, caste and other details.

In the case of Yoga, even the Drekkana is of great relevance. The Navamsa is of importance while determining prosperity and gains. Generally the karaka is of great importance in this Sastra. The Bhavas and other details are to be determined by the principles given in the Rahasya Sastra.

This is the determinatin of Karaka.

In the case of a question put to the astrologer follow Krishniya to determine the time and Lagna. If the ruler of the Lagna at that time is in an odd sign, then in a clockwise manner place the lords of the diks in these diks. Consider him to be the Karaka. If this Karaka is exalted, the event is fulfilled to the questioner's satisfaction very quickly. There is destruction if the Karaka is debilitated. In case, of doubt, take the help of Krishniya.

Jaimini System

Jaimini's system of astrology is unique. Though some chapters of Parashara's text deal with this system, the authentic text is JAIMINI SUTRAS. It is in four chapters; and of these commentaries are available in complete.

1. Parashara assigns to each planet some significations (Karakatwas) and these are unalterable. Jaimini differs from this. The signifiers vary from chart to chart. First draw the chart with the degrees, minutes and seconds for the ascendant, the luminaries and the five planets. Arrange them in the descending order. That which has traversed the highest degree position in the natal chart is said to be the Atmakaraka. The sign he occupies in the Navamsa chart is the Karakamsa lagna.

Lagna 25.46	Ketu 29.31
	22.1.1920 at 11.06 A.M.		Jup (R) 21.58
Moon 19.45 Sun 8.10			Sat (R) 18.8
Merc 28.38 MC 21.00	Venus	Rahu 29.31 Mars 3.26

Let us illustrate with a chart. Here Budha has advanced far beyond any other. He is on $28^{\circ} 38'$ in Sagittarius and he occupies the same sign in Navamsa. Hence Budha is the Atma Karaka and Dhanus is the Karakamsa Lagna. The next in the descending scale is Venus who becomes the Amatya karaka. Next comes Jupiter who becomes Bhrathrukaraka. Next in order is the Moon who is Matra-karaka. Then follow Saturn, the Sun and Mars, who are respectively Putra, Jnati (Colaterals) and Kalathra (Wife or husband) karakas.

From Atmakaraka we can read about the general health, constitution, nature, outlook and fortune of the native. Amatya refers to the intellect and mind. Bhrathru refers to the brothers and sisters. The fourth indicates the mother, the fifth about the children, the sixth about the relatives and the last about the partner.

In the case of Rahu the longitude has to be deducted from thirty degrees. When two planets have the same degree, minutes and seconds, then Rahu is to be considered.

The other permanent significators are those given in the other texts. Whatever has not been touched by Jaimini, we have to borrow from other authorities. This is stated in the last aphorism of the second chapter "Siddham anyat".

When two or more planets have the same longitude, they jointly become the Karaka. Then the seventh Karakatwa belongs to Rahu. A variant reading states that the Karaka for mother is followed by the Karaka for father who is followed by Putra, Jnati and Kalathra karakas. Some authorities, however state that Karaka for mother and children is one and the same planet (1.1.19). Thus seven or eight planets can become Karaka (1.1.10). When two planets have the same longitude deduct Rahu's longitude from thirty degrees and find out where he fits in the decreasing scale and then assign the Karakatwa to him. If there are more such planets and if even after Rahu some Karakatwas are left, then assign the other Karakatwas as per the system of Parashara.

Jaimini assigns some significations of a minor nature to the various planets. Mars refers to sisters, younger brothers, are left, then assign the other Karakatwas as per the system of Parashara.

Jaimini assigns some significations of a minor nature to the various planets. Mars refers to sisters, younger brothers, step-mother and brothers-in-law, Mercury is assigned maternal uncles and maternal aunts; Jupiter signifies maternal grandfather and grand-mother, and Venus rules over the parents of the partner and over the maternal grand parents and disciples.

Next we have to note that signs aspect signs and therefore the planets in those signs aspect those in the corresponding signs. Cardinal signs aspect all the fixed signs except the one next to them. Fixed signs aspect all cardinal signs excepting the one behind them. The dual signs aspect each other. That is, they have square aspects. This is an important principle as the results given depend on the aspects and conjunctions.

Now we take up a unique method of ARGALA. Planets in 2.4.11 houses, from any planet or house cause Argala. These three are the prime combinations for argala consideration. Secondly, 5th house is also able to form argala. This is to note, argala should be checked for each house, as well as for each planet. Argala caused by natural benefics is always considered 'benefic argala' and when it is formed by malefics, is called 'Malefic argala.' Argala always protects all effects and principles of the house concerned.

Argala, formed in such a manner, becomes counter productive, when there are planets in 12.10.3 and 9 respectively.

A special rule for 3 houses has been laid down by sages. Many planets posited in the third house, at least 3, will also form a benefic argala, namely Viparita Argala.

Aforesaid rules will not apply on Rahu and Ketu tamograhās or shadowy planets. They will remain under argala effect in a reverse manner. Hence 2.4.11.5 houses are counter effective and 12.10.3.9 are argala-forming houses.

Taking our previous example, we prepare argala chart thus :—

Planet	Argala	Counteracted by
1. Sun and Moon	Ketu+Venus	Mars
2. Mars	Venus+Sun+Moon+Sat.	Jupiter +Mars
3. Mercury	Sun+Moon+Ketu+Mars	Venus+Sat.
4. Jupiter	Sat+Mars+Rahu+Venus	Ketu
5. Venus	Mars	Mars+Rahu
6. Saturn	Venus	—
7. Rahu +Ketu	Merc+Jup.	Sun+Moon + +Venus+Sat.

No viparita argala exists in this chart. In the IV from Jupiter, Rahu and Mars are exhibiting argala effect, while Ketu alone counteracts. Thus, argala exists for Jupiter, as well as for the V house. One planet will be able to diminish effects of one planet/house only.

2. Different Lagnas

The Sutras of Jaimini refer to many lagnas and the principles of Interpretation to these lagnas also. We have already noted Janma lagna, Chandra lagna, Navamsa lagna and Karakamsa lagna. In our example, these are Mina, Makara, Kumbha, and Dhanush respectively. Now we take up other lagnas.

1. Arudha Lagna: This is also called Pada lagna (1.1.30). Take any sign. Find out the sign in which sign the lord of that house is situated. Count as many signs from that lord, and that is the arudha of that sign. If the lord of Mina lagna is in the fifth house, the fifth from it is the arudha lagna. It will be Vrishchika in our example. Thus for houses 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 9, 10, 11 and 12, we get Kosa, Bhatri, Sukha (Vahana), Mantra, Dara, Bhagya, Rajya, Labha and Upapada lagnas. There are some exceptions. If the lord of a sign is in the fourth from it, the fourth house alone is its arudha (1.1.31). When the lord of a house is in the seventh from it; its tenth house from that sign is its arudha. Thus in our example the lord of the second Kuja is in the seventh from it; Its arudha is the tenth from the second. Thus we have in our example charts the arudhas of houses 2, 3, 4, and 5 are respectively Makara, Kumbha, Mina and Mesha. The seventh lord is in the fourth (Dhanush) from it and its arudha is Dhanush only. The twelfth has its lord in the seventh from it, and hence its arudha is in the tenth from it, namely Vrishchika. (1.1.32). The arudha of the twelfth is called Upapada and it plays an important part in dealing with the wife or husband of the native.

There are some other lagnas. In each case, we give the traditional methods that are scientifically accurate.

2. Hora Lagna: (a) Take the Ghatas from Sunrise to the time of birth. Divide them by 2.5. The quotient plus one is to be counted from the Sun. In our example, the Janma ghatas are 10.57. Divided by 2.5 we get four. The fifth from Sun Sign is the hora lagna Taurus (1.30.58)

(b) Each hora lagna has a duration of one hour. Multiply the Janma Ghatas by twelve. Add the product, divide by 30 to the exact longitude of the Sun of birth. In our example, we get $131^{\circ} 24'$ as the product divided by 30 we get $4-22^{\circ} 48'$. Adding this to the longitude of Sun we get Taurus (1.30.58). This alone is to be accepted. It plays an important part in determining longevity.

3. Bhava Lagna: (a) Divide the Janma ghatas by five. The quotient plus one is to be counted from the Sun. The remainder is to be converted into degrees and minutes. The birth time is 10 ghatas and 57 vighatis or 10.95. The quotient is two. The remainder 95 gives in total $2-28^{\circ} 30' + 9-8^{\circ} 10'$ (Sun) = $0-6^{\circ} 40'$ (Aries).

(b) Multiply the Janma ghatas by 6, divide by 30 and add the product to the longitude of the Sun as before. Thus $10.95 \times 6 \div 30$ gives $2-28^{\circ} 30'$. Adding it to the Sun longitude we get $0-06^{\circ} - 40'$ (Aries) as Bhava langa.

4. Ghatika Lagna : (a) Divide the Janma ghatas by twelve. Take the remainder and add one to it. Count it from the Janma lagna. The fraction of the remainder is to be converted into degrees and minutes. Thus, 10.95 divided by twelve gives the remainder 10.95 or $10-26^{\circ} 50' +$ Sun. Thus Ghatika lagna is Dhanu 5° .

(b) Multiply Janma ghatīs by thirty and add the product to the longitude of the Sun. Thus 10.95×30 gives $326^{\circ} - 50'$. Adding this to the Sun ($278^{\circ}.10'$) lagna we get 605° or $8-5^{\circ}.0'$ as Ghatika lagna.

5. Vighatika Lagna : Five vighatis are equal to thirty degrees. The birth vighatis in our example are 657. When five vighatis are equal to thirty degrees, 657 vighatis are equal to 3942 degrees. Expunging multiples of 360 we get 342 degrees. We add this to the longitude of the Sun $278^{\circ}.10'$. The vighatika lagna is then $260^{\circ}.10'$ or Dhanu $20^{\circ}.10'$.

6. Gulika : There is much confusion in our texts between Mandi and Gulika. Jaimini appears to equate Gulika with Mandi. Hence, we give the method to determine the longitude of Gulika which plays an important part in determining profession and longevity. Divide the duration of the day into eight equal parts. Count them from the day of birth, In the order of the week days, at the end of Saturday, we get the longitude of Gulika. In our example, the duration of the day is 11 hours, 11.8 minutes. Each part has one hour and 23.975 minutes. The birth begins as a Thursday. Saturday's part ends four hours and 11.925 minutes after sunrise which was at $6^{\circ}.35'.8''$. Gulika then rises in Mina as $22^{\circ}.8'$.

When a native is born at night, divide the duration of the night into eight equal parts. Count from the fifth day of the day of birth and find where Saturday's part ends. If one is born on a Thursday night, the fifth day is Monday. Then Gulika's part comes at the end of the sixth part.

7. Pranapada : This is important in verifying the accuracy of Janma lagna. Sutra 4. 3. 22 states : "Pranapada is calculated by taking the degrees in a set of three signs of ninety degrees as equal to the pranas for a lagna rasi and also according to the order of the movable, fixed and common signs". (Also 4.1.41).

Six pranas are equal to one vighati or twenty four seconds. Each prana is equal to four seconds. Double the Janma Vighatis. Add the product to the Sun's longitude if the Sun is in a movable sign; If the Sun is in a fixed sign add another 240 degrees and If the sun is in a common sign add only 120 degrees to the original product. In our example, the Janma vighatis are 657. Doubling it we get 1314. The Sun is in a movable sign $278^{\circ} 10'$. Adding 1314 to this, we get $1592^{\circ} 10'$. The seventh from it is Janma lagna here. The Vighatis from Sunrise to the birth time are, in our example, 657. Dividing it, by fifteen, we get 43 signs and 0.8. Expunging multiples of twelve, we get seven signs and 24 degrees (0.8×30). Add this to the Sun's longitude $278^{\circ} 10'$. The result is $278^{\circ} 10'$. (nine signs and $8.10'$). Plus seven signs and 24 degrees. This gives $2^{\circ} 10'$ after the fifth sign from Mesha.

Another way to take the time of birth from sunrise in hours and minutes. Divide the total minutes by six and add the product to the Sun's longitude. In our example, the birth is four hours and 22.8 minutes after sunrise. Thus, 262.8 divided by six gives 43 signs and 0.8 (or 24 degrees). Adding it to the longitude of the Sun, we get the same result.

According to Parashara, Pranapada is good if it falls in a kendra, kona, or in the second house or in the eleventh house.

8. Varnada Lagna : When the Janma lagna is an odd sign, count from Mesha in the clockwise direction. If it is an even sign, count from Mina in the anti-clockwise manner. Similarly, count the Hora Lagna. Take the hora lagna as calculated scientifically. If the Sum of hora and Janma lagna happens to be in even sign then this even total should be subtracted from 12. In case, this Janma + Hora is already odd, accept it, as Varnada Lagna without any modification.

In our example, lagna Mina is an even sign. It is one from Mina. Hora Lagna is the odd Simha which is the fifth from Mesha. The difference is four. Count the product from Mesha if the Janma lagna is an odd sign, or from Mina if the Janma lagna is an even sign. In our example, the lagna is an even sign. The fourth from Mina is Dhanush which is the Varnada lagna.

In the same manner, we have to count the varnada rasis for the other houses. The second house from lagna and Hora Lagna have to be counted. The second from lagna in our example is Mesha, and from Hora lagna it is Kanya. Kanya being an even sign, it is the seventh from Mina. Mesha being an odd sign, it is the first from Mesha. The difference is six. As the second from lagna is an odd sign Mesha, the sixth from it is Kanya which is the varnada of the second sign.

Similarly, we can get the varnadas of other signs:

	From lagna	From Hora lagna	Count from Rasi
3rd house	Vrishabha (11)	Tula (7)	Mina - 4
4th house	Mithuna (3)	Vrishchika (5)	Mesha - 2
5th house	Karka (9)	Dhanush (9)	Mina - 12
6th house	Simha (5)	Makara (3)	Mesha - 2
7th house	Kanya (7)	Kumbha (11)	Mina - 4
8th house	Tula (7)	Mina (1)	Mesha - 6
9th house	Vrischika (5)	Mesha (1)	Mina - 4
10th house	Dhanush (9)	Vrishabha (11)	Mesha - 2
11th house	Makara (3)	Mithuna (3)	Mina - 12
12th house	Kumbha (11)	Karka (9)	Mesha - 2

These play a prominent part in calculating the Varnada Dasa system.

9. Mandi : Jaimini does not appear to distinguish Mandi from Gulika. He seems to mean only Gulika even when he uses the word Mandi, though we are not sure of this interpretation. This is a problem that requires further research. Hence, we give the method of calculating Mandi's position. In the order of the week days from Sunday, Mandi rises at the end of 26, 22, 18, 14, 10, 6 and 2 ghatis when the duration of the day is thirty ghatis. If the birth is at night, count at the end of 10, 6, 2, 26, 22, 18 and 14 ghatis if the duration of the night is thirty ghatis. This count is from Sunday onwards. In our example, Mandi rises in Mina on 13°.45'. When Jaimini mentions Mandi, some research is necessary to find out whether he meant Gulika or Mandi. It is to stimulate the research students that we have given the method for calculating both Mandi and Gulika.

3. Strength of Planets and Houses

In the Parashara system, there are six sources of strength (shadbala) for each planet. In jaimini's system, there does not appear to be any distinction between a sign (Rasi) and a house (bhava). The calculation of the strength of a planet and of a house is very simple in this system.

Note that the signs also aspect the signs, and that therefore, the planets in a sign aspect the concerned sign and the planets therein. Sutras 1.2 and 3 state that the signs aspect the opposite (abhimukha) signs and the next ones. Opposite in this case does not mean the seventh from the sign. The ancient commentators explained that the abhimukha or opposite sign is the eighth for the movable (chara) signs, the sixth for the fixed signs and the seventh for the dual ones. Sutras 4.2.5. and 6 explain that the aspect on the abhimukha sign is full and on the others partial, mild or gentle.

Sutras 2.3.5 to 17 and 3.3.108 to 116 define the method for the calculation for the strength of the sign and planets.

1. The Atmakaraka is the most important planet in this system. The sign where he is situated becomes strong.

2. A sign having a planet is stronger than the one having none.

3. The sign with a larger number of planets is stronger than the one having a smaller number.

4. If two or more signs have equal number of planets, we have to find out whether a planet is exalted, in its own mulatrikona or in its own, friendly or neutral or inimical sign. The strength varies. numerically, we may tabulate in the following matter taking one as the unit of measurement.

Exaltation : 1, mulatrikona : .75, own house; .5, friends house : .375, neutral house: .25; house of a foe; .125; debilitation; .0625.

5. If even then two signs have an equal strength, then determine the stronger one by considering the nature of the sign as movable (chara), fixed (sthira), and dual or common (dvisvabhava). A fixed sign is stronger than the movable, and the dual sign is stronger than the fixed one.

6. A sign becomes stronger when it has Jupiter, Mercury or its own lord, or when it is aspected by any of these three.

7. A sign having a planet or planets on either side is stronger than the one having none on both sides.

8. Note the sign in the natal chart where the Atmakaraka is located. The planets in 1, 4, 7, 10 from that sign have one unit of strength. The planets in 2, 5, 8, 11 from it have a half unit of strength. Those in 3, 6, 9 and 12 from it have one-fourth unit of strength.

9. The various karakas have the following strengths: Atmaa karaka - 1; Amatya - .75; Bhratari - .5; Matri - .375; Putra - .25; Jnati - .125; Dara - .0625.

10. The Strength of a planet is finally determined by three factors. These are (1) Amsa strength. This depends on the longitudes of the planets in a sign. It refers to the karaka and their strength is to be calculated as per the ninth paragraph. (2) The second is the mulatrikona strength. This is given above in the fourth paragraph. (3) The third source is the kendra, panaphara and Apoklima positions from the sign occupied by Atmakaraka. This is given in the eighth paragraph.

11. The strength of a sign is determined by four factors. (1) The first is chara strength. A cardinal sign has .25 units, a fixed sign 0.5 units and a common sign one full unit. (2) The second is Sthira strength. A sign having no planet (Rahu and ketu included) has no strength. A sign with one planet has one unit of strength; with two it has 1.25. Thus increase 0.25 for any additional planet. Then a sign having eight planets has a strength of 2.75 units. (3) The third is the strength due to the conjunction or aspect of Jupiter, Mercury and its own lord. The aspects are as per jaimini's system alone. (4) The fourth is one unit of strength which a sign gets by having Atmakaraka in it.

By way of illustration let us tabulate the strength of the various planets and houses in an example chart. The friends, enemies and neutrals are as defined in the system of parashara. The aspects are as per Jaimini.

Planet	Amsa	Mula trikona	Kendra	Total
Sun	0.125	0.125	0.5	0.75
Moon	0.375	0.125	0.5	1.00
Mars	0.0625	0.25	0.5	0.6125
Mercury	1.0	0.25	1.0	2.25
Jupiter	0.5	1.0	0.5	2.0
Venus	0.75	0.25	0.25	1.25
Saturn	0.25	0.125	0.25	0.625
Rahu	0.03125	.375	0.5	0.90625
Ketu	0.03125	.375	0.5	0.90625

We have assumed that Rahu's friends are also friends of Saturn. In Jaimini's system, Rahu is the joint owner of Kumbha (Aquarius), and Ketu is the joint owner of Vrishchika (Scorpio). Ketu's friends are also friends of Mars.

For purposes of calculating longevity, and some dasas, Jaimini takes Ketu to be a benefic planet (2.3.30).

As per Jaimini's Sutra 1.1.24 the natural strength of the planets increases in the sequence of Saturn, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus, Moon and Sun. This is the same as the naisargika (natural) strength in the Shadbalas as given by followers of Parashara.

Now consider the strength of the signs.

Signs	Chara	Sthira	Aspect	Atma karaka	Total
Pisces	1.0	-	1.0	-	2.0
Aries	0.25	1.0	-	-	1.25
Taurus	0.5	-	1.0	-	1.5
Gemini	1.0	-	1.0	-	2.0
Cancer	0.25	1.0	1.0	-	2.25
Leo	0.5	1.0	1.0	-	2.5
Virgo	1.0	-	1.0	-	2.0
Libra	0.25	1.25	-	-	1.5

Scorpio	0.5	1.0	1.0	-	2.5
Sagittarius	1.0	1.0	1.0	1.0	4.0
Capricorn	0.25	1.25	1.0	-	1.5
Aquarius	0.5	-	1.0	-	1.5

Here Pisces, Gemini and Virgo have the same strength. Virgo is the strongest because of planets on both sides. The next in strength is Gemini as it is a common sign with a planet on one side. Pisces has a shadow planet only and so is the least in strength.

Taurus, Libra, Capricorn and Aquarius have the same strength. The last three have planets on one side. Taurus has none and hence is the least strong. Aquarius is the strongest being a fixed sign. Capricorn with two planets comes second as it is aspected by its own lord. Libra with two comes third.

Leo and Scorpio have the same strength. but Scorpio having planets on both sides is stronger than Leo which is aspected by its own lord. Scorpio is aspected by Jupiter.

The strength of the planets is in the following descending order – Mercury, Jupiter, Venus, Moon Sun, Rahu and Ketu, Saturn and Mars.

These strengths are to be considered in determining longevity, career or profession and many other things.

4. Symbolic Points

For the calculation of some dasas and longevity, Jaimini has introduced some technical or symbolic figures. These are Brahma, Rudra, and Mahesvara. We should know how to determine these. Brahma has an important position in the calculation of Sthira Dasa and in determining the period of death. It is a symbolic point (2.1.47-52).

1. (a) First determine whether lagna is stronger or the seventh house.
- (b) From the stronger house, note the lords of the sixth, eighth and twelfth houses.
- (c) Note who is the strongest among these.
- (d) If the strongest of these is in an odd sign, It can be Brahma.

the twelfth; and if the seventh is stronger, these are the houses from lagna to the sixth.

2. (a) If this Brahma happens to be Shani, Rahu, or Ketu, then count the sixth planet from the concerned one – the sequence is that of the week days followed by Rahu and Ketu. This sixth planet becomes the true Brahma.

Some authorities are of this opinion that the planet placed in the house or rasi, counting from the concerned planet, becomes Brahma. This second optional interpretation holds good.

- (b) If there are 2 or more such planets qualified for this position, take the one who is more advanced as per the degrees and minutes; and he becomes Brahma.
- (c) If Rahu is a candidate, its strength is determined by deducting its longitude from thirty degrees. Even then the sixth from it becomes Brahma.

3. There are other claimants for the position of Brahma. They should be in an odd sign in the preceeding six signs.

- (a) The Lord of the eighth from the Atmakaraka (In rasi) can be Brahma.
- (b) The planets occupying the eighth from the Atmakaraka can also be Brahma.
- (c) If many candidates are found, take the one who is advanced in degrees in the sign.
- (d) If the Brahmas have the same advanced degrees, the one in a stronger sign, becomes Brahma.

In our example chart, the seventh is stronger than the lagna as we have seen. The Lords of 6, 8 and 12 from the seventh (Kanya) are Shani, Kuja and Sun. Only Shani is in the preceeding six signs and it is an odd sign. The sixth from Shani is Kuja who is Brahma.

The 8th Lord from Atma Karaka (Budha) is the Moon who is in an even sign. The eighth from Atmakaraka has Guru and it is not an odd sign. Thus Shani is the nominal Brahma while the real one is Kuja. Sutra 2.3.4 is 'Brahmaadi reshaa' Sthira dasa begins from the sign occupied by Brahma. Longevity say Sutras 2.1.53 and 3. 2. 33, extends from the sign having Brahma to the sign having Mahesvara.

Mahesvara (2.1.44-46). This is another symbolic point.

1. (a) The Lord of the eighth sign from Atmakaraka is the Mahesvara.
- (b) If this lord is in its own or in its exaltation sign, then the Mahesvara will be the stronger planet between the lords of eighth and twelfth from Atmakaraka.
2. (a) If Rahu or Ketu is in the eighth from Atmakaraka or if he is with the eighth lord then the sixth planet counted from Atmakaraka will be Mahesvara.
- (b) If two or more planets become qualified, the stronger one is Mahesvara.

In our example, the eighth lord from Atma karaka (Budha in Sagittarius) is in the Moon. He is not in his own sign, nor is he exalted, nor is he with Rahu or Ketu, the Moon is Mahesvara and the sign is Makara. The sign 1, 5 and 9 (Shula Rasis) from the lord of the eighth form Mahesvara sign become the maraka dasas (2.1.54).

Rudra (2.1.35-42). This is the third symbolic point.

- (a) Note who is stronger between the lords of the second and eighth from Lagna. The stronger one is Rudra. If the weaker one is aspected by a malefic, he becomes an additional Rudra.

In our example the second and eighth lords from Lagna are Kuja and Shukra. The stronger one is Shukra (in Scorpio) who is Rudra. Kuja in a movable sign is aspected by Shani from a fixed sign. Thus Kuja becomes a supplementary Rudra with Libra as the sign.

If the powerful Rudra is aspected by benefics, death can be in the Rudra Rasis's period or in the periods of the fifth or ninth signs from it. If the weaker Rudra has benefic conjunction or aspect, he extends the length of life, to the period of Rudra rasi or to the periods of the fifth or ninth signs from it. These results are not to be predicted if planets other than the Sun are in the fifth and ninth from the two Rudras. If the two Rudras are malefic, death will be in the period of the sign having them. If one of them alone is a malefic, then death is in the period of the fifth sign from it. If both are benefic the maraka period is in the period of the ninth sign from it. Always follow the rule of backward counting while determining Brahama rudra or Mahesvara, if the concerned planet is placed in an even sign. (vide sutras. 1.1.25-27).

To indicate the Rasis (signs) or Bhavas (houses) Jaimini employs the letter of the alphabet to indicate the numerals. The vowels have a zero value. From the letter क to ञ there are ten; from ट to ण we have ten; from प to ष there are five; and from य to ह we have eight. Then the numerals indicated by the letters are to be reversed and divided by twelve to get the house. Thus 'Pita' gives 1 and 6. Reversing it we get 61 and dividing it by twelve we get one as the remainder. The word then means lagna. Kriya gives 2 and 1 (2 for r in kri), and it is the twelfth sign. Mesha gives 5 and 6 which is 65, the remainder being the fifth house. Other technical terms will be explained in the sequel.

5. Longevity

The longevity of a native must be determined first and then we can get into the predictive part. The system of Parashara gives Amsa, Pinda, Naisargika and other systems for computing the longevity. But Vimshottari alone is in vogue. In the system of Jaimini the calculation is not complex, though when we get into the Dasa systems, the problem becomes tough.

Sutras 2.1.1 to 14 of Jaimini refer to the determination of longevity. We summarise the rules.

1. 1. Longevity is determined by the lords of the first and the eighth houses. There is long life (a) when these lords are in movable signs (Mesha, Karka, Tula and Makara); or (b) when one lord is in a fixed sign (Vrishabha, Simha, Vrishchika and Kumbha) and the other in a common or dual sign.

2. Longevity is medium (a) when one of these lords is in a cardinal sign and the other in a fixed sign, or (b) when both are in common signs.

3. Longevity is short (a) when one of these lords is in a movable (cardinal sign) and the other in a common sign; or (b) when both are in fixed signs.

II. The same rules are to be applied also to (a) the lagna and the Moon, and to (b) the lagna and Hora lagna. (c) the Moon and Saturn.

Giving the numbers 1, 2, 3 to movable, fixed, and common signs respectively. We tabulate these as follows:

Long life : 1 and 1; 2 and 3; 3 and 2

Short life : 1 and 3; 3 and 1; 2 and 2

In our example chart (a) the lords of 1 and 8 are in 1 and 2, indicating middle age. (b) the lagna and Moon are in 3 and 1 showing short life (c) lagna and Hora lagna (Simha) are in 3 and 2, giving long life. Thus the three sets give three different readings. How are we to decide and fix the longevity in this situation ?

When two or three of these factors (Lords of 1 and 8, Lagna and Moon, Lagna and Hora lagna) agree, this has to be accepted as final. But when the three give three types of longevity we have to accept that given by Lagna and Hora Lagna (2.1.8). Thus in our example chart these rules apply and the native has a long life.

III. Sutras 3.2.1 to 15 provide us with additional rules.

1. Longevity is determined by the lords of the first and the eighth houses, and also by lagna and Atmakaraka. In the example chart the lagna and the Atmakaraka (AK - Budha) are in common signs, indicating medium longevity only.

2. Death is to be determined through the lord of eighth from lagna or from the seventh whichever is stronger. In our example lagna and the seventh have equal strength.

But the seventh is stronger as it has planets on both sides. It is a common sign in both cases.

The lords of 1 and 8 in our example are in 3 and 1, showing short life only.

3. (a) When the Kendras of Jupiter are aspected by both Mars and Saturn, or when Saturn is in one of Jupiter's kendras, then compartment of longevity gets reduced, that is, long life becomes medium, and medium life becomes short. (b) If Moon is in 8 or 12, then also ... compartment is reduced. (c) The same happens when the Moon is in the eighth from AK, or when the Moon is the seventh from AK or from Lagna. (d) If the seventh from lagna or AK has Saturn, the native dies in the first part of the compartment. If Rahu is thus placed, death is in the second part; and if Ketu is there, death is in the third part of the Compartment.

III. Longevity is also to be determined from the trikona houses (1, 5, 9) of the seventh (3.2.10) from lagna and AK. These houses are 3 and 11 from lagna and from AK. Sutras 3.2.11-14 give a new formula which differs from that given in 2.1.2 to 4. using the numbers 1, 2, 3 for Chara, Sthira and dvi-svabhava respectively we tabulate thus :

Long life : 1 and 1, 1 and 2, 2 and 1

Medium life : 2 and 2, 2 and 3, 3 and 2

Short life : 3 and 3, 3 and 1, 1 and 3

This method is to be considered from AK, lagna and the Moon (3.2.15).

In our example 3 and 11 from lagna are fixed and Cardinal, giving long life. From AK these are the same fixed and Cardinal signs. From the Moon these are 3 and 2 giving medium life. Two factors agree and this is final.

IV. (a) If the planet Saturn is in the sign occupied by AK, In Lagna, or in sign occupied by the Moon, one Compartment of life gets reduced (3.2.16).

(b) If Saturn is in 4, 6, or 12 from AK, Lagna or Moon, one Compartment is to be reduced (3.2.17).

(c) If the Moon is in the seventh from lagna, the longevity obtained from the lords of these is final (2.1.9).

Before we proceed to calculate longevity, we should know the upper limits of short, medium and long lives. Here commentators differ. These views can be tabulated thus :

Short	: 32, 40, 36
Medium	: 64, 80, 72
Long	: 96, 120, 108

The first view (32, 64, 96) was advocated by Nilakantha, and the last (36, 72, 108) by Parashara. But following the Vedic dictum, 'jivem Saradah satam', we get one hundred years.

Still let us stick to Parashara only (36, 72, 108). First determine the longevity: (a) In our example Mina lagna ($25^{\circ} 45' 35''$) and Hora lagna Simha ($7^{\circ} 9' 35''$) give long life. (b) The third and the eleventh from Lagna ($52^{\circ} 35' 12''$ and $292^{\circ} 35' 12''$) give long life.

(c) From the Atmakaraka these ($324^{\circ} 10' 23''$ and $204^{\circ} 10' 23''$) give long life.

Medium life ends at 64 years as per Parashara. To this we add the years. First deduct the longitudes from thirty degrees. What remains gives the years to be added. Since long life has a duration of forty years, takes forty years for thirty degrees. Calculate proportionately for what is left in the signs. What is left is as follows.

(a) Lagna has $4^{\circ} 14' 25''$ and Hora lagna has yet to cover $22^{\circ} 50' 25''$. These give 5.6537 years and 30.4537 years. Add these and take half of the total. Next add the product the starting of the long life. Thus 68 years plus 18.0537 gives a longevity of 86.0537 years.

(b) The remainders of the third and eleventh houses are $7^{\circ} 24' 48''$ giving 9.8844 years. Then the longevity will be 77.8844 years.

(c) From the AK the third and the eleventh houses leave a remainder of $5^{\circ} 49' 37''$ which gives 7.77 years. Then the total longevity will be 75.77 years.

The three figures give critical periods in life. If (c) and (b) are overcome, then (a) is final. But depending on Saturn 2.1.8 which is more authoritative than the Sutras in the third chapter, we fix the true longevity at 86.0537 years. The other two periods show periods of ill health only.

6. Chara dasa

Parashara has given a large number of Dasa-systems, though he appears to favour the Vimshottari system. In Jaimini too we have many systems of dasa; and he frequently refers to chara, sthira and navamsha dasas. The first two are very important. In Parashara the dasas are given to the planets, while in Jaimini the signs or rasis have dasas. The duration of the dasas is not fixed. They vary.

Chara dasa and trikona dasa will help us to fix all important events. Within two to three weeks an event can be timed if navamsha dasa also is taken up along with either of the two. Chara and Nirvana Shula Dasa can determine the longevity in many instances.

In Chara dasa the signs are classified into Vishamapada and Samapada. Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Libra, Scorpio and Sagittarius belong to the Vishamapada group. The others are in the Samapada group. In the former the dasas run clockwise and in the latter they are anticlockwise.

Which will be the first dasa ? Note whether the ninth house from lagna belongs to Vishamapada or Samapada. If it is a Vishamapada sign, the first dasa will be that of the lagna followed by the other signs in a clockwise manner. If it is a sampada sign, the first dasa is that of the lagna followed by the dasas of the houses 12, 11, 10, 9 and so on.

What is the duration of each dasa ? The dasa period of a sign is dependant on the distance between that sign and that of the sign where its lord is located. For a rough calculation, if the distance is nine signs, we have to deduct one; and its dasa will be for eight years. Thus for Mina (Pisces) suppose its lord is in Cancer. Mina being an even sign, we count backwards and Cancer is the ninth from it. The duration of Mina dasa will be eight years.

These are modifications to this general rule.

1. (a) If a sign is occupied by its own lord, the dasa period of that sign will be twelve years.
- (b) If the lord of the sign is exalted, its dasa gets one more year.

- (c) If the lord of the sign is debilitated, its dasa loses one year.

2. In Jaimini Vrishchika is owned by Kuja and Ketu, while Kumbha is owned by Shani and Rahu. Parashara also agrees with this view. Because of the dual lordship the duration of the dasas of these two signs is subject to modifications.

- (a) If Shani and Rahu are conjunct in Kumbha, or if Kuja and Ketu are conjunct in Vrishchika, the dasa of these signs is of twelve years.
- (b) Suppose Kuja and Ketu are conjunct in a sign other than Vrishchika, then convert the sign where these are from Vrishchika in a clockwise manner.
- (c) Similarly, if Shani and Rahu are conjunct in a sign other than Kumbha, then count from Kumbha to the sign where they are in an anti-clockwise manner.
- (d) Suppose Kuja or Ketu is in his own and the other in another. Similarly suppose Shani or Rahu is in his own sign and the other is in another sign. Then we ignore Kuja if he is in Vrishchika, and Shani if he is in Kumbha. The dasa periods of these signs are determined by Ketu from Vrishchika, and by Rahu from Kumbha.
- (e) Suppose Kuja and Ketu, or Shani and Rahu are in different signs. Then we have to take the one who is with more planets than another. For example Kuja and Rahu are in Libra, while Ketu is alone in Aries and Saturn is alone in Simha. Then the dasa of Vrishchika will be counted clockwise of Libra. It will be twelve minus one year. From Kumbha Rahu is in the fifth (counted anti-clockwise) and he is with a planet. Then Kumbha dasa will be for four years.
- (f) If the two (Kuja and Ketu, Shani and Rahu) have a number of planets with them, take the one who has more planets with him. If they have an equal number of planets, note the nature of the sign. Common signs are stronger than fixed signs, and the fixed ones are stronger than the movables. But if both have equal strength, then take the one who gives more years. But if one lord is debilitated and the other exalted, consider by the latter.

This is a rough method of calculation. According to this our example chart gives the following years:

Mina-9 (Guru exalted), Mesha 6, Vrishabha 6, Mithuna 6, Karka 6, Simha 7, Kanya 9, Tula 1, Vrishchika 11, Dhanush 8, Makara 5, Kumbha 4. Total 78 years.

25.45.35 Lagna	29.31.48 Ketu II 24.10.24	III 22.35.12
XII 24.10.24			21.58.25 Guru R
XI 22.35.12 Moon 19.44.35 8.10.3 Sun			18.8.5 Shani R
28.37.57 Budha X 21.0.1	28.30.5 Shukra	29.31.48 Rahu 3.25.37 Kuja

But we need a more exact method. Before we come to, note that Rahu is exalted in Mithuna 20, and Ketu in Dhanush 6.

We should fix the cusps of the houses. We reproduce the example chart for purposes of calculation. The ninth house belongs to Vishamapada. Hence the first dasa of Mina followed by Mesha. Mina is an even sign and its lord is in Cancer. The distance counted backwards is 243.47'.100'. Divided by thirty the result is 8.1251 years.

Since Guru is exalted Mina Dasa is for 9.1251 years. Next is Mesha. From the cusp to Kuja counted in a clockwise, the distance is 159.15'.13". Dividing it by thirty we get = 6.2 years. Mithuna $187.37'.56" \div 30 = 6.2577$ years. Karka (anti clockwise) $182.50'37" \div 30 = 6.0948$ years. Simha (anti clockwise) $226.0'.21" \div 30 = 7.5345$ years. Kanya (anti clockwise) $267.7'.38" \div 30 = 8.90424$ years. Tula $34.19'.41" \div 30 = 1.4427$ years. Vrishchika $310.50'.25" \div 30 = 10.3611$ years. Dhanush $210.58' 24" \div 30 = 7.0.32446$ plus one year (exalted). Makara (anti clockwise) $154.27'. 7" \div 30 = 5.1484$ years. Kumbha (anti clockwise) - Rahu is with a planet. Hence distance is up to Rahu. $114. 38'.36" \div 30 = 3.821446$. The total comes to 78.227432 years.

7. Sthira Dasa

The next Dasa frequently referred to by Jaimini is Sthira Dasa. It is called Sthira or fixed because the number of years is fixed. Chara or a movable sign has a duration of seven years, the fixed signs have eight years each, and the common signs have each nine years.

This dasa is important in fixing also the time of death.

There are different views about the starting point of Sthira Dasa. Some argue that this Dasa starts from lagna or the seventh, whichever is stronger. This has no support from Parasara Hora. After giving the duration of years for the signs, Jaimini states :

ब्रह्मादि रेखा ।

The Sthira Dasa starts from the sign where Brahma is located. Earlier we have explained the sensitive points called Brahma, Rudra, and Maheshwara. When Brahma is in an odd sign, the dasas follow the clockwise pattern. Otherwise the sequence is anticlockwise. This is according to the Sutras 1.1.25, 26:

प्राची वृत्तिर्विषमेषु ।

परा वृत्त्योत्तरेषु ॥

The next aphorism gives exceptions. But these exceptions do not apply to Sthira dasa.

In our example horoscope Brahma is determined as Kuja. Kuja is in an odd sign and the sequence is regular. Kuja has covered $3^{\circ}.25'.3''$ in Tula, a movable sign. He has yet to traverse $26^{\circ}.34'23''$. For thirty degrees this sign gives seven years. For the remainder we get 6.2004 years. Rudra is Shukra who is in the next sign. As soon as the period of Vrishchika started, he underwent an operation. After he completed 23.2004 years, the dasa of Mahesvara sign (Makara) started. During those seven years he underwent sorrows and hardships.

By the time he completes 78.2004 years, Simha starts. Simha is the VI sign from Janma Lagna. It will be over after 86.2004 years. The next dasa of Kanya is the Maraka dasa.

The trinal signs of Brahma, and Mahesvara are called Shula Dasas. These are the critical periods. From Brahma the trinal signs are Kumbha and Mithuna; and from Mahesvara these are Vrishabha and Kanya. From 30.2 years to 38.2 years he had Kumbha dasa which showed ups and downs. Mesha dasa was from 47.2 years to 54.2 years and it is the seventh from Brahma. He struggled between life and death; and as it is ruled by Brahma, he was promoted in service.

The dasa of Mithuna was from 62.2 years to 71.2 years. He lost his parents, and he was uprooted from his residence. Fourth house is maraka for father and it also signifies happiness and house which he lost. He had to sell his property after his 62nd year. As a trinal sign from Mahesvara, Kanya was his last Dasa.

As there are twelve signs, there are twelve sub periods in each dasa. The subperiods of movable, fixed, and common signs have a duration of seven, eight, and nine months respectively. The sub periods (antardasas) of a sign are clockwise or anti clockwise as they are odd or even.

8. Trikona Dasa

The next is the Trikona Dasa. Find the strongest out of the lagna, the fifth and the ninth. The first dasa commences from that sign. Here we have to take into consideration the Vishamapada and Samapada signs. If the strongest is a Vishamapada sign the order of the dasas is clockwise; otherwise it is anti clockwise.

If the first dasa is that of a Vishamapada sign the sequence of the dasas is as follows : First Dasa : Starting Sun; 2nd - fifth from the first; 3rd - ninth from it; 4th - second from it; 5th - 6th; 6th - 10th; 7th - 3rd; 8th - 7th; 9th - 11th; 10th - 4th; 11th - 8th; 12th - 12th from the starting one.

If the starting dasa belongs to the Samapada group (Karka, Simha, Kanya, Makara, Kumbha, Mina) the sequence is reversed. Thus the order will be 1, 9, 5, 12, 8, 4, 11, 7, 3, 8, 6, 2.

In our example chart the lagna has two units of its strength, the fifth has 2.25 units, and the ninth has 2.25 units. The ninth is Vrishchika which is the strongest. It belongs to Vishamapada group. But its ninth is Samapada.

The sequence of Dasas is Vrishchika, Karka, Tula, Mithuna, Kumbha, Kanya, Vrishabha, Makara, Mesha and Dhanush. The calculation of the dasa for each sign is similar to the method given for Chara Dasa periods.

Thus we get for this sequence of Dasas 78.227432 years as we have noticed earlier.
